TWO QUESTIONS ABOUT MONEY

When it comes to spending money, there are two sensible questions that invaribly come up. The first one is, Have I got the money? And the second is, Is it worth it? We are now contemplating spending $65,000.00 during the next year on this church, and you are considering your portion of that expenditure. It is only right that the same two sensible questions should come up: first, have we got the money? Second, Is it worth it?

Take the first question first, Have we got the money? For one thing, we are all sure that we have not as much money as we used to have. The money we have is worth only about a third as much as it used to be. Some few people may be making more money than they did in the past and have larger bank accounts, but most people in this congregation have not as much money as they had a few years ago, and yet the cost of the church is greater than it was, the budget is considerably larger, and each person is asked to give more.

We also know that in spite of the fact that we do not have as much money as we used to have, we still go to the movies occasionally, still go to ball parks, still stay in hotels, travel on trains. Most of us drive automobiles and enjoy to a certain degree the luxuries of life. In other words, we still have money left over after the necessities are paid for. But have we enough to meet the large budget that has been prepared?

When you stop to think about it, the amount of money we need is not so large as it seems at first. We have in this church five hundred and fifty communicants to count on. Our budget for this year is $65,000.00, of which we are asking you for about $35,000.00. The rest of it comes from endowments which our predecessors have given to us. If every one of the five hundred and fifty responded to the situation, it would cost each one of those persons one package of cigarettes a day! One pack of cigarettes from every one of our people every day—that is all we need to raise the budget. We know, of course, that human nature is made of rather stubborn and often disappointing stuff and some people on our list will not respond at all, and some only half-heartedly. Last year two hundred and fifty did respond, but that still leaves three hundred not yet heard from and makes it clear to you that some of you will have to give more than a package of cigarettes every day; some will have to give a carton, and some a carload.

When we consider those figures I think we can safely say that we have the money, and the answer to this whole problem of raising the budget depends not so much upon the first question, Have we got the money? as it does on the second question, Is the church worth $65,000.00, one church among many in a city filled with churches? Is it really worth it?

In estimating the worth of anything one of the first considerations is how much we need it. Do we need the church that much? Sometimes there are circumstances under which a loaf of bread is worth more to us than a diamond tiara simply because we need the loaf of bread more. Do you need the ministry and the witness of the church that much? It is hard, of course, almost impossible, for one person to speak for another, but as I know some of you intimately and others of you casually, and as I try to interpret and articulate your deeper thoughts and feelings, I would say that all of us would say that we need, first of all, a place to pray. Within all of us there is something that reaches out to the infinite, the invisible and the intangible. We cry out in the darkness from time to time to a God Who sometimes does not seem to hear because our cries are drowned out by the din of the world. We need a place where we can draw together with other people crying out in the same darkness and saying the same prayers, a place that speaks of God's Presence, the pressure of which upon us draws out of us the very prayers which we are almost too timid to say. We need a place from which the clamor of the world is shut out. This is such a place. A year ago a confused young man of Jewish ancestry came to St. Stephen's on the advice of a friend who had heard of so many people being helped to soundness of health in the quiet of the sanctuary. He had never been in a church. He happened to come in on the first Sunday of the month when we were celebrating the Holy Communion. At the door he said to the Rector with an intense eagerness upon his face, "You know, I didn't understand much of the service, but I have never felt so close to God since I was a little boy." He had the impulse to pray; he needed a place to pray. This was the place.

More than that, we need a faith to live by. I do not mean a creed. I mean a basic confidence, confidence in the fact that the invisible things are eternal, that God's goodness never fails, that around us are the everlasting arms. We need to come to a place where those things are proclaimed week after week, to stimulate our imaginations, to reassure us when we begin to wonder whether it is true or not, to surround us with other people facing the same perplexities and carrying the same burdens, who are lifted up to reach after the same faith and go out from the church with new strength, to sail the same stormy seas. We need a faith to live by in a world that is dreadful and dark and in this place we find a faith when we need it most.

The worth of a thing depends not only on how much we need it, but also on the effectiveness of it. After all, it is a fair question for people to ask of a church to which so much money is being given, How effective is it? Well, that is not an easy question to answer even for those of us who are most intimately associated with it. You cannot, you know, make a graph of the charity in a man's heart, you cannot measure the power of a man's will, or take his spiritual blood pressure; you cannot draw plans of a man's ability to take the things that come to him in the spirit of the Lord Jesus. You never quite know how far you have gotten with people. But making allowances for those difficulties, we can say that in this church we reach a great many people. One indication of it, as far as figures can be indicated, is the fact that over fifty thousand people last year attended the services of worship. There were many, many others who just came to see this church and to say a prayer.

We know that from January to November we have received 829 letters from troubled people all over the country who have written to us because they had heard of our interest in people's problems. Each letter was answered and help given. Our bulging files bear eloquent testimony to the fact that hundreds of people who attended our various services were blessed by God with health of body, mind and soul. No record has been kept of consultations in the Rector's study with distressed people. On Thursdays alone there is usually a steady stream of appointments from 7: 30 A. M. to 10: 00 P. M.

Is it worth it? Well, based upon our need for it, based upon the effectiveness of it, I would answer, naturally from my prejudiced point of view, it is more than worth it.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others).

Opening Prayer:

O Lord, teach us to be still before Thee until our ears have caught Thine accents and our eyes have glimpsed Thy truth. Then, O Lord, open Thou our lips and our mouths shall show forth Thy praise, and bear witness to Thy glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Church Service League Prayers.)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 8: 5-10

The Sermon:

That Roman army officer must have been a rare man. In a day when servants were cheap, he went to a great deal of trouble to seek out the young Master and implore him to heal his servant. Jesus gladly said that He would come and make the servant well, but the centurion protested that he was not worthy of so great an honor—Jesus could just say the word; and that would be enough. We might have expected the officer to say, "Master, I'm also a man who gives orders—I know that you can give them, too." But, instead, with keen understanding he said, "For I also am a man under authority..." As if, to say, "When I give orders, they are obeyed because, back of me is the authority of the Roman Emperor. I'm a man under authority; and I know that, back of you, is a powerful Authority. Because of Him Who stands back of you, you can just say the word, and your word will be obeyed."

Down through the long ages, true Christians have been marked as "men under Authority". They have worked under command of God, and, in obeying His Will, they have lived, and worked, with the Infinite Power of God operating in them. No wonder that, again and again, they have changed the world. The weakness of dictators—Napoleon, Hitler, Stalin—is that they have no greater power in back of them. In time their limited human power fades, unrenewed by infinite resources. If Christian people of today will humbly put themselves under the Authority of God, they can overcome pagan Communism, and win the world to Christ and peace. But no more of this, "live as I please" behavior! The only reason why the cold-blooded gospel of Communism has made such progress in the world has been because those who profess and call themselves Christians have been slack and soft; have not lived under the daily Authority of God's prompting.

Why should we take orders from God? Jesus described Himself as the Shepherd —and ourselves as His sheep. Looking sadly at Jerusalem, He wept, saying how gladly He would have gathered men to Him as a hen gathers in her chicks. As Phil Steinmetz has said, "Sheep and chickens run a close race for the prize of stupidity and general incompetence...we cannot be trusted to do what is best...as far as I can see there is not much to be done about our helplessness except to recognize it, and to give thanks to God that we have a Good Shepherd."

Some time ago the President appointed to the United Nations General Assembly, as one of our Alternate Delegates, Mrs. Edith Sampson, a brilliant Negro lawyer. Throughout her remarkable career, before handling any case, she has always said a silent prayer: "God, here I am again. Direct my thinking—put words in my mouth, not that I should win, but that justice should prevail." In looking forward to her task in the United Nations Assembly, she said, "My job will be tough...but God will direct me and tell me how I can make my contribution to peace." I think that the Russian Delegates will be watching that woman. If they are alert, they will feel in her a power greater than the Politboro. They will be baffled, as pagans always have been before the power of God coming through one who lives "under Authority"—the Authority of Almighty God!

Closing Prayer:

Into Thy Hands, O God, we commend ourselves this day. Let Thy Presence be with us to its close. Enable us to feel that in doing our work we are doing Thy Will; and that in serving others we are serving Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Upingham School Prayers.)

LOYALTY SUNDAY—NOVEMBER 25

This is your opportunity to indicate how great a part you will have in the work of St. Stephen's Church in the ensuing year. The Vestry of St. Stephen's Church feel that the total of $65,000.00 is the absolute minimum needed to provide for an adequate Christian program for 1952.

These figures represent men—women—lonely people—bereaved families—broken homes—sick bodies and minds—gasoline—fuel oil—stamps—schools—missionaries and a hundred other needs to be met for the sake of Christ.

We do not ask for charity but we do ask you to invest your money in the only institution in the world completely dedicated to the will and way of Christ.

Loyalty Sunday is November 25th. Mark the date well. We shall be anticipating your co-operation.

Our "Thank You" to Miss L. V. Coulson and Mrs. T. G. Homan for their Church Bulletin subscriptions.

The Rector will address the Lutheran Clergy of the Camden area in the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Camden, on Monday, November 12th, at 10: 30 A. M.

Mrs. U. Grant Beath, President of the Pennsylvania Branch of the Women's Auxiliary will be the speaker at the November 15th meeting of the St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary. All the women of the parish are invited to be present. The meeting will be held in the Community House, at 11: 00 A. M.

DANGEROUS!

Do you have a friend who is an athiest or an agnostic? If you do, dare him to hear Bryan Green. Warn him that it will be "dangerous". England's greatest preacher will conduct a Mission in Convention Hall, December 2nd to 11th.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others).

Opening Prayer:

Almighty God, Who hast knit together Thine elect in one communion and fellowship; grant us grace so to follow Thy blessed saints in all virtuous and Godly living, that we may come to those unspeakable joys which Thou hast prepared for those who unfeignedly love Thee; through the same, Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Book of Common Prayer)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 25: 31-40

The Sermon:

Thursday last, we celebrated All Saints' Day, and this Sunday is in the Octave of All Saints. Through all the rest of the Christian year are dotted the name-days of famous saints whose names are written in gold across history's pages. But this one day is set aside in grateful memory of those who had a touch of Christlikeness known only to a few whose lives they lighted. As James Russell Lowell wrote:

"One feast of holy days, the crest,
I, though no churchman, love to keep.
All Saints—the unknown good that rests
In God's still memory folded deep.

The bravely dumb who did their deed,
And scorned to blot it with a name,
Men of the plain heroic breed,
That loved heaven's silence more than fame."

Jesus once said, "Ye are the light of the world. "He intended His followers to be so filled with the warm love of His spirit that it would shine through them in loving deeds day in and day out. This is one of the hallmarks of a genuine Christian —the Master, Christ, is so much a part of their thinking and hoping and planning that He is IN them, dwelling in their hearts and minds and prompting them to care for others with quiet, practical, abiding thoughtfulness. There was a modest little Christian woman in a Tuberculosis Sanitorium I visted, who walked humbly with her God and tried to make life a bit easier for others. She was a very sick woman, and one night, a few weeks before she died, she called the nurse and said, "You know, when I go to sleep, I groan very loudly. Will you please shut my door so that I will not disturb the others'?" Most people when they are on the way to dying want their door left open, for the reassurance of hearing and seeing people nearby, but not that humble saint. She chose to endure loneliness, to spare others the agonizing echo of her groans. Only a few people knew of her shining self-sacrifice. Those few will remember her on All Saints' Day!

How appropriate it is that All Saints' Day should come in the autumn with its ripeness and its richness, its mellow loneliness, when the harvest is gathered in. For the memory of our saints is meant by God to strengthen and sustain us with the rich harvest of their Christ-led lives. If on that hallowed day, we pray faithfully to God to assist us in following their good examples, then the light of a Christlike spirit will shine more clearly through us. As an unknown writer has put it:

"Saints of every day,...
They lived and loved and strove to bless—
The friend, the sister,
The unselfish mother whose aim was holiness.
I muse upon their virutes
And remember their lives of charity and faithfulness.
And once again take courage to go forward
My world to love and bless."

Closing Prayer:

Almighty and Everlasting God, Who dost enkindle the flame of Thy love in the hearts of the saints, grant to us, Thy humble servants, that same faith and power of love, that as we rejoice in their triumphs, we may profit from their example; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Book of Common Prayer)

THE BRYAN GREEN MISSION

sponsored by the Diocese of Pennsylvania, will be held from December 2nd through December 11th, with great meetings in Convention Hall every evening at 7:30 P. M. The Rev. Bryan Green, Rector of Birmingham, England, will be the missioner and all parish organizations have been asked to cancel their meetings during the Mission period to make it possible for all church people and their friends to attend the Mission. There will be noon-day services at St. Mark's and St. Stephen's Church, and Bryan Green and other members of the Mission team will speak at schools and colleges, on the radio, etc. Our Parish Representatives are Mrs. Wilson Leithead and Mrs. Walter A. Rogers.

An Attendance Scroll is now being signed with space for sixty-three signatures. Each one who signs agrees to attend one or more meetings and urge others to attend. Each person then receives a small reminder prayer card to take home. We have one scroll already filled. All scrolls with the name of our parish will be presented to Bryan Green in person at the opening service.

PSALMS 119: 1-8; page 489

Excerpts from "THE CITY OF GOD", by H. Alexander Matthews. This Cantata, written in commemoration of the Quadricentennial of the Protestant Reformation, 1917, was officially approved by the Joint Lutheran Committee as a feature of the Celebration. It was first performed in the Academy of Music, October 1917.

PART I. FOUNDATION (In place of Te Deum)

Chorus: Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised, in the city of our God, in the mountain of His holiness. Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth, is Mount Zion; the city of the great King. Walk about Zion; go round about her: tell the towers thereof. Mark well her bulwarks, consider her palaces; that ye may tell it to the generation following. As we have heard, so have we seen, in the city of the Lord of hosts; God will establish it for ever.

PART II. DECAY (In place of Benedictus)

Soprano Solo and Chorus: Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness; have mercy upon me and hear my prayer. For they have perverted Thy way; they have forgotten the Lord their God. Their kings, their princes and their priests have despised His word, and trusted in oppression. The wise among them have gloried in their wisdom; the mighty man has gloried in his might, and the rich man in his riches. Darkness hath covered the earth, and gross darkness the people. If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy. Chorus: Hear me when I call; have mercy upon me and hear my prayer. O God, lift up Thine hand; of whom may we seek for succour but of Thee, O Lord? Our fathers trusted in Thee, and Thou didst deliver them. They cried unto Thee, and were delivered. They trusted in Thee, and were not confounded. Arise, O Lord, and help us: and redeem us for Thy mercy's sake. Let not our enemies triumph over us.

PART III. RESTORATION (Before Sermon, in place of Anthem)

Soprano Solo and Chorus: Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, how often would I have gathered thy children together, and ye would not! If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most high. Ho! every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat; Let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. Chorus: Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. Now have we peace with God, for by grace are we saved through faith; and that not of ourselves; it is the gift of God. Thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. He hath the words of eternal life, and we believe and are sure that He is Christ, the Saviour of the World.

SERMON—"Our Protestant Heritage".....THE RECTOR

PART IV. THANKSGIVING (After Sermon)

Soprano Solo: Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her. The Lord doth build up Jerusalem, He healeth those that are broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds. Glorious things of Thee are spoken, Zion, City of God. Thou shalt call thy walls salvation, and thy gates praise. O Lord, let there be peace in Thy strength, and abundance in Thy towers. Peace be within Thy walls, and prosperity within Thy palaces. Let Thy priests be clothed with righteousness; and let Thy saints shout for joy. Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her.

1517—REFORMATION DAY—1951

On October 31, 1517, a young Augustinian monk named Martin Luther posted on the doors of the Castle Church in Wittenburg, Germany, ninety-five theses or arguments against the sale of indulgences by the Church of his day. This incident touched off a long train of events which produced the historic movement known as the Reformation. The anniversary of this event is observed among the Protestant Churches as a time of emphasis upon their fundamental Christian conviction. The highlights of Dr. Matthews' Cantata, "The City of God" will be sung by the Choir and the Rector's sermon is "Our Protestant Heritage."

ALL SAINTS DAY, 1951

UNITED THANK OFFERING

Again has come the time for the gathering of the United Thank Offering. The U.T.O. is a concrete expression of gratitude for our possessions. It is not enough to be grateful only with our lips—for our own sakes; we must make our gratitude tangible—for those who need our sharing. If each one gave a penny a day, would you miss it? I think not. It is our privilege to share, and it is through our U.T.O. boxes we are given the chance.

The contents of the boxes must be in on or before Sunday, November 4. The presentation of the U.T.O. takes place in St. Peter's Church, Third and Pine Streets, on Thursday, November 8th, at 10: 30 A. M. Bishop Hart will be the celebrant at the Holy Communion Service and the Rev Nathaniel B. Groton, D.D. will preach.

The Churchman Magazine carried an article by the Rector in the October 15th issue on "Sane Christian Healing". This was one of a series by various writers on the subject of "The Faith We Live By".

   Still wilt not hear thine inner God proclaim
   "Turn back O Man, foreswear thy foolish ways!"

   Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep,

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer:

Lord, we pray not for tranquility, nor that our tribulations may cease; we pray for Thy Spirit and Thy love, that Thou grant us strength and grace to overcome adversity; through Jesus Christ. Amen. (Girolamo Savonarola, 1481 A. D.)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 6: 24-34

The Sermon:

Many a person struggles to gain peace of mind. Some try hard to win the love of other people. Still others breathlessly seek happiness. And all of them fail, in the long run, because these treasures are not to be had by trying to get them. It was not a preacher, but a psychiatrist, Karl Menninger, who wrote, "Their cry for peace is a cry for unearned love, in the face of the wisdom of Jesus and Lao Tse who taught that we get love only by giving it... Peace, or something near it, is often achieved by those who do not seek it; who, seeking truth, forget themselves."

Jesus put it even more simply, "Seek ye first His Kingdom, and all these things shall be added unto you." Thus the Master of Men simplified your life down to one great purpose—to please God. You are His creature, and your vocation is to serve Him well, day by day. Your first waking thought is to be a question, "What do you want of me, O God, today?" Your first duty, on the threshold of that new day, is to turn to Him for directions; and your second duty is to carry them out. Your last duty, as the shadows fall, is to thank Him for the opportunities to serve Him that you have accepted, and to ask His forgiveness for the ones you have neglected. It is as simple as that. And, if you pattern your life that way, you will find peace. "These things will be added unto you." For they are won only as by-products of a life dedicated to following Jesus Christ.

To many people, this is much too strenuous. Hosts of nice, decent church people have drifted into a mild imitation of religion—just occasional church-going and being conventionally good. When Jesus speaks to them out of the pages of the New Testament, saying, "Seek ye first His Kingdom", they bow in polite agreement; and then turn back to their eager search for personal happiness or peace of mind. That is what they really want, and they are not bright enough, or consecrated enough, to know that they cannot have these treasures, except by putting God and His Kingdom first in their lives.

The salvation of a man is to put himself into the hands of the living God, to be His humble and devoted servant. It means caring about God "with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind." God can give His richest joys only to those who passionately desire to serve Him. The story is told that a man came to Gautama Buddha to learn the true way of salvation. As they stood by the river, Buddha suddenly grabbed the man, and held his head under the water. Finally, in a last gasp, the fellow wrenched himself loose. Quietly Buddha asked him, "When you thought you were drowning, what did you desire most?" The man gasped, "Air". Back came Buddha's reply, "When you want salvation as much as you want air, then you can get it." "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God...!"

Closing Prayer:

Take us, we pray Thee, O Lord of our life, into Thy keeping, this night and forever. O Thou Light of lights, keep us from inward darkness; grant us so to sleep in peace, that we may arise to work according to Thy will; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen (Bishop Andrews, 1555 A. D.)

THE PRAYER BOOK—"YOUR SILENT MISSIONARY"

This year, the year 1951, the Female Prayer Book Society celebrates its 117th anniversary; another milestone in the organization's missionary work of distributing the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer and Hymnal to missions and needy dioceses.

For the past three years our chapter at St. Stephen's has shown such an increase in interest and financial growth that we are encouraged to hope our appeal this year will receive your continued generous support.

Any contributions to this fine work, which carries the Prayer Book to both domestic and foreign fields, will be gratefully received by the undersigned.

(Mrs.) Ruth Leithead, Representative from St. Stevens Church

The Rector will be the speaker at a Fellowship Supper in the Lansdowne Methodist Church, Wednesday, October 24th.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 6:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the forty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the Altar.

TEN RULES FOR A HAPPY HOME

Do you want more peace, harmony, and happiness in your home? If you really want it, go to work to get it. Stop complaining and expecting some other member of the family to do it for you. Here are ten rules:

(1) Make peace with God. That's the first step. God intends for you to live in a happy home, and expects you to do your part to make it so. You may have to do more than your part, but its worth every bit of the effort you put into it.

(2) The home is a place of sacrifice. Father, Mother, and children must sacrifice to make a peaceful, happy home. Sacrifice brings happiness while selfishness brings discord. Sacrifice first your life to your Lord, then be willing to share that peace which He has given to you, by sacrificing for others in the home.

(3) Pray for the other members of your family, instead of criticizing them. Do that daily and watch what happens. Never talk at one another, addressing remarks about one member of the family to another member in their presence. A good husband or wife will never rebuke his mate before others.

(4) Don't go back over past quarrels and mistakes, raking over the ashes of old, dead fires. Don't look back at the past. Don't throw up to other members of the family, "What might have been" if you had married another. Things might have been better, but they might have been much worse.

(5) Be the first to yield or to apologize. This is the first step of forgiveness. If we won't forgive our loved ones and friends, we can't expect God to forgive us. He plainly said that He wouldn't. Wrongful acts bring their own punishment. "Vengeance is Mine; I will repay, saith the Lord."

(6) Live within your means and your income. Don't try to keep up with the Joneses. True wealth is not determined by the clothes you wear or the automobile in which you ride, but by character and personality.

(7) Search for the good things in your home, and express appreciation for them instead of digging at the bad things. Like begets like. Criticism begets criticism. Appreciation begets appreciation.

(8) Show affection, courtesy and respect for other members of the family. They are the ones who will be the first to help you when you really get in a jam. Do not let those outside the home become more important than the loved ones in the home.

(9) If there is a problem in the home, pray about it and those who make the problem. You may be one. Ask for guidance to do your part. Don't give up. Pray and work.

(10) Be happy about it. If you don't feel happy, then act happy until you feel happy.

Archimedes, the Greek scientist, said that if he had a fulcrum with a lever long enough, he could move the earth. The Bible teaches that with a long prayer lever, and the fulcrum of a surrendered life, the seemingly inpossible can be accomplished. "With God all things are possible."

The Rev. Mr. Meckling gave an inspired presentation of the subject of the minisitry to the Hard of Hearing at the Rector's Class on "The City Church" at the Philadelphia Divinity School, October 2nd.

From Diocesan Headquarters we have the following report of receipts from our Parish, as of September 20, 1951:

Accepted quota ($1,540.00 over 1950)	$6,890.00
Received on account	2,308.79
Due before December 31, 1951	$4,581.21

In order that we may be able to pay the balance of $4,581.21 on our missionary obligation, we need to have the generous co-operation of every member of St. Stephen's Church.

THE CHURCH WOMAN

Officers and board members of St. Stephen's women's organizations are beginning their work. Phones are beginning to ring. Conversations are taking place concerning activities which should occur under the Woman's Auxiliary, The Altar Guild, the Mothers' Club, the Girls' Friendly Society, the Benevolent Society, and the King's Daughters.

All the women of the Parish are automatically members of the Woman's Auxiliary and notice is hereby given of the opening meeting on Thursday, October 18th, at 11:00 o'clock in the Community House.

The Girls' Friendly Society had their opening meeting on Monday, October 1st. The Mothers' Meeting opened October 11th, and the King's Daughters October 2nd.

Dr. Glenn Harding will be the speaker at the Camp Farthest Out meeting on Thursday, October 18th at 8:00 P. M. in the Church. Everyone is welcome to attend and hear this outstanding speaker.

The Rector is to participate in a series of discussions for the family under the general title of "Christianity and the Problems of Health" to be held in the Haddonfield Methodist Church four Wednesday evenings beginning October 3rd. Dr. Harold K. Kenyon, Chief of Medicine of the West Jersey Hospital will speak on "Modern Medicine and the Christian Faith". Dr. A. Victor Hansen, Clinical Director of the Temple University Hospital Psychiatric Department, will speak on October 10th. The Rector will speak on October 17th on "Spiritual Aids to Health." Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell, Pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, will speak October 24th on "Ministering to the Whole Man". A Fellowship Supper is served at 6:15 o'clock with classes beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

EVERY MEMBER CANVASS

Our every member canvass is just about six weeks from now, and it behooves all of us to begin planning, both by praying and calculating just how much and not how little we will give to Our Lord through His Holy Church during the year 1952. Place in one column all you spend, in another column all that you now give Our Lord. Is the amount given Jesus even a fair proportion for Him, Who gives you all you have? Keep looking at the figures. Are you proud of them? Ask God daily to lead you definitely to the amount He and you both know you can and should give. Then sign your pledge card feeling truly happy in knowing that you have not let Jesus down through your wallet.

WHOLENESS OF LIFE

Far too many people fail to go below the surface activities of life. Religion's center of interest has always been and still is the souls of men. In spite of the efforts to bring about a decent order of society through preachiing the social gospel, men and women still seek the counsel of a clergyman for help in personal problems, and this writer has found by long experience that above every need of mankind is the search for a fundamental essential conception without which they could not achieve success. This conception, I would call the "wholeness of life".

Some time ago, I heard a report by medical men who had found that symptoms of disease were multiplied by anxiety on the part of the patient.

I walked away from that meeting aware with a vividness that I had never had before that I was not a body with a mind, nor a mind with a body, but that I was something in very truth that I must express with a hyphen—a unity that, because of poverty of language, I must call body-mind. How many of us think of health in such terms? How many physicians treat their patients after such fashion? To the latter question I would reply—only the successful ones! Plato in his "Republic" says, "A good soul by its excellence makes the body as good as it can be.

This wholeness of the self is nothing novel to those familiar with the field of education. Modern pedagogies recognize that body and mind must be considered, developed, educated together as a unity and that when our minds and spirits are in bad condition, it is partly because our bodies are in bad condition and when our bodies are unhealthy, it is partly because our minds and spirits are unhealthy.

We create rifts between the selves that we are—at work, at home, at play—and the selves that we are as citizens. Nothing is more tragic than these rifts—from the liveried bellhop who has forgotten that he is a boy, to the uniformed parson who has forgotten that he is a man. The New Testament ideal of the true attitude toward the ultimate, or God, is the ideal for our attitude toward any portion of our experience. We must give to it all our heart and soul and mind and strength.

It is an unhappy fact that beneath the outer activities of the spirit there is often so little wholeness and harmony. Some authorities claim that nervous breakdowns are the result of over-work, but in reality over-work causes only fatigue, not disease. Nervous disorders are the fruit of inner strains, a self at war within itself. Jesus, Whose primary concern was for the welfare of the soul, said, "Nothing from without defileth the man, but that which proceedeth from within, out of the heart." And the genius of the insight stands today. The first care of any man as he approaches life must be his own personal wholeness. Problems are nothing in the presence of a healthy spirit and insoluble in the presence of an unhealthy spirit.

It is true that the home is the nearest region of oneness in each other, but beyond the home our healthiness or unhealthiness determines the character and quality of our togetherness to the uttermost limits of the earth.

The ultimate reality is the souls of men. If these souls be healthy then is the whole world full of health. When you have observed how the sick soul suffers within and spreads sickness through his relations without and how the whole soul delights in an effective life and spreads harmony in ever-increasing circles, then indeed do you cry to young men and women for whom the future is as yet undetermined, "Your first care is that you may be in yourselves—whole, sound, ordered, as that strange unity, body, mind and spirit that we call a man. And then the kingdom that you have found within yourselves will add all good things unto you."

The way of life is full of wonderful adventures, but far more wonderful is the traveler along the way who has power to determine those adventures.

WELCOME

To young people coming to Philadelphia for school or college, to families moving into the city from other places, to residents of hotels who expect to be here only a brief time, the Parish, its Vestry and Ministers extend a cordial welcome. The services on Sundays at convenient hours and of varied character, the open pews in a church which is always open, are all at your service.

On week-days, there are not only noon-day services with helpful messages, but there are many groups with many purposes meeting in our modern Community House. There is a place for YOU in one or more of them, whether you are young or old, man or woman, boy or girl, professional person or home-maker.

In the pews you will find a card which signed and sent or left in the pew will bring to you some one with full information.

TURN BACKWARD, O TIME!

Midnight, September 29th, marks the end of Daylight Saving Time for the year 1951—Remember to set YOUR clock back One Hour.

THE CITY CHURCH

The Rector is giving a course on "The City Church" at the Philadelphia Divinity School Tuesdays from 2:00 to 4:00 P. M. beginning September 25th and continuing to January 22nd.

THANK YOU

The Medical Director of Jefferson Hospital has written to our Benevolent Society a very kind letter referring to the fact that 3,417 articles have been contributed this past year from St. Stephen's Sewing Society.

Special envelopes have been sent to all on our mailing list for contributions toward the budget of the Benevolent Society. Gifts large or small will be gratefully received for ths worthwhile work.

BURD SCHOOL

The Rector officially opened the Burd School for the new year with the celebration of the Holy Communion at 7:30 A. M. September 17th.

Three new girls have been matriculated making the total of thirty-five girls in residence. We welcome Betty and Helen Marin and Ilona Keiser to the happy Burd School family.

Mrs. Ethel Van Winkle has joined our Staff and will be in charge of our Second Dormitory girls.

The Woman's Committee of the Burd School under the able leadership of Mrs. Edwin S. Heins realized $1,063.00 at the JUNE FETE.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR CONTENTMENT

1. Surrender your life to God, as your Shepherd, Guide, Counselor. If you expect to give Him your problems, you must first give Him yourself. Sin is a non-conductor. Accept Christ as your Saviour from sin, then the power of God can come in you and through you.

2. Start where you are. Accept life where and as you find it. Go to work at home. Christ told the healed maniac to go show his family and friends that he was a changed man. The best way to reform the world is to start at home with yourself.

3. Don't look down; look up. You'll never see the stars looking at the mud. Don't look back except to view God's blessings to you in the past; look forward. Remember Lot's wife. Don't whine and complain or put on a long face. The other fellow has troubles too. Don't nag; and lecture. That's the poorest way to get what you want.

4. Don't nurse and cultivate trouble (bad thinking); it will grow upon you (jealousy and bitterness). Learn to forgive and forget. You can't even get through the Lord's Prayer if you don't. "We can't keep the sparrows from flying overhead, but we can keep them from building nests in our hair." "Agree with your adversary (unkind and unforgiving thoughts, bad acts) quickly while you are in the way with him...lest the adversary deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison (embittered life and chains of habit)...thou shalt by no means come out thence till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing." (Matt. 5:25-26).

5. Have faith in God. If He can control and operate the Universe, He can certainly take care of your problem, if you will give Him a chance... "With God all things are possible...according to your faith be it unto you."

6. Don't worry, it's un-Christian. It never helped anyone to solve anything. Cultivated, it paralyzes. Trust God and let Him do the worrying according to Psalm 37. Seek peace according to Philippians 4.

7. Seek the guidance and counsel of God. You can have it if you'll pay the price.

8. As you get your directions, follow them and go to work. Don't expect them all at once. "One step at a time" is the Divine Rule. Sleep must be taken one night at a time; food one meal at a time. You'll get your directions the same way.

9. Don't measure your conduct by any other man's. You will be judged by the Almighty's standards, not by the Jones'. Treat others as you would like to be treated, whether on foot or in an automobile, whether at home or outside.

10. Confess your Lord before men. "Let the redeemed of the Lord say so." He established His Church to help men lead holy and happy lives. If you expect to enjoy the benefits of the Church in society, support it. If you are a Christian Act Like It, Look Like It, Talk Like It. Remember what you do makes more noise than what you say. "By this shall all men KNOW that ye are My disciples, if ye have LOVE one to another... Them that honor Me, I will honor", saith the Lord.

NOW IS THE TIME!

NOW IS THE TIME to make your reservation and send your $1 remittance to the undersigned for St. Stephen's Church Men's Dinner, Tuesday evening, October 9th, at 6:30 o'clock in the Community House (rear of Church).

THIS IS ALSO THE TIME to prepare for a most unusual experience! After the dinner, which we know you will declare is really good, we have arranged for Mr. Loring Dam, Promotion Chairman of the Bryan Green Mission Committee, to speak to you and then conduct a period of "Questions and Answers"; an event you just can not afford to miss, because of the unusual ability of this inspired layman.

Please remember, we can not accept reservations after October 1st, so will you kindly communicate with me promptly?

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others).

Opening Prayer:

Grant, we beseech Thee, O merciful Lord, to Thy faithful people pardon and peace that they may be cleansed from all their sins, and serve Thee with a quiet mind; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Galesian Sacramentary, 494 A. D.)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 10: 16-31

The Sermon:

We are living in a world of warring ideals, cold war one day, a shooting war the next, peace talks one day and flying missions and hand-to-hand combat in Korea the next day. Uncertainty disturbs the routine of daily living, as people ask themselves, "What lies ahead?"

In times like these one must find something steady, some unshakable foundation. The glory of the Christian faith is that is gives this solid, quiet confidence. In the most perilous days, a Christian can pray, "O God, the Protector of all that trust in Thee"; and then go about his daily business usefully. The person who trusts God cannot look into a crystal ball, and know what is going to take place. But he can look into the unknown future, and traveling with God, can march confidently. For Jesus taught us that each of us is precious to God, and that we can be sure of His wide and loving guidance through all storms. God keeps track of the least sparrow in the world—and surely we are worth more than a barn-yard sparrow!

Remember, He can protect only those who are willing to be guided by Him. Remember, His "protection" does not mean having all bruises and wounds warded off—for He bade His own Son to go straight to a Cross on Calvary. It does mean that all who are surrendered to His guiding, pass through all Calvarys to the final victory.

These God-guided people, seeking first of all to please God, also find deep peace in the midst of life's struggle. The novelist, A. J. Cronin, tells of a district nurse he knew when he began practice as a young doctor. "She was a plain, middle-aged woman of about fifty, with a solid figure and a lined face...When a difficult case cropped up, my inexperience found reassurance in her presence...For nearly twenty years she had nursed single-handed, in this district. The work was dreadfully hard, a ten-mile round, a never-ending day. Often I marveled at her fortitude and patience, her calmness and cheerfulness...She was never too busy to speak a word of sympathy, nor too tired at night to rise for an urgent call...Of course, though much beloved by the people, her salary was most inadequate, and late one night, after a particularly trying case, I ventured to protest to her as we drank a cup of tea together, 'Nurse,' I said, 'Why don't you make them pay you more?'...She raised her eyebrows slightly, but she smiled, 'I have enough to get along.' 'No,' I persisted, 'You ought to have an extra pound a week at least. God knows you're worth it.' There was a pause. Her smile remained, but her gaze held an intensity that startled me. 'Doctor,' she said, 'If God knows I'm worth it, that's all that matters to me.' I realized that her whole existence, in its service and self-sacrifice was a dedication, a perpetual testimony to her belief in God." People like that can live triumphantly in any day, through sunshine or storm, with God as their Protector!

Closing Prayer:

O God, the Protector of all that trust in Thee, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; increase and multiply upon us Thy mercy, that Thou being our Ruler and Guide, we may so pass through things temporal, that we finally lose not the things eternal. Grant this, O heavenly Father, for the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Book of Common Prayer)

DIOCESAN ADVANCEMENT FUND

The Rector has received a letter from Mr. Daniel A. Newhall, Chairman of the Diocesan Advancement Fund, advising him of the progress of the Fund to date. A little over $300,000.00 has been received to date toward the goal of $400,000.00. One hundred and nine Parishes have reported out of a total of one hundred and ninety-two.

Mr. Newhall congratulates St. Stephen's Church for the leading role it played in the campaign. "Your church is one of the eight Parishes which to date have contributed more than their quota. This is an outstanding job and should be an inspiration to the rest of the one hundred and ninety-two Parishes in the Diocese."

USED CLOTHING

St. Stephen's Church is asking her members to bring to the Parish House good, used clothing for war-torn Korea's stark need. This will be sent October 8th to the collection agency, Windsor, Maryland, where it will go direct to Korea.

TWO-STORY RELIGION

The Rev. Dr. Theodore Wedel, Warden of the College of Preachers, in an eloquent, but thoroughly practical article entitled "The Church's Teachings", decries the prevalence of Christian illiteracy in our Church and warns against the infiltration of a "one-story religion", a modern deifying of man with the corresponding exclusion of Almighty God.

It is no secret that many educated members know little or nothing of the "faith and practice" of the Episcopal Church, and to give our Men's Educational Group, not only an informative talk, but what is equally important, a challenging spiritual experience, we have secured Mr. Loring Dam, outstanding lay speaker, to talk after the Men's Dinner to be held on Tuesday evening, October 9th, at 6:30 o'clock in our Community House (rear of Church).

There will be a charge of $1.00 for the dinner and you are requested to send your reservation, together with your remittance, by October 1st, to the undersigned

"STRANGERS WITHIN OUR GATES"

We intend the church here to be a friendly church and not permit strangers to remain so for long, so please make yourselves known to your church neighbors after church service. It would help the Rector be efficient if new folk would hand him their name and address written on the card found in the pews so you may receive parish information and be properly welcomed.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the annual appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of St. Stephen's Church. Last year, the Benevolent Society sent two thousand pieces of sewing to Jefferson, Presbyterian, Women's and Germantown hospitals. The material for these garments are supplied by the hospitals and the Benevolent Society pays women to sew these articles in their homes. These needy women were paid $356.87 for this vast amount of sewing this past year.

Five hundred dollars will just about cover expenses for the season 1952. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing, and also the hospitals who desperately need the articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others).

Opening Prayer:

Almighty God, Whose glory the heavens are telling, the earth His power, and the sea His might, and Whose greatness all feeling and thinking creatures everywhere herald; to Thee belong glory, honor, might, greatness, and magnificence, now and forever, to the ages of ages, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(Liturgy of St. James, Second Century)

Bible Reading: St. Luke 22: 47-54

The Sermon:

Jesus would have us all be "Lambs among wolves." Being gentle in a world of violence is certainly a difficult course to follow. Jesus did not find it easy, Himself. There is also "one last objection"...that it is not practical for us to behave in that way. We admit that the ideal of Christianity is a good ideal, and we wish it could be practiced, but we know in the world as it is, the ideal will never be practiced... we say that it will never work. And when people say that, they are usually people who have not worked very hard on the ideal...what they really mean is, I think, is "I'm not willing to work on this ideal very hard, to pay it's price..." and as we look at the world today it is a question as to how well another way works. We have been following another way for a long time, and we have been left in a world that is now plundered of its soul.

We might think of it in this way. Imagine a safe that no one can open. One man comes; he is a proud man, he knows his power; he sees that the safe has not been opened. He says, "I will open the safe." He produces a stick of dynamite and he blows it open. In the process he destroys the safe. Another man comes, and he says quietly, "There seems to be some trouble in opening this safe. If we find the right combination and have patience enough to work it out, it will open of its own accord." He kneels down, so to speak, and as he turns the knobs round and round, patiently co-operating with the laws of God (not to blow the safe open, but to let it open); as he turns those knobs, gently, kneeling like a child before the facts of life, he finally comes to the point where the tumblers fall and the safe opens. The lamb in that case did what no wolf could ever do.

We have been trying to blow the world open...It has not worked. Perhaps the other way might work, the patient co-operation with the laws of God which are the laws of Love...So I send you out with the sobering thought that you are sent out into the world...to be a lamb among wolves. You are asked to be gentle even when people are brutal to you; to be forgiving even when people refuse to forgive you; to be generous even when people are stingy and small; to be loving, even when all the hatred of the world seems to descend upon you. Start at your own dinner table today.

There can be a new world if Christian people decide to take Jesus Christ seriously, daring to believe that He alone knows the laws of God, that only His way is practical. I believe that if you will follow Him yourself with a fresh, complete trust, believing that He knows, your own world will take on a new glory. Try it eagerly for a few months—then let me know what happened!

Closing Prayer:

O Lord, Whose way is perfect, help us, we pray Thee, always to trust in Thy goodness; that, walking with Thee and following Thee in all simplicity, we may possess quiet and contented minds and may cast all our care on Thee, for Thou carest for us. For the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Christina G. Rossetti, 1830 A. D.)

OUTSTANDING LAYMAN TO SPEAK TO MEN'S GROUP

The Men's Group of St. Stephen's Church, as part of our regular educational program, has arranged a Fall Dinner to be held in the Community House (rear of Church) on Tuesday evening, October 9th, at 6:30 o'clock.

For the evening's entertainment we have been fost fortunate in securing as a speaker Mr. Loring Dam, one of the Diocese's outstanding laymen, who currently holds the Promotion Chairmanship of the Bryan Green Mission Committee, and who is literally on fire with the spirit of this mighty evangelical project that is coming to Philadelphia in December.

Here is an opporunity for you men of our parish to enjoy a really good meal and in addition, to profit from the spiritual inspiration of this dynamic lay speaker, who has agreed to conduct a "Question and Answer" period after his talk.

There will be a charge of $1.00 for the dinner and you are requested to send your reservation, together with your remittance, by October 1st, to the undersigned.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others).

Opening Prayer:

Govern us, O Lord, though we bitterly rebel, and so write Thy laws in our hearts that we may serve Thee in holiness all the days of our life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (John Wallace Suter)

Bible Reading: Genesis 11:1-9

The Sermon:

The story of the Tower of Babel sticks in one's memory. It may have been many a century ago, but those people were very modern in spirit. They said, "Come, let us build ourselves a city with a tower whose top shall reach the heavens, thus making a name for ourselves, so that we may not be scattered over the earth." They started out to build themselves an outstanding city. But their ruling purpose was to make themselves famous. It was as if they said, "Come, let us save ourselves...let us show God that we can get along nicely without Him." They left God out. And they then began to disagree, they broke off into groups and bickered, until no one could understand what the other wanted. "So the Lord scattered them abroad." That is what always happens, sooner or later, if people leave God out.

This must be our supreme concern in these perilous days—to let God in: into our thinking, our planning, our dreaming, our struggling. In the long run, if we leave God out, all our sweat and travail will be for nothing. For God reigns, no matter how much noise we make. In the end, God's will is going to be done. Our concern must be to be guided by God; or we may be ruled by tyrants. Our need is to seek God's will, in our homes, and across the world—for only as we go with God, can we go toward ultimate victory.

Never have you seen a home that was truly founded on God that ended in shipwreck. Never have you seen a nation honestly seek to serve God that did not leave a name memorable for its achievements. After all, it is towering men like Abraham Lincoln who made it their habit to get down on their knees most humbly, to ask God the way through the swirling clouds of turmoil and passion. It is only God-guided people who find their way through Calvary to Easter.

A. J. Cronin tells a story of his young days as a physician who had not yet found his faith in God. "Never shall I forget that occasion when, at the colliery, a heavy explosion of black damp gas entombed fourteen miners. For five days the men remained buried, while the village prayed. Then, as rescuers hacked their way underground, they heard faintly, from deep in the collapsed workings, the strains of singing. It was the hymn, "O God our help in ages past." Thus had the entombed men chosen to keep their courage high. And when they were brought out, weak but unharmed, the great crowd gathered in the pit-yard took up the hymn which, sung by a thousand voices, echoed joyfully in the narrow valley, and rose above the encircling hills. As I came to the surface with the liberated men, this great volume of sound caught me like a tidal wave—as a demonstration of human faith, it was moving beyond words...looking back now, I knew it left its mark on me."

Closing Prayer:

Serene Son of God, Whose will subdued the troubled waters and laid to rest the fears of men: Let Thy majesty master us, Thy power of calm control us; that for our fears we may have faith, and for our disquietude perfect trust in Thee; Who dost live and govern all things, world without end. Amen.

(John Wallace Suter).

WELCOME

St. Stephen's Church extends a cordial welcome to all who care to make this their church home. It stands for a simple presentation of the Gospel, a reverent type of service and a broad fellowship. While it is an old church, filled with the atmosphere of romance, it is forward-looking—the Church School specializes in the education of children, the services and activities are most diversified and you should find no difficulty in finding your place in the total program.

St. Stephen's Church depends upon the generous support of those who make this their church home. The Wardens commend particularly the use of the Duplex Envelopes as the simplest and most satisfactory method of maintaining the church and also of meeting the obligations outside the parish.

For your own convenience and for the guidance of the Clergy and Officials may we urge you to make use of the small cards that will always be found in the pews or on the tables in the vestibule? Fill in your requirements and place the card on the offertory plate. Thank you!

PRAYERS FOR MEAL TIME

A young doctor of Harrisburg who is struggling for the restoration of his own health and who comes to our Thursday services every other week has given us the following two brief prayers for use at meal time. We suggest that you clip these and pin them in your Bible or Prayer Book. Perhaps you will want to write some of your own. Gratitude is one of the real elements in the building of bodily as well as spiritual strength.

1. Kind Heavenly Father, we ask Thee to bless this food for which we thank Thee. Bless all the kind hands that have prepared it for our use. May it give us health and strength that we may live according to Thy Will. We ask in Jesus' Name. Amen.

2. Dear Father, I put my trust in Thee, asking Thee to control every organ and every cell in my body. May they function normally and correctly to digest this food, converting it into Health, Strength, Vitality and Resistance. I thank Thee and ask these in Jesus' Name. Amen.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others).
Opening Prayer:

O Heavenly Father, we pray Thee to send into our hearts, and into the hearts of all men everywhere, the Spirit of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Amen. (This Day)

Bible Reading: Deuteronomy, Chapter 34.

The Sermon:

One of the most puzzling incidents in the Bible is the death of Moses. He was a great leader who dared to take his people out of the safety of Egypt into the perilous, disheartening years in the wilderness. He had dreamed of the Promised Land God has in store for him. But Moses, himself, only got as far as Mount Nebo. A modern prophet points out: "Moses did not reach the Promised Land. Granted. But in reaching for it, the Promised Land reached him...in striving for his goal, he became one of those points in history where life breaks through...the fulfillment of Moses was in the pursuit, not in the settlement of the Promised Land."

God never intended any man or woman to settle down to relaxed living in a comfortable Egypt. Quiet moments of relaxation God does intend for us, as He did for His Son on the still slopes of a mountainside. But those moments of setting aside our loads are intended to strengthen us for the onward march, the unending advance. God never meant any one of us to "retire" from learning new truth, seeing new beauties. Jesus was patiently leading His plodding disciples when He said, "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now." So He promised them the gift of the Holy Spirit that they might go on learning as long as they breathed.

Mr. Smedley, on the other hand, had narrowed down his life to a careful interest in stocks and bonds. A man of considerable talents, he wanted to live along comfortably without any struggle of mind or soul, keeping an eye on investments. One evening when he was alone in his study, he dozed in his chair, but suddenly was awakened by the entrance of an unbidden guest. At first, Mr. Smedley was irritated, but the stranger was so kind and entertaining that Mr. Smedley forgot his irritation. The guest spoke of many things that Mr. Smedley had eagerly thought of as a youth, such as art, and literature, and philosophy, and music. In fact, Mr. Smedley had once dreamed of planning his life into these great channels. As the evening wore on, the guest spoke of Mr. Smedley's famous book which had captured the imagination of the public, and run into many editions. Mr. Smedley protested that he had never written such a book, but after his guest had described it in detail, it seemed familiar to him. Presently his guest seated himself at the piano, and played what he said was one of Mr. Smedley's famous compositions. Again, Mr. Smedley had difficulty in remembering the music, but soon he seemed to recognize it faintly. The guest then spoke of the strikingly beautiful pictures Mr. Smedley had painted, and once more, after puzzled moments, Mr. Smedley seemed to recall them. As the guest rose to leave, Mr. Smedley expressed his delight over a most unusual evening, and then, much embarrassed, asked "But who are you?" The guest replied, with a glance that seemed to penetrate Mr. Smedley's soul, "I am the man you might have been."

The fulfillment of every man's destiny is to resist "settling" in some comfortable Egypt and to press on, year after year, toward the Promised Land.

Closing Prayer:

O Christ, our only Saviour, so dwell within us that we may go forth with the light of hope in our eyes, the fire of inspiration in our lives; Thy word on our tongues, and Thy love in our hearts. Amen.

WEEK-DAY SERVICES

The first six months of 1951 reveals a fine response to our week-day services. From January to July 955 attended the Tuesday services; 792 attended the Wednesday services; 4,847 attended the Thursday Healing services, and 953 attended the Friday Communion services. This total of 7,547 does not include the Lenten Noon-Day services which totaled 16,728.

The Healing Services show a most encouraging growth. Each year is greater than the previous one. 1951 is within 2,653 of the 7,500 of 1950, with four months to go.

The schedule for the Noon-Day services is enclosed herewith showing the sermon topics for September and October. If you are a shopper or work down-town, it will pay you to join the mid-city business crowd whose lunch-hour by-word is becoming "Meet me at St. Stephen's, 12:30!"

The Rector has been elected to membership in the Welsh Society of Philadelphia, the oldest society in our city.

PREACHING MISSION

The matter of greatest importance to us as a Diocese is the preaching Mission planned for December 2nd to 11th. It will be held in Convention Hall, and it is confidently expected that 12,000 persons will be present each night. The Reverend Bryan Green, a Priest of the Church of England, will be the missioner.

Similar missions have been held in Boston, New York, and Washington. Each was very successful. Nominal Christians were inspired to zealous discipleship. Indifferent persons were won to the Church; all who attended were moved to deeper consecration.

The Mission will be conducted in a manner that you as Episcopalians would expect of your Church. A noted Lutheran clergyman having attended the services in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City remarked that in his opinion only the Episcopal Church should hold such affairs. There was nothing sensational, no attempt to do anything to violate one's sense of dignity, every statement and appeal was just, and conformable to the teachings of Our Lord.

The responsibility for the success of the mission is yours and mine. We must pray for it, and for the missioner. We must plan to attend. What is more important we must plan to take someone with us: a member of our family, a friend, anyone who knows not a saving faith in Our Lord.

Let us begin now. Consider the person or persons you are going to invite. Pray for them. God will open a way for you to be his emissary in this work of winning His children back to Him.

Incidentally, we are asking all organizations to cancel their meetings during that period. We intend that the members of the organizations will use the night to attend the mission.

PRAY DAILY FOR THE MISSION

We pray thee, O God, for thy blessing upon the Church's work of evangelism. Use it, we beeseech thee, to open our eyes to the needs of men for the Gospel of Christ, and to the opportunities that lie before the Church to extend His Kingdom. Stir up, O Lord, the wills of all thy people to share in this work with gladness of heart and self-sacrificing spirit. Let not our purpose slack, but let the kingdoms of this world become the Kingdom of our God and of his Christ. AMEN.

LAST ISSUE

With this issue of the Bulletin we sign off until September 2nd. It has been our custom to publish only from September to July, and so give the Editor a chance to fill up the mental fuel bin during the summer.

Your kind interest in the paper is deeply appreciated. However high or low its literary quality and its value may appear to be, the paper does serve to unite those who are interested in St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia, and the things for which it stands. Naturally the time available for its writing and editing by a busy parish minister is extremely limited. Yet many of you have from time to time been gracious enough to say that it meets a real need. Because of your kind acceptance the paper continues from year to year. We say good-bye for the present and will be with you again on the first Sunday in September.

SUMMER SCHEDULE

During July and August there will be three services in St. Stephen's Church, every Sunday at 9:00 A. M., 11:00 A. M., and 7:30 P. M. The Rector will preach Sunday mornings during July. The Rev. Dr. Percy R. Stockman, Superintendent of the Seamen's Church Institute will preach Sunday mornings in August.

The Noon-Day Services during July and August will be on Wednesdays at 12:30 P. M. with sermon, and on Fridays at 12:30 P. M. there will be the usual celebration of the Holy Communion. The Tuesday and Thursday Noon-Day Services will be omitted during July and August. The Rev. Robert H. Stetler, Rector of St. Alban's Church, Roxborough, will take the Week-Day Services during July, and the Rev. Dr. Stockman will supply the Sunday and Week-Day Services in August.

Pray Daily

"The fields are white already to harvest"—We pray thee, O God, for thy blessing upon the Church's work of Evangelism. Use it, we beseech thee, to open our eyes to the needs of men for the Gospel of Christ, and to the opportunities that lie before the Church to extend his Kingdom. Stir up, O Lord, the wills of all thy people to share in this work with gladness of heart and self-sacrificing spirit. Let not our purpose slack, but let the kingdoms of this world become the Kingdom of our God and of his Christ. Amen.

FOR SPIRITUAL HEALTH

Cut this out and place in your bedroom or other appropriate place for frequent use and self examination.

O Lord, open our minds to see ourselves as Thou seest us, or even as others see us and we see others, and from all unwillingness to know our infirmities,
Save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord,

From moral weakness of spirit; from timidity; from hesitation; from fear of men and dread of responsibility, strengthen us with courage to speak the truth in love and self-control; and alike from the weakness of hasty violence and the weakness of moral cowardice,
Save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord,

From weakness of judgment; from the indecision that can make no choice; from the irresolution that carries no choice into act; and from losing opportunities to serve Thee,
Save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord,

From affectation and untruth, conscious or unconscious; from pretence and acting a part which is hypocrisy; from impulsive self-adaptation to the moment in unreality to please persons or make circumstances easy, strengthen us to manly simplicity; and from all false appearances,
Save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord,

From love of flattery; from over-ready belief in praise; from dislike of criticism; from the comfort of self-deception in persuading ourselves that others think better than the truth of us,
Save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord,

From all love of display and sacrifice to popularity; from thought of ourselves in forgetfulness of Thee in our worship; hold our minds in spiritual reverence; and in all our words and works from all self-glorification,
Save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord,

From pride and self-will; from desire to have our own way in all things; from overweening love of our own ideas and blindness to the value of others; from resentment against opposition and contempt for the claims of others; enlarge the generosity of our hearts and enlighten the fairness of our judgments; and from all selfish arbitrariness of temper,
Save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord,

MR. J. STOKES LEEDS AT THE ORGAN

Our hearty congratulations to David L. German, Jr., who was graduated with high honors from Johns Hopkins University on June 12th. David's name appeared in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities for 1951." He is a member of the National Honorary Fraternity ODK based on his high standards in character, leadership and academic accomplishments. David was a former Crucifer of St. Stephen's Church.

DIOCESAN ADVANCEMENT FUND

Once again our Parish has proven its willingness to respond eagerly and generously to worthy causes outside the Parish, and three very important diocesan projects will be helped by our response; a fund for establishing new places of worship in the Diocese; a dormitory and class rooms for the Philadelphia Divinity School; and a Diocesan Conference Center.

Yes, we have reached the very high quota assigned to St. Stephen's Church, namely $6,000.00. In fact we have gone over that sum by seventy dollars. Hearty congratulations to everyone who has a share in this important project. We are gratified to the Congregation of the Hard of Hearing for their generous gift of $140.00.

The Rector celebrated his 25th Class Reunion at the University of Pennsylvania on June 16th.

The Pathfinder News Magazine of June 13th carries a featured article under the Department of Religion about St. Stephen's Church.

We acknowledge with much appreciation the Church Bulletin subscriptions of Miss Mary L. Kellum, and Mr. Wayne R. Henry.

The Annual Commencement or "Burd Day" will be held on Saturday, June 23rd at 2:30 P. M. The Burd School is at 4226 Baltimore Avenue. Members of the congregation and their friends are cordially invited.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer:

O Thou Who makest the stars and turnest the shadow of death into the morning, we render Thee, the tribute of our praise for this new day, the everlasting hopes that rise within the human heart, and for the Gospel which has brought life and immortality to light. Amen. (The Grey Book).

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 26:38-46; St. Luke 22:39-46.

The Sermon:

People ask, in painful anxiety, "Why doesn't God answer my prayer?" You sit by a sick-bed where a great-grandmother, nearing ninety, is desperately ill. She looks up eagerly and prays to God that He will take her home to Him. She has lived her life, and is heavy with years and wants to move on out of this world. Then, to her sharp disappointment, she recovers, to live a while with limited strength and limited enjoyment. You cannot blame her if she feels that God has not answered her prayer.

God always answers every prayer—in one of four ways—"Yes", "No", "Wait", or "Here is something better." I believe that God's answer to the great-grandmother was "Wait". It was not the answer she wanted, and I do not pretend to know why God answered in that way so unsatisfactory to her. I think that we can only accept His answer, trusting that there is a wiser purpose in it than our dim human wits can grasp.

After all, God said "No" to His own Son in the Garden of Gesthemane. Jesus there besought His Father to postpone Calvary, to let Him have a little more time with the earnest, slow-learning disciples. And God said "No!" Even after this refusal Jesus pleaded again that the bitter cup might be set aside for a time, but God said "No" once more. A third time, in such an agony of spirit that the sweat poured from His forehead, He prayed passionately for more time, and God still said, "No!" Jesus accepted that unwelcome "No" and turned to meet His betrayer.

Looking back over the centuries we now can clearly see God's purpose in refusing His Son's request. The lonely Cross was the dark and necessary way-station on the road to the glorious light of Easter Day. Only on Calvary could Love show itself stronger than hate, could the love of God for man be shown in its fullness. God says "No" sometimes because only the bitter cup leads us into His triumphant way. He says "Wait" sometimes, because He needs us for His plans, right where we are a bit longer. Do not forget how often He says "Yes"!—as often as we pray for what fits into His wise purposes.

When God answers "Wait" to your prayers there is a very good reason to this kindly answer. So many of us are like children who want a stick of candy even though a meal is spread out before us.

Columbus set out to find a shorter route to India. No doubht he prayed that he might find that route. God did not answer that prayer, but He did answer it with something bigger and better. He put the name of Columbus among the immortals, for Columbus discovered America instead of the trade route.

What Pasteur, the great French scientist, started out to find was to help the cattle growers of his district cure disease among their cattle. What he did discover was the cure for that dread dog-madness disease—rabies!

So many times, men have prayed for one thing only to be given a far, far greater thing by an All-Wise Father. That is why you should not be disappointed that God does not always give you the exact thing you ask for. So often it is because your wishes were for so much smaller and poorer things than God has in store for you.

The praying Christian who is willing to accept "Yes" or "No", or "Wait", or "Here is something better." from God is a person with deep, unshakable peace of heart. His may be a small life, perhaps, but one through which God's purposes are fulfilled. A life which can say with quiet content, "I am only one, but I am one. I cannot do everything; but I can do something. What I can do, I ought to do; and what I ought to do, by the grace of God, I will do."

Closing Prayer:

May the blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit rest upon us, and upon all our work and worship done in His Name. May He give us light to guide us, courage to support us, and love to unite us, now and forevermore. Amen. (The American Grey Book)

THURSDAYS AT ST. STEPHEN'S

Many years ago when we moved east from Colorado and took up our abode in a Philadelphia suburb, I was initiated into that unique custom known only to Philadelphians, namely, "meet me at The Eagle." Since I had never heard of The Eagle nor been inside of the Wanamaker emporium, I was a bit mystified when my new friend said ever so casually, "we'll meet at The Eagle." I walked up and down and around outside studying the various gargoyles and wondering how I would ever connect up with my friend. It was quite by accident that I learned about The Eagle safely inside with its more than five thousand feathers. Since then, the spot has become hallowed for more reasons than one. Many friends I have met there, and loved ones, and nice strangers. I have worshipped with the organ, the carols and beneath the great Muncascy Canvasses and watched breathless as a women knelt in prayer on the floor of the great Concourse, beneath the Crucifixion scene.

Years later I was to find another singular meeting-place, three blocks distant. Hundreds of times I have travelled the space between the two great monuments; two great dreams founded in Christian faith and have found the place in Tenth Street to be a continuation or a stepping up of consciousness of all things fundamentally good and true and sound. "Meet me at The Eagle" has its spiritual counterpart in St. Stephen's; but particularly on Thursdays.

A lady stopped by to tell me the following incident. "I was at lunch one day when the lady across my table finally got up courage to ask me why she felt that she knew me, for 'your face is so familiar... where could I have met you?' Perhaps it would be Horn and Hardart's, for I eat there frequently. 'No it doesn't seem to me to be H and H. Tell me, do you by any chance ever go to St. Stephen's church?' Oh, yes, I do go there! They were friends at once, needing no further introduction."

The same lady stood on the island waiting for her trolley and overheard a really glowing conversation taking place between two strangers. It was all about "Old St. Stephen's and the privilege of worship there; the far reaching impact of the Healing Mission..." and although my lady did not join in, she gloried in the good talk until her trolley bore her away. Said she, "everywhere I go in the city, it reaches me, this mention of St. Stephen's and the magnificent work being done during the week.

There is never a Thursday but that the vestibule is dotted with folks waiting for friends or loved ones who have been told to "meet me at St. Stephen's"; and one lady said, "I arrange all of my shopping around the services in St. Stephen's." Messages or instructions are left at the book-tables.

The Book Lady is here at all hours of a day or evening and knows that many have heard a silent invitation to "meet Me; at St. Stephen's." Hundreds of people are accepting, in an unending stream of worship. There is one who enters with a firm, light tread and sings her way to the Altar where she kneels in prayer. And always in the dim background are one or two of the lonely—very-old, who doze off in the security they feel in the pervading Peace. Perhaps the Valley of the Shadow seems more kindly here...or perhaps further away. But however they come, young and old; strong and weak; expressive or silent they form an unending procession. It is not by accident but by design, that they come all through the week to weave a pattern of creative Devotion into the necessity of mundane living.

Mayhap you have an appointment soon, say on a Thursday morning to meet a friend "at The Eagle" May we entreat you to adventure a bit and walk three blocks to a Rendezvous in Tenth Street? Keep a spiritual Tryst of the most vibrant sort; a revitalizing friendship with Jesus. Come along and "meet Him at St. Stephen's," particularly on Thursdays.

OF INTEREST TO THE PARISH

The other day I went over the list of people confirmed during the nine years I have been Rector of St. Stephen's Church. A number of things came from this which should be of interest to all members of our Parish.

In the nine Confirmation Classes there has been a total of 177 individuals. Of this number 119 are still associated with the Parish. In other words in nine years 58 have left for other churches, mainly because of marriage or removal from the city. This is a high percentage of the total—thirty-three and one-third—of all those confirmed. It illustrates the mobility of the population, the lack of permanent roots by many people, and shows that for a church to grow through newly confirmed persons is a process with a high degree of loss.

The second fact to be seen is that of the 550 communicant members of St. Stephen's Church approximately 32% have been confirmed within the past nine years. When to this number is added the group received by Letter of Transfer from other churches, we have re-inforced the point previously made, and it further indicates why parish loyalty, church financial support, and the religious habits of people are just developing—considering the time they have been affiliated with the church, they are in the pre-adolescent stage, if one uses the analogy of the time for human development.

One must not wonder, therefore, at the immature Christian faith many people possess. The church expects of a member that he worship God every Sunday in the church, that he work and pray and give for the spread of His Kingdom. How many of these 119 recently confirmed persons are doing this? How many are growing in their spiritual life? How many are conscientiously trying to keep the vows made at Confirmation? It is no wonder that a clergyman is deeply concerned for all these committed to his care, and is troubled by the implications that come from a "stock-taking" of Confirmation Classes. He is also encouraged as he sees those for whom it has been a new life within the Christian fellowship.

Bishop Hart has written to the Rector and asked him to "Please congratulate the Vestry and congregation of St. Stephen's Church on their magnificent work for the DIOCESAN ADVANCEMENT FUND. I am very happy over the spirit of your whole congregation."

A former Burd School girl now married and living in Long Island has written to the Rector: "I have just finished reading the article in The Witness about St. Stephen's—and to think I was a Burd School girl raised at St. Stephen's Church and did not begin to know most of the things that appeared in that artistic place."

BURD SCHOOL LAWN FETE

The Ladies' Committee of the Burd School inivtes you to attend a Lawn Fete to be held on the school grounds at 4226 Baltimore Avenue on June 12th, starting at 2 P. M. Dinner will be served from 5 to 7 o'clock—charge $1.25.

COME ONE: COME ALL: enjoy yourselves amidst gayly decked booths selling novelties for you to buy, and cake and candy for you to eat. And, oh yes, we will have a hillbilly band with a carrousel for the children to enjoy.

Miss Doris M. Smith, who missed the Confirmation Service at St. Stephen's because of illness, was confirmed by Bishop Remington in the Bishop's Chapel on May 14th.

DIOCESAN ADVANCEMENT FUND

We are getting closer and closer to our goal of $6,000. We have gifts and pledges amounting to $5,663.40. Less than $350.00 yet to go to achieve this worthwhile goal. Have you made your gift?

They are at peace, O fairest liberty,
Souls of the Righteous in the Hand of God.

A LITANY FOR OUR TIMES

Let us ask God to forgive us for the many ways in which we have abused His gifts, forgetting that they were entrusted to us to be used in His Name and for our fellowmen.

O God, make clean our hearts.
And renew a right spirit within us.

Our share in the sins that have brought the curse of war upon thy children.
Good Lord, forgive.

Good Lord, forgive.

Good Lord, forgive.

Our ruthless competition, our readiness to exploit our fellows.
Good Lord, forgive.

Remember not O Lord the offences of thy people; deal not with us after our sins, neither reward us according to our wickedness.
Spare us, Father of mercies.

From blindness of heart, from love of ease, from contentment with present conditions, from presumptuous sins, from pride of possession, from vainglorious boastings, from national hypocrisies.
Save thy people, Lord.

From the covetousness which is idolatry, from hard bargaining, and ruthless competition, from all service of mammon and the worship of wealth.
Save thy people, Lord.

From class warfare and class hatred, from racial antagonisms, from the spirit of party, from the seeking of sectional advantage and forgetfulness of the general good.
Save thy people, Lord.

From these and all causes which tend to breed war and weaken the witness for peace.
Save thy people, Lord.

From failure to take account of the needs of other nations, from living unto ourselves alone, and from putting our trust in our own strength when our trust should be in thee.
Save thy people, Lord.

Hear thou in heaven, thy dwelling place;
And when thou hearest, forgive.

We beseech thee to hear us, O Lord God; and that it may please thee to give to all nations equal justice under law.
We beseech thee to hear us, good Lord.

That the leaders of all peoples, wise and incorruptible, fearing only thee, may at last face one another with candor, as fellow-citizens of thy world, and by thy grace build an earthwide order acknowledging thee as Lord.
We beseech thee to hear us, good Lord.

That it may please thee to give to all people and nations new understanding and wisdom to discern the true issues of the present conflict.
We beseech thee to hear us, good Lord.

That it may please thee to grant unto our President, Cabinet and Congress such a high regard for their duty to thee and their fellow men that they may lay aside all selfishness, political ambitions, and discord and serve our nation in singleness of heart with unswerving devotion.
We beseech thee to hear us, good Lord.

That it may please thee to guide all those to whom thou hast committed leadership in the counsels and decisions of the United Nations. May each member be conscious of his responsibility for building a new world in which justice shall be assured for all and in which peace shall be enduring.
We beseech thee to hear us, good Lord.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer:

Almighty and Everlasting God, be Thou present in our worship, and grant the protection of Thy Presence to all who dwell within this house; that Thou mayest be known to be the Defender of Thy family, and the Inhabitant of this dwelling; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Galasian Sacramentary)

Bible Reading: St. James V:7-11

The Sermon:

It takes patience to learn something of what God is like. It took long centuries for men to work out the great Christian Doctrine of the Trinity—that we small human beings discover God as the Father, the Maker, in the world of nature that He created; that we discover His character in the life of His Son, Jesus Christ, the down-to-earth God, clothed in human flesh, that we further discover His power as Holy Spirit, God working within each of our lives, in our hearts, our consciences, our best selves. Each has to find out this Truth for himself, by long and enduring patience.

"Be patient, then, brothers, until the arrival of the Lord. See how the farmer waits for the precious crop of the land, biding his time patiently until he gets the autumn and spring rain; having patience yourselves, strengthen your hearts..." So a modern translator gives us that seventh verse of the fifth chapter of St. James. Everyone who has lived on a farm or raised vegetables in war-time, will understand those words. We are patient for a very practical reason—because it is worthwhile! Only through real patience, and careful tending, can we hope for a good yield. It is worthwhile to be patient.

The same is true of the art of living. Only by enduring patience can we make a difference in the lives of others. Only by enduring patience can we lead our children into the kind of life that is worth living forever. The father of John Wesley once said to Mrs. Wesley, "How could you have the patience to tell that block-head the same thing twenty times over?" "If I have told him nineteen times, I should have lost all my labor," was the quiet reply. Had John Wesley been left in the hands of his impatient father, we might have had no powerful ambassador of Christ. But, because he had a patient mother, he learned God's secrets at last; and his whole life lay under the command of His Master, Who used it with contagious power. It is worthwhile to be patient.

We sometimes wonder how God can be so patient with his perverse and thick-headed children. Robert Ingersoll, the cocky lecturer of the last century, once took out his watch, laid it on the lecture desk, saying "I'll give God five minutes to strike me dead for the things I've said." In dramatic silence, he waited until the watch ticked off the five minutes, while his audience sat in terrified suspense. The newspapers gave the incident big headlines. But one thoughtful citizen commented, rather dryly, "Did he think he could exhaust the patience of God in five minutes?" God is long-suffering with each of us, and with His whole family. And God is All-Wise—He would not be patient unless patience were the way of wisdom. God leads the way in showing us that it is everlastingly worthwhile to be patient, as we live, and learn of Him.

Closing Prayer:

The things we pray for, good Lord, give us grace and patience to labor for; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Church Service League Prayers)

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer:

O Almighty God, grant, we beseech Thee, that we whose trust is under the shadow of Thy wings, may, through the help of Thy power, overcome all evils which rise up against us; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(Roman Breviary, 1099 A. D.)

Bible Reading: St. John XVI: 23-28

The Sermon:

This is "Asking Sunday" (Rogation Sunday), on which, from ancient times, men have asked God's blessing on the fruits of the field. The Bible reading for that day is the one in which Jesus promises, "Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in My Name, He will give you." Our prayer will be answered if we ask in Jesus' spirit, being willing first to do our part, and asking only what God can wisely give us. It would be silly, of course, to pray to God, "Oh God, you know how I hate to work—please give me a bumper crop just the same!"

The former president of the Kansas Agricultural College once was invited to speak to a gathering of Missouri farmers on soil fertility. Visiting around the community before the meeting, he made soil tests of two adjoining fields. One had been "clean-cultivated" for a generation while the other had been carefully "cover-cropped" with a green-cover crop plowed back. About one-third of the necessary richness of the first field had been exhausted. He used this field as an illustration in his talk. A sour old farmer spoke up, "I know that's my field you were talking about. You say I've used up one-third of its fertility. Well, it has lasted all my lifetime. My son can use up the second third in the next thirty years. Whoever has it after him can look out for himself." To which the speaker replied sternly, "The third that you have used up is the third that builds and maintains the homes, schools, churches, and roads of the community. The third that you say your son will use up is the third that barely sustains life. No man living knows enough to extract the last third out of the soil and stay alive in the process." Most of the farmers present could see that this man's selfishness was farming-suicide, and for the generations to come.

That farmer had missed the main point of farming—that is, if a person believes in God. For God entrusts a precious piece of land to a man, for him to tend for his lifetime; and then to hand on to others as rich or richer than he found it. He may own the land in the eyes of the law; but, before God, he is only the steward of it. He holds it in trust with the God Who made it, and for the unborn generations to come. When the farmer asks for God's blessing on the fruits of his land, he must ask it in the Name of his Master, Who taught us our simple duty of stewardship. He must ask it in the spirit that plants the cover-crop each year, and plows it back into the good earth, and fertilizes and weeds and cares for God's land. If he prays and works in that spirit, God will bless his land over the long years, an hundredfold.

Whether you dwell in city streets, or out in a winding country road, it is the same. Ask God for what you need. Ask it as His intelligent, obedient servant, willing to do your full share. And, as the years slip by, He will bless you unfailingly!

Closing Prayer:

O God, most merciful Father, Thou speakest through Thine only begotten Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, saying, "Ask and it shall be given you." Give us now Thy Holy Spirit, that our hearts may be strengthened for the work of this week; through Jesus Christ. Amen. (Father John of the Russian Church)

CONFIRMATION

Bishop Remington will visit our parish on Sunday morning, May 6th, at 11: 00 A. M. to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. We shall be happy to present to him any members of our parish who have not as yet been confirmed and would like to be. A number have been preparing to take this step and have been in attendance at the Rector's Class of Instruction on Sunday morning at 10: 00 o'clock. At this eleventh hour it is not too late to make your decision to be confirmed. Speak to the Rector!

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

The Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House immediately following the morning service, Sunday, May 6th. There will be held the annual election to the Vestry. A buffet luncheon will be served. A reception to Bishop and Mrs. Remington and to the newly confirmed members of our Church will follow the election. Plan to attend.

Miss Emma Smith, R.T., has been elected President of the Eastern Conference of the American Society of X-Ray Technicians. The 23rd Annual Convention of the American Society of X-Ray Technicians will be held in the Ben Franklin Hotel, June 3rd to 8th. A PICTURE OF ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH is hanging all this week in Gimbel's Store Auditorium as part of Philadelphia Hearing Week. Under the leadership of the Rev. Gustav C. Meckling our congregation of the Hard of Hearing is taking an active part in the daily program.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer:

O Heavenly Father, we pray to send into our hearts and into the hearts of all men everywhere, the spirit of our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen. (This Day)

Bible Reading: St. Luke X: 1-11

The Sermon:

When Jesus sent His disciples out on first great missionary venture He said to them, "Go, then; and remember, I am sending you out to be as lambs among wolves." Today there is a great increase of violence and it is one of the most alarming features of our world today. We see it in the rising crime wave and in the preparation for war on every side. Against that background we set the words of Jesus, and He was saying to us plainly, "In a world of violence you are to be gentle: ...you are to rely on love." Jesus Himself refused to be the warlike Messiah which the people so wanted on Palm Sunday. He wants us, also, not to rely on force, but on the power of love.

But, we say, "It is not natural for us to behave that way!" We say "Why, we are belligerant by nature! One of the first things we learned as a child was to give back as good as we got, and it is our natural, instinctive impulse to do it... Why, you might as well expect water to run up hill!" The answer is that water does run up hill, under certain circumstances! Otherwise, the people in the top of the PSFS building would die of thirst. Do you realize that you do things every day that are unnatural? If you drive home today and stop at every traffic light as the light turns red, you are being just as unnatural as anybody could be, for your natural desire is to go where you want to go, when you want to go; and it is only when you have trained and disciplined those natural desires to obey the laws of the land that you stop at a red light. When you sit down at your dinner table and pick up a knife and fork, you are being just as unnatural as any human being could be, because the natural thing would be for you to eat with your hands...and if you go home to live with one husband or one wife, you are being altogether unnatural. Monogamy is not natural to man; polygamy is natural to him."

In other words, when we are wide awake, and sober, and thoughtful, we are not content to be "natural." We discipline ourselves to many ways of living that are better than our natural impulses. Any parent will recall that the first real struggle with each child was training them to get their natural impulses under control. Had a four-months' old baby been able to protest, "This isn't natural for me to learn such self-control," we would have smiled!

Jesus, likewise, bids you to discipline yourself in His way of mature living. He bids you to be gentle in a world of violence. That may require you to make changes in your own personal life. It may necessitate you learning a new patience and unbreakable good will which do not come naturally to you. But it is not the preacher, but the Master, Who asks you to walk through your world as "lambs among wolves."

Closing Prayer:

Almighty God, pour out Thy Holy Spirit upon all who are trying to work for Thee. Take our minds and think through them; take our lips and speak through them; take our hearts and set them on fire with love for Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE SIXTY-SECOND ANNIVERSARY

of the United Thank Offering is being observed this year. From a modest start in 1889 which provided the expenses of one missionary to Japan and a small chapel in Alaska, the U.T.O. today is counted upon to support medical, educational and evangelical work throughout the United States and abroad. The U.T.O. trains young women for Church work. It sends young women to all parts of the United States and over-seas as missionaries. It provides equipment for the Church's women missionaries. It builds new buildings. It gives emergency aid to mission projects. It shares in supporting inter-denominational projects. Two million dollars was presented at the last General Convention in San Francisco. The semi-annual ingathering services of the Diocese of Pennsylvania will be held in Church of the Holy Trinity, Rittenhouse Square, Thursday, May 17th, at 8: 00 P. M. with Bishop Conklin of Chicago as the Speaker.

During the year the women of St. Stephen's have put aside money at times of particular thankfulness in small blue boxes. Twice a year the contents of the boxes are removed and placed in a special blue envelope with name and address and placed in the offering plates at the morning service. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience. Please place the contribution on the plate Sunday, April 29th, or send to the church office in care of Mrs. B. M. Tinsley, our Parish U.T.O. Custodian.

The Rector will preach at the Leamy Home on Sunday, April 22nd, at 5: 00 P. M.

The Rector addressed the Evening Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary at St. Philip-in-the-Fields, Oreland, Penna., Monday evening, April 16th.

CHINESE CHRISTIAN CHURCH AND CENTER

The Episcopalians are endeavoring to raise $5,000. to provide an electronic organ for the new Chapel to be erected at 10th and Spring Garden Street. The Campaign to raise $150,000. for this new Church and Center for our Chinese neighbors has been in progress for several months and approximately $85,000. is now in hand, with plans for breaking ground this spring.

St. Stephen's Girls' Friendly Society has contributed $25.00 toward this campaign and St. Stephen's Mothers' Meeting has contributed $50.00.

Here is a missionary opportunity right at our own door. The door is closed to China itself. Funds can no longer be sent to our Christian friends there. The Rector bespeaks the encouragement and co-operation of everyone that our goal of $5,000. may be reached. To date $3,200. in cash and pledges have been received. Your contribution—large or small—will be greatly appreciated.

Great is Jehovah, The Lord, for heaven and earth testify to His great power! 'Tis heard in the rustling of leaves in the forest, seen in the waving of golden fields, In the loveliest flowers' gaudy array, 'Tis seen in myriad stars of heaven. Fierce it sounds in the thunder's loud roll, And flames in the lightning's brightly quivering flash. Yet clearer thy throbbing heart to thee proclaims Jehovah's power, the Lord God Almighty. HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer:

Visit O Lord, this household with Thy mercy, and remove far from it all the snares of the enemy; let Thy Holy Presence dwell in it to preserve us in peace; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (The Gray Book, adapted)

Bible Reading: St. John 3: 1-16

The Sermon:

Once more the baseball season has begun. The warm sunlight pours down. Crowds cheer at the crack of the bat and groan as some famous slugger strikes out. Soon you will be reading in your daily paper a familiar story. There is a young boy, Billy X, very sick in the hospital. His friends have tried to cheer him up. Doctors and nurses have tried their best to get him on the road to recovery. But Billy lies there, listless, a very sick boy. But one day he looks up, and, right there by his bedside stands his hero, the tall baseball giant who slammed the ball over the fence while thousands cheered. Billy blinks in amazement, and comes to life. Hours later he lies there with a happy smile, clenching the autographed baseball, on the way now to health and strength. If "a great guy" like that cares enough about him to come and see him in the hospital, then that makes life look different!

A lot of people are like that sick boy, they get sunk by the struggles of life, by their own failures and sins, when the "breaks" seem to go against them, when someone dies, or illness puts them deep in debt. Is there any use in struggling, after all? Then there comes to them the great strength-giving Word that "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that all that believe in Him should not perish but should have Everlasting Life." This is a down-to-earth Christ Who comes and stands by the bedside of every sick soul and offers His Infinite Power to make us new and vigorous.

What He requires of us is that we put our lives in His hands, and trust Him for the outcome. Florence Nightingale, "Angel of the Crimea", and mother of modern army nursing, on being asked to tell the secret of her success replied, "If I could tell you all you would see how God has done all, and I, nothing. I have worked hard, very hard; and I have never refused God anything." The answer God gives to all surrendered wills is the power to see it through the hard way. He saw His own Son through Calvary to Easter. He sees every one of the "blessed company of all faithful people" through the pitch-dark night into light. He is the God of our darkest hour.

Does that sound to some one like a very faint hope, pitted against our darkest hour? People have found, in real life, that God never lets a faithful disciple down—never! This faith guides through the blackest night. A minister once went from a town into the back-woods to preach; and found it necessary to return at night when it was very dark. A back-woodsman provided him with a torch of pitch-pine wood. The minister, who had never seen anything like it exclaimed, "It will soon burn out!" "It will light you home", came the confident answer. "The wind may blow it out", said the preacher. "It will light you home" again came the answer. "But what if it should rain?" "It will light you home!" And it did. The man who had walked by that light himself knew that you could depend on it. So can you count on the down-to-earth God to light your way through, and guide you home.

Closing Prayer:

Protect us, O Lord, in all changes of this mortal life, that we, surely trusting Thy never-failing Fatherly Love, may accept the issues of life in the glad service of Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Gray Book)

CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION

The Confirmation Instruction Class meets in the Rector's Study Sundays at 10: 00 A. M. We are always glad to welcome inquirers and those who wish to review the teachings of our Faith.

Bishop Remington will visit the Parish on Sunday morning, May 6th, at 11: 00 A. M.

THE VESTRY

The Annual Parish Meeting for the election of Vestrymen will follow the Confirmation Service on Sunday, May 6th in the Community House. The following is quoted from the Rector's Annual Report which will appear with the parish reports in the annual directory now being printed:

"Space will not permit the adequate recital of the magnificent work done by members of the Vestry in their several fields of responsibility. Remarkable progress has been made in the Burd School by the untiring efforts and inspired leadership of Mr. Edward S. Morris. The Community House program is a source of great pride due to the efficient management and leadership of Mr. Charles K. Hay. (Over fifty thousand attended the various activities in 1950). The Sunday School under the leadership of Mr. Edwin S. Heins continues to prosper. The exacting responsibilities incident to financing the total program of the Church and Burd School and caring for our trust funds is in the efficient and devoted hands of Mr. I. Smith Raspin, Thus we are able to work without anxiety, fear, or fretting. Dr. Old and Mr. Armstrong have given helpful leadership to the problem of acquiring a new organ. Mr. Lyman's interest in young people has kept alive and active one of the city's oldest Scout Troops. Mr. Hauger and his committee have kept our property in excellent condition. Mr. David L. German's report of the activities of the Vestry is worth your careful study. In Mr. Wilson C. Leithead we have a very able Chairman of Adult Education. There is no other Vestry charged with such heavy responsibilities and doing such effective service as the Vestry of St. Stephen's Church.

The Rector will address the Methodist Clergy of the Philadelphia area on the subject of Spiritual Healing at the Robert Morris Hotel on April 16th.

The James Carrigan Memorial Fund has now reached the sum of $774.50. The Rector is anxious to have one thousand dollars before the fund is closed. Have you sent your gift?

Correction: The Memorial flowers to Miss Leypoldt on April 1st were given solely by Miss Yeakle's Bible Class and not together with the Hard of Hearing Women's Auxiliary.

David L. German has been listed among twenty-two Johns Hopkins University students who have been selected to appear in the 1951 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Selections are based on the student's scholarship, his leadership and co-operation in educational and extracurricular activities, general citizenship and his promise of future usefulness. Hearty congratulations!

Charles Stein, our Crucifer, has enlisted in the Navy. We shall miss him greatly, and our heartfelt good wishes go with him.

On Sunday, January 28th, at 11:00 A. M., the Rector has invited the Episcopal Chaplain of the Philadelphia General Hospital to speak to the congregation on the work he is doing in this great city hospital. Chaplain Ward is doing a fine work among the Episcopal patients. The rector will provide a clothes basket and place it at the door of the Church for this service, and members of the congregation are asked to bring cigarettes, candy, tobacco, canned goods and any edible commodities to be placed in the basket. The Chaplain will then be able to give the patients a little gift as he makes his daily rounds.

WORKERS' COMMUNION

On Sunday, January 7, there will be a special service of Holy Communion at 11:00 o'clock to which we invite our young people, and all the active members of our parish organizations. We ask them to begin the year at the Altar, to present their activities, and to ask God's blessing upon all we do.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and the shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer:

O Thou Who art ever the same, grant us to pass through the coming year with faithful hearts that we may be able in all things to please Thy loving eyes; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Mozarabic Liturgy before 700 A. D.)

Bible Reading: Revelation 21:1-7

The Sermon:

"Janus" in Latin means "a door", so January is the "Month of the door" that opens into a new year. But someone grumbles "What's new about it?" When a person goes through a door, it's the same old person that looks around on the other side. I'll be taking myself with me into 1951—so what will be new about it?" That's plain common sense. If you take your same old self into 1951, you'll live in the same old grooves. But here is a young man who was living in a house, preparing it for his bride. Each day he crossed the threshold often. Then one day returning from his marriage, he carried his wife across the threshold and that changed everything. He took something new and glorious and beautiful and humbling into that familiar place. His bride shared his interests, enriched his thoughts enlarged his heart, lifted his ideals. With someone new in his heart that young man found life as fresh and sparkling as a meadow at sunrise.

A thoughtful honest Christian never becomes imprisoned in old, dull ways. For, whenever life begins to lose its shine, he knows that there is an empty room within him; that he has forgotten to invite the Unseen Master into the choicest guest chamber. So he stops and asks God's forgiveness and opens that door again. And the gracious Christ comes again into his thoughts and plans, and hopes, and makes them sparkle with freshness. That gracious Christ quietly points to some hopes and some habits that are unworthy; and gives the man a new vision that desires a more kindly tongue, more understanding thoughts, a humbled heart. That gracious Lord points to crying needs, right close by, that calls for someone to give new comfort and courage. That gracious Master says, "I need you to help me in My world"; and when a man knows that the great God has need of him, the prospect looks very different. Take Christ in your heart across the threshold of the New Year—"Behold, I make all things new!"

"No, they were never quite the same again,
Those shepherds of that dim Judean field;
Old restlessness, old frailties, old pain
From hungers of the soul were homehow healed.
For always, watching, they would see a light,
And always, listening, would hear a song;
And evermore from night to dismal night
The way was never dark, nor watching long.

"The thing that happened on that starry morn
Sustained them down the distances of years;
The Christ-Child, innocent though mortal-born,
Lay in their hearts, a solace for all tears;
All ways of life were evermore to them
A narrow path that led to Bethlehem."

Closing Prayer:

If we have found favor in thy sight, O Lord, show us now thy ways, that we may know Thee; but if thy presence go not with us, carry us not up hence. O Lord Jehovah show thy servants thy greatness and thy strong hand. Amen.
(Exodus 23; Deuteronomy 3.)

The Mothers' Meeting has sent to the Church Treasurer $100.00 for the James Carrigan Memorial Fund, $100.00 for the Organ Fund and $25.00 to the local Chinese Church building program. Almost forty books of the Rector's recommended required reading have been sold and are being read by the members of St. Stephen's congregation. The books are "Holy Scriptures" and "Chapters in Church History." A person who read one of them said, "For the first time I've been able to understand Church History." These books will help ground one's faith in knowledge of the Bible and in history. The cost is $1.50 each. We have two or three available at the present time.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation the Bulletin subscriptions from the following: Mrs. Joseph J. Hardiman, Catherine Cossart, Edward J. VanDyke, Mrs. F. Schmidt, Sr., and Charles E. Holmes.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made. In Him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not. The Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, as of the only begotten of the Father full of grace and truth. He came unto His own, and His own received Him not—but as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe in His name. Arise! Arise! HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others).

Opening Prayer:

Almighty and everlasting God, the brightness of faithful souls, fill, we beseech Thee, the world with Thy glory, and show Thyself by the radiance of Thy light unto all nations; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(Gregorian Sacramentary, 590 A. D., adapted)

The Sermon:

And the Wise Men "departed into their own country another way". They had come, following the Star, to find a King. And a King, to them, was one who dwelt in a palace, with many servants moving swiftly with silent steps, with lords and ladies in rich garb, and armoured guards, and all the latest comforts known to man. They looked for a King lifted high above the everyday throng, living a very different life than theirs, not knowing their daily anxieties and struggle and pain.

And they found a baby in a stable, with the young mother anxious about the drafts that chilled the stable, and a young husband troubled over the poor housing of his wife and baby. Somehow the Wise Men understood that this was a new kind of King, dwelling among his subjects, suffering as they did, wishing to be close to them to teach them how to overcome their many difficulties. Here was a King Who clothed Himself in the flesh of His people, and taught them how daily life might be lighted with divine glory. Here was a strange King, coming to minister rather than be ministered to; to be the Servant in the House, rather than demanding service for His own comfort. Here was a King Whose eye was not focused on the proud power-mass, but Whose heart was with the hosts of little people throughout His world. As Lincoln put it, "God must have loved the common people; He made so many of them."

They had come, their thoughts moving in old channels; and they went off "another way", the way of God's Christ. In just such fashion can you and I come and go, at this Epiphany season, the time of the shining-out of the great Star of God's love. We had such silly ideas of where to find God—in mysterious places, like a startling dream; in some imposing gathering where an important man will speak; in some expensive book which we read in lonely laziness. And, all the time, God's Star leads us, not to a palace, but to a country barn, where farmers and shepherds come and go, and people earn their living. A writer once remarked that the really converted Christian is one who goes into a room full of people, and asks himself, "What of God can I find in this person, and this one?..." Lift up your eyes, my friend, to the Star that leads you to the place where God is found!

"The parish priest of Austerlitz climbed up in a high church steeple,
To be nearer God, so that he might hand His word down to his people.
And in the sermon script he daily wrote what he thought was sent from heaven;
And he dropped this down on the people's heads two times, one day in seven.
In his age, God said, 'Come down and die'; and he cried out from the steeple,
'Where art Thou, Lord?' and His Lord replied, 'Down here, among the people.'"

Closing Prayer:

O Blessed Jesus, Who by the shining of a Star didst manifest Thyself to them that sought Thee, show Thy heavenly Light to us, and give us grace to follow until we find Thee; rejoicing to present to Thee ourselves, our souls and bodies, for Thy service forever more; for Thine honour and glory. Amen.

Cossart, Mrs. F. Schmid, Sr.

The Rector is conducting a healing mission Sunday evenings, 7:30 P. M., in January in St. Luke's Church, Kensington.

INSTITUTE OF PRAYER

is being held in St. Stephen's Church on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 16, 17 and 18. The afternoon sessions will be held at 2:30 P. M. and the evening sessions at 8:00 P. M. Dr. Glenn Clark, writer, teacher, founder of the Camps Farthest Out, will speak at each session and so also will Mrs. Louise Eggleston of Norfolk, Virginia, Chairman of the Spiritual Life Committee of the Methodist Conference in Virginia.

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. Eleven hundred copies are printed each week. Some 700 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of the forty-eight states in the country, and in addition to people in Canada and Japan. It goes to shut-ins and men in the service and to those who value the weekly messages. It costs $30.00 a week to print and to mail this publication. There are 44 issues a year at a total cost of $1,320.00. Last year, the total received from individuals was $552.95. If every family would give $2.00 a year, the cost would be met. Of course, a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so that a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way to pay for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing and handling of the mail make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

EPIPHANY SHOWER

Chaplain Lascelles-Ward of The Philadelphia General Hospital will make his annual visit to St. Stephen's on Sunday morning, January 28th. Gifts of candy, tobacco, canned goods and any edible commodities will be gratefully received for the use of the Chaplain in his bedside work. These articles may be sent to the Church any time before this service or be placed in the receptacle in the vestibule on January 28th.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others).

Opening Prayer:

Blessed Lord, Who has caused all Holy Scriptures to be written for our learning; grant that we may in suchwise hear them, read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest them, that by patience and comfort of Thy Holy Word, we may embrace and ever hold fast, the blessed hope of everlasting life, which Thou hast given us in our Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen. (Book of Common Prayer.)

Bible Reading:—Romans 15: 4-13

The Sermon:

Christians were the most hopeful people in the ancient world. In a society that was drifting into chaos and despair, Christians stood out like lighthouses in a dark and stormy night. Pagans were curious to know what made it possible for Christians to say, "Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope..." Christians have been the most hopeful people in all the nineteen centuries since. No matter how black the night, a Christian can see a Star, and follow it.

Do not think that Christians are just naturally optimists. Christianity has gathered into its ranks hosts of pessimists, whose natural inclination is to notice the dark sky first. But even they can see the Star of hope. Nor must you think Christians are hopeful because they have had the luck on their side. Thousands of the early Christians were slaves, with a grim, hard life—yet they were hopeful people. All sorts of people, in all kinds of circumstances, "abound in hope" because they follow Christ.

The true Christian is always hopeful, because he is never helpless. He has learned that his chief business in life is to find what God wants of him, and then to set about doing it. He finds that what God wants is always possible, because God never asks the impossible, because He helps us to carry out His will. Sometimes He has to be very patient, for God's chores often take time and courage. But he can always inch ahead toward the goal. There is always reason for hope. On the other hand, pagan people who decide to get their own way drift into helplessness, for they are constantly failing, butting their heads against the stone wall of impossibility. They are hopeless because they are helpless. God does not help selfish people to get what they want.

Often there comes a strange and beautiful miracle to those who surrender themselves to God's will. A gallant Christian abandons some cherished dream in order to follow God's leading. Then a day dawns when he finds that God has given him, not only success in carrying out God's will, but also the cherished dream, or something better! An old friend of mine, up against hard circumstances, sick and weary, was utterly perplexed about the months ahead. She wrote me, "A week or so ago I had almost worn God out with my supplications for guidance. One night as I knelt praying, it seemed to me that He spoke to me directly, 'Get up off your knees, go to bed, relax and have a good night's sleep.' The next day the complete solution was suggested to me." So it is with those who commit themselves to God's leading—life becomes so good that they "abound in hope."

Closing Prayer:

O God of hope, fill us, we beseech Thee, with all joy and peace in believing, that we may ever abound in hope by the power of Thy holy Spirit, show forth our thankfulness to Thee in trustful and courageous lives; through Jesus Christ our Lord and Saviour. Amen. (The Grey Book)

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer:

O God, give us a pure heart, a clear mind, and a steadfast will, that all our work may be to the honor of Him Who hath honored us with His love and fellowship, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Henry Sylvester Nash.)

Bible Reading: Matt. 2: 1-12.

The Sermon:

A great evangelist once said that there are three chief points in becoming a Christian—fact, faith, and feeling. The Wise Men had these.

In the first place, the Wise Men followed a fact, the great White Star that led them to the manger. Their long trek was no affair of foolish fancy; they were guided by a shining fact. So a resolute Christian must be guided by the facts of Christ's life and teachings, by His wondrous birth and death, and his still more wondrous living; by His clear words of truth which show the way to the simplest human who is willing to be shown. Faithful disciples are forever going back to their New Testaments for a fuller knowledge of the facts of the Master's life, for a deeper understanding of what He would have them learn. Their footing is firmly in facts.

In the second place, the Wise Men had faith—for though the Star shone bright, it took faith to believe that it would lead them to the manger. It takes faith to set out on any arduous journey with confidence, for cynics sneer about the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow—which no one has ever dug up. It takes faith to start your day tomorrow, expecting that by nightfall you will have done what God wanted of you, and found peace of mind before you sleep. But Christian men and women, through glad experience, have always found their faith justified. Trusting God always works out in the long run. Under the Star is always the manger—God come among men to guide them.

Finally, the Wise Men "went back another way". Kneeling before God's Infant Son, their hearts went out to him in love and loyalty—they were moved to do something about that loyalty. Instead of betraying Him to Herod, they by-passed the jealous monarch, and sped homeward to tell their people about the King they had found at Bethlehem. That is the last and most necessary step in becoming a Christian. It is not Christian to go to church and get all stirred up with noble feelings, and then go home and do nothing about it. It is Christian only when our feelings, our love of God, is so strong and so sincere that we put it to work, like steam under a boiler. As James wisely pointed out, "Faith without works is dead."

Towering over the wrecks of time is the Cross. It is the sign of One Who walked ahead of us, our Elder Brother, teaching us a faith that rests in facts, trusts God like a child, and believes in action. It is the sign of One Who, confronted by men's indifference to God, did something they could not forget—died for them to draw them home to God!

Closing Prayer:

Watch Thou, dear Lord, with those who wait, or watch, or weep tonight, give Thine angels, charge over those who sleep. Tend Thy sick ones, O Lord Christ: rest Thy weary ones; bless Thy dying ones. Soothe Thy suffering ones; shield Thy joyous ones; and all for Thy love's sake. Amen. (St. Augustine)

THE ARMED FORCES

The number of our boys in the Armed Forces is increasing and our thoughts and prayers are with them. We present the Service Cross and Prayer Book to each one. They are widely scattered and their locations change constantly, but our prayers go out for them wherever they are.

The Rector has appointed Mr. James Otis Lyman, Vestryman, as Chairman of our Armed Services Committee. Those who would like to serve on this Committee should speak to the Rector. Our plan is to have the members of the congregation write to these boys.

IS YOUR FACE RED?

"Dear Dr. Price:

I'm very grateful to you for sending me the Parish Bulletin, which I receive every Thursday regularly. I look forward to it and I read every word and I want you to know that over a period of several years that I've been getting it, it has been very impressive and both my wife and myself enjoy it very much.

However, my face was 'red' when I got it today with the subscription envelope, so I'm sending my money before the 'income tax time' comes around.

To read your weekly bulletin is like being an active member of St. Stephen's. You have certainly done and are doing a splendid job. Sorry, I've missed so many Tuesday Services but work makes it that way. I'm up at St. Andrew's-in-the-Fields, Somerton, Pa., which is a Chapel of St. Luke's, Bustleton, Pa., and we are working along very well in spite of limited quarters. I'll see you soon, and many thanks for the Parish Bulletin.

Sincerely,
Chris Wyld"

WELCOME TO CHAPLAIN WARD

We extend a hearty welcome to our guest speaker, the Rev. Neville Lascelles-Ward, Chaplain of the Philadelphia General Hospital. Chaplain Ward will speak to us at the 11: 00 o'clock service on January 28th on his work in this great city hospital. The Rector has placed a receptacle in the vestibule of the church where gifts to his work may be placed. Cigarettes, candy, tobacco, canned goods and any edible commodities will be gratefully received.

YOUR PRAYER BOOK SOCIETY

This year our Chapter of the Female Prayer Book Society has delayed its annual request for contributions because of other money-raising programs, but now we earnestly request your generous support.

Your Society not only has a worthy cause but it accomplishes a lot with the money you contribute. The last annual report discloses a total of 3,860 Prayer Books and Hymnals were sent to 26 Dioceses, Missionary Districts and our American Armed Forces.

Will you kindly help us make a nice showing this year by contributing to this worth while project?

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer:

O God, for as much as our strength is in Thee, mercifully grant that Thy Holy Spirit may in all things rule and direct our hearts; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Galatian Sacramentary, 494 A. D.)

Bible Reading: St. Luke 3: 1-17

The Sermon:

How strange it is that as soon as Lent is mentioned, church people start to think of the sinful things they should stop doing. Hosts of people consider Lent the season in which they should battle their sins. Yet men have learned, through bitter failure, that to dwell on the sin is to put yourself in its power. Lent begins on Wednesday, so we'd best straighten out this matter.

Picture in your mind fiery John the Baptist, preaching to great crowds on the banks of the Jordan. He hit out straight from the shoulder against the hurtful sins of those people. He blasted them. But he did not fix their minds on those sins. He made the people face the sins honestly; then he turned their thoughts away from the sins, to the eternal God and His judgment, so that they cried out, "What shall we do then?", and he told them simply and practically what they should do—share their clothing with the shivering, give a square deal to taxpayers, be gentle and uncomplaining. Those people went away from the fire of John's spirit to learn the ways of honesty and compassion.

Forget about sorry brooding over your sins. Forget about that trifling self-denial you had chosen for your Lenten discipline. Stop and think what the rest of your household would choose for your Lenten "self-improvement." Would they not wish that you would be easier to live with? In place of a prickly temper, to learn patience; instead of demanding your way, to concern yourselves with their needs. Think of your Lent as a half-starved refugee in Germany might want it to be—would he not wish that you would cut out some of your needless spendings on little luxuries, so that you could use the money to feed his hungry body or a gift to CARE?

Discard the silly old, "What shall I stop doing?" and take out the mature, Christian purpose, "What shall I do?" Make up your mind, "I will feed the hungry with the money I save from cutting out desserts"; or "I will learn good temper at breakfast by a habit of three minutes of sincere prayer before joining the family at the breakfast table;" or "I will build up my faith by reading one deeply religious book, in place of trash." You make your own list—of what you are going to do in Lent, led by the spirit of your Master.

Robert Louis Stevenson put it this way, "It is certain that all think too much of sin. We are not damned for doing wrong, but for not doing right. Christ would never think of negative morality; Thou shalt was ever His word...To be honest, to be kind—here is a task for all a man has of fortitude and delicacy...and the Kingdom of Heaven is of the childlike, of those who are easy to please; who love, and who give pleasure." Now, on the threshold of Lent, get your mind on loving ways which will start you off on a more Christian life. Ask yourself, "What shall I do?" and, when God tells you, get on with your building of His heaven around you!

Closing Prayer:

O God, keep our hearts sound, our lives pure, our thinking straight, and our spirits humble, that we may be true messengers of Thy Life to our fellowmen; through Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen. (Church Service League Prayers.)

LENT 1951

Lent comes as an opportunity for the quickening and deepening of our spiritual lives. We can make good use of it in several ways. It is possible to enlighten our minds by reading some book which will clarify our thinking about religion. We can give a little more time to prayer and meditation, both in church and in our own closets. There are also special tasks of service which can be profitably undertaken and carried through between Ash Wednesday and Easter.

For the furtherance of all these purposes there will be special services in St. Stephen's. Beginning with Ash Wednesday, February 7th, every day at 12:30 P. M. to 12:55 P. M. a message will be given by some distinguished guest speaker. On Thursdays at one o'clock the Rector will conduct a service of Spiritual Healing and again at 5:30 P. M. At the latter service he will give an address on healing as well as conduct the Laying-on-of-Hands. The Tuesday lunches for business men will continue during Lent. The Rev. Mr. Meckling will preach at the Sunday Evening Services. Dr. John Gayner Banks of California will conduct a Healing Mission during the week of February 18-23.

The Rector will conduct a School of Prayer in the First Presbyterian Church, Crestview, Florida, February 11th through the 16th.

JAMES CARRIGAN MEMORIAL

The Girls' Friendly Society has contributed fifty dollars to the James Carrigan Memorial Fund. This money comes from the Estate of Mrs. Ada Martin, a member who knew Mr. Carrigan well and laundered the Altar linens for the Church for many years. The gift is given with love for both Mrs. Martin and Mr. Carrigan.

The Memorial for Mr. Carrigan will consist of a suitable plaque to be affixed to the wall of the Church and the balance to be placed in the Endowment Fund and the interest used to provide Altar Flowers in memory of our beloved Verger for various Sundays in the Church Year. The Fund now is close to $700.00 It is not too late for additional contributions. We would like to have at least one thousand dollars.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others.)

Opening Prayer:

O God, without Whom our wisdom is folly, and our far-seeking, blindness—we beseech Thee that from the glory that is Thine, the power of Love may beat upon all our doors and break in, to overcome our evil. O Thou Who art Lord of every land and tongue, grant that it may be given to us to see Thy Kingdom nigh at hand. We ask it through Him that is Thy Love made manifest, Christ Jesus, Lord. Amen. (Toc H Prayers)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 9:27-38

The Sermon:

"When He saw the multitudes, He was moved with compassion on them." That is the way Jesus felt when He looked out over the troubled, leaderless crowds of His day. The greatness of His heart went out to them in loving concern. That is how the living Christ must feel today, as He looks out across the earth's multitudes once more without true leadership, uncertain, anxious, confused.

Tomorrow is Lincoln's Birthday. That towering man found the guiding light of his life by careful, thoughtful reading of the New Testament which he quoted in his speeches, again and again. Like a beacon light, the spirit of the Master showed forth in Lincoln's living, especially in his compassion for the multitudes. Few Christians of all the ages have had Lincoln's Christlike compassion for the numberless "little people" of the world. Perhaps it was because Lincoln (like his Master) grew up as one of the "little people" in humble circumstances. You remember his quotation "God must have loved the common people—He made so many of them." Lincoln had learned from his Master a compassion which gathered into his caring all sorts and conditions of men. He cared for the humble people, grief-stricken Mrs. Bixley of Boston who had lost five sons on the field of battle; and an unfortunate young sentry who, exhausted, had gone to sleep on duty. He cared for the "great ones" as well, a willful Union General, like McClellan, a gallant Southern gentleman like Lee, a stubborn member of his Cabinet, or the Mayor of Washington, D. C. Behind each human face, each human story, he saw a person like himself, suffering, rejoicing, fearful, courageous, loaded down by life. In his quiet way, Lincoln wanted to put his shoulder under each load, because he saw and felt the weariness or sorrow of that other person.

Anyone of us, by patient reading of the New Testament, and devoted attention to the needs of others, can better learn that Christlike compassion. Scoldings only bruise and cut, but compassion heals. Anger only adds to the other's load—but compassion lightens it miraculously.

Mrs. Pickett, wife of the Southern General, tells of her first meeting with Lincoln. "I was in Richmond when my husband fought the awful battle of Five Forks. Richmond surrendered; fire swept the city; there was a report that my husband had been killed. The day after the fire, there was a sharp rap at the door. The servants had all run away, and the city was filled with Northern troops. I opened the door cautiously, and looked up at a tall, gaunt, sad-faced man in ill-fitting clothes, who inquired, "Is this General Pickett's place?" "Yes, Sir," I answered, "But he is not here." "I know, Madame," he replied, "But I thought I'd just come around and see the place, and find out if you were all right. I am Abraham Lincoln." "The President?" I gasped. "No, Madame; no Madame. Just Abraham Lincoln, George's old friend."

Closing Prayer:

O Almighty God, Who willest to be glorified in Thy saints, and didst raise up Thy servant, Abraham Lincoln, to shine as a light in the world; Shine, we pray Thee, in our hearts, that we also, in our generation, may show forth Thy praises, Who has called us out of darkness into Thy marvelous light; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (South African Prayer Book)

One of the very popular speakers of our Lenten season is Dean Gifford of the Philadelphia Divinity School, who will preach at 12:30 P. M. Monday through Friday of this week.

Dr. S. Tagart Steele, Rector of St. Luke's, Germantown, will be the guest preacher Saturday, February 17th. Dr. Steele is the Chaplain of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

A Mission for the healing of body and spirit will be conducted by Doctor John Gayner Banks beginning Sunday, February 18th and continuing each week-day at 12:30 P. M., 3:00 P. M. and 8:00 P. M., Monday through Thursday.

The Mission is for ALL—not just for the sick. The message will be couched in simple language. There will be periods of silence and meditation, as well as instruction and preaching. At each week-night service (except Sunday) there will be an opportunity for seekers to go to the Altar for prayer and direct personal ministry. There will also be opportunity for "Questions" and facilities for the offering of Intercessions.

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

The Church is making a special effort this year to enlist better support for theological education. Partly this is an outgrowth of a dozen years of co-operative effort on the part of the seminaries to obtain an annual contribution. Partly it is an expression of growing concern for the Church and its ministry, and partly, it is the result of a definite need.

All the Theological Schools of the Church are filled to capacity, increased costs all along the line, students' G. I. are now running out, still a serious shortage of clergy, but still only about one-third of the parishes of the Church offering any support to the seminaries.

The custom throughout the country is to take an annual offering and send it to the seminary from which their rector was graduated. Here at St. Stephen's Church we divide the offering between the Cambridge Theological School and the Philadelphia Divinity School.

Our parish offering will be received on Sunday, February 11th and is your chance to have a share in the great work which our Theological Schools are doing. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

Dean Frank Gifford will be our guest preacher Sunday, February 11th and will speak on the important work he is doing in the Philadelphia Divinity School.

The Rector dedicated a beautiful Book of Common Prayer and Church Hymnal last Sunday for the use of the clergy of the church in the conduct of public worship. These lovely memorials were given by Mrs. Jane Harvey, in memory of her sisters, Martha and Margaret Kilpatrick. For many years the Kilpatrick sisters were valued teachers in our Sunday School. We thank God for all that was pure and true, beautiful and good, in the lives commemorated by these memorial books; and for the hope we have, through Christ, that they have entered into life eternal.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer:

O God of hope, the true Light of faithful souls, Who art verily the Light of the World, grant that our hearts may render Thee a worthy prayer, and always glorify Thee with the offering of praises; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(Gelasian Sacramentary, 494 A. D.)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 5: 13-16.

The Sermon:

There are various ways of getting out of ruts. Some ways really bring freedom. Some do not.

Take Mr. Frog, for instance. He got into a rut that was deep and hard and stony, and when his frog friends came and urged him to get out of there, he sat and moped, and angrily told them to go away. One evening, after special prodding and urging from them, he dismissed them. He was through with life. The next morning they came sadly back expecting to find his corpse down in the rut, and were amazed to find him hopping briskly along the bank of his rut. "What happened?" they cried. "We thought you were going to lie down and die in the rut." "Well," he replied "I was going to, when a big truck came thundering right down my rut, and I had to get out." Life had scared him into action, and made him jump. But Mr. Frog was still the same sulky, moping frog, liking to be sorry for himself. It was not long before he was back in the rut again, for he liked his rut better than he liked a free and vigorous life of usefulness.

The Master had the secret of transforming people into new people who got out of their ruts and stayed out, because he changed their ways. He turned their eyes away from themselves—"Ye are the salt of the earth"—your job is to bring the flavor back into stale lives. "Ye are the light of the world"—your task is to drive the shadows out of other lives. He was forever showing them how much people needed their love and understanding. He got them to thinking of the headaches and backaches of the people around them. And He promised that God would enable them to salt the insipid lives lighten the darkened hearts. They not only got out of their old ruts of self-centeredness—they outgrew self-interest, so they never dug themselves into the old ruts again. No matter where you are, or how hard a man your husband seems, or how many pains you have, or how handicapped you are—if you are interested in your grandchildren who come to see you, or even in giving some happiness to that "impossible" man, you will begin to feel a change within you. If you are sincerely asking God to help you to help others, that change will be like the coming of the spring. You may find that you have a lot less aches and pains, too; but the main point is, that you will be out of the old moping rut; and you will begin to live, and change.

A friend of mine, across the world, is giving his life to spread the good news of Christ under a pagan rule, hostile to Christianity. Obstacles are constantly thrown in the way. There is always the shadow of the Enemy across his path. But he gets in no rut. He is free from moping, for he loves the people about him, lives for them, and forever keeps at God's work, sustained by God's strength. He wrote me recently, "This is a test for real Christian teachers, to show what they are by doing their work from day to day as true Christians who live what they teach." There is a glory in his life that keeps him away from all ruts, for he spends his days in the Master's service, salting and lighting those about him. Try it—it's glorious!

Closing Prayer:

Into the faithful hands of our God we commit ourselves now and always. O Lord, let us be Thine and remain Thine forever; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(Weimarischer Gesangbuch, 1873 A. D.)

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer:

Almighty God, we invoke Thee, the fountain of everlasting Light; and entreat Thee to send forth Thy Truth into our hearts, and to pour upon us the glory of Thy brightness, through Christ our Lord. Amen. (Sarum Breviary, 1085 A. D.)

Bible Reading: St. Luke 15: 11-32

The Sermon:

Time was running out. Day after day Jesus had denounced the blind leaders who stood between the people and God, and kept folk from seeing what God wanted. As His flaming words scorched their reputations, their hate deepened. Their spies brought back word of the terrible words that made them tremble. So they began to plot, in earnest, how they might get rid of them. He knew His time was short. There were some precious truths He must tell while He still had the chance. So, one day He told the story of a young man who liked to have his way. He thought of his father as the one who should give him what he wanted; so he asked the "old man" for his share in the family estate and got it. Then off he went to a "far country" to enjoy himself. Like any spoiled child, he figured that the world owed him a good time. For a while he painted the town red, grabbing for pleasure greedily. Then there came one grey dawn when he found himself stony-broke, friendless, and still in that "far country," weary miles from the warmth and cheer of his father's house. The world seemed to think that it owed him nothing. In fact, the world did not seem specially interested in him. It seldom does take much interest in a spoiled child, except to knock him about a bit.

Then he was "stung with the splendor of a sudden thought." He would go back to his father, but not for a hand-out. He knew now that his father owed him nothing. He had "come to himself," had waked up to his sorry, spoiled, child ways. Once he had prayed his father "Give me..." Now he would plead "Make me as one of thy hired servants." So the young man returned, and put himself in the hands of his father, to make something useful out of him—a serving, enriching life.

That is the story of countless people. They start out in life thinking they want something. I remember a man like that who came to me in deep trouble saying, "I've been praying to God for an hour every night, asking him to ....." He was a spoiled child, thinking of his father only as one who could give him what he desired. He wanted to choose his own path, with God supporting him. But wise men found that choosing their own path leads into a "far country" where they get lost and have to turn homeward to their Father. They put their lives back into His hands that He may make something of them; people who serve usefully and gladly under the wise guidance of their Father.

Someone may be thinking, "There isn't much God can do with my life." How dare you! Who are you, my friend, to put any limits on what God can do? For, as a great violinist can take a battered violin, patch it up a bit, then draw glorious music from it; so He can take your life, and laid in His hands, bring from it love and strength to gladden the world.

Closing Prayer:

Bless me, O Lord, with the love of Thee, and of my neighbor. Give me peace of conscience, the command of my affections; and, for the rest, Thy Will be done! O King of Peace, keep us in love and charity. Amen. (Thomas Wilson, 1700 A. D.)

A YEAR OF OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT

We have a great deal to be thankful for in St. Stephen's Parish. This past year has broken all records in attendance and in good works, provided by the generous contributions of our people. Mrs. Hauger, Treasurer, reports the largest amount to come through the envelope system and special envelopes $32,083.73. Our total including income from Endowments amounted to $63,938.46.

We met our increased Missionary Quota of $5,300.00. We raised $1,365.35 for the Presiding Bishop's Fund. We contributed $534.61 to the United Thank Offering. We gave $472.29 to the Episcopal Hospital, $1,280.14 to the support of the Episcopacy, $249.50 to Theological Education. The total for the Diocese and General Church Purposes was $9,300.44.

Over $2,400.00 was contributed for our various parish benevolences such as Christmas Dinners, Benevolent Society and charities. The additions to the Organ Fund have brought the total to date of $11,000.00.

In spite of the record breaking attendance of 1949, the year 1950 has been one of unusual expansion materially and spiritually. The total attendance at the worship services was 50,854, which was 2,486 over the previous year. There were 468 worship services during the year. The Rector conducted 400 services, preached 205 sermons in St. Stephen's. He baptized 18 persons, married 8, buried 20 and presented 29 adults and one child for confirmation (largest class since 1912). The attendance at the various services was as follows:

SUNDAY SERVICES
9: 00 A. M.—1,162; 11: 00 A. M.—11,373; 7: 30 P. M.—3,481
WEEK-DAY SERVICES
Tuesday—1,637; Wednesday—1,779; Thursday—7,455; Friday—1,700
LENTEN NOON-DAY SERVICES—18,117
SPECIAL SERVICES—4,150

It will be readily seen from the above figures that the week-day services are double in number over the Sunday services. Of the total attendance two-thirds come to the week-day services. That surely justifies our ministry in this part of the city. We have no record of the many hundreds of people who come in to pray and meditate between the hours of 8: 00 A. M. and 5: 00 P. M.

St. Stephen's Church operates seven days a week. In so doing, it demonstrates the fact that Christianity is concerned with all of a man's life and time.

WHY IS CONFIRMATION IMPORTANT?

Because Confirmation (the New Testament name is "the laying on of hands") brings to the recepient the gift of spiritual strength through the outpouring of the Holy Ghost. It is not the equivalent of the ceremony of "joining the church" used in some other Christian bodies; rather it is the ordination service of the priesthood of the laity, their call to active service as trained soldiers of Christ.

The instruction class meets in the Rector's Study beginning Sunday, March 11th, at 10: 00 A. M. and will continue until Bishop Remington's visit on Sunday, May the 6th.

Why Worry When You Can Pray?

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer:

O Christ, at Whose Word the wind and waves were stilled, rebuke, we pray Thee, the violence of men, and usher in the day of brotherhood, that we may truly serve Thee; Who, with the Father and Holy Spirit liveth and worketh for us unceasingly, now and forever. Amen. (The American Grey Book)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 21: 1-11 and St. Matthew 4: 1-11.

The Sermon:

It was the palm branches that alarmed the enemies of Jesus. For, to greet a hero with palm branches meant homage to supreme authority. If His enemies had not been so jumpy, they might have noticed another clear sign. As a scholar has put it, Jesus entered Jerusalem, "not driving chariots like the rest of kings, not demanding tributes, not thrusting men off, not leading about the guards, but displaying His meekness by riding upon a lowly donkey." Clearly He came as King of Peace.

Jesus was daring mankind to build a new kind of kingdom. At the time of His temptation He had turned His back on the old ways of brief power, towards the new and eternal Kingdom of God. Ordinary politicians and rulers win the support of the crowd by boundless promises of prosperity and bread; but Jesus declared, "Man shall not live by bread alone." Demagogues draw the multitude after them by a show of irrisistible power, but Jesus would not jump from the temple tower to show His infinite power. Kings and tyrants gain support by piling conquest on conquest, but Jesus was not tempted by the lure of armed power. He turned His back on these old, brass-knuckled ways, and called men to found His new kingdom of loving-kindness, for all time and eternity.

Rameseshan, a native of India, tells how, as a boy, he was ring-leader of a gang who used to stone a preaching party of Christians that came regularly to his village, lying eagerly in wait for them with piled-up stones. "One night, after we had thrown our stones," he tells,"I failed to run fast enough or soon enough, and was caught by one of the preaching party. I looked into the eyes of the man who held me. The affectionate sympathy and abounding love that I saw in his face completely changed my sense of values. This man, instead of cuffing me, treated me kindly, and spoke to me lovingly." Soon afterward he began reading the Gospels. "Something I could not understand gripped me. Although I could not comprehend all their meaning, I read them always with this man's loving face before me." What was it that conquered the stubborn heart of this proud young Brahman of India—it was "the love that shone in the face of the first Christian who spoke to me." Christ had ridden into the gates of his life—the Christ Who is irresistible, once you see Him.

This peace-making spirit of the King of kings rides today into every town and city of the world, every home, every person. Do you want the old, hard-fisted way; or do you want Him, and His powerful, peace-making love? You will have to choose by Good Friday. Which will it be for you?

Closing Prayer:

May all peoples, from the rising of the sun even to the going down of the same, cry aloud in praise to Thee in joyful voice, and say, Glory be to Thee, O God, the Saviour of all, for ever and ever. Amen. (American Grey Book)

An estimated 500,000 children of the Episcopal Church make as their foremost Lenten project, the earning and saving of money for what is known as the Lenten Offering. Since this Offering was started in St. John's Church, Cynwyd in 1877, Episcopal Church children have given as their Lenten Offering for the Church's Missionary Work, $11,608,808.10, which is one of the largest special offerings received in the Episcopal Church. Last year the children gave $509,395.48.

The money earned or saved is put into a little cardboard box, called a "mite" box. Mr. Heins, our Sunday School Superintendent, will be glad to furnish any adult in the parish with a box to help our School give a truly generous gift this Easter.

By early morning light,
Ere yet the day was bright,
Three women came to seek their Lord;
But what their joy to hear
The angel's message clear. Fear not,
For Christ the Lord is risen!

They saw upon the tomb
Dispelling all its gloom,
An angel fair in raiment white.
To them the angel said:
Mourn not your Lord as dead, Fear not,
For Christ the Lord is risen!

Shine forth, Oh glorious ray,
O'er all the world today!

MR. J. STOKES LEEDS AT THE ORGAN

The Flowers on the Altar today are given by Mrs. Lillian Barlow in memory of her husband, Mr. John Barlow; by Mr. James Brady in memory of Major McFetridge, Chaplain 108th F. A. (St. Peter's Church, Philadelphia,—buried in Arlington Cemetery) and by Miss Yeakle's Bible Class and the Hard of Hearing Woman's Auxiliary in memory of Miss Pauline E. Leypoldt.

During the month of April at the Sunday, 11:00 A. M. Services, the Rector will give a series of sermons on the subject of "Life After Death."

The 24th Annual Educational Week for the Blind will be held in Gimbel's Auditorium April 2-6. Monday is Episcopalian day.

We had a wonderful Lent in St. Stephen's Church. In spite of the epidemic, bad weather and early Lent, 16,738 attended the daily noon-day services. Six thousand attended the Good Friday services and on Easter Day we had the largest attendance in the Rector's nine years of service. Why not keep up the habit during the next three months?

A bronze plaque is being prepared for Mr. James Carrigan. Some seven hundred dollars has been received to date which will be placed in an Endowment Fund, the interest from which will be used to supply memorial flowers at various times during the year. It is not too late to send your contribution to this fund. Mr. Carrigan began his Vergership exactly forty-four years ago, April 1, 1907. The following will be inscribed on the plaque:

IN MEMORIAM

APRIL 1, 1907 — JAMES CARRIGAN — SEPTEMBER 21, 1950

FORTY-FOUR YEARS VERGER AND FAITHFUL
CUSTODIAN OF THIS CHURCH
RESPECTED, HONORED AND BELOVED BY ALL

"I had rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of ungodliness." Psalm 84:11.

The Annual Corporate Communion and Breakfast of the Women of the Diocese will be held Monday, April 2nd, at 8:00 A. M., Christ Church, in Philadelphia, Second Street above Market. Tickets for the Breakfast—90 cents—may be obtained in advance at the Woman's Auxiliary Office, Church House.

VESTRY ELECTION

According to the By-Laws of St. Stephen's Church, the annual election for Vestrymen is held on Easter Monday. As this is never a convenient time, the election this year is postponed to Sunday, May 6th, when we shall have our Parish Meeting. This meeting will be held in the Community House following the Confirmation Service. A buffet luncheon will be served. A reception will be held for Bishop and Mrs. Remington at that time.

Bishop Remington will visit our parish on Sunday morning, May 6th, at 11:00 A. M. to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. We shall be happy to present to him any members of our parish who have not as yet been confirmed and would like to be. A number are preparing to take this step and have been in attendance at the Rector's Class of Instruction on Sunday mornings at 10:00 A. M. Plan to attend.

RUMMAGE SALE

Come and have fun "rummaging" around at the Mothers' Meeting Sale Thursday, April 5th, from 11:00 A. M. to 7:00 P. M. You are sure to discover some treasure you can't live without! Lunch and Supper at the Snack Bar.

"The Blood of the Martyrs" was the caption of one of the weekly letters of Simeon Stylites in The Christian Century. He tells of a church bulletin which he had received in which the pastor expressed joy and pride in the members of his congregation who had "braved the rain" to attend the service on Christmas morning. He was so deeply moved that he supplemented this note with his own Hebrews 11, in which he praised "those earnest Christians who, on the high festal day of their faith, nobly dared the rain-drops, some no doubt lifting their umbrellas, and resolutely walked to the garage, climbed into a car, and came to church. Such valor merits a Te Deum. Truly this martyrdom calls to mind earlier martyrs who 'conquered kingdoms, enforced justice, stopped the mouths of lions, won strength out of weakness, became mighty in war.'

"There is Polycarp Brown, who came to the morning service once every three months on fine Sundays, and stayed all through to the benediction. Hell's foundations tremble when shaken by such devotion. There is St. Theresa Robinson, who, it is true, did not stop the mouths of lions, but did stop the mouths of patrons of the Ladies' Aid suppers, having made pies four times in one year.

"There is Pierpont Morton, who increased his subscription from $2. to $3. a Sunday, and was fittingly rewarded by another deduction in his income tax. There is Barnabas Cox, who attended the Easter service every year, and two Men's Club dinners, and who even played End Man in the Minstrel Show. There is Mrs. Boanerges, who drove her two children seven blocks to Sunday School every Sunday, and called for them at eleven to drive them home again. Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

"Such martyrdoms as these promise a great harvest for the church of tomorrow. 'They climbed the steep ascent of heaven through peril, toil, and pain.'"

PRAYER BOOKS ON DESKS: EXPERIMENT TRIED BY BUSINESS MEN

Dallas, Tex.—Members of the vestry of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation agreed to keep a copy of the Book of Common Prayer on their office desks for six weeks, just to see what might happen. It develops that some of the men in spare moments read from the Book at random. Others read the appointed Collects, Epistles, and Gospels, as well as the Psalms. Many discovered prayers, formerly unknown to them.

Visitors to the offices would notice the Prayer Book and mention it. That would lead to a discussion of the Church, and invitations were given to attend church. The Dallas vestrymen testify that the experiment helped them personally, and gave them opportunities for personal evangelism.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others)

Opening Prayer:

O God, lead us day by day deeper into the mystery of life, and make us interpreters of life to our fellows, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
(Henry Sylvester Nash)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 11:25-30

The Sermon:

The Resurrection glory of Easter lifts us up like a spring day to stirrings of hope and confidence, to new caring and consecration, new trust in the power of God to lead us through everything. Make sure that this is not what we call in this part of the country a "January thaw,"—one of those days when for a moment it feels like spring, and then slumps back into the deadness of winter!

One of the great "comfort" (strength-giving) words of Jesus was "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy-laden, and I will refresh you." The people He invites to be close to Him are those who are willing to take heavy loads on their backs, for other people, and for God. And, in the Kingdom of God, no one gets too old or too sick to work—God never puts anyone on the shelf. There is always, at any age, something God needs you to do. He is "the God of the burden-bearers," the people who carry others on their hearts. "Come unto Me," He says—put yourself in His hands as you trust yourself to an able doctor. When you go to the best doctor you know, if you would remain his patient, you must carry out his directions faithfully. It is the same when you turn to the Great Physician. If you "come" to Him, you must be ready to listen carefully, and do just what he bids you. He will undoubtedly tell you to throw aside some of your old loads—foolish worry about tomorrow, senseless brooding over yesterday, stuffy resentments over long-past "wrongs". He will tell you to throw these away for keeps! He will also teach you how to carry the God-given loads now on your back, with the certainty that God would not have given them to you unless He had known you could manage them. He will surely give you new loads, waking you up to undreamed-of opportunities for kindness right in your home and neighborhood; and with these new loads, He will provide the necessary strength.

It is as simple as that, if you are willing to trust Him; if you will believe His promise, "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy-laden, and I will refresh you." Take fifteen minutes alone today, when you can be quiet, and let Him give you directions for that life that is everlastingly worthwhile. You can find, for life, that serenity of which an unknown poet wrote:

"If I were told that I must die tomorrow...
All the fight fought, and all the journey through;
What would I do?"

"God grant that I would neither shrink nor falter,
But just go on doing my work;
Nor change, nor seek to alter aught that is gone;
But rise, and move, and smile, and work, and pray for one more day."

"And lying down for a last sleeping,
Say in that Ear which harkens ever,
Lord, within Thy keeping, how should I fear!"

Closing Prayer:

O God, Maker and Master of men, give us or take away whatever else Thou wilt, but give us a will like Thine own, knowing neither weariness nor waste, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Henry Sylvester Nash)

THE RECTOR'S EASTER GREETING

My beloved People of St. Stephen's:

If the precise nature of the eternal life could be revealed to us so that we might know as much about it as this present life, then the deepest springs of our religious experience would vanish and be no more. There would be no room for faith, life's highest and holiest incentive. It has been truly declared that "aspiration hemmed in by certainty would lose all power to soar."

Men who think seriously and love sincerely cannot long be satisfied with the thought of extinction. "God hath set eternity in our hearts," and men cannot long deny it. Tennyson expresses the conviction that clings to the consciences of the greatest men of the centuries:

Thou wilt not leave us in the dust;
Thou madest man, he knows not why,
He thinks he was not made to die;
And thou hast made him; thou art just.

It is the witness of the Resurrection, "that God gives unto us eternal life," that influences life and character at the fountain spring. It reveals to us the dignity and nobility of this present life, because it is an integral part of the future life. We are thus made to feel that the humble duties of life, the little as well as the larger cares, the common tasks have a meaning and a mighty purpose; that the little thoughts, the little prayers, the little deeds are all of eternal value; that each life is part of God's eternal plan.

At the foot of the white marble cross which his wife placed upon the grave of Charles Kingsley, one of England's first and greatest social preachers, are graven these three Latin words, "Amavimus; Amamus; Amabimus." We have loved; we love; we shall love. It is the risen Christ, that makes that epitaph the sublimest truth of Eastertide. It is love that never faileth, love that moved God to give us eternal life, love that transforms character, love that conquers death and makes the communion of saints a precious and a present truth.

Affectionately and faithfully, your Rector,
ALFRED W. PRICE.

Christmas 1952

Many people are sad these days because of the conditions around them and the things they hear. They are weary and burdened, ill and infirm, in distress and pain. But why are they saddened by the things they hear? They hear only the wail of despair—nothing more can be done. They are like the multitudes who gathered around our Lord in Galilee of old.

"Oh, in what divers pains they met;
Oh, with what joy they went away."

Sadness was changed into gladness. Can the same transformation happen now? The answer will be found in the Bethlehem Stable—a child is born, and the Child is the MESSIAH of prophecy. In the days of prophecy men were conscious of the need, and they had the faith to believe that GOD would answer the need—PERFECT LOVE never leaves any need unanswered.

The need is sadness and love is gladness. Love changes sadness into gladness. How is this transformation made? Love does not really change sadness into gladness: Love changes people: Love changes sad people into glad people: it takes away a life of sadness and gives them a life of gladness.

The problem is a personal quest. Who has the love that can change people? GOD has the miracle—working love, for a change of such magnitude is what we call a miracle. Let us speed to the Bethlehem Stable.

"Love came down at Christmas,
Love all lovely, love divine;
Love came down at Christmas,
Stars and angels gave the sign."

The Holy Babe, LOVE INCARNATE! As we kneel at the Manger Throne there is a prayer and a pleading in our hearts: "Come to my heart Lord Jesus; there is room in my heart for Thee." Then shall Love be incarnate in us. Lo, a miracle is born. We arise from our knees to a life of gladness. Love is born in us: we are sad no longer: Love is our life, our music, our health, our gladness, our all—"My Lord, my GOD, my all."

Love does the things of love: it is its nature: it cannot help doing what it is its nature to do: Love raises the dead, those who are dead in their sins; Love does what it does for Love's sake, not seeking any reward; Love forgives, until seventy times seven; Love heals every sickness and every disease: the prayer of Love shall heal the sick: LOVE IS ALL.

"O Come Let Us Adore Him . . . Christ the Lord."

May the Love of GOD abide in you, His Peace enfold you, His Grace sustain you and His Light guide you this HOLY CHRISTMAS-TIDE.

Sincerely, your Rector,
Alfred W. Price.

The Church Staff—the Rector, Mr. Meckling, the Parish Visitor, the Secretary, the Book Lady, the Clerk, the Sexton and our Handy-man—unite in their desire to convey to you, one and all, their VERY BEST CHRISTMAS WISHES.

divisions are not always an advantage because the purpose has been to secure uniformity of length rather than natural division of subject. In the Revised Versions the divisions are eliminated.

It is very difficult to bring Christians to see what every honest scholar knows, that there is a wide difference in the character of the sacred writings of the Bible. There is history, poetry, drama, wise precepts and eternal principles. Therefore, there must be different degrees of inspiration in the various books, and they must appeal to us with different authority. The Revised Versions print poetry as poetry, and prose as prose. Then there are about six thousand obsolete and ambiguous words in the Authorized Version. One of the outstanding and unfortunate errors of the Authorized Version Committee was made in translating two different Greek words, GHENNA and HADES by the same English word, HELL. The horrible doctrine of a physical hell was based on this mis-translation. In the Revised Versions, the Greek word HADES, meaning the intermediate state, is translated as HADES. If the Revised Version, just by this one correction, will give Christians a higher conception of what punishment for sin involves, it will have been worth all the trouble and expense. The doctrine of total depravity was doubtless based largely on St. Paul's words as mistranslated in the Authorized Version, "who shall change our vile body." This sentence is correctly translated in the STANDARD REVISED VERSION as "who will change our lowly body to be like His glorious body . . .". Then, again, contrast the older and newer Version as to the Apostle's attitude towards the citizens of Athens. In the former he seems to encourage religious bigotry, "I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious", but in the Standard Revised Version he encourages religious tolerance, seeing the best in another's religion, "I perceive that in every way you are very religious". And so we might go on citing instances where the Revised Versions unquestionably lead us away from the letter that killeth and lead us on to the spirit of GOD'S word that quickeneth and transformeth the lives of men. We must not be less rational, but more rational because we are religious. We must be sensible as well as sincere in our religion. The revised Version will help us to know the truth about GOD'S truths, and it is the truth that shall make us free.

LET US PRAY:

Our Heavenly Father, we pray with all our hearts that Thou wilt inspire us to "read, mark, learn and inwardly digest" the Holy Scriptures, and especially the Gospels, so that the Divine Light within us may never go out, that our faith in things divine may never grow dim, that our highest impulses and our most sacred promptings may never be stifled, that the ETERNAL VOICE which speaks in our flesh may never be shut out. Keep our souls sensitive to Thy Call through the faithful reading of Thy Word. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. AMEN.

THE ENGLISH BIBLE

by

THE REV. ALFRED W. PRICE, D.D.

(Preached in St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia, on Universal Bible Sunday, December 7, 1952)

I have frequently ventured the statement that the Episcopal Church is the Bible Church of Christendom. I believe that this statement is substantially true. The glory of progressive Christianity is the open Bible translated in the language of the people. The origin and history of the English Bible is almost entirely associated with our Church. The Episcopal Church gave the world the first English Bible. The most popular version of the English Bible today, which is known as the King James or Authorized Version, was the exclusive work of our Church. The Bible has been translated into every known language, and our Church has had no small share in this splendid achievement. We are probably safe in saying that more scripture is read and said and sung in the language of our people, at our public services than in any other church.

This record, however, is not something about which to boast, but a responsibility of leadership to be humbly recognized and devoutly maintained. The virtue of the Holy Scriptures, as the Collect this day reminds us, depends upon the spirit and the understanding with which we read, mark, learn and inwardly digest them.

The Christian is ignorant of fundamental facts concerning his Bible, who does not know that it is a library of books, written or compiled by many men at remotely different times in the world's history. We are not always certain of the names of the writers, or of the precise time when the different books were written, or of the exact language in which they were written. Speaking generally, the Old Testament was written in Hebrew, and the New Testament in Greek, and in its original form there were no divisions into chapters and verses. We know the errors that creep into our printing in spite of the most careful proofreading, and we ought to know how impossible it was to prevent errors from creeping into the translations of the Bible since all the copies of the Bible were written by hand. The earliest copies were written in capital letters without any space between each word and without punctuation, the writing not always distinct, and the papyrus paper on which the scriptures were written was often almost worn through by erasures. It is remarkable and it is clear evidence of GOD'S guidance, that the numerous hand-written copies of the Bible, discovered at different times and in different parts of the world, so closely agree that we are well nigh certain that we have the original words of the various authors of the books of the Bible.

Revised versions of the Bible have been made at different periods of the Christian era, and their purpose has been to give the people a more accurate translation of the Bible, or at least a translation that could be better understood. The people have generally resented the new versions of the Bible, especially if the old translation had been in use a long time. They have always seemed possessed with the impression that the translation was as sacred as the original word. Christianity of the 4th century was exceedingly angry with Jerome, the Monk of Bethlehem, when he gave the first revised version in the Latin language, and yet his translation known as the VULGATE became the standard of all translations for many centuries. It is the original of the present ROMAN CATHOLIC BIBLE and its influence on our Authorized Version is quite perceptible. Wycliffe's Revised Version in the English language, published in the 14th century, Tyndale's and Coverdale's Revised Versions of the 16th century, and the Authorized Version of the 17th century had to win their way through much bitter criticism and determined opposition on the part of those Christians whom the New Translation was meant to help. Broughon, the greatest Hebrew scholar of his day, wrote to King James that he would rather be torn asunder by wild horses than give up the "GREAT BIBLE"; i.e. Cranmer, 1540, for the Authorized Version which we love so well. So intense was the feeling against the Authorized Version that the translation from the GREAT BIBLE was retained in our Prayer Book for the Psalms and the Comfortable Words in the Communion Service. It may surprise you that we have two different translations of the Bible at every Sunday service!

We have, as you may know, permission granted by GENERAL CONVENTION, to use The Standard Revised Version in the reading of the Lessons at our public services. There is no doubt that the Standard Revised Version is far superior to the Authorized King James Version. It affords a fresher translation without any violation of the beautiful rolling cadences of the King James Version. To my mind, the greatest hindrance to the better understanding of the Bible and to the extension of its influence, and the primary cause of the decreasing interest in the Bible, have been due to those prejudiced and unprogressive Christians who have regarded the Bible as infallible not only in the truths it teaches, but also in the form in which it is written. They have denied any human element in its composition. They have asserted that all the books were equally inspired, that the drama of Job and the poetry of the Psalmists come to us with the same authority as the Gospel of St. John. Many of them ignorantly imagine that every sentence of the Bible came directly from heaven in the English language. They make no allowance for the great changes in the meaning of words, for the great progress in Biblical language and learning, some even going so far as to assert that the Bible is outside the realm of criticism and brand every critic, devout scholar though he be, as a heretic and an apostate. I once heard a distinguished lawyer in a DIOCESAN CONVENTION argue against the introduction of the American Revised Version, declaring in pathetic tones that the Version that he learned at his mother's knee was good enough for him as a man. It was very touching, but it was a lawyer's method of taking our minds off the real issue. It is generally recognized that when a lawyer rests his case upon sentiment that he has a very poor case. It is an argument that no intelligent person would think of using in connection with any law book or treatise, or with any other book. The Revised Edition is always assumed to be superior, and the assumption is usually correct. The Authorized Version as English literature is probably the most perfect translation that will ever be produced. In it the English tongue reached the full stature of manhood. But the style of the language is not everything. It is not the first thing. The first and essential thing is that the language shall convey the nearest approach to the meaning of the original words. The best version must best tell the truth about GOD'S truths. The most competent scholars agree that the revised versions do best tell the truth about GOD'S truths, and therefore they should be esteemed by all intelligent Christians as the Best Versions. Though the English language is seen in all its splendid maturity in the Authorized Version, it represents the infancy of Biblical research and scholarship. Since the year 1611, when the Authorized Version was published, the Vatican Sinaiticus, and Alexandrian manuscripts have been discovered. These copies of the original scriptures are centuries older than any MSS in the possession of the "Authorized Version" Committee. The knowledge of the Ancient Languages has wonderfully advanced since 1611. Modern scholars are familiar with all the fine distinctions of phraseology and inflection in the Hebrew and Greek languages, which were entirely lost on the contributors of the old versions. The Standard Revised Version represents the best of American Biblical scholarship. The Standard Revised Version includes all the changes which the more conservative English Committee declined to endorse in the English Revised Version of 1870. It ought to supersede the King James Version at least for this reason, that it changes most of those sentences that sound indelicate and vulgar to modern ears.

I would briefly point out some of the changes in the Revised Versions that advance the cause of theological progress and religious liberty. The Revised Versions remove Archbishop Usher's dates from the margin of the Bible, because they are discredited by modern science. The heading of the Old Testament chapters often misrepresent the ancient Jews, for when the prophets speak of sin the headings always infer that it is the sin of the Jews, but when of glory and holiness, it is the glory and holiness of the Church. The Standard Revised Version does not state the authorship of the various books that may reasonably be disputed.

The division into chapters was the work of Cardinal Hugo in the 14th century, and division into verses was done by an Englishman, Robert Stephen, to break the monotony of a tedious stage journey in France. This division into verses first appeared in the GENEVA BIBLE of 1560. These

KYRIE ..... Mendelssohn
ANTHEM—"In The Beginning" ..... David D. Wood

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made. In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. And the light shined in the darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not. The Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, as of the only begotten of the Father full of grace and truth. He came unto His own, and His own received Him not—but as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the Sons of God, even to them that believe in His Name. Arise! Arise! Shine; for thy light is come and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. Arise! Arise! Arise! Shine!

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to the church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer—Renew my will from day to day,
Blend it with Thine, and take away
All that now makes it hard to say,
Thy will be done. (C. Elliott, 1850)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 2: 1-15

The Sermon:

"The human race
To you means such a child or such a man
You saw one morning, waiting in the cold
Beside that gate...

Does one of you
Stand still from dancing, stop from stringing pearls
And pine and anguish because of the great sum
Of universal anguish?...You cannot count
That you should weep on this account; not you.
You weep for what you know. A red-haired child,
Sick in a fever, if you touch him once,
Though but so little as with a single tip,
Will set you weeping; but for a million sick,
You could as soon weep for the rule of three,

Or compond fractions."

So Elizabeth Barrett Browning puts the deep human problem—how can we truly feel the suffering of the whole world of people? It is so big, and there are so many of them! We read about the death of starvation of thousands in India; and then, with a brief sigh, move on to the latest cooking recipe, or yesterday's sports events. How are we going to master this problem, so that we shall not live callously, unmoved by the anguish of the world?

Our Bible reading gives the same answer as Mrs. Browning's poem. The Gospel writer might have given us an earnest sermon about the uncounted multitude who would some day learn to worship Jesus Christ, the Son of God. But he knew that sermons about many faraway people do not reach men's hearts. So, instead, he told the story of the Three Kings who came from faraway, and knelt at the Manger in humble adoration of their new-born Lord. These Three Kings have become our familiar friends—there are not too many of them for us to understand and love. In the Epiphany season, the Three Kings remind us of the world of men of all colors and races who now worship Him, and the even greater multitudes who will some day bow before His glory.

"You weep for what you know" is Mrs. Browning's wise solution of our problem. The way for you to enlarge your heart to take in the suffering millions of the world is to love and care for the lonely Syrian boy who is sick, just down the street from you, to show friendship and understanding for the Negro family that has newly moved into your neighborhood; to brew a delicious soup for the poor old woman of no church who is sick just across the tracks. You can only start by caring for some one you can see. If, bidden by the good God, you do that, your capacity for love will grow. Then, one day, you will find yourself digging down for a dollar, or for many dollars, to help unseen sufferers, far away, through Church World Service or "CARE". Weep for what you know, first; and the greater caring will be added unto you!

Closing Prayer:

Grant, O Lord, that what we have said with our lips, we may believe in our hearts, and practice in our lives; and, of Thy great mercy, keep us faithful unto the end; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (John Hunter)

ALTAR FLOWERS

We are indeed sorry to have to announce that due to conditions beyond our control, the cost of Altar Memorial Flowers has to be increased from three to five dollars. It is impossible to obtain two vases of cut flowers for three dollars anywhere in the city and maintain the quality and quanity that we desire in St. Stephen's Church.

WORKERS' COMMUNION

On Sunday, January 6, there will be a special service of Holy Communion at 11: 00 o'clock to which we invite our young people, and all the active members of our parish organizations. We ask them to begin the year at the Altar, to present their activities, and to ask God's blessing upon all we do.

EPIPHANY SHOWER

For the past several years we have had an Epiphany Shower for the patients of the Philadelphia General Hospital. People who have received too much at Christmas, and who would like to give their over-plus to Chaplain Ward who in turn will give the patients a little gift as he makes his daily rounds, are asked to bring appropriate gifts to church on Sunday, January 13th. A large receptacle will be placed in the vestibule of the church where the gifts are to be received. Cigarettes, candy, tobacco, canned goods, and any small edible commodity that can be given to the patients will be greatly appreciated.

With gratitude we list the names of faithful subscribers to the Church Bulletin for 1952: Miss Ida M. Landenberger, Mrs. E. M. Keys, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmid, Mrs. Jay Knox, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Knox, Mrs. L. E. Trent, Jr., Mrs. B. M. Tinsley, Mrs. Ida T. W. Leach, Mrs. John MacDougal.

The heads of all our Parish Organizations are asked to prepare as soon as possible their Annual Reports and to mail them to the Parish Secretary.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to the church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer:

Almighty God, Who knowest the needs of all Thy children, deepen our desires with heavenly wisdom, that we may faithfully accept and use the powers which Thou art ready to bestow, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(John W. Suter, Jr.)

Bible Reading—St. Matthew 8: 18-22

The Sermon:

Joe David Brown begins the story thus: "Nobody in Walesburg had less than Chloroform Wiggins, and nobody felt better... He came from a long line of contented folks." His parents, Sam and Aggie lived on an old, discarded riverboat. They had been married twenty years when their only child was born; and it was a hard birth, so Old Doc eased it all the could. Afterwards, Aggie asked what the sweet-smelling stuff was that Doc had given her to ease the pain. So it came about that she named her son "Chloroform". "Hit's a medicine-name, Sam. Hit's the purtiest name ah ever heered."

The time came when Sam and Aggie died. Chloroform sold the old riverboat, and built himself a little shack. There he lived contentedly, working at humble tasks, at peace with God and men. One rainy day the men were standing around at Clem McCullough's store, because there wasn't much else to do; and they were spoiling for some fun. They all looked up and grinned when Chloroform came in. He had a long, thin neck with a big Adam's apple, and, as usual, his pointed face was covered with a grin. He told Clem that he was aiming to get a mess of catfish down in the creek, and he needed a number-four hook. If Clem would let him have it, he would bring some catfish back to Clem in payment.

Then the men started in. First they asked Chloroform if he thought that one hook was enough, and then, hadn't he better buy himself a new, strong line? They told him he didn't worry enough; but he didn't seem to think he had anything to worry about. They said it was his duty to begin to worry; and the best way was to get into debt-now. What did he want, more than anything else in the world? Nothing, he guessed, except a number-four hook. So Clem bade him look all around the store, and pick out what he wanted most, and charge it. So Chloroform took a good deal of time, and looked around, even at the racks where Clem had hung the calico and taffeta dresses. But when he had finished, he stammered that there wasn't anything he really wanted—except a number-four hook. So they got out the big Sears, Roebuck catalogue, and got him to thumb through it. When Chloroform finished, he looked up (and the men weren't grinning and snickering anymore); and he seemed embarrassed as he said, "Ah reckon ah don't want anythin'; 'ceptin' a number-four hook. Everything's mighty purty, though." So Clem gave him the hook, and he ambled contentedly out.

There was a long silence; and Perry Lokey said, "It beats the life outa me. He don't want nothin'. Reckon there's never been anybody like that before." Clem McCullough's eyes were thoughtful, and his voice was low: "Yes, thar was. Ah heered of somebody else like that. They didn't have any catalogues in those days, so they let Him look around from a mountain-top. He didn't want nothin' you could carry in your hands or put in your pocket." Then Clem did a funny thing. He looked around that big store of his, and his eyes swept the overflowing shelves and the bulging bins and the full racks. "Sometimes", he said, and his voice sounded as if he was thinking out loud, "Sometimes ah think ah'm a mighty pore man."

Closing Prayer:

O God, the strength of those who walk with Thee, confirm in us the knowledge of Thy Presence, that Thou, being our companion in the way, we may so deal with our anxieties that at length our hearts may find their rest in Thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (John W. Suter, Jr.)

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. Eleven hundred copies are printed each week. Some seven hundred and fifty are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of the forty-eight states, and in addition to people in Canada. It goes not only to members but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It costs $32.70 a week to print and to mail this publication. There are some forty-four issues a year at a total cost of $1,438.80. Last year we received $611.90 from individuals in response to our annual appeal. If every family would give $2.00 a year the cost would be met. Of course, a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so that a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way to pay for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

INSTITUTE OF PRAYER

is being held in St. Stephen's Church on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 15, 16, 17. The afternoon sessions are at 2: 30 P. M. and the evening at 8: 00 P. M. Dr. Glenn Clark, writer, teacher, founder and director of the Camp Farthest Out, will speak at each session and so also will Mr. Glenn Harding, an outstanding leader of youth, presently Executive Director of Koinonia Foundation. Prayer Laboratories will be conducted each day. Alice Kraft will open the Institute with the unique message "The Door to Spiritual Power via Exercises in Creative Rhythms". This session will be held in the Community House, January 15th.

Resolved for 1952: In a world of ill-will, to be the bearers of good-will—to replace disunity by community—to banish despair by hope, fear by trust, hate by love.

Have you signed your 1952 pledge card? If you have, you should have received your box of offering envelopes which were mailed December 20.

A very interesting article about the Rev. and Mrs. Gustav C. Meckling entitled: "Ever feel defeated?...Meet these champs" appeared in the January issue of Guideposts.

St. Stephen's Church depends upon the generous support of those who make this their church home. The Vestry commends particularly the use of the Duplex-Envelope as the simplest and most satisfactory method of maintaining the church and also of meeting the obligations outside the parish.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to the church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer:

O Eternal God, Who in Jesus Christ has shown us the revelation of Thy character; help us in Him to see Thee as Thou art, and to walk in the way which He has declared to us. Who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Spirit, now and ever. Amen. (The Grey Book).

Bible Reading: II Timothy 2: 1-10

The Sermon:

Certainly you would not go into a fruit store, and ask for a hat; or try to buy a three-cent stamp from an automobile dealer. You would not order a quart of milk from an insurance agent, or a sirloin steak from a Chinese laundry. You would not make these strange requests, because you know what each of these businessmen has for sale. You understand what you have a right to expect from each one.

Yet, in their prayers, people make just as strange and silly requests of God. After nineteen centuries of Jesus Christ's teachings, we should have a clearer idea of what we can expect from God. We should know what He has for us. We should know that we cannot expect pampering from the God Who bade His own Son to go to Calvary. Nor can we expect Him to step in and wage our struggles for us. As Jesus pointed out so many times, God gave us our talents to use in the conflict of life.

If you will read the Book of the Acts, and the Epistles, you will see that the early Christians did not have any soft, God-protected lot—they waded through all sorts of troubles, with triumphant joy. With God's help, they found that they could meet the worst that life could throw at them. And they did get God's help, because they asked for what God can give—strength for the fight!

"Long since, in sore distress, I heard one pray
'Lord, Who prevailest with resistless might,
Ever from war and strife keep me away;
My battles fight!'

I know not if I play the Pharisee,
And if my brother after all be right;
But mine shall be a warrior's plea to Thee—
Strength for the fight.

I do not ask that Thou shalt front the fray,
And drive the warring foeman from my sight;
I only ask, O Lord, by night, by day,
Strength for the fight.

When foes upon me press, let me not quail,
Nor think to turn me into coward flight.
I only ask, to make mine arms prevail,
Strength for the fight.

And when, at eventide, the fray is done,
My soul to Death's bed-chamber do Thou light,
And grant me, be the field or won or lost,
Rest from the fight." (Paul Laurence Dunbar)

Closing Prayer:

Now the God of all grace, Who hath called us unto His eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that we have suffered awhile, make us perfect; stablish, strengthen us. To Him be glory and dominion, for ever and ever. Amen. (The Grey Book)

The Rector will speak to the women of the Churchwoman's Club on Tuesday evening, January 22nd and to the men of the Y.M.C.A., 1421 Arch Street, on Thursday, January 24th at 7: 30 P. M.

Starr Daily will conduct a two-day Prayer Institute on January 29th and 30th at St. Stephen's Church."

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to the church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others)

Opening Prayer:

Almighty God, from Whom all thoughts of truth and peace proceed, kindle, we pray Thee, in the hearts of all men, the true love of peace, and guide with Thy pure and peaceable wisdom those who take counsel for the nations of the earth, that Thy Kingdom may go forward till the earth is filled with the knowledge of Thy love, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Toc H Prayers)

Bible Reading: I Corinthians 13

The Sermon:

Professor Sorokin writes, "Etched into the trunk of a large tree in a dense forest not far from Archangel, in northern Russia, is this inscription 'Love is the only creative force.' I know it's there, because I put it there myself...one afternoon in late summer in 1918." He had taken part in two revolutions, hoping to bring order and peace—and all that had resulted was more of chaos and raging turmoil.

As he looked back, he found that all the good things in his life had come out of the power of loving kindness—the pleasant surprises, the helping hands, the words of encouragement. And now even his release from prison was due to the gratitude of a commissar who remembered how the professor had willingly given a night school course—who had willingly helped this man and many other workers. Love, then, had opened the prison door for his escape to this great, free land of ours, where he now teaches.

Most of Professor Sorokin's time at Harvard University is taken up with a special project. An educational foundation is spending twenty thousand dollars a year for six years to make it possible for this ex-Russian professor to study and apply the power of love in the world. For instance, he and his associates have made a study of a thousand people, in many parts of the United States, who have been suggested by radio listeners as being outstanding "good neighbors". After careful investigation, "we found no instances where the good neighbor was the Very Important Person in the town. There were no mayors, bankers, business tycoons—affection was not necessarily for the one who owned the most property or gave the biggest parties...No, the people who were remembered were like the woman who acted as community nurse and drove the sick to the doctor or to the hospital; the woman who made a lot of extra preserves each year, and gave some to needy neighbors; the bachelor who volunteered as a baby-sitter for his friends, taking several youngsters at a time so the parents could go to dances or the theatre...What made these people as they were? In the vast majority of cases we found that they had acquired the habit of 'love thy neighbor' in childhood with their families...They came from happy homes." It was as simple as that—living as children in an atmosphere of honest love, they grew up to be loving people, and they spread the contagion of love about them, and their communities were blessed and lighted by their lives.

That professor's eager research is simply an application of the teaching of Jesus Christ, a twentieth century adventure in the spirit of St. Paul's great Chapter on love. What glorious hopes rise against the black clouds of today's sky. Professor Sorokin concludes: "It is our hope that through these studies we may find the key to the conquest of hatred, which has been responsible for two world wars in my lifetime, and today bids fair to bring on another."

Closing Prayer:

Praise be to God for the shelter from wind and weather, which being hallowed by love, becomes our home. May He help us to keep it holy and happy, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Toc H Prayers, adapted)

CONFIRMATION

There are many people today not attached to any church, but are Christian men and women; they occasionally attend services but are drifters. Some of them were regular and devoted members of churches in the places from which they came. We would have such people identify themselves with St. Stephen's Church and take a stand for Christ and His Church.

Other people are regular attendants at the services of St. Stephen's but have never made any public profession of religion. They march along with the army but are not in uniform. When asked if they attend church, they hesitatingly reply that they "go to St. Stephen's"! They inwardly feel that they are not sons of the house! For their own sakes as for the good of the Church, it would be wise for such people to take a definite step.

Children grow up and reach the age of decision. They then take upon themselves responsibilities which were put upon them by parents and teachers. That age, roughly speaking, is about fourteen.

The visit of Bishop Hart to the Parish on April 27th is the occasion for all the people to take their places among the organized followers of Christ. Some do it by Confirmation and others by Letters of Transfer or in other ways; but the important thing is for all to join the fellowship of the disciples under the leadership of the Master.

Confirmation classes are to be held every Sunday at 10: 00 A. M. in the Rector's Study, beginning February 17th. All are welcome whether or not they have been confirmed, whether or not they have any intention of being confirmed. Such subjects as these are being considered: Faith, Morals, Sacraments, Church History, the Prayer Book, etc.

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

The Church is making a special effort this year to enlist better support for theological education. Partly this is an outgrowth of a dozen years of co-operative effort on the part of the seminaries to obtain an annual contribution. Partly it is an expression of growing concern for the Church and its ministry, and partly, it is the result of a definite need.

All the Theological Schools of the Church are filled to capacity, increased costs all along the line, students' G. I. are now running out, still a serious shortage of clergy, but still only about one-third of the parishes of the Church offering any support to the seminaries.

The custom throughout the country is to take an annual offering and send it to the seminary from which their rector was graduated. Here at St. Stephen's Church we divide the offering between the Cambridge Theological School and the Philadelphia Divinity School.

Our parish offering will be received on Sunday, January 27th, and it is your chance to have a share in the great work which our Theological Schools are doing. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

WHY IS CONFIRMATION IMPORTANT?

Because Confirmation (the New Testament name is "the laying on of hands") brings to the recipient the gift of spiritual strength through the outpouring of the Holy Ghost. It is not the equivalent of the ceremony of "joining the church" used in some other Christian bodies; rather it is the ordination service of the priesthood of the laity, their call to active service as trained soldiers of Christ.

The instruction class meets in the Rector's Study beginning Sunday, February 17th, at 10:00 A. M., and will continue until Bishop Hart's visit on Sunday, April 27th.

A YEAR OF OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT

We have a great deal to be thankful for in St. Stephen's Parish. This past year again has broken all previous records in attendance and in good works, provided by the generous contributions of our people. Mrs. Hauger, Treasurer, reports the largest amount to come through the envelope system and special appeal envelopes—$35,133.68. Our total, including income from Endowments, amounted to $70,000.00.

Each year we are giving more to worthwhile objects outside the parish. Each year we assume a larger pledge to the missionary work of the Episcopal Church. This year we met our missionary quota of $6,890.00, which was a 30 per cent increase over the previous year. We raised $593.29 for the Episcopal Hospital. We gave $248.85 for Theological Education, $542.35 for the Women's United Thank Offering and $257.75 for the Christmas Basket Fund. We paid in full our Diocesan Assessment of $1,155.22. The total of our benevolent giving for 1951 was $17,529.54. Fifty per cent of all the money contributed to St. Stephen's by members and friends in 1951 found its way to benevolent and mission objects outside the parish. The additions to our Organ Fund have brought the total to date of $13,000.00. Oh yes, we almost forgot—despite the rising costs in every item on our budget, this past year, we closed the year with a balanced budget and go into the new year with all bills paid.

In spite of the record-breaking attendance of 1950, the year 1951 has been one of unusual expansion materially and spiritually. The total attendance at the worship services was 51,526. There were 468 worship services during the year. The Rector conducted 400 services, preached 205 sermons in St. Stephen's. He baptized 19 persons, married 14, buried 24, and presented 19 for confirmation. The attendance at the various services was as follows:

SUNDAY SERVICES

9:00 A. M.—1,182; 11:00 A. M.—11,014; 7:30 P. M.—3,275

WEEKDAY SERVICES

Tuesday—1,773; Wednesday—1,985; Thursday—7,876; Friday—1,699
Lenten Noon-Day Services—16,738; Special Services—5,986

It will be readily seen from the above figures that over two thirds of the total attended the week day services. That alone justifies our ministry in this part of the city. We have no record of the many hundreds of people who dropped in to pray and meditate between the hours of 8:00 A. M. and 5:00 P. M.

"FLOWER OF TIBET"

The China Inland Mission will show the above motion picture at Miss Hannah Yeakle's Bible Class, Sunday, February 3rd, at 4:00 P. M., in St. Stephen's Community House. The offering will go for the work of the Mission. All are invited to attend. Tea will be served.

The Rector presented Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Kolmann for Confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel in the Church House on Monday afternoon, January 28th.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others.)

Opening Prayer:

Lord Jesus Christ, Keeper and Preserver of all things, let Thy right hand guard us by day and by night, when we sit at home, and when we walk abroad, when we lie down and when we rise up, that we may be kept from all evil; and have mercy upon us sinners. Amen. (St. Teresa of Clajes, 362 A D.)

Bible Reading: St. Mark 8: 14-21; St. Matthew 5: 1-12

The Sermon:

Dr. Sockman has pointed out that there are different kinds of "seeing". You go to your oculist, and he puts before you a wall-chart on which there are lines of letters, varying in size—He tries lenses of various strengths and asks about certain letters. "Can you see those?" And you answer, "I see." That is physical vision. Or you go to your lawyer about your income tax, and he patiently explains, and light begins to break on your mind, and you say, "I see." That is mental vision. But now suppose that a daughter comes home to dinner, and goes through the meal with what she thinks is perfect composure, although underneath, she is much upset about a friend of hers. After the meal is over, her mother says, "Mary, out with it! I see there is something up." That mother is seeing with the eyes of the heart Jesus once remarked rebukingly, "Having eyes, see ye not?", because so many people "see" so little as they go through life.

Actually, we see what we are interested in—what we are looking for in life. A father and son walk down the road. The father is interested in nature. He sees the different kinds of grasses, trees, and flowers. The boy is interested in motor cars. He keeps track of how many Pontiacs and Plymouths pass...One man lives in a town with a negative, critical attitude. He sees the pettiness of its people, the stodginess of the place, all the tawdry things that Sinclair Lewis portrayed in "Main Street". Another man lives in the same town, and sees the heartiness of its neighborly spirit, the opportunities offered by its schools and churches, all the inviting things a William Allen White would see in his community. It is the same town; the difference is in the set of the mental focus and the depth of the insight.

Jesus promised, "The pure in heart shall see God." Double-talking, double-living people will not, of course, see many signs of God's goodness as they trudge through their days. But single-hearted people, with a child's eagerness to know God, will encounter Him, joyfully and richly, again and again. A mother stands over her baby as he gurgles with contented laughter—and she suddenly catches her breath over the wonder of a God Who was able to create her baby and his laughter. A rare woman of ninety lies gravely ill, and her family gathers around her bed, and each is thinking long thoughts of the long years behind, years made rich by this woman and her rugged faith in God. A car pulls up at my front door—it's a refreshingly Christian person, taking a convalescent friend for a drive out along the tree-arched country road; and you suddenly see God at work in that true Christian. This can get to be a game one plays through each day's living as some one said, "Whenever I go into a room full of people, I wonder what of God I shall see in each person." The eager people, the "pure in heart", find God daily in human beings, and sunsets, and songs, and gardens, and books. The Christian faith, patiently exercised, trains the eyes of the mind and heart to live in the radiance of seeing God in our common life.

Closing Prayer:

O God, Who by making the evening to succeed the day, hast bestowed the gift of repose on human weakness, grant, we beseech Thee, that while we enjoy those timely blessings, we may acknowledge Him from Whom they come, even Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Mosarabic Liturgy, before 700 A. D.)

A MINISTER'S CHRISTMAS CARDS

Birthdays, anniversaries,
A dozen cards will bring.
At Christmas come six hundred cards
To make his heart to sing!

The other cards congratulate
For an event or date,
But Christmas cards are thank you cards,
'Tho many may be late.

In their appreciation
Of kindnesses performed,
Of healing, and of ministry
To hearts that have been warmed.

Gift-giving is commercialized.
'Twas not intended so
To celebrate the birthday
Of the Christ-Child, long ago.

But that so many cards of thanks
Can come from grateful souls
Makes Christmas-time his happy time,
When gratitude unfolds—Elizabeth V. D. Price

Chaplain Ward of the Philadelphia General Hospital has asked the Rector to extend his thanks to the members of St. Stephen's Church for the lovely gifts given at the "Epiphany Shower" for the patients of the Hospital.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others.)

Opening Prayer:

Almighty God, Whose glory fills Thy temple, let the whole earth keep silence before Thy tranquil majesty, that we may venture reverently to worship the beauty of Thy holiness, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (John W. Suter)

Bible Reading: St. Mark 6: 31-34

The Sermon:

There are many people who truly crave serenity, but do not know how to find it. Jesus shows us how.

There was a time in His ministry when He and the disciples were furiously busy. Crowds thronged about them, bringing their sick to be healed, their questions to be answered. Jesus saw that His twelve men were close to exhaustion—actually they were not getting enough leisure to eat their meals in peace; on the go, on the quick move, from morning until late evening. Jesus quickly passed the word to His disciples, "Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while." So they went, and stretched themselves out in peace on that mountainside, and drank in the quietness of it all and the beauty of the far view. Sometimes "Be still and know that I AM GOD" means that you must make your body be still, to stop moving, so that you can slow down your excited, straining thoughts, and listen to GOD.

There are simple, practical ways to still our bodies, to "come apart, and rest a while." You have been hard at work, house-cleaning, hurrying, hurrying, hurrying. Something within you says, "Come apart and rest a while", and you stop your cleaning, and drop into a comfortable chair by the window, and look out. Maybe your eyes rest on a great company of swallows gathering along the telephone wire; and the sight of that annual exodus first gives you a reminding twinge that summer is over, then it reminds you of the wonderful ways of God Who has put into the birds the sure instinct when to wing their way to the southlands. You watch them, wondering; and suddenly you are praying, praising God for His greatness. A moment later you are back at your sweeping, refreshed by "coming apart" into thoughts of God.

There was once an over-busy, exhausted English businessman, whose doctor ordered him to go to a quiet place and rest. He went, but he did not know how to be still and relaxed. One day, in a frenzy of exasperation, he took his walking stick and went for a walk across the countryside, slashing at the little blue flowers that covered the path. Finally he encountered a botanist, stooping down, and peering through a magnifying glass into the heart of that little moorland flower. "This ugly plant is a nuisance, isn't it?" the business man exploded. The botanist smiled, and handed over the magnifying glass, and bade him look. As he gazed through the glass, he saw for the first time the delicate beauty and symmetrical perfection of the tiny flower. He handed back the glass with a sober face—"I didn't take time to look", he said. He had discovered this God-created beauty only when he stopped, made his restless body be still a moment, and took time to look with seeing eyes. So Serenity can come to those who truly desire it; those who are willing to come apart into the stillness with God.

Closing Prayer:

Walk with us, O Christ, in the way, as Thou didst with Thy disciples, until the day is spent and our journey done; then of Thy goodness break with us the bread of life, and grant us vision of Thy face; for Thy Name's Sake, world without end. Amen. (John W. Suter).

THE BELL TOLLS

When (the Church) baptizes a child, that action concerns me; for that child is thereby connected to that Head which is my Head too, and engrafted into that body, whereof I am a member. And when she buries a man, that action concerns me: All mankind is of one Author, and is one volume; when one man dies, one Chapter is not torn out of the books, but translated into better language; and every Chapter must be so translated. God employs several translators. Some pieces are translated by age, some by sickness, some by war, some by justice; but God's hand is in every translation, and his hand shall bind up all our scattered leaves again, for that Library where every book shall lie open to one another: As therefore that Bell that rings to a Sermon calls not upon the preacher only, but upon the Congregation to come, so this Bell calls us all...

No man is an Island entire of itself; every man is a piece of the Continent, a part of the maine; if a clod be washed away by the Sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a Promontorie were, as well as if a Manor of thy friends or of thine own were; any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankind. And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls. It tolls for thee.—By John Donne

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others.)

Opening Prayer:

O God, Who sendest forth Thy commandment upon the earth, and Whose Word runneth very swiftly; Let Thy Holy Spirit so prepare our minds and wills for Thy teaching, that no carelessness or shallowness or love of ease shall hinder us from bringing forth the fruits of righteousness, by which men may know that we are followers of Thy blessed Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (John Wallace Suter)

Bible Reading: St. Luke 12:22-30

The Sermon:

In the modern, more reliable translations of the New Testament, Jesus says, "Be not anxious for your life, what you shall eat, or about your body, what you shall put on...do not seek what you are to eat and what you are to drink, nor be of anxious mind for all the nations of the world seek these things; and your Father knows that you need them. Instead, seek His Kingdom, and these things shall be yours as well." Jesus had worked as a carpenter, and supported Mary and His brothers and sisters, after Joseph's death—He knew that food and clothing are important and necessary. But He also knew that men let themselves get so anxious about these things that they forget the things of God. So He bade us put God's things first, to center our most urgent desire on pleasing God; and trust God for the rest.

This gives us a clue to the meaning of Lent. Many people have a queer idea that Lent is the time when we give up things that are bad. But that, my friend, is what a Christian is expected to do all the year around. Lent is the special season to give up certain pleasures which we normally enjoy. It is not because these pleasures are harmful that we cut them out—they are harmless enjoyments on which we spend much time. We give them up in Lent because they crowd out better things. Lent constantly reminds us of the sacredness of time. At any given moment we can do only one thing. We must do this or that Lent is the season when we put aside ordinary pleasures, for the sake of deeper satisfactions, to study God's Word in the Bible and in books of our day, to worship Him in church, to pray to find His Will for our lives. We discipline ourselves to waste no time, even on harmless pleasures, for the sake of pursuits of deeper importance.

So, during these days of Lent, "seek His kingdom". Put that first. I do not know how you waste your time—too much sitting before your television, too much movies, too much card-playing, too much long-winded conflabbing over the telephone. I do not know how you waste your money—whether it be on pleasant extras to please your stomach or to adorn your body. But I do know that every human being wastes time and money on things that are cheap compared to God's business, that many of us let our loyalty to God's purposes get smothered by over-much pleasure.

Jenny Lind, the great Swedish soprano, disappointed many of her friends because she turned down so many big contracts that would have increased her fame as well as her riches. One day, a friend surprised her sitting by the seashore reading the New Testament. The friend rebuked the singer for not seizing her chances for the well-paid singing tours. Quickly, Jenny Lind put her hand on her New Testament and said, "I found that making vast sums of money was spoiling my taste for this." In Lent, see that you turn away from time-consuming, spirit-spoiling pursuits which keep you from making God's wishes the first business of your life!

Closing Prayer:

Open, O Christ, the eyes of our faith; that, reaching forth unto those things which are before, we may follow the high calling of God, as seeing Him Who is invisible; through the power of the Holy Ghost. Amen. (John W. Suter)

LENT 1952

Lent comes as an opportunity for the quickening and deepening of our spiritual lives. We can make good use of it in several ways. It is possible to enlighten our minds by reading some book which will clarify our thinking about religion. We can give a little more time to prayer and meditation, both in church and in our own closets. There are also special tasks of service which can be profitably undertaken and carried through between Ash Wednesday and Easter.

For the furtherance of all these purposes there will be special services in St. Stephen's. Beginning with Ash Wednesday, February 27, every day at 12:30 P. M. to 12:55 P. M. a message will be given by some distinguished guest speaker. On Thursdays at one o'clock the Rector will conduct the usual service of Spiritual Healing and again at 5:30 P. M. At the latter service he will give an address on healing as well as conduct the Laying-On-Of-Hands. The Tuesday lunches for businessmen will continue through Lent. The Holy Communion will be celebrated every Friday as usual following the noon-day service. The Rev. Mr. Meckling will preach at the Sunday Evening Services and will conduct the Thursday Healing services during the Rector's out of town engagements.

The Annual WORLD DAY OF PRAYER will be observed on Friday, February 29th. In the Central City Area the service will be held in the First Baptist Church, 17th and Sansom Streets, from 12 to 2 P. M. The evening service will be held at 8:00 P. M. in the Lutheran Church of the Holy Communion Chapel, 2211 Sansom Street.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others.)

Opening Prayer:

Lord, forgive what we have been; sanctify what we are; and order what we shall be; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen. (Prayers, Ancient and Modern)

Bible Reading: II Corinthians 2: 1-5

The Sermon:

When St. Paul set out to establish the Church of Christ in Corinth, he was dealing with a prosperous city, bustling and rich with the thriving trade between the Aegean and the Adriatic Seas. One of St. Paul's problems was the diversity of pagan recreations and pleasures, many of them low down and evil. People were engrossed in having a "good time." In fact Corinth sounds strangely like our materialistic America of today. St. Paul reveals his spiritual strategy as he declares, "I determine not to know anything among you, save Christ Jesus, and Him crucified." He had vigorously simplified his own life, so that all he had to offer to men was the Christ Who died for them that they might see the love of God. The Corinthian Christians also were an unruly lot, cliquish, quarrelsome, full of hot-headed arguments. One claimed that Apollos' way was right, another that St. Paul's ideas were better, but St. Paul answered with single-minded wisdom, "I have planted, Apollos watered; but God gave the increase." He refuses to be drawn into their wrangling differences of opinion. He turns their minds back to the God of creation and love, the Father of the Christ Who died for them. So he rose above petty, complicated, fussy living, and guided himself by the mighty simplicity of following Christ. And people learned this way from him.

Lent is a season of "centering down" on the great and abiding realities. It is a golden chance for you to simplify your life, so that you can have some of the deeper-channeled, single-mindedness of St. Paul. How much "diddling" men do at their desks,—consuming precious time with trivial details of no importance. How many valuable minutes a housewife wastes each day on "soap-box operas" or trashy talk, when she might better be pouring her strength into her God-given task of caring for her family. How much money and strength we Americans fritter away in the pursuit of material enjoyments and possessions.

Leo Tolstoy once wrote a short story entitled, "How Much Land Does A Man Need?" In it he tells of Pahom, an ambitious peasant, who, having accumulated many acres was still unsatisfied. He goes to a region where, for a small sum of money he can buy all the land he is able to walk around in a single day. So anxious is he to encircle as much land as possible that he over-reaches himself. At sunset he makes a desperate spurt to reach the spot he started from in the morning; and, just as the sun disappears, he reaches the required place—and drops dead.

His servant digs a trench and buries him. Tolstoy concludes: "All the land that Pahom needed was six feet from his head to his heels." Pahom's life needed simplifying. It may be that yours does, also. Lent is the time for it—get busy!

Closing Prayer:

Be Thou, Thyself, O Lord, the Sanctifier and the Shepherd of Thy people, that we who are strengthened by Thy help may, in our daily life, walk with Thee, and in all quietness of spirit, serve Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
(Roman Breviary)

SUGGESTED LENTEN READING

Forward-day-by-day—A small booket of prayers and meditations for every day. 10 cents. Forth—the official magazine of the Episcopal Church telling of missionary work at home and abroad. One year, $1.25. "Create and Make New," Bishop Pardue ($1.50). The subject of this book is "the heart" which the author describes as "the sum total of man's inner attitude toward life." It is a book for laymen and the reader will find tremendous help in dealing with those problems which beset the interior life.

CONFIRMATION

Bishop Hart will administer the Rite of Confirmation in St. Stephen's Church on Sunday morning, April 27th. All who are thinking of securing full membership in the Episcopal Church should take advantage of the Rector's lectures held each Sunday morning at 10: 00 o'clock in his study. The class is open to everyone, those who have already been confirmed and who would like to "brush up" on their knowledge of the church's teaching and practice; those who are new to St. Stephen's and its ways and desire to know the meaning of our customs and practices.

The Rector will preach at the Lenten Noon-Day Services in ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, Syracuse, New York, and conduct a Christian Healing Mission during the evenings at CALVARY CHURCH, Syracuse, from March 3rd through the 7th.

Our guest preacher for the Lenten Noon-Day Services Monday through Friday, March 3-March 7, will be Dean Gifford of the PHILADELPHIA DIVINITY SCHOOL. Dr. Harry S. Longley, Rector of HOLY TRINITY, Philadelphia, will be the preacher on Saturday, March 8th. Dean Gifford has published recently a new book of sermons: "The King's Highway".

We are happy to list the names of the following subscribers to the 1952 *Church Bulletin*s Mr. Walter Steele, Mr. C. Romanovsky, Mr. George W. Hicks, Mrs. T. S. MacGoldrick, Mr. Robert W. HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others.)

Opening Prayer:

O God, give us a pure heart, a clear mind, and a steadfast will, that all our work may be to the honor of Him Who hath honored us with His love and fellowship, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Henry Sylvester Nash)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 23: 37-39; I Cor. 1: 10-17.

The Sermon:

In another of Joel David Brown's stories, there is the remarkable scene when the old maid goes to the steamship office to plan a trip. The clerk was a red-headed Irishman named O'Reilly. The first place he suggested was South America. The old maid sniffed, "I don't think I want to go to South America. I understand that there are a lot of Indians and half-breeds down there, and I may as well tell you that there is another place I don't want to go to. I don't want to go to Ireland. They say it is cold and wet and full of Catholics." That was too much for O'Reilly. "Faith and begorra, miss", he replied briskly, "suppose you go to hell. It's hot and dry and full of Protestants!"

I do not know for a fact, whether O'Reilly's last statement was correct. I hope not! But I do know that I thoroughly agree with the vigor of his reply to the bigoted spinster. She could not have paid much attention in church—if she went to a Christian church. Nor could she have read her New Testament with any degree of care. For never in its pages can you find any encouragement of narrow bigotry. St. Paul, in writing his unruly Corinthian friends, scorches them for their quarrelsome cliques—"I am for Apollos"; "I am for Cephas"; "I am for Paul". He asked sternly, "Is Christ divided?" Read thoughtfully the words of Jesus. His purpose was to draw people together—"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem...how often would I have gathered your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wing; and you would not!" No, the only division Jesus made between people was between those who are willing to obey God's Will and those who are not—and He was forever seeking to shepherd the disobedient and willful people back into the family of God.

In Lent, therefore, it is your Christian duty to simplify and deepen your loyalty to Christ. It does not matter, I think, to God, whether you go to a church that uses holy water, or to one that does not. He seems chiefly interested in the spirit of your living with other men; whether your energy is poured into sharp-barbed prejudices and squabbles, or into the compassion that gathers people into loving friendship and understanding.

In some of our towns each year, on the Sunday evening before Christmas, there is set up a great, single candle in the square. People light that Christ-candle which stands for the One Christ we all follow, the One God we all worship. All the clergy of the town, Protestant and Roman Catholic, are gathered on the platform, and one by one, they light their candles at the Christ-candle. Then, leaning over the edge of the platform, they pass on the light to those who are nearest, and the light spreads across the thousands that stand there under the winter sky. No man cares which his neighbor belongs to, so long as he passes on the light. That candle-light service draws all the people together, as the Master has always desired—"How oft would I have gathered..."

This Lent, learn the gathering spirit!

Closing Prayer:

O Master of men, set our hearts on fire with the desire to know Thy blessed Will. Send us forth amongst Thy people to teach and to save; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen. (Henry Sylvester Nash)

ANY QUESTIONS?

Did you ever wish that you could sit down with a parson and ask him all the questions you wished about religion and its relation to life? Did you ever feel that the churches have not given enough instruction to their people? If you have not, is it because it has not occurred to you to wonder about these things?

I am not one of those who thinks that ministers work only on Sundays, but should be happy to meet with earnest seekers during the Spring Season, in various homes throughout the Parish. How about offering your house? We will gladly supply names of your church neighbors, if you do not already know them. We could have a lot of fun and get better acquainted, and I could have an opportunity to see more of you than is normally possible. Will you attend one such meeting some evening?

CHRISTIAN HOSPITALITY

The end seat is a desirable location for some people. But if the first person, who enters a pew, takes the end seat, it becomes very difficult for others who wish to sit in that pew. It would be an act of Christian self-denial and real courtesy if, as we enter the pew, we move to the center of it. This will save a great deal of confusion and will give evidence of genuine personal hospitality toward other persons who share the pew with you. The end seat is not the end of life, as viewed in the Christian philosophy—"If any man will be My disciple, let him deny himself."

CHRISTIAN HEALING MISSION

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. John Gayner Banks, D.Litt., who is to conduct another Healing Mission in St. Stephen's Church, Sunday, March 9th through Wednesday, March 12th. He will preach at 11: 00 A. M. and 7: 30 P. M. on Sunday, March 9th and at 12: 30, 3: 00 and 8: 00 P. M. each week day.

Dr. Banks has presented the message of Christ's healing over a period of thirty years in six different countries, has edited two healing monthly magazines and has published six books on Spiritual Healing. He is in close touch with the healing movement in Great Britain and has made twelve trips to that country in the study and pursuit of this larger ministry. He is a member of the Commission on Christian Healing in the Diocese of Los Angeles. He also holds the classification of "Religious Journalism" in Rotary International.

We welcome most heartily the Rev. R. Dunham Taylor, Rector of the Church of The Good Shepherd, Germantown, who will be the Lenten Noon-Day Preacher on Saturday, March 15th.

The North Convocation Meeting will be held in St. George's Church, Livingston Street and Indiana Avenue on Tuesday, March 11th. Holy Communion at 10: 00 o'clock—Box Luncheon at 12: 00 o'clock. All women of St. Stephen's are invited.

THE RECTOR'S TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Rector will celebrate his tenth anniversary as Rector of St. Stephen's Church on Sunday, March 16th. He is asking the people of the Parish to join with him in celebrating that occasion by making it "Family Sunday"; that is, that all the families of the Parish will attend Church at one of the services, preferably the eleven o'clock service, having as many members of the family present as possible and sitting together as families.

He chooses this method of celebration, because of a deep conviction of the fundamental importance of family life. Many influences today tend to weaken family ties; the Church should do everything in her power to strengthen them. The Holy Spirit is the only power in the world today able to resist the disintegrating influences and to stimulate the love and devotion which will unite families for time and eternity.

The Rector hopes that many of the people of the Parish will gather in Church by families that day and make this a memorable and inspiring occasion.

"Ten years have passed since I became Rector of St. Stephen's Church. It might be fitting to summarize what has been accomplished during that period, if it were the purpose of this report to make us rather satisfied with ourselves. A small amount of pride in our accomplishments is justifiable, but self-satisfaction is detrimental to progress. A reviewing of the past is only helpful when it spurs us on to great zeal for the future.

"Though figures are often boring, they may prove to be at least a partial insight into what your church has done in the past ten years. From 188 services ten years ago with a total attendance of 30,003—this past year there were 452 services with a total attendance of 51,526. The Noon-Day Services have increased from 2,928 to 13,331. The Lenten Noon-Day Services have increased from 13,200 to an average of 18,000. The Healing Services have increased from 1,391 to 7,876. Ten years ago the total receipts reported by the Treasurer of the Envelope System was $7,446.80, while this past year the total was $35,133.63. Our present missionary quota of $7,000. is 100 per cent higher than it was ten years ago. Ten years ago we had $30,000.00 mortgage on the Community House. Today our entire property is free and clear of debt. During the decade we have added $70,000. to our Endowment Fund. The physical fabric of the Community House and Church had had extensive repairs, renovations and renewals such as roof, heating plant, pews, marble, stained glass windows, the painting of buildings and installation of expensive electronics for the Hard of Hearing. (By 1953, God willing, we hope to have the $35,000. needed for the new Organ.) During this decade the tradition-shattering departure was made in the financing of the church—the system of pew rentals was discontinued.

"St. Stephen's Church is now facing the greatest opportunity of its history. Never before were there so many varied religious services rendered to the people of our neighborhood as there are today. Never before in the 129 years of our history has the ministry of this church reached out to so many people as at the present time. The program of the church very largely has been designed to meet the needs of people; not one group of people, but different groups of various ages and backgrounds. The great challenge of the church in the midst of a busy city is being met by a program that has reality and significance." (Taken from the Rector's Annual Year Book Report for 1951-52)

PLACQUES TO BE DEDICATED

On Sunday, March 16th, at 11: 00 A. M., the Rector will dedicate two Placques measuring 15 x 22 inches to the memory of Mr. James Carrigan and Mr. George H. Streaker. These placques have been placed in the vestibule of the Church on either side of the door. They read as follows:

IN MEMORIAM
James Carrigan
April 1, 1907 — September 21, 1950
Forty-four years Verger and Faithful Custodian of this church
Respected, honored and beloved by all
"I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of My God than to dwell in the tents of ungodliness."—Psalm 84: 11

THE TOWER BELLS OF ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH
A Memorial To
George Hoover Streaker
August 5, 1860 — May 4, 1949
Beloved Superintendent of Sunday School, Boy Scout Leader, Lecturer and oft-time Bell-Ringer
"Sweet melody...that thou mayest be remembered." (Isaiah 23: 16)

The Rector will preach at the Lenten Noon-Day Services for the seventh time in Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, March 17 through March 21st. He will speak to the Protestant Clergy of Pittsburgh on Monday evening. He will preach on successive evenings in St. Stephen's Church, Sewickley, St. Stephen's Church, Wilkensburg, and the Church of the Ascension, Pittsburgh.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, Rector of Christ Church and St. Michael's, Germantown, who will be the Lenten Noon-Day Preacher Monday through Saturday, March 17th-22nd.

CONFIRMATION CLASS

The course of lectures designed to explain the doctrine, discipline and worship of the Episcopal Church is now in progress Sunday mornings in the Rector's Study at 10: 00 o'clock. A special effort is being made this year to alert all members of St. Stephen's to their Christian responsibility for bringing others nearer to Christ through this method. Those who attend the lectures, and wish to do so, may be confirmed on Sunday, April 27th. A moment's thought may suggest to your mind a person who you think might like to become a member of our Church. Pick up the telephone and let us know. If interested, and you don't receive an invitation, plan to attend anyhow. Lectures on the services of our Church, its history, symbolism, faith, and sacraments will be included in the course.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer:

Eternal Father, Who showest Thy people the way in which they should go, turn our feet from the city of destruction toward the City of God; re-direct our desires and labors in accordance with Thy Will, that we may achieve the New World for which Thy Son was content to die, even Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(American Grey Book).

Bible Reading: St. Luke 10:25-37

The Sermon:

Are you eccentric? Vast numbers of people are, for "eccentric" means "off-center", like a wheel with its axle not in the true center. When a wheel is not properly centered, its course is a wobbly, and uncertain one, headed for disaster. So it is with a person whose aims are not centered in God, and whose days are not centered on the human needs about him. The course of the self-centered person is always bumpy and headed toward tragedy. Are you "eccentric"?

Jesus taught people to "center down." "Thou shalt love the Lord Thy God..." and center down your dreams on Him. "Thou shalt love thy neighbor..." and center down your daily activity on serving your fellows. It is a wondrous thing to see a person all tangled up by selfishness, decide to "center-down" on God and neighbor; and to see how swiftly the tangle clears up.

Fulton Oursler tells the true story of such a life. It took place in a glum, brown-stone house on New York's Central Park, West. It had once been a mansion, and now was turned into a refuge for despairing people, stumble-bums—with money, who came there to be treated for alcoholism. One crisp afternoon fifteen years ago, a patient on the second floor awoke from a nightmare, and glared into the face of the little doctor waiting by his bedside. "Morning, Bill", began the physician, with a tug at his long, brown mustache. "Morning, Doc! So I'm here again, heh?" "It might interest you to know that you are now on your fiftieth visit." Bill forced a sickly smile: "A half-century plant, am I? Guess I never will get well—right, Doc?" "I'm afraid so, Bill." "O. K., couldn't I have a little drink to celebrate the bad news?" The doctor sighed. "I'll make a bargain with you, Bill. I'll let you have what you ask, only first you'll have to do something for me. There is a young fellow in the room at the end of the hall. They brought him in last night for the first time; but it won't be his last time if something isn't done about it." "What can I do?" "Just climb out of bed and stumble down the hall, and let the kid have a look at you. That's all. You are a horrible example this morning, Bill; you might scare him out of ever taking another drink." Bill jeered at the possibility, but he made it a bargain; and he went down the hall.

Something about the youngster interested him, and Bill began to talk—told the newcomer that there are some people who just can't touch liquor; and then, suddenly Bill found himself quoting little bits of the Sermon on the Mount, great truths he had learned long ago about the Power greater than ourselves that we must depend on. The youngster showed interest and asked, "What can I do, Mister?" "PRAY," was Bill's answer, "and let me help you!" All morning the odd pair talked. They promised to keep in touch. They would continue to "buck-up" each other. They did. Since that day Bill has been back in the hospital hundreds of times—but never again as a patient. He goes to many hospitals (and hundreds of his associates do, also), only to serve. For it was Bill, who that day, discovered that it is in helping others that we help ourselves; that in "centering-down" our lives on God and people, we find freedom at last. For that first talk with a youngster started Bill on his great life-work—for that was the beginning of "Alcoholics, Anonymous"!

Closing Prayer:

Eternal Father—unto Thee we commit ourselves. Use even us with our ignorance and frailty to accomplish Thy Holy Will and hasten the day when all shall dwell together in helpfulness and love; for Thine is the Kingdom; and the Power, and the Glory, forever and ever. Amen. (American Gray Book).

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer:

Almighty God, unto Whom all hearts are open, all desires are known, and from Whom no secrets are hid, cleanse the thoughts of all hearts by the inspiration of Thy Holy Spirit that we may perfectly love Thee and worthily magnify Thy Holy Name; through Christ our Lord. Amen. (Book of Common Prayer)

Bible Reading: Romans 12: 1-5; Isaiah 2: 1-5; Jeremiah 13: 23.

The Sermon:

In these weeks of Lent we are working to make our lives more simple and whole-hearted in the following of Jesus. We are being made less eccentric, are being centered-down in the needs of our neighbor and the purposes of God. We are, in St. Paul's words, not to be transformed to the ways of the world, but transformed to the ways of Jesus Christ.

Dr. Clarence Horner has recently pointed out, human nature can be changed. There are many, however, who are saying human nature cannot be changed. There have always been thieves and there always will be. There have always been liars, and always will be; it is human nature to lie. It is folly to dream of a day when swords will be beaten into ploughshares and nations will not learn war. There have been wars, and always will be. It is human nature to fight. "A leopard cannot change his spots."

Perhaps there are times when we all feel that human nature cannot be changed. Well, when we do, we are wrong! It is not human nature to stop your car when a red light appears at a railroad crossing. But we have been made into that kind of a creature. It is not human nature to eat artichokes, but we can be taught to eat artichokes and like them. It is not human nature for a man to kill his fellow-men and be proud of it, but in war he can be conditioned to murder and come out a hero.

A human being can become almost anything that seems desirable, provided the proper influences are applied. Within our human nature there are almost unlimited possibilities. We can be changed downward from the high to the low. We can be changed upward into better and more enlightened men and women. Selfishness can be changed into altruism. There was an old doctor who never refused a call from rich or poor, but he now had enough to live on, and was content. One midnight he received a telephone call from a stranger. "Have you any money?" the old doctor asked. Certainly, he had money. "Then call the new doctor," he said. "I am too old a man to get out of bed for anybody who can pay for it." The selfishness had been purified out of that doctor. His human nature had been transformed! Handicaps can give way to sympathy. A gentleman took a group of children to the circus in Madison Square Garden in New York—children who were either blind or deaf. On the way home, one of the blind boys said to him, "Gee, I feel sorry for those deaf kids. They couldn't hear the band play; they couldn't hear the lions roar, or the clapping of the crowd. They couldn't even hear the elephants clump by." That blind boy glowed with a nature that had been transformed into compassion.

If we "center-down" on God, and our neighbor's needs, God can shine out through our changed lives, until they are transformed into humble lamps of His great love.

Closing Prayer:

O Christ, our only Saviour, so dwell within us that we may go forth with the light of hope in our eyes, and the fire of inspiration on our lips, Thy word on our tongues, and Thy love in our hearts. Amen. (Adventiat Regnum)

We extend a hearty welcome to the Very Rev. Chester B. Emerson, D.D., Dean Emeritus of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, who is to be the Lenten Noonday preacher from Monday through Friday, March 31-April 4.

The Rector is to conduct a Christian Healing Mission in St. George's Church, Bridgeport, Conn., March 31-April 4.

"PERENNIALLY YOURS"

The flowers on our Altar are not symbols of the fading and the fleeting. Love's blooms are eternal. Flower Memorials may be new—or renewed any time through the church office or by contacting Mrs. William B. Campbell, LO 7-1612:

" 'Tis a fragrant retrospection, for the loving thoughts that start
Into being are like perfume from the blossom of the heart."

MAGAZINES NEEDED!

Miss Hess, who makes our hospital deliveries, is having an enforced vacation due to lack of supplies. Let's DO something about it!

OLD ST. STEPHEN'S TOWER OF GREY STONE

Old St. Stephen's tower of grey stone,
That looks kindly down on the street,
Has a voice that can sing to humanity's crowds
That are bustling about at its feet.

Its song is not raised to the skies,
But floats softly down to the ground
Where shoppers and workers and visiting travelers
Can hear it, some distance around.

A hospital is one of the places
That is reached by the tower's glad song.
It comforts and cheers all the suffering souls,
And makes their time there seem less long.

The lonely, the friendless and sad
Soon realize that they're not alone
When down through the air comes this musical voice
Of St. Stephen's tower of grey stone.

In Advent the song is Repentance—
"Prepare ye the way of the Lord!"
At Christmas the wonderful carols sing out—
Like heaven's rain, music is poured!

As Lent passes by, in its turn,
The listeners, with faces so worn,
Are given new hope and a taste of the joy
That will come with the glad Easter morn.

Saturday:
12: 30 P. M.—The Rector will preach

Standing room only was the story every day Monday through Friday when the Rector preached and conducted a healing mission in the large, downtown Church of Calvary, Memphis, Tenn. during the week of March 23. A special service was held in the Cathedral of that city on Thursday evening to accomodate those who could not get into Calvary. Almost the same response occurred while the Rector preached in the Cathedral in Pittsburgh, and in the various suburban parishes in the evenings. The Rector spoke to the entire student body and faculty of Southwestern University, Memphis, and was introduced by one of the southern Prices—Dr. James Price, University Chaplain.

DEAN ADAMS

The final of the preachers in our 1952 Lenten Series is the Very Rev. Fred M. Adams, D.D., Dean of Trinity Cathedral, Trenton, New Jersey, who will again inspire a crowded church, as he has for many years, Monday through Thursday. Bring your friends.

The Rector will preach at St. Alban's Church, Roxborough, on Palm Sunday, April 6, at 8: 00 P. M.

AGNES SANFORD, Author of "The Healing Light," will give a lecture in the church on Thursday, April 17, at 8: 00 P. M. Bring a friend.

THE CHURCHMOUSE says:
"A man may fall several times, but he isn't a failure until he says somebody pushed him."

Complaints are being registered by members of the parish who find that their private devotions are being disturbed—if not made impossible—by excessively noisy visiting in the church before services.

Fellowship is wonderful, and we need as much of it as we can generate at St. Stephen's, but let's enjoy the vocal part of it outside. The church is a "house of prayer."

Our belated but hearty "thank you" to the following subscribers to the Church Bulletin: Mr. and Mrs. John A. Shimp, Mr. Raymond Winter, Mr. Claude H. Buckson, Mr. Fred M. Eshelman, Mrs. Mary W. Burgess, Mrs. Edith Otto, Florence R. Wilder, Mrs. V. S. Wells, the Rev. George R. Bishop, Miss Helen F. Mockett, Mrs. Frank Wolf, Mrs. Florabel F. and Miss Florabel Cunningham, Mrs. Christina Leight, Blanche W. Friel, Mrs. Howard G. Marston.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country and others).
Opening Prayer:

O God, for as much as without Thee we are not able to please Thee; Mercifully grant that Thy Holy Spirit may in all things rule and direct our hearts, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Book of Common Prayer)
Bible Reading: St. Matthew 10: 34-40
The Sermon:

It is natural and right, at Easter-tide, that we should rejoice in Jesus' triumph over the grave, and take comfort in our loved ones who have shared in His triumph. But Christians do not confine their joy to resurrection from physical death. They have discovered that resurrection takes place here in the familiar, every-day world where we live.

So many people walk about in life, dead on their feet. Self-centered and self-satisfied, they have long since ceased being "alive" to those around them; stopped responding to the unspoken longings of those who live in the same home; deaf and blind to the pain and travail of the world.

But most Christians have discovered that as soon as you surrender your life to Christ, and enlist in His cause, you "come alive". You rise out of your old, dead self, and begin to live the most zestful, radiant life this world has ever known. Committed to Christ, you find strength where there has been weakness; hope, where there has been despair.

Margaret Lee Runbeck tells a true story of this present-world-resurrection. A young mother, with her four-year-old girl, was fleeing before Hitler's army as they sped across France. Like all other refugees, her one idea was to get herself and her little girl across the Spanish border to safety. But the frontier guards were stubborn—no refugees could pass. So that night the young mother prayed as she had never prayed before. The next day a man came to her room, saying, "I'm a guide from the underground. In the dark of the moon I lead parties of refugees over the mountains and down into Spain. It's a long and difficult trail, but GOD will help." That night, when the town was asleep, the young woman and her little daughter set out for the meeting-place, upon a mountain trail. The little girl seemed tired. The mother had to carry her, and she was panting with exhaustion when they joined the company of refugees. The leader bade them to trust GOD in this desperate attempt. Young men volunteered to carry the small girl. As they toiled higher and higher on the steep trail, the strain began to tell. Finally the oldest and frailest man gave a moan and said, "I can't go on", and sank to the ground. "Don't mind me. Leave me here to die. Save yourselves." The leader stood over him, stern and yet compassionate, saying, "You're not dead yet. We must all help each other. Whatever strength you have belongs to all of us. With your last ounce of strength help us to carry the lady's child—until you die." Three times on that dreadful expedition three different old men gave up. And each time the God-guided leader insisted that the exhausted old man use his last drop of energy to carry the child. When the morning light appeared, they were passing the border safely into Spain. Every one of the party was there, alive, and well! The three old men had found resurrection in "losing" their lives for the sake of a little child. "He who loses his life for My Sake shall find it."
Closing Prayer:

Now unto Him Who is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us—unto Him be glory throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

We are happy to acknowledge receipt of Church Bulletin subscriptions from the following persons: Mrs. Effie G. Smith, Mrs. Mildred C. Faris, Mrs. C. J. Guenther, Mrs. Charles Campbell.

ANTHEM—"We Praise Thee, Lord, For Thy Consummate Gift To Man"
H. Alexander Matthews

We praise Thee, Lord, for Thy consummate gift to man
The glory of motherhood.
As sweet as meadows after rain,
As gentle as a meadow-lark's refrain.
As fragrant as a lilac in the lane,
A mother's influence for lasting good
Enfolds us through a life-long span,
We praise Thee, Lord, for Thy consummate gift to man.

We thank Thee, Lord, for one who showed her child the way,
The mother of our youth;
Her words and treasures in our ears,
Her guiding hand has held us through the years,
Her image brings deep joy that perseveres,
For thought of her and Thy eternal truth
We thank Thee, Lord, and when we pray
Grant us remembrance of the debt we cannot pay.

We praise and thank Thee, Lord, for Thy great gift to man,
The glory of motherhood,
A mother's influence for lasting good
Enfolds us in a life-long span.

One of the answers given by the children in the Sunday School to the question "How are we different from animals?" was "In looks." With this the CHURCH MOUSE heartily agrees.

A MOTHER'S WORLD

"The mother of Sisera looked out from a window and cried through the lattice 'Why is his chariot so long in coming?'"

In world literature there is no finer portrayal of the spirit of the mother than this lyric. She was a pagan woman but the instincts of the maternal heart rise above any limitation of race or religion. The mother of Sisera stands at the window waiting the return of her warrior son. The shadows gather. The sun sinks in the western sky. Still she is there. Intently she listens for his chariot wheels. Impatiently she cries "Why is his chariot so long in coming?" She pictures his distant camp and the division of the spoils. The richest things are for her boy!

The scene gathers up a mother's pride, ambition, confidence. It never once occurs to her that her son might fall.

Is not this the epic of mothers? She is always believing, trusting, hoping, dreaming the best things for her child. In gayer mood and in graver moments no one understands the lad as the mother does.

We are noticeably silent today in our arguments against the equality of women. They have proved their equality plus. What we are most interested in is the quality of women—not the equality. There is the reason we turn to Motherhood. We have found that no civilization can rise higher than its womanhood.

In a very large part womanhood has entered nearly every walk of life for the sake of a New Ideal. She has realized that she has a special contribution to make. She sees things differently. A man usually asks: "How much will it cost?" How much will it make?" A woman steeled in centuries of sacrifices breathes: "How will it affect my home?—my children?"

The Ideal of Motherhood will ever remain the highest ideal of womanhood. Nothing can ever replace this as her most cherished vocation. It is with this ideal in mind that woman has gone forth into every realm. Wherever she has gone life has been enriched and ennobled.

Is it not the extension of this ideal of Motherhood into all of life that will redeem our modern society? In no better way can we understand the Universal Brotherhood of the human family than in terms of the home in which the ideals of Motherhood holds sway.

Yes, this is a woman's world—a Mother's World! We honor all womanhood today as the Home, impersonated in a Mother, goes forth to conquer the world for the Kingdom of Christ.

THEIR IMMORTALITY

Once a year, by a beautiful custom, we are called upon to remember the dead, particularly those who have died heroically. It is Memorial Day.

A memorial when understood may become a very significant thing—when abused, a very tragic thing.

A memorial is anything intended to preserve the memory of a person or an event. The 30th of May was, therefore, set aside for the purpose of commemorating the lives of those soldiers who gave themselves as sacrifices that others might live. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

The nobility of sacrifice is a fundamental truth, and it is the most potent force in the uplift of the world, and saves it from degredation and death. It is the spirit that does not reason; it does not bargain; it gives its all fearlessly, freely, willingly that others may live. It lays its life down on the altar, ready to be consumed for the noble and holy purpose it has in view.

There is abundant reason for believing that it is according to Christ's teaching that the men and women who laid down their lives for their country, made the supreme sacrifice, that you and I might live in peace and security, have gone to their eternal reward, and are numbered with the great host which St. John saw in his vision, "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve Him, day and night, in His temple." They tell us from the heavenly places that it is in God's House that we alone can find the higher sense of gratitude that makes for good citizenship. It is in God's House that we best think of our brave American boys who have fought and suffered and died that we and our children might live in peace, free and unafraid. It is here that we offer a silent prayer to God for "those who died for liberty and did not die in vain; they counted light their loss that gives the world eternal gain." If Jesus spoke truth as we firmly believe when He said "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends", then the man who lays down his life for others must surely be partner with God. Those noble men, our sons and brothers who with good hearts, from high motive, went to battlefronts of the world, made a certain consecration of themselves to God and country and civilization. We would not compare it with Divine Consecration, but we do affirm that the man whose soul feels a weight of responsibility for his country, who is moved to give himself to a cause which he believes to be one of freedom of mankind, and who loses his life that others may live, that such a man finds life abundant because it was for Christ's cause, for the Master's sake that he died.

So let us rejoice that they have eternal life through their sacrificial death, and catch with throbbing heart the radiant spirit of Rupert Brooke hymning the fallen heroes whom he was so soon to join:

"Blow out, you bugles, over the rich dead.
There's none of these, so lonely and poor or old,
But, dying, has made us rarer gifts than gold.
Gave up the years to be of work and joy, and that unhoped serene
That men call age, and those who would have been their sons,
They gave their immortality."

EPISCOPAL HOSPITAL MAY FETE

will be held Wednesday, May 28th, Rain or Shine! Come to visit—Plan to eat—Stay to buy. The Hospital is on Lehigh Avenue and Front Street.

The Rector will participate in the Annual Memorial Service of the All Marine Post of the American Legion on the Parkway, May 30th, at 11: 00 o'clock.

On Monday evening, May 26th, the Sponsor Group of the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Stephen's Church will have its closing dinner and will celebrate the National 75th Anniversary of the founding of the GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY. St. Stephen's Branch will be 65 years old next November.

The Churchmouse cannot understand his friend Elmer. Elmer says he won't go to church because he was forced to when he was a young mouse. In other words, Elmer says he had to do the right thing so much when he was little, that now he is independent he is not going to do it any more.

MERITORIOUS SERVICE

An unusual record is found in the forty-seven years of faithful service rendered to the Benevolent Society by Miss Margaret P. Davis. Forty-three years of this splendid record were served as an officer. Due to ill-health, Miss Davis' resignation has been reluctantly accepted by the Society.

OUR HEARTY CONGRATULATIONS are extended to Mr. Harry J. Hauger, who has completed fifty years of service in the Pennsylvania Railroad. Mr. Hauger has been a valued Vestryman in St. Stephen's Church for twenty-seven years. May his shadow never grow less!

David Smith has been graduated from South Kent School in Connecticut with high honors and has received a valuable scholarship in Princeton University, where he will major in Chemical Engineering. Congratulations!

We acknowledge with much appreciation the Church Bulletin subscriptions of Mrs. John Reihm, and Mrs. M. D. Sinclair.

CATHOLIC-PROTESTANT

When the Archbishop of Canterbury's plane touched down at Lisbon recently, he found himself surrounded by young Roman Catholics who were in training for the priesthood. They asked him, "Are you a Catholic?" He replied, "Yes, but not what you mean by Catholic." They asked, "Are you, then, a Protestant?" He said, "Yes, but not what you mean by a Protestant."

KING'S DAUGHTERS

1963 73rd Avenue,
Philadelphia 38
May 8, 1952

DEAR MRS. SCHMID:

You will be surprised, I am sure, to learn that our "King's Daughters" has been in existence about 60 years. I have been studying and looking over old records, and find I have been a member about that long.

When Mrs. Vanderslice started the Circle she had only nine, herself, and eight girls in her Sunday School class; finding she had to have ten to start, she asked the girls if any of them knew the blonde girl in Miss Hansell's class; they did, and that is how I got in at the start.

Mrs. V. was a born organizer and a most energetic worker for the very poorest people, so we immediately became very active. She took me on my very first trolley ride, to visit a very poor widow, with an invalid daughter, living in a basement and taking in washing.

In those days the State was not so much concerned about the welfare of the poor and helpless, and, believe me, there was the utmost need for just the kind of work Mrs. Vanderslice found for us to do; her husband being resident Physician at the Philadelphia Dispensary, he rang for her to come down to the office to meet his new poor patients, particularly the children.

And we visited Homes and Hospitals for children, then, we gave sales and entertainments to raise money. One affair, a "Pink-Musical Tea" in the Spring of 1894, I have special reason to remember.

We had Mr. Wood and his beloved Choir; and the Rector's wife and the Warden's sister, Miss Cleeman, presided at the tea-table, other Vestry's wives were our patronesses. During the afternoon, to my astonishment; several butlers arrived with silver services, candelabra, etc. The display was quite gorgeous. We girls all got pink dresses, to match the decorations. As far as I could remember, that was my first pink dress; my sister always got pink, being dark, and I got blue. And I only wore the dress that once. Just a few weeks later, on June 10, 1894, my step-father died very suddenly, and we wore black, according to the custom of that time.

We repeated the "Musical Tea" the next year, but this time, the decorations were silver and violet, the "King's Daughters" colors. (Charlie Moore, whom some of you knew, did the decorations, and we girls wore white 'kerchiefs with bunches of violets.

How I have always loved the "King's Daughters"! And my love and admiration for Mrs. Vanderslice increased with the years. She was a most remarkable woman, and to think, all those wonderful memories I have of her, locked up within myself, and I cannot let them out for everyone to know of her goodness.

It may interest you and Fred, Jr. to know that we "King's Daughters" assisted at the very first distribution of Christmas baskets, hundreds of them. It was a bad year, and the Rector gave the call, and the whole second floor was so piled up with food we could hardly move around; enormous bags of potatoes, beans, etc., sugar, tea, coffee and canned goods, hams, turkeys, chickens. Everything wholesale, and some firm contributed paper bags, and scales, and we weighed and packed. Then came fine carriages, with coachmen, delivery wagons, even an undertaker's car was used for distribution.

And to think that the work is still going on! Your report for the past Winter is nothing short of wonderful, with so few to do the work. I should like to be more help, but I cannot do much sewing—none at all at night. I stopped at the Parish House on Tuesday evening about 7:30 but there was no one there.

Sincerely,
(Signed) NELLIE V. MILLER

MR. J. STOKES LEEDS AT THE ORGAN

UNCONQUERABLE STRENGTH

Each day through this past winter I have read a few pages from Stanley Jones' "The Way To Poise And Power". And I have read with eager interest, for the age-old secret of Christian power is in these pages.

In one place he quotes Professor Royce, "No man is safe unless he can stand anything that can happen to him"; and Stanley Jones goes on to declare that the Christian is therefore more than safe, for he can use anything that can happen to him. Everything is grist to his mill. He makes filthy rags into beautiful paper, makes tears into telescopes, coins heaven out of hell." Then he goes out to give clear examples of Christians making use of anything that can happen to them, and turning it to the glory of God.

Kagawa, for instance, shared his bed with a beggar, and, as a result, caught trachoma, which almost robbed him of his sight. But Kagawa did not lament over this, saying simply, "Having so largely lost my eyesight, the power to see has extended into every part and parcel of my person." Eye-blindness, by the inward power of Christ was transformed into wider seeing. When Dr. George Washington Carver, the great Negro scientist, lost his life's savings through a bank crash, some one asked him if he knew he was bankrupt, and he replied, "Yes, I heard," and went on teaching as though nothing had happened. He had inner riches, in Christ, that the worst bank crashes could not touch. When a faithful, courageous Christian pastor lost his only child—a gay little girl—he quietly said, "Now I must laugh twice as much, for now I have to laugh for both of us." Disease, poverty, and tragic loss are taken into the mill of the Christian soul, and transformed into something strong and beautiful, which strengthens other people. The Scribes and Pharisees tried all sorts of tricks to crush and beat down Jesus—but each time, when the dust cleared away, He stood there, taller and stronger than ever.

People shudder at powerful, crunching communism—but here, in quiet Christian faith, is something stronger than any pagan cleverness. As we saw a few weeks ago, Mr. Scratch wins if we try to fight him with his own weapons. But when you take up the weapons of Christ (compassion, and patience, and understanding,) Mr. Scratch is no match for you. If you want to find unconquerable strength, keep on looking at a Christian like the Japanese Kagawa, who said, "I find no necessity for pessimism. Have I not strength in abundance to lay temptations low? I see no need for concealing the fact that I am surprisingly strong. Since I became God-possessed, it has become impossible for me to commit my soul to wanton thoughts. I glory in the might of the Almighty Who dwells within me."

Raymond G. Budelis, Patrol Leader in St. Stephen's Boy Scout Troop No. 2, was honored recently by the DAR with a Good Citizenship Medal. This medal was awarded on the basis of "honor, courage, service, leadership, and daily living of the Scout ideals.

THE CHURCHMOUSE, having learned that every Sunday is a little Easter, hopes that from now on they won't be too little!

GOOD LISTENING

The important thing about a sermon is not one's judgment of the preacher, but whether one's own life has been changed. Here are some suggestions as to how to be a good listener:

1. Come in a meditative frame of mind.
2. Do not come expecting to be entertained; do not be a "sermon taster".
3. Expect God to speak to you through the sermon.
4. Make the application of what is said to your own life.
5. Go out with the expectation of living a changed life.

UNEXPECTED SURPLUS

That great Quaker, Rufus Jones, once wrote, "A little boy on a great occasion had the loaves and the fishes with which Christ fed the five thousand. It looked as if there wouldn't be enough food to go around for the great crowd, and the little boy's eyes must have bulged with wonder when he saw everybody eating. Then to everybody's surprise, there was a heap of left-overs—twelve baskets full. It was an unexpected surplus."

It is one of the unique characteristics of Christ to produce an unexpected surplus. He was always doing the unexpected, the surprising thing, going beyond the usual, the ordinary, flinging in an overplus. The "second mile" is a striking illustration of the principle. Christ is always lavish. He gives you more than you expect, more than you ask for. That is what we mean by grace. It is the uncalculating feature of love. It pours itself out without any limit. It gives you more than legal good measure. It comes in like the Bay of Fundy. You expect fifteen feet and you get sixty feet.

Nature has to a degree prepared us for this revelation of surplus, for this lavishness. We cast our seeds out on the soil, and we do not just get back what we planted—it comes back multiplied a hundredfold. There is a Chinese proverb that any fool can count the number of seeds in an apple, but nobody can count the number of apples in an apple-seed.

But let us come back from this short excursion into Nature, to Christ and His unexpected surplus. One of the earliest cases of healing in Mark is that of a man with infantile paralysis. His friends tore a hole through the clay roof of the house where Jesus was preaching, and let the man down with ropes, landing him in front of Jesus. The sermon instantly changed into a clinic. All that the man expected, all that he asked for, was to be physically cured, to have his legs again. But the first thing he knew was that his sins were forgiven. His mind was set free, even before his body was liberated. What he needed most was to get the load off his soul. Jesus did both things when the man only expected one. He went out not only with cured legs but with a calmed mind as well. He had an unexpected surplus.

Christ found a poor, barefooted fisherman of Galilee named Simon—impulsive, fickle, unstable, and blundering. He turned him into a rockman—Peter. He not only forgave him for his moment of weakness, and denial; but He made him shepherd of the sheep and the lambs, in the new Church of the Spirit. The greatest Christian monument in Rome—ST. PETER'S—bears his name. There is hardly a Christian city in the world that does not have a Cathedral or a Church of St. Peter. What an unexpected surplus of glory has piled up around the name of that humble man!

Peter experienced the "grace", the lavish generosity, of Jesus Christ. It is YOURS—for the asking!

A LETTER FROM YOUR RECTOR

MY DEAR FRIEND:

On September 1, 1949, the Rector came to you with an urgent appeal to underwrite the cost of a new organ to replace our forty-five year old organ which is definitely beyond repair. Sixty-five persons responded to our goal of $50,000.00 and pledged $28,026.00 over a period of five years. Three years have passed and $24,000.00 has been paid with two years to go. This was a magnificent and generous response, and we are proud indeed that the love and loyalty to S. STEPHEN'S CHURCH is so evident on the part of these sixty-five members.

Since our letter of September, 1949, we have explored all the possibilities open to us and have signed a contract with one of the outstanding Organ builders in the United States to build an organ to our specifications using so much of the present organ as is advisable with the result that we are getting a $60,000.00 Organ for $38,000.00. The new Organ will be available for our ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY in the early part of 1953.

We need just ten thousand dollars additional to meet the cost of this urgently needed instrument.

Here is the picture of what has already been pledged and God willing, will be completely realized in the next two years:

1 person giving	$10,000.00
1 person giving	5,000.00
3 persons giving	2,500.00
1 person giving	1,000.00
2 persons giving	500.00
1 person giving	350.00
1 person giving	300.00
1 person giving	250.00
1 person giving	200.00
13 persons giving	100.00
3 persons giving	75.00
7 persons giving	50.00
1 person giving	30.00
8 persons giving	25.00
5 persons giving	20.00
7 persons giving	10.00
7 persons giving	5.00
2 persons giving	1.00

As we have noted above of the $28,026.00 pledged on a five-year basis, $24,000.00 has already been received and is in the hands of our Treasurer.

We are very reluctant to ask any of the sixty-five persons who have pledged the $28,026.00 to go the "second mile", especially when there are so many of our members who have not as yet contributed. Perhaps some of the sixty-five will be willing to extend their pledge to the New Organ for an additional two years, and this will please us no end. But we want at this time to call the attention of those who have not had a share in this Fund to sign a pledge for a two year period and thus make it possible to raise the ten thousand additional we need. The Committee is hopeful to attain the goal of $10,000.00 by the following plan:

2 persons to give	$250.00 a year
5 persons to give	200.00 a year
10 persons to give	100.00 a year
20 persons to give	50.00 a year
40 persons to give	25.00 a year
25 persons to give	10.00 a year

St. Stephen's in its long history has always enjoyed the reputation of having the finest church music in the city of Philadelphia. Our present organist and choir master, Dr. H. Alexander Matthews, is a nationally known figure whose music is sung in most Episcopal Choirs Sunday after Sunday. Under the direction and supervision of Dr. Matthews we will be certain to have an instrument built with the sensitivity and artistic feeling which it deserves. In his capable hands, the musical needs have been evaluated, and the organ builder will follow his recommendations.

Will you join with us in making a contribution to the Organ Fund? Your pledge will cover a two-year period and may be paid quarterly over an eight payment period. For your convenience the following pledge may be signed and returned to the Rector.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH ORGAN FUND

I will contribute $..... to the Organ Fund and agree to make quarterly annual payments over the next two years.

LAST ISSUE

Here we are again at the end of another "year". It always seems at this time of year that we ought to keep right on publishing our weekly bulletin. Our religion should not take a vacation, and we hope that all our readers will keep right on going to church, and begin going if they have been back-sliding. As many people go away in the summer, they have wonderful opportunities to visit other churches, and to carry something helpful away with them, not only for their own strengthening, but also in the way of ideas to help their own parish.

Summer is a wonderful time for church-going. If you go early in the morning, in the country perhaps, you hear the songs of birds, the cool fresh air streams through the open doors and windows, and somehow even the light seems different. Even at later services there is a kind of pleasant informality which comes with the shedding of overcoats and heavy clothing. If the church has stained glass windows you can get different effects because the sun comes through at different angles. It is all very pleasant and delightful.

Parents of children should particularly consider the value of taking their children to church. If for no other reason, year-around church attendance impresses the children that God never takes a vacation. The devil cannot sneak in and find Him asleep. He watches over us and cares for us always.

We are pleased to note that many resort churches are crowded in the summer, just as churches in Florida are crowded during the winter. But even if we go away, most of us remain in our home towns for most of the summer. The church is always there to welcome us.

PLEDGES are beginning to come in for the balance of the ten thousand dollars needed for the New Organ. The first received was for $200.00. Many thanks!

This Summer...The Church Will Be Here. Will You?
If not, your filling of your envelopes in advance...will be greatly appreciated.

SUMMER SCHEDULE

During July and August there will be three services in St. Stephen's Church every Sunday: at 9:00 A. M., 11:00 A. M., and 7:30 P. M. The Rector will preach Sunday Mornings during July. The Rev. Dr. Percy R. Stockman, Executive Director of the Seaman's Church Institute, will preach Sunday Mornings during August.

The Noon-Day Services during July and August will be on Wednesdays at 12:30 P. M. with sermon, and a celebration of the Holy Communion on Friday at 12:30 P. M. The Tuesday and Thursday Services will be omitted during July and August. The Rev. Robert H. Stetler, Rector of S. Alban's Church, Roxborough, will take the Week-Day Services during July and Dr. Stockman will supply the Week-Day Services in August.

PRESENTATION OF THE DIPLOMA OF GRADUATION OF THE BURD SCHOOL TO GLORIA KEATON WHO WAS A MEMBER OF THE SCHOOL FOR 12 YEARS

This diploma which I, in the name of the management of THE BURD SCHOOL, have the privilege and pleasure of presenting to you is a token of faithful, efficient and conscientious accomplishment on your part in meeting the requisite standards of scholarship, and as an influential member for good amongst your fellow members.

You are now in the select group for further and fuller advancent in the arts and sciences, and for the fulfillment of the many glories associated with maturing womanhood.

In the emotional level, you have arrived at the stage of so-called "late adolescence", which is that of the various ISMS—Romanticism, Idealism, Cyncism.

I beseech you to pray daily and fervently that, as you advance in years, you will never become cynical; for such engenders self-righteousness, and a contempt for the virtuous or generous sentiment of others.

Your social responsibilities now become more generalized in the form of friendship and comradeship to the individual and loyalty to the group or cause.

You are also at the level of exerting more and more influence, which is the greatest of all human gifts, and we all have it in some measure, often unconsciously and in the most unexpected places.

Hugh Black, in his book on "Friendship" expresses so well my thoughts along this line, that I quote: "All the fruits of friendship, spring from the root of influence, and influence in the long run is the impress of our real character on other lives; influence cannot rise above the level of our lives. The result of our friendship on others will ultimately be conditioned by the sort of person we are. It adds a very sacred responsibility to life, here, as in other regions, a good tree bringeth forth good fruit."

Knowing you as we do, we feel assured that you will always be a worthy and choice representative of The Burd School, and we heartily and affectionately wish you joy and success in all your future undertakings.

THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING

We look at another step on the way to power and poise—be willing to be yourself. Yesterday we saw that we must forgive inperfection in ourselves and others. Today we must see that it is futile to try to be someone else.

Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, and what shall this man do?" And Jesus replied, "What is that to thee? Follow thou Me." (John 21:21-22). Don't be too much concerned about the other person and what he does—you follow Christ. Marshal Feng and I were talking in his mountain retreat. He raked out the sins and the shortcomings of the Christians in the Chinese government, especially Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. I stopped him, and quoted the passage above: "What is that to thee? Follow thou Me." He looked at me for a moment, and then poured out more bitter criticism. I stopped him again and said, "Marshal Feng, I'm afraid I must quote my passage again: "What is that to thee? Follow thou Me." He struck his knee with his hand and said, "Good; you've got me." His eyes were on others instead of on Jesus. That led him down the slippery road to catastrophe. He said, "You've got me", but I never got him, for he continued to the end, bitterly denouncing others. When you are denouncing others, you are not announcing Him. "If you are on the judgment seat, you are not on the witness stand."

Whenever I pick up a letter from a certain lady, I say to myself, "Whom is she denouncing now?" It is the other side of an inferiority complex.

You'll be upset if you look at people too much. "If you look around, you'll be distracted. If you look within, you'll be discouraged. If you look at Jesus, you'll have peace." The account says that when Peter "saw the waves", he began to sink. As long as he had his eyes on Jesus, he walked on the water; but the moment he got his eyes on something else, he sank. If you get your eyes on people, and what they do, you'll sink when they sink. If you have one steady spot in your universe—the same yesterday, today, and forever." Jesus—if you keep your eyes there, your feet will walk on troubled waves and stormy seas. You'll be held steady, anywhere.

"DO YOU KNOW:

1. When was Christianity introduced to Great Britain?
2. Whom do we think of as the father of our Prayer Book?
3. What do we mean by apostolic succession?
4. Identify Samuel Seabury.
5. Give the five kinds of prayer.

1. In the first or second century.
2. Archbishop Thomas Cranmer, 16th century.
3. Our Bishops are in factual succession of the Apostles and therefore have the proper authority for administering the sacraments.
4. The first Bishop of Connecticut and of the American Church. He was consecrated by the non-juring Bishops of Scotland.
5. Adoration. Confession. Petition. Intercession. Thanksgiving.

The Rector's booklet "HEALING—The Gift of God" was generously quoted in the column, "Everyday Counselor" in the Charlotte News, Charlotte, North Carolina, by Dr. Herbert C. Spaugh on July 12, 1952. This column was syndicated and appeared in the Winston Salem Sentinel and in many other southern newspapers as far south as Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

A parishioner who desires to remain an "anonymous donator" has written to the Rector stating that she has disposed of her home "and in giving God the portion belonging to Him from the sale, I'm doing so in a portion to The Girls' Friendly Society of St. Stephen's Church ($100.00), because the Girls' Friendly Society always registered deeply in Mother's thoughts; the Mothers' Club ($100.00), because I think such an organization is splendid—both for the mothers and for the work, too; and The King's Daughters ($100.00), because I think they do a good work, too."

The Corner-Stone of the Chinese Christian Church and Center at 10th and Spring Streets was laid on Sunday, June 22nd, at 4:00 P. M. The Episcopal Church Committee has exceeded its goal of $5,000.00 for the organ to be used in the new church. Members of St. Stephen's Church contributed $150.00 toward this fund.

The Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Evangelical and Reformed, and the Protestant-Episcopal are co-operating denominations and elect the Trustees who are responsible for the Chinese Christian Church and Center.

TO WILL OR NOT TO WILL

We agree with the lawyers and with the M.D.'s. Everybody should make a will for the proper disposal of their possessions. Everybody should be examined physically once annually, as the wisest safe-guard for their health. When you next make your will, please include provision for your parish Church, Diocese, or National Church. Any amount is acceptable. A small bequest should not deter us from remembering the Church which has cared for us from our birth, and at death bids us Godspeed to a more perfect life.

Excerpt from a recent letter to the Rector: "I love St. Stephen's Church: there is such an atmosphere of peace and quiet, not just a churchly quiet, but a sort of joyous quiet."

The Rector will be one of the leaders in the National Convention of "The Daughters of The King" held in Trinity Cathedral, Hartford, Conn., during the week of September 1st. He will lead a group on "Healing By Prayer", Wednesday, September 3rd.

THE CHURCH NEWS—Your own Diocesan Magazine, The Church News, is anxious to have more members of this and all other Parishes subscribe to it. This is a means whereby you may be able to keep abreast of the doings in the Diocese. The rate for one full year—10 issues—is only $1.00 per year. It is hoped that many of you will want to subscribe to it.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer:

O God, by Whom the meek are guided in judgment, and light riseth up in darkness for the godly; Grant us, in all our doubts and uncertainties, the grace to ask what Thou wouldest have us to do; that the Spirit of wisdom may save us from all false choices, and that in Thy light we may see light, and in Thy straight path may not stumble; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (William Bright)
Bible Reading: St. Matthew 5:1-14.

The Sermon:

Robert Frost has a poem about a boy who went to the zoo, with a burning-glass in his pocket. When he came to the monkeys, it occurred to him that it would be fun to stir them up; so he whipped out the burning-glass and held it so that "he made the sun a pin-point on the nose of first one, and then the other, till it brought a look of puzzled dimness to their eyes." But the youngster was not as smart as he thought he was, and "There was a sudden flash of arm, a snatch, and the glass was the monkeys', not the boy's." They retired back-cage, "And instituted an investigation . . . though without the required insight. They bit the glass . . . They broke the handle and the binding off it, and, none the wiser, frankly gave it up . . . and hid it in their bedding straw . . . It's knowing what to do with things that counts."

Most of the world's woes are due to not knowing what to do with things. Money, for instance. All thoughtful, right-minded people agree that the simple, God-given use for money is to care for the needs of a family. Yet hosts of people pour millions of dollars into the race-track windows—like the young man I met one night, who had started home with his pay-check and two shopping bags, to buy groceries for his family. But he had gone to the dog races instead, and was now going home with empty wallet and empty shopping-bags. "It's knowing what to do with things that counts."

Many non-Christians are asking, "What's the Christian religion for? What do you do with it? When the disciples asked Jesus a question like that, He answered, "You are the salt of the earth." In other words, by trusting GOD, and obeying His loving will, you become easier to live with. Your faith makes your life into the salt of the earth, giving the flavor of living back to people for whom life has grown dull and dreary. Your faith can restore courage to frightened people, and make life taste good for them again. Your Sunday worship can settle a deep peace in your heart which you can pass on to vexed, hurrying, straining human beings.

A well-known preacher dashed off the train as it pulled into the Grand Central Station, and luckily secured a Red-Cap porter right away. He had two very heavy bags. "Please bring them quickly," he snapped, "I'm in a terrible hurry," and he dashed ahead up the platform. Looking back, he saw the Red-Cap trudging along with the heavy truck, and shouted, "Come on—I'm late!" The patient porter looked at the impatient preacher, and said, "Where you steamin' for, brother? That ain't no way to make time. Just walk on ahead and I'll come right along, and there won't be two minutes between us." The parson slowed down and walked beside the porter, who turned on one of those big smiles with which colored men are blessed, and said, "I'se livin de relaxed life. Take it easy, boss. You can do a lot in a short time if you just go along easy at it. Besides, you'll live longer." "Thanks, my friend," the preacher said, rather humbly. "I happen to be a minister, and will preach this to my congregation. Do you go to church?" "Yes, indeed, suh, I sure does." (And here he finished the preacher completely!) "And I tries to practice what I hears there." It is knowing what to do with things that counts!

Closing Prayer:

Into Thy hands, O Lord, we commit ourselves this day. Give to each of us a watchful, a humble, and a diligent spirit, that we may seek in all things to know Thy will, and when we know it, may perform it perfectly and gladly, to the honor and glory of Thy Name; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Gelasian Sacramentary, 494 A. D.)

Charles E. Stein, former Flag Bearer, has put ashore and is now in the Technicians' School of the Navy in Bainbridge, Maryland.

SUNDAY SCHOOL will be re-opened September 21st, at 11:00 A. M.

The Rector attended the National Convention of the Military Order of the Purple Heart in Grand Rapids, Michigan, August 19-24 and was re-elected National Chaplain for the fifth time. He was presented with the Citation for meritorious and conspicuous service for his work in revising and enriching the Ritual and Manual of Ceremonies of the Order.

NEW ORGAN

During the construction work which is now in process for our new organ, our services will continue uninterrupted; the church will be open as usual from 8:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. A temporary electronic organ has been installed which will care, not only for the two Sunday services but also for the week-day services. It will be several months before a sufficient portion of the new organ will be finished so as to make use of it for ordinary purposes. Early in the new year which will be our ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY, the new organ will be dedicated. In the meantime we have nine thousand dollars additional to raise in order to meet the total cost of $38,000.00. Have you made a pledge or contribution to the new organ?

"Thank you, MRS. FLORENCE PANCOAST REATH, MISS HELEN LIGGETT, MR. LOUIS P. STUMPF, MRS. ELIZABETH BURGERT, MRS. S. E. HART, and MRS. LILLIE V. BIDDLE for your Church Bulletin subscriptions."

THE NEW ORGAN

All of us here in St. Stephen's Church are living in high hopes and enthusiastic expectations of our new church organ. For some years, we have known that something would have to be done in the matter of an organ. We found that the expense of repairing our present organ (45 years old) would be out of all proportion to its value, and, even then, we should have a very second-rate sort of instrument. The only practical and sensible thing to do was to plan for a new organ, and this is what the Vestry did. When it came to actual figures for the new instrument, we were really appalled by the increased costs, both of material and labor. However, by salvaging as much of the old organ as is practicable, we are getting a sixty thousand dollar organ for $38,000,00. We have received a legacy of $10,000.00 to help finance the organ project, and 65 people of our congregation have given or pledged $19,000.00. We need $9,000.00 additional to pay for the instrument. This, then, is the act of faith and confidence that the Vestry has made! We are securing the new organ not only to meet our present necessity, but because we believe in the future of St. Stephen's Church here on our down-town busy street. The organ is even now being built by the Wicks Organ Company of Highland, Illinois. We have installed a temporary electronic organ which will be in use for several months while the new organ is completed in their factory sometime between Thanksgiving and Christmas and then brought and installed in our gallery.

Five men from the Vestry and Dr. Matthews, our organist, make up the Organ Committee: Dr. Herbert Old, Chairman, I. Smith Raspin, Esq., Mr. J. Lewis Armstrong, Edwin S. Heins, Esq., Mr. Wilson C. Leithead, and Dr. H. Alexander Matthews. They are bending every energy to have this work completed and financed on schedule.

In connection with the new organ, members and friends of St. Stephen's Church have already made generous contributions. We have made the initial payment on the organ of $3,800.00. We are having a beautiful Gothic screen constructed that will hide the present exposed row of pipes. We have had the valued help of Dr. Matthews in the design and specifications which will insure an instrument built with the sensitivity and artistic feeling which it deserves. Adding up all items, we are confident that the traditional generosity of the people of St. Stephen's will be felt on this, the home stretch, and many more people will want to have a share in the purchase of this new organ. A great number of additional modest pledges over the next two years will insure this expectation. Send in your pledge now!

Most every day the Rector receives letters from people around the world who have heard of our Spiritual Healing program. The following one from Queenslands, Australia, is most interesting:

"In a recent issue of the John Milton Magazine . . . a Braille publication . . . which I receive regularly, I read with great interest an account of the healing ministry practiced in your church. I have been blind for more than thirty years, having lost my sight in infancy. Though I have had this handicap these many years, I am nevertheless most grateful to God for the many blessings he has granted me. And, though I live in distant Australia, and am therefore not able to attend your healing services, I believe that God can enable me to share in this great blessing. And so I am writing to ask if you would be good enough to offer prayer for me, that the abundant life which Jesus came to give might be given to me? For His glory. I know that God is rich in mercy to all them that call upon Him. May God richly bless you in His service. I am,

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) S. Adermann."

MATERIAL AID

World Wide Communion Sunday, October 5th, has been designated as a fitting day on which to bring clothing to our churches. The clothing will be sent overseas and will be divided among the unfortunate Arab refugees, the Koreans, and the Greeks. Please place such clothing in cartons and bring to the Parish House on or before October 5th. We then send them to New Windsor, Maryland, for shipment overseas.

There are a large number of students at the PHILADELPHIA DIVINITY SCHOOL this year, and many of them greatly need to earn some extra money. They are free several hours a week in the afternoons and evenings to do odd jobs; such as household work, waiting on tables, baby sitting, etc. Think of the Divinity students when you need such help. This will be a real help to men preparing for the ministry.

PORT OF CALL

"There is no frigate like a book to take us lands away" . . . and a good magazine is a close second. Bring your used copies to the Church Office and Miss Maude Hess, our Periodical Club "Captain", will find haven for each and every one in our city hospitals.

The Burd School was officially opened for the new year by the Rector on Monday, September 15th, with a celebration of the Holy Communion in the Chapel.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR

Dr. Rebecca Beard will conduct a healing mission in St. Stephen's Church on October 6, 7 and 8 at 10: 00 A. M. and 8: 00 P. M. each day. Dr. Beard practiced medicine for twenty years until she recognized the tremendous influence that thoughts and emotions have upon the physical body. Her medical experience and research led her to the conviction that thoughts and emotions are largely responsible for many illnesses, and that by understanding the thoughts and re-directing the emotions, with the ever present help of prayer, lives can be remolded and bodies healed.

Mrs. Harry J. Hauger has succeeded the late Miss Margaret P. Davis as President of the Benevolent Society. This is the oldest organization in the parish and has been doing a splendid piece of work. Under the able leadership of Mrs. Hauger and the enthusiasm of all the members of the Society, we know that the work is going to prosper.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the annual appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of St. Stephen's Church. Last year, the Benevolent Society sent 4,375 pieces of sewing to Jefferson, Presbyterian, Women's and Germantown hospitals. The material for these garments is supplied by the hospitals and the Benevolent Society pays women to sew these articles in their homes. These needy women were paid $482.27 for this vast amount of sewing this past year.

Five hundred dollars will just about cover expenses for the season 1953. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing, and also the hospitals who desperately need the articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer:

Almighty God, Who showest to them who are in error the light of Thy truth, to the intent that they may return into the way of righteousness; grant until all who are admitted into the fellowship of Christ's religion, that they avoid those things that are contrary to their profession, and follow all such good things as are agreeable to the same, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Book of Common Prayer)

Bible Reading: Romans 12: 1-18

The Sermon:

A down-to-earth Christian leader of our generation spotlights our opening prayer for "all those who are admitted into the fellowship of Christ's religion." For fifteen hundred years that prayer has been used by those who have found strength and steadiness in following Christ together.

About seventeen centuries ago, a Roman Christian wrote a letter to a friend in Rome "This seems a cheerful world, Donatus, when I view it from this fair garden under the shadow of these vines. But if I climb to some great mountain and look out over the wide lands, you know very well what I would see. Brigands on the high-roads, pirates on the sea, under all roofs misery and selfishness. It is really a bad world, Donatus, an incredibly bad world. Yet in the midst of it, I have found a quiet people. They have discovered a joy that is a thousand times better than any pleasure of this sinful life. They are despised and persecuted, but they care not. They have overcome the world. These people, Donatus, are the Christians and I am one of them."

What an up to date, twentieth century letter! One only needs to change a few words to make it fit our day like a glove. "This seems a cheerful world when we view it from my small farm, my little, warm circle of friends, my home church, my safe, sick-bed. But if we climb to some sky-scraper and look out over the world, we know what we would see. War on land and sea and in the air, nations set against nation; corruption in our politics, public and private morals dropping to a new, low level. Under many roofs misery and selfishness. It is really an incredibly bad world. Yet in the midst of it we have found a quiet people. They have discovered a joy a thousand times better than any luxurious pleasure of our day. They have overcome the world. These people are the Christians and I am one of them."

"And I am one of them." Find peace of heart by letting those words sink deep within you. We call one by one those choice friends who live quietly in the "Way" of the Master. They have a gaiety that cannot be quenched by little daily misfortunes. They have a courage which is not shaken by the latest panic headlines. They have a hope which cannot be extinguished by the rottenest revelation of corruption. They have overcome the world, through Jesus Christ their Lord.

Strengthen your friendship with these "quiet people" and make sure that you have strength for them. And store these lines in your memory:

"I sing a song of the saints of GOD, patient and brave and true,
Who toiled and fought and lived and died for the Lord they loved and knew;
And one was a doctor, and one was a queen, and one was a sheperdess on the green;
They were all of them saints of GOD, and I mean, GOD helping, to be one too."

Closing Prayer:

Refresh us, O Christ, with Thy Presence and Power. Quiet our restless spirits. Open to us the Mind of GOD, that in Thy Light we may see Light, and crown Thy choice of us to be Thy servants by making us channels of Thy joy and strength, to Thy honor and glory forever and ever. Amen. (Acts of Devotion)

THE NEW ORGAN

Steady progress is being made week by week in the construction of our new organ by the Wicks Company of Illinois. We have received in pledges and gifts over the next two years the sum of $29,000.00. We need $9,000.00 additional pledges and gifts to meet the cost of this splendid new organ.

When the new organ is dedicated in 1953, which will be the 130th year of the consecration of St. Stephen's Church, we must be able to pay the bill. We have faith that there are more than 88 persons (the number who have already pledged) who will want to have a share in this project. When the new organ peals forth its melodious notes then the appeal for notes will be over, and everybody wants the "peal" and not the "appeal."

Send us your two year pledge today.

The Rector has compiled and written A PERSONAL PRAYER BOOK which he commends to the congregation. It consists of an envelope containing 28 prayers and spiritual inspiration in loose-leaf form. It should prove an excellent gift for your friends in sick room or hospitals. The cost is fifteen cents, and may be found in the vestibule of the Church.

TURN BACKWARD, O TIME!

Midnight, September 28th, marks the end of Daylight Saving Time for the Year 1952. Remember to set YOUR clock back ONE HOUR.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer:

Bless us, O GOD, with the vision of Thy being and beauty; that in the light of it we may learn to think Thine own thoughts after Thee, and in the strength of it may do our work without haste and without rest; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Henry Sylvester Nash).

Bible Reading: Judges 5: 1-21

The Sermon:

Today challenges every Christian to action, to make this a Christian world—to capture the hearts of all men for Christ. Each will judge himself by his response to that challenge.

Stanley Jones tells the story of an ancient challenge. The Song of Deborah records the response of the various tribes of Israel to her call to take the land of Canaan. "Asher sat still by the seaboard, clinging to his creeks." (Moffat translation). Asher (like a lot of people!) preferred to cling to small, familiar ways, instead of being adventurous. "In the shires of Reuben were divisions and debates"—they were inwardly divided, and just went on arguing. Deborah asks, "Why did you lounge by the shepherds' cotes, with only an ear for pastoral notes?" When the call to adventure came, they turned back to the good old soft, accustomed ways and missed their Canaan. "East of Jordan the Gileadites stayed." No reason is given. They just didn't do anything. They just "stayed" like people who like their comfortable spot. "Dan held to his ships"—they were not going to sacrifice their business interests for any risky adventure. And Asher "sat by the seaboard, clinging to his creeks." In the face of the inviting, open ocean, Asher clung to his dear little creeks. Like so many timid, fearful people, Asher played it safe.

But there were a few tribes alive and young-spirited enough to respond to Deborah's ringing call to adventure. "Zebulun and Naphthali were a people that jeoparded their lives unto the death in the high places of the field." They jumped to their feet, and marched off with high hearts, because they heard GOD calling them to march.

GOD calls you today to high adventure! Not, I think, with the blood-thirsty call of Deborah. No sensible man today (including those in uniform) believes that the world's great problems are going to be solved by warfare. GOD dares you to launch out your hearts on the high seas of His wide-reaching love. Men far wiser than I have pointed out that the only real solution of the communistic menace is to convert communists to follow Jesus Christ. Some of your friends will not agree to this—they will cling to their little creeks of loving their friends and hating their enemies. But the adventurous follower of Christ knows that the only possible way to get rid of your enemies is to make friends of them! Pray for the people of Russia, and of every enslaved nation, until you begin to feel compassion for them; and pray GOD to lead them out of slavery! Dig down deep, to give food to the hungry, shivering hosts of mankind, that they may see the love of GOD lifting them up. Dream, and pray, and act—that the world may see the mighty love of Christ—and be saved!

Closing Prayer:

Blessed Lord Jesus, the Good Shepherd, Whose flocks are upon a thousand hills, Who hast put into our hearts the hope of a better country; Bless all who seek Thy sheep in scattered places, that they may fetch them home to Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Church Service League Prayers).

Our "Thank You" goes to Mrs. Daisy Rayner for her Church bulletin subscription.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer:

O GOD, the might of all them that put their trust in Thee, grant that we may be more than conquerors over all that makes war upon our souls, and in the end may enter into perfect peace in Thy Presense; through Jesus Christ our Lord. AMEN. (Roman Breviary, 1099 A. D.)

Bible Reading: St. John 3:16-17

The Sermon:

When you were small, you came home, once, with dragging feet. Perhaps you carried in your hand a sorry report-card. Or you had gone out playing in your good school suit, and had fallen and torn a great rent in the knee. You expected a scolding, and to be sent up to bed without supper. And instead of the scolding, you found your parents very sorry over your wretched stumbling. Undoubtedly there was discipline, and you had to make amends. But there was a place set for you at the supper-table, and you were included in the family circle, just the same. On that memorable night you discovered the wonder of compassion.

Turn your eyes back across the centuries, if you want to see the compassion of GOD. Jesus was having His last supper on earth. One of the Twelve, as Jesus knew, had taken money to betray Him to His enemies. But Judas was still there at supper! Not by accident, either, for this was a secret meeting, arranged with the greatest care, so that they would not be disturbed. Judas was there because Jesus had invited him. No matter what Judas had done, Jesus had a place set for him at His table. "GOD so loved the world" that He excludes no man or woman. If they have stumbled badly, and wounded others, there will be discipline, always, and they will have to make amends. But GOD so loves, that He keeps on loving the sorriest sinner.

If Jesus could have compassion on Judas, then there is no limit to the compassion of GOD! And, because you and I profess and call ourselves Christians, people expect GOD's love to be in our hearts; the Risen Christ dwelling in us, and working through us. We cannot, of course, rise to such compassion by our small human talents. We can only surrender our lives to GOD and let His love come through us into His world.

There is an old Christian legend, how the soul of Judas fled from his broken body through the void, seeking hope and finding none. Restless, forsaken, alone, it fell from abyss to abyss. At last remorse yielded to grief, and dry-eyed sorrow was watered by a flood of penitent tears. At that moment, a light shone about him, and looking up, he saw the doors of heaven open, and the apostles—his brethren—standing about a table laid with bread and wine. They seemed to be waiting. Then Judas was aware of SOMEONE near him, Who took him by the hand. He knew Who it was, but he could not look into the Face he had kissed. "We have waited for thee," said the Master softly. "My guests could not sit down to supper until thou wast with us." It is only a legend, but it would be just like Jesus to do it. For "GOD so loved the world . . ."

Closing Prayer:

Grant unto us, we beseech Thee, Almighty GOD, that we who seek the shelter of Thy protection, being defended from all evils, may serve Thee in peace and quietness of spirit; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen (Roman Breviary, 1099 A. D.)

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 6:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the fifty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. Light of the world! Forever shining; There is no change in Thee; True light of life, all joy and health enshining, Thou canst not fade, nor flee.

Shed now Thy light upon the weary hearted, The sick with anguish torn, Fill us with hope, Thy radiance ever shedding, Fill us with life new born.

Night visits not Thy sky, nor storm, nor sadness, Day fills up all its blue; Unfailing beauty and unfaltering gladness, And healing power forever new.

Light of the world! undimming and unsetting, O shine each mist away! Banish the fear, all sickness and all fretting, Be our unchanging day! (Horatio Bonar)

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer:

O God, mercifully grant unto us that the fire of Thy love may burn up in us all things that displease Thee; and make us meet for Thy Heavenly Kingdom; for the sake of Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen. (Roman Breviary, 1099 A. D.).

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 11:25-30

The Sermon:

In these dark days, people are doing a vast deal of worrying as to who is going to get control of the world. There is hot and cloudy confusion about it in homes, in city squares, in meetings of the United Nations. Isn't it time that Christians reminded people that Jesus answered this question a long time ago when He said "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth"?

Of course, you have to understand what "meek" means. It does not mean a "Mr. Milquetoast", or a "softy." It means "as meek as Moses"; and Moses was a man with such a hot temper that he murdered an Egyptian once, and then took himself in hand by putting himself in God's Hand. As Dr. Sockman points out, the meek are the "God-tamed". Like Saul of Tarsus, whose raging nature had to be tamed into the service of God; the "God-trained" who are disciplined into the gentle strength of God's ambassadors; the "God-tempered", whose characters are tempered into instruments that can bend without breaking.

In other words, the meek are those who are humble enough to know that they must depend on God in order to amount to anything. Those who set out to be "self-made men" never rise to half their capacities, because they are trying to succeed only on the strength of their tiny, human talents. The meek, on the other hand, put themselves into the Hand of God, to be used as a mason's trowel, or a surgeon's knife—and so their lives are gloriously effective. Again, the proud, wolfish people go about their business trampling others down, like charging bulls; and they start anger, and divisions and resentments far and wide. But the meek, like the Quakers of our day, like the early Christians, walk softly and surely, seeking to draw others within the circle of their friendship, and they stir good-will and peace. Jesus said, very clearly, "Come unto Me...take My yoke upon you and learn of Me, for I am meek and lowly in heart, and yet shall find rest unto your souls. For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light."

It is time that those in high places—iin our own nation and others—took Jesus Christ seriously enough to know that He was right. Only leaders who tame their angers into useful indignation, who let the "wideness of God's mercy" into their hearts, and seek to draw all men and nations into one family, can hope to lead this century successfully. Either these leaders will learn meekness and teach it to their people, or they will be remembered as wretched failures. As Dr. Sockman has said, "If worldly men remain too blind to believe this beatitude, then "Blessed are the to possess it."

Closing Prayer:

Mercifully regard, O Lord, the prayers of Thy family, while we submit ourselves meek, for they shall inherit the earth" after the proud have killed themselves off trying to Thee with our whole heart; do Thou prosper, support, and encompass us, that, relying on Thee as our guide, we may be entangled in no evil, and replenished with all good. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Leonine Sacramentary, 440 A. D.)

WELCOME TO DOCTORS

Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith and need of fuller co-operation between doctors and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating St. Luke's Day. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician.

"This is the great error of our day in the treatment of the human body that physicians separate the soul from the body."—Plato

"Sometimes it is more important to know what kind of a fellah has a germ than what kind of a germ has a fellah."—Shattuck

"'Tis not the body but the man is ill."—Dr. Weir Mitchell

The Rector will address the Methodist Clergy of the Northwest District of Pennsylvania at Pottstown on Wednesday morning, October 22nd.

During the construction of our new organ, we are using an electronic organ from Strawbridge and Clothier.

Old now is Earth, and none may count her days,

"Turn back, O Man, forswear thy foolish ways!"

Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise,
Age after age their tragic empires rise.
Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep.
Would man but wake from out his haunted sleep.

Earth shall be fair, and all her people one,
Nor till that hour shall GOD'S whole will be done.

1517 — REFORMATION DAY — 1952

On October 31, 1517, a young Augustinian Monk named Martin Luther posted on the doors of the Castle Church in Wittenburg, Germany, ninety-five theses or arguments against the sale of indulgences by the Church of his day. This incident touched off a long train of events which produced the historic movement known as the Reformation. The anniversary of this event is observed among the Protestant Churches as a time of emphasis upon the fundamental Christian conviction. October 26th will be observed throughout the world as "Reformation Sunday." The Rector's sermon is "Here I Stand."

There will be an inspiring service in the Irvine Auditorium, 34th and Spruce Sts., at 8:00 P. M., when Dr. Ralph W. Sockman will be the speaker.

"Dear Dr. Price:

I wish I could really tell you how much good the prayer cards from St. Stephen's have done and how far-reaching have been their effects. But as one friend said to me as she thanked me for sending FIVE HEALING STEPS, JUST FOR TODAY and several others to her as she recovered from a broken arm, "You'll never know how much good those cards did for me. I read and re-read them and then sent them to someone who needed them as badly as I did." I sent some to an inmate of the Home for Incurables and she sent them to a man who had been confined to his bed for 38 years. JUST FOR TODAY helped a young woman who was grieving because she lost her baby. She put the card in the corner of her mirror and tried to do what it said. HOW TO GO TO SLEEP helped an insomnia victim rest for the first time in many nights. The husband of a neighbor came to call after his wife's death. He carried all the prayer cards I had sent her during her illness in his vest pocket. He read them on the trolley car and found much help in them.

Dr. Price, I correspond with a group of shut-ins. I say correspond, but it is really a one-sided correspondence as they are unable to write to me because of their disabilities. Would you send them A PERSONAL PRAYER BOOK if I sent you a list of their names? I perhaps have been helped most of all by this work.

Sincerely,
(Signed) Mrs. William Werner

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer: O GOD, Who are the Fountain of Light and Author of all knowledge, vouchsafe, we beseech Thee, to enlighten our understanding, and to remove from us all darkness of sin and ignorance; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (S.C.H.C.)

Bible Reading: St. Luke 5: 1-9

The Sermon:

Beano was a tough young gangster, who observed one day, with a shrug, "It's a crumby world. The big shots don't know what to do about it—what do they expect of us?" Beano was quite right—it is a very crumby world indeed, where so many dreams crumble to pieces, and slip through our fingers, and are lost.

Jesus never denied what a mess men have made of GOD'S world. Nor did He turn His face away from the hard cross that towered higher and higher before Him. When He was warned that the old fox Herod was threatening to crush Him and His work, He faced that squarely and declared, "Nevertheless, I must go my way today, and tomorrow, and the day following." At His darkest moments He had a way of squaring His shoulders, and lifting His head, saying, "Nevertheless." His disciples then began to learn the use of that unconquerable little word. After a fruitless night of weary fishing, Jesus counseled them to launch out for another try. Peter rose slowly to his feet, looked out over the waters that seemed empty of fish; and then, with a trace of a smile, said, "Nevertheless" at Thy word, I will put down the nets." Jesus kneeling lonely in the Garden of Gethsemane, prayed for deliverance from the Cross. Three times He prayed, hoping for the green light from His Father, that He might take the road that led through the Galilean countryside, rather than the dark road to Calvary. Each time there came no answering "Yes"; and He submitted Himself utterly to the Father's will, saying, "Nevertheless, not my will but Thine be done."

"It's a crumby world," so it's very easy to shrug your shoulders and say, "So what's the use?" But the Christian quietly marches on. It may be a sorry world; nevertheless, with GOD in it, there are always triumphant possibilities. A man or a woman may be down,—nevertheless, if he gets up and goes with GOD, he discovers new wonders in the deeps of life. Jesus' most memorable victories came after the shadowed hour of Herod's threat; and after the darker hours in the Garden, when the road to Calvary became the glory-lit road to Resurrection.

We who follow Christ have made this very great discovery—that he who goes with GOD, goes from strength to strength. The road may be dark—nevertheless, the traveler with GOD goes always toward the sunrise. As Thomas a Kempes wrote, "You know from long experience that these storms come, and that they pass. For after winter comes summer; after the night, the day; and after the storm, a great calm. . . . Accept these trials as sent by GOD in His infinite wisdom for your good; wrap love and prayer about you like a comforting garment, and let the storms pass by."

Closing Prayer:

O Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Who didst send Thy Son to suffer and die for us on this earth, make us truly and sincerely thankful for this and for all Thine other benefits; and, for Thy long-suffering with the sins and sorrows of men, we thank Thee, O Lord. AMEN.

The Rector will speak at the 34th Reunion and Dinner of Company B, 104th Engineers' Association on November 8th in Mt. Holly, New Jersey.

We extend a hearty welcome to the members of St. Stephen's Girls Friendly Society who are making their Corporate Communion this morning.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).
Opening Prayer: O GOD, our Father, gracious and merciful, give us such vision of the duties of our common life that we may see in them altars of daily sacrament where our souls may become lamps, refilled and illuminated by Thee . . . plant in us a Godly walk with our fellows; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (Peter Ainslie)
Bible Reading: Phillipians 4:8-13
The Sermon:

Abraham Lincoln, saying farewell from the platform of the train which would take him to the White House, spoke these shining words: "To this place, and the kindness of its people, I owe everything. Here have I lived a quarter of a century, and have passed from a young to an old man. Here my children have been born, and one has been buried. I now leave, not knowing when or ever I may return; with a task before me greater than that which rested upon Washington. Without the assistance of that Divine Being Who ever attended him, I cannot succeed. With that assistance, I cannot fail. Trusting in Him Who can go with me, and remain with you, and be everywhere for good, let us confidently hope that all will be well." Those words turn one's thoughts back to the Book from which Lincoln drew his strength; to a man named St. Paul, who once said, "I can do all things through Christ Who strengtheneth me."

It is clear that Lincoln could not do everything he desired. He wanted to avoid the Civil War; to choose a winning general early in the war; to have a Cabinet which was understanding and unified in purpose. But he was unable to accomplish these purposes. It is clear that St. Paul could not achieve many of his eagerest hopes. He wrote, "I can do all things . . ." from prison; and he could not open prison doors. His burning ambition had been to carry the Gospel as far as Spain—but he was never able to do it. What on earth did he mean by declaring that he could "do all things"?

He and Abraham Lincoln had both committed their lives into the hands of their Maker. They were wholly pledged to serve Him—to put His wishes ever above their own. Out of this surrender to GOD'S Will came their strength—triumphant, amazing, conquering! They found that they could "do all things" that GOD required of them. They discovered that no man, no power can defeat those who have discovered what GOD wants done and are doing it. They learned that no hardship or poverty, or calamity, nor darkness can vanquish him who walks faithfully with GOD. Such a man can use even dark happenings (like the Cross) for the glory of GOD, and march on victorious.

The dizzy confusion of our day can be overcome only as our lives come under One Ruling Power. This is as true of your own small life as it is for the heroes of all time. When a Lincoln or a Paul puts his whole being under GOD'S ruling, his life gives a clear and steady light. The real job is to give up your stubborn will into the Hands of GOD for Him to use; first of all, to be concerned about what GOD wants. A clergyman once wrote Lincoln that he "anxiously hoped the Lord was on Lincoln's side"—to which Lincoln replied that he was not at all concerned whether the Lord was on his side; his great concern was that he and his country should be on the Lord's side.

You can "do all things" that GOD needs you to do. What more can you ask of life than that!

Closing Prayer:

O GOD, our Father, deliver us from the foolishness of self-confidence, from all boasting and vanity, from pride of energy, and false notions of success. Teach us that our springs are not in ourselves, but in Thee. Here may we find our rest and feel, pouring through all our impotence, the tides of Thy mighty Spirit, for Thine is the Kingdom, the Power and the Glory. AMEN (Robert E. Speer)

The Rector addressed the ministerial students of the Pastoral Counseling Course at the Temple University School of Theology on Monday, November 3rd.

The Rector will address the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Asaph's Church, Bala-Cynwyd, on November 13th, at 10:30 A. M.

"ALL THAT I AM BELONGS TO GOD"

This is the Every Member Canvass theme. Begin now to plan and pray about your pledge.

"UNTO CAESAR AND UNTO GOD"

The church has no Internal Revenue Collectors. "Render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's and unto GOD that which is GOD'S." Most of us today have no trouble deciding how much to render unto Caesar in Washington, in Philadelphia, or any other government center. They tell us exactly how much. But when we come to the last part of the Lord's definition, we seem to lose all sense of proportion. Many modern Churchmen in all income brackets have tried to tithe, and have been living happier and fuller lives for it. Colgate, the soap tycoon, attributes his phenomenal success to the fact that he had made GOD a one-tenth partner in his first business venture, and always kept His account separate.

Contributions to the Benevolent Society from Miss E. J. Davis in memory of Miss Margaret P. Davis, from Mrs. Madeline Keller, B. H. Kennedy, K. Kennedy, Miss M. L. HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer: O most merciful Redeemer, Friend, and Brother, may we know Thee more clearly, love Thee more dearly, and follow Thee more nearly: for Thine own sake; Amen. (Sir Richard, Bishop of Chicester).

The Sermon:

Many honest, unthinking people are all tangled up about "Unanswered prayer". The fact is that GOD always answers prayers—sometimes saying "Yes"; sometimes, "No"; and sometimes, "Wait!" We want His "Yes!" and nothing else, just as if we blundering human mites know what is best for us. In our silly conceit, we too often pray to GOD just as we telephone for the police or the fire department or the doctor—and bid Him come and save us! But Jesus Christ, praying in the Garden, asking GOD to "remove this cup", humbly added, "Nevertheless, not my will but Thine be done." In other words, He prayed, "Show me Thy wish"; or, "O send out Thy light and Thy truth; let them lead me." Because Jesus listened to what GOD wanted, there followed the unforgettable Cross, and the glorious Resurrection, those mighty acts of GOD'S love!

If you want to make progress in your praying, and discover the full power of prayer, adopt, "O send out Thy light" as the threshold of every prayer-time. GOD is surely a good deal wiser than you! and your prayer should simply open your humble mind and spirit to His promptings, His illumination. Dare to trust Him to reveal more wonderful paths than you could ever discover by yourself.

Len Le Sourd tells an interesting story of answered prayer, the story of a skating champion who faced a tough problem. Ever since she had been six years old, her delight had been on the ice; and her secret ambition was to represent her country as a skater. Her father had served Canada all his life, in war and peace. Her brother was training as a bomber pilot in World War II. For sixteen years she practiced—long, long afternoons of weary discipline, and finally, in 1948, she skated off with the Olympic Figure Skating Crown, marking her as the outstanding amateur woman skater of the world. Then the big problem loomed up before her! Would she turn professional and reap a large money-reward for her sixteen years of hard work? She might have prayed, "Please, GOD, I've worked very hard—isn't it all right for me to go ahead and get my reward?" But she wanted, most of all, to do what was right—what would best serve GOD and her country. So she prayed, "Show me — O send out Thy light . . ." And GOD certainly answered her prayer. Ever since returning from her Olympic triumph, she had been visiting disabled veterans in hospitals. As she prayed, her answer came—she would skate for these disabled men. Her earnings would go to help put them on their feet. The result was "The St. Lawrence Foundation"—all of Barbara's skating income was turned over to this fund. It pays Barbara's travelling expenses, and a modest income—and all the rest is spent for mending human lives, bodies and spirits. "The more I make, the more I can help others", says Barbara Scott.

When people pray, "Show me—send out Thy light", GOD'S answers are often miracles. Try it very humbly, yourself!

Closing Prayer:

Into Thy hands, O GOD, we commend ourselves, and all who are dear to us, this day. Let the gift of Thy special presence be with us even to its close. Grant us never to lose sight of Thee all the day long, but to worship, to pray to Thee, that at eventide we may again give thanks unto Thee. AMEN. (Gelasian Sacramentary)

We acknowledge with much appreciation the Prayer Book and Hymnal Memorials given by Miss Helen Green in memory of Miss Susan C. Thackara. We wish also to thank Mrs. J. W. Christie, Mary Millham, Mrs. Joseph J. Hardiman, and the Misses Elizabeth and Minnie Corrigan for their contributions to the Benevolent Society, and the Church Bulletin Subscriptions of Mr. James O. Lyman, Mrs. Fred Schmid, Sr., Miss Margaret L. Gill, and Mrs. Paul T. Stackhouse.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

The Fall Ingathering of the U. T. O. will be received on Sunday, November 16th at the 11:00 o'clock service. Mrs. Wilson Leithead, Parish Custodian, is anxious that every woman in the Parish will use the little blue box and thus participate in this offering, which supports the missionary work of the church, both at home and abroad.

St. Stephen's Sponsor Group of THE GIRLS FRIENDLY SOCIETY will celebrate their 65th Anniversary at a dinner to be held in the New Century Club, 124 So. 12th St., on November 17th, at 6:15 P. M.

The Rector will speak at a Vesper Service in Mount Airy Methodist Church on Sunday, November 16th at 5:00 P. M., which is followed by a supper and an hour forum discussion on Spiritual Therapy, ending at 8:00 P. M.

THE MATTER OF GIVING

The Christian first of all gives his whole life and all that he is and has. The Christian rejoices in giving. Perhaps it is wise to set aside in prayer some such sum as 10 percent of one's wages for Christian purposes.

We do not mean to devise any legalistic formula, but unless there is some regular way of giving, much energy is lost in deciding about each particular occasion. Find out what satisfies your heart in GOD'S sight, and then give it joyously. One must not keep giving because of guilty feelings. Never grieve over giving what you have decided upon before GOD when you happen to be short of money, nor grieve because you have no more to give. GOD has ample physical means. What He needs is for you to give in faith and as a dedication to His voice in your heart.

The amount is not what counts the most, though we obviously must be careful not to delude ourselves on this score. What counts the most is what we give, how we give, and why we give. We all want to give to the church to bless it and make it a blessing. Let the Church of GOD be ever well supplied.

Above all, give in prayer and thanksgiving. There is a difference between a cup of cold water and giving it in Christ's Name. The difference is no superstition but hard fact. When we give in Christ's Name we give gratefully to GOD and for the common good as privileged instruments. No sense of superiority is to be taken from Christian giving, only the joy of being counted unworthy servants. But unworthy servants may be accepted as actually friends and Sons of God.

Hear my prayer, O GOD, incline thine ear.
Thyself from my petition do not hide;
Take heed to me! Hear how in prayer I mourn to Thee.
Without Thee all is dark, I have no guide.
The enemy shouteth the godless come fast!
Iniquity, hatred, upon me they cast!
The wicked oppress me, ah where shall I fly?
Perplexed and bewildered, O GOD, hear my cry.
My heart is sorely pained within my breast,
My soul with deathly terror is oppressed.
Trembling and fearfulness upon me fall,
With horror overwhelmed, lo, hear me call.
O for the wings of a dove! Far away would I rove,
In the wilderness build me a nest, and remain there forever at rest.

THANKSGIVING DAY

The Harvest Festival Service with address by the Rector will be held as usual on Thanksgiving Day, November 27th, at 11:00 A. M., when our offering will be given, as for many years past, to the Episcopal Hospital.

LEGACIES TO ST. STEPHEN'S

The late Susan C. Thackara remembered the Benevolent Society and the Altar Guild with a legacy of $100.00 each in her will.

The late Adaline Gillou remembered our Church with one-third of her estimated $30,000.00 Estate.

St. Stephen's Church is grateful for those whose Gifts have made possible its Endowment Funds. These strengthen the Church in its work.

We are in need of additional young men to serve as Flag-Bearers at the Church Services.

The fourth book in the Church's series of books on ADULT EDUCATION is now available. The title is "The Worship of the Church" and the cost is $1.50. Secure your copy while our supply lasts.

ALL THAT I AM BELONGS TO GOD

That statement is the theme of the 1952 Every Member Canvass of the Protestant Episcopal Church. It should lead every Christian who hears, or reads it to ask himself: "How much of me do I acknowledge belongs to GOD? Is a fair share of my life, talents, and my possessions active in GOD'S work?"

BRYAN GREEN

will be in Philadelphia the evening of Monday, December 1st, when he will speak in the Irvine Auditorium of the University of Pennsylvania, 34th and Spruce Streets, at 8:00 P. M.

TRANSPORTATION

During the two weeks beginning December 1st, we are to have a thorough and complete survey of the Parish along with a thorough every-member canvass for the financial support of the church.

We are anxious to have a number of volunteer drivers lined up for the two-week period. May we have your automobile for one or two days between December 1st and December 13th, so that our canvassers can cover our widely scattered membership? Mrs. Madeline Keller is the Chairman of the Transportation Committee and will be glad to hear from you.

AFFIRMATIONS

GOD, in the beginning, gave me perfect freedom of movement in mind and body; freedom from evil thoughts in my mind and from harmful conditions in my body.

This perfect movement, this perfect freedom, this perfect functioning of my whole being, is His Divine Will for me now.

Therefore, in the Name of the Living Christ, I bid all fears and evil thoughts depart. I bid my muscles respond to the Will of Christ. I bid my heart function normally, steadily, rhythmically—in time with all the cosmic forces of GOD'S universe, of which I am a part.

I realize that at the center of my being is the perfect harmony of GOD'S Eternal Being. I can free myself from every bondage, through Christ. I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me.

Now, in Christ, I am free with all the freedom of GOD.

"WHERE THERE'S A WILL THERE'S A WAY"

To provide for the future needs of your family and dependents . . . to remember special projects and charitable causes . . . to fulfill the stewardship responsibilities which have been given you in life, in Time, Talents, and Treasure.

— BUT —

IS YOURS A CHRISTIAN WILL

Have you included a generous bequest to your church to help it carry on its work years from now? Let your money be spent to do some good in the world—Remember St. Stephen's in your will.

A man and wife write: "We together express our 'Morning Act of Faith' reading the card together and in so doing we get a fresh start each day. We read it again before retiring for it relaxes us and prepares us for a good night's sleep and rest—'under the everlasting arms'."

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others).

Opening Prayer:

Blessed Lord, Who has caused all Holy Scriptures to be written for our learning; grant that we may in such wise hear them, read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest them, that by patience and comfort of Thy Holy Word, we may embrace and ever hold fast, the blessed hope of Everlastinng Life which Thou hast given us in our Saviour, Jesus Christ. AMEN.

Bible Reading: St. John I: 1-14

The Sermon:

This is "Bible Sunday"—and a wise man has said that the Bible is the record of GOD'S search for man. GOD made us last of all a creature of free will—free to reject Him in fear, or to obey Him in love. And the Bible records GOD'S love knocking at men's hearts, in tender persistence, through poet and prophet, until finally He came on earth Himself, in the life of His Son, that men might see His love in human form, and welcome the coming of the light into their darkness.

Do you know why December the twenty-fifth is kept as CHRISTMAS DAY? Studdert Kennedy writes: "Why does it come in the very depths of winter? We do not really know the exact date of Christ's birth. December the twenty-fifth was not fixed as the birthday festival of Christ until three hundred years after He died. It was then settled thus, not because December twenty-fifth was known to be the true date of His birth, but because it was the date of the heathen mid-winter festival. Traces of that heathen festival are still with us, such as the burninng of the Yule Log. Behind that ancient winter festival there lay the dread that in the depths of some bleak winter the sun might really die, bleeding its life out in the flames of one last awful sunset across the western sky. That primitive dread made the ancients pile the Yule Logs up to warm the sun lest it die in winter's grip!"

Actually, December the twenty-fifth is a day when the sun is farthest away from the earth, and its warmth is least felt by us. So the pagans thought of that day in fear and trembling, lest the world grow more chill and frightening. But, after Jesus came among men, they no longer trembled on that day. They rejoiced and said, "This is the Day when we can praise GOD because He began to come closer to men in the warmth of His love and the light of His wisdom." So December the twenty-fifth ceases being a pagan festival of shuddering fear; and becomes a Christian festival of joyful confidence; when we remember that the sun turns back from its furthest distance with returning warmth; when we remember that GOD began to come closest to mankinnd!

Only because of Christmas is there any hope in the world! Only as Jesus Christ is born anew in humble hearts can there be any rejoicing in these grim days. For, wherever Christ is born, there is courage and confidence, the Light of the World shining in the dark—the only Light which the dark cannot overcome. That Light tells you that love is the only way out of your connfusion—love for the great GOD and love for humble, human people. You can buy expensive Christmas presents for people—but, without love, they give little joy. You can give very inexpensive presents, made by yourself, or chosen with loving thought—and they will give endless joy. So your deepest, most eager prayer for Christmas-tide will be for more love—not more cash—so that you can bless Christmas for those about you! Studdert Kennedy wrote:

"Christ that was born on Christmas Day,
Laid on the world His two, small hands
Lifting it worlds and worlds away,
Up to the level of Love's demands.
And those Hands hold, though pierced with nails;
They hold on still in power and pain;
And they shall hold 'til Satan falls,
And Love comes to His own to reign."

Closing Prayer

Look graciously upon us, O Holy Spirit, and give us, for our hallowing, thoughts that pass into prayers, prayers that pass into love, and love which passes into life with Thee forever. AMEN ("New Every Morning")

ARE YOU FOR REDUCING OR INCREASING THE WORK OF THE CHURCH?

One objective of this year's Canvass is to get our people to take a thoughtful look at their giving. For most people "giving" is done more casually than they realize. Many people can't remember what they gave last year. Let's not be casual.

"Put Me Down For The Same As Last Year"

Let's remember that if we subscribe less than we did last year we favor a reduction in the activities and the ministry of the church in proportion to our reduced contribution. Let us remember that if we increase our subscription, as we must in these days of rising costs, then we favor progress in the conquest of new territories for Christ. Every forward looking Christian should be alive to this need, and should belong to this class.

Episcopalians are 14th—

Thirteen other nationally known denominations exceed us Episcopalians in per capita giving. Our total contributions for all purposes in 1922 was $36,475.00, which was only $32.21 per person per year. In 1932 the total was $33,941,368.99 or $26.34. In 1942, the total was $38,112,032.50 or $25.78. In 1950, it was $81,946,472., or $47.86. Are you for reducing or increasing the work of our Church?

YOUR PASTOR

The Pastor is a vital person in the life and work of any Church. He is a trained person, prepared mentally and spiritually for his responsibilities as a minister in the Episcopal Church. His training has extended over a long period of years. His duties are both numerous and varied. He must be a teacher, preacher, executive, organizer as well as a leader and promoter of moral and religious standards in the life of the community, a guide to youth and old age, a counsellor to those in need or in distress—a wise and unselfish friend to all.

Your Pastor is a man who has dedicated his life to a full time service of GOD and of humanity. He is a student of the Holy Bible, of Church tradition, of Christian teachings, of theology, religions, philosophy, psychology, sociology and of many other subjects bearing upon his work for others and the helpful services of the Church. He must spend long hours in study, preparation and meditation, in planning and executing Church programs of Parish, Diocese and National Church, as well as in the administration of Parish affairs. His is truly a gigantic task, one seldom carried on by men in other fields. He needs the sympathy, the understanding, the loyalty, as well as the love and support of each and every member of his flock to succeed. His success is their success, his failure is their's likewise. It is within the power of his people to build him into a great leader or to break his heart.

Your Pastor is a spiritual guide. He has been trained to counsel with those who come to him with personal, domestic, family or business problems. His guidance as a spiritual leader and friend, together with his prayers for Divine help and guidance will enable you to face difficulties with confidence, courage and with the hope that will bring ultimate victory. Your Pastor stands ready to minister to all and any who need his services. He is available twenty-four hours a day to all who need him as well as to provide services for your inspiration, perform weddings, conduct funerals and aid any who call upon him.

Your Pastor and his services, as well as those of the Church Staff, are just one of the many functions your Church provides for your help, comfort, aid and inspiration. Your Church and your Pastor always stand ready to serve both rich or poor, young or old, successful or discouraged. In turn, you owe them your loyal support, evidenced by your gifts and by the support of your Church. As the time has come to make our pledges to our Church for the coming year, we ask you to be generous in undergirding the strength and success of your Church's efforts to serve you and others. This is one way of encouraging your Pastor and his assistants in the performance of the gigantic task we call upon them to do. They strive to do their best, will you do your best? Give priority in your Time, Talents And Treasure—to the work of your Church during this Every Member Canvass of ST. STEPHEN'S "as good stewards of the mysteries of Christ." Let us be proud to have a share in the glorious work being done by our world-wide Christian fellowship of the Episcopal Church—a communion to which we are proud to belong.

YOUR PLEDGE UNDERGIRDS THE STRENGTH AND SUCCESS OF YOUR CHURCH! GIVE GENEROUSLY!

REMEMBER ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

When you talk next to your lawyer, say, "I would like to leave something to St. Stephen's Endowment Fund in my will." This fund enables St. Stephen's Church to continue to serve as a shinnng beacon in the heart of a great city. Act on this suggestion now. You can't find a worthier cause.

JEFFERSON HOSPITAL has acknowledged 2,465 articles from St. Stephen's Benevolent Society during the past year.

PLEDGES

The Parish Treasurer would be most grateful if those who are behind in the payment of their pledges for 1952 would try to bring them up to date. He has to meet some large bills and a heavy Missionary Quota before the close of the year. Unless you are in financial difficulties he would appreciate your help.

A PRAYER FOR PROPORTIONATE PLEDGING

Most Gracious GOD, Who art Lord of all we call our own, and dost command Thy people to be witnesses in all places both near and far; we beseeceh Thee so to bless us, Thy people, that we may be found worthy of Thy trust. Grant that we may pray fervently, labor diligently, and share faithfully of all Thou hast entrusted to us, for the spread of the Gospel in our Parish, our Diocese, our Nation and our World; through Him Who gave His life for us, Thy Son our Saviour Jesus Christ. AMEN.

ORGAN FUND

The total is creeping up slowly. We are most grateful to all who have helped by pledging over the past four years. We still need some eight thousand dollars to meet this obligation. Have you contributed to this fund?

As the date for dedication of our new organ draws near and as more and more of its parts are finished we are increasingly thankful for the faith and support of many people who are making this fine instrument possible in St. Stephen's Church and for the unusual skill of the builders. To those many who are making possible the possession of this wonderful instrument, we shall all be grateful for many decades.

UNDER AUTHORITY

A large part of the world's trouble has come from those who itch to be "big wheels"—Napoleon, Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin. A large part of the heartaches in the smaller part of your neighborhood, your home, come from the same greed for power over other people.

Olive Schriener pictured the would-be "big shots" in the great ant hills of the African plains. Millions of ants have worked at them for years; and, little by little they have grown until they are almost as high as a man. She continues, "Sometimes I have fancied if a little ant should come on top of one of these ant hills, and should rear himself on his hind legs, and wave his little feelers in the air; and should look around and say, "My ant hill that I have made! My ant hill, from which I see so far! My plains, my sky—my trees, my earth!" . . . And then, suddenly, a gust of wind would come. The ant hill would still be there, the ant hill on which he chanced to be born. There would still be the trees and the plain and the sky; but the ant would be gone forever."

That is the way human life works out, in history. That is the way boastful, little, human ants end their careers—Napoleon, on a lonely island, with no one to command; Mussolini, hunted down and caught by partisans; Hitler, trapped in a bunker under flaming Berlin. It is the same story with the little home Hitlers, and their wrecked households.

You can learn this truth from history by thoughtful reading. You can learn it more clearly from listening to the teaching of JESUS CHRIST. The story of the centurion proclaims that truth. That Roman army officer knew that the big business of the world is achieved by people acting loyally, under a wise leader. And he was keen enough to recognize JESUS as one who lived under the command of One higher than Himself. So, he said to JESUS, "You do not need to come to my house in order to heal my servant. I see that you are under authority, as I am; and any one who is under real authority can see to it that the needful things are done." Because JESUS was under authority, His FATHER was able to work mighty acts through Him. Because the early Christians were willing to be under authority, GOD did wonders through them. Wherever today, there is a handful of people obedient to GOD, miracles take place!

For all the notable achievements are done by company under authority. In Nature, one thinks of the ants, the bees, the beavers—a company of creatures working together on the pattern of toil which GOD has given them. In the kingdoms of this world, the great empires have grown to strength under a succession of wise rulers who commanded the deep respect of their people. And any convinced Christian knows that we shall have the good and peaceful Kingdom of GOD on earth only when mankind surrenders to the Infinite Wisdom of GOD, and works together under the authority of Jesus Christ, His Son.

YOUR LIFE

No life is complete without a satisfying Faith in GOD. "In Him we live and move and have our being", and without GOD, there is no true happiness. On every hand, we can see evidences of the insecurity, fear and confusion that has gripped the minds and hearts of men.

Yet amid the chaos of our age, it is still possible to have a workable, Christian faith that will give to us an inner victory. There are millions who are striving to please GOD, and have found great joy and satisfaction in their personal quest for a GOD-fiilled life. Through GOD'S Church, there are resources available to give us the confidence and spiritual understanding that we so sorely need. Week after week, multitudes find faith and hope in the regular services of Divine worship. You, too, can take your burdens to Church and leave them there.

Your Church stands as a guide-post to direct individuals to GOD. It interprets the Scriptures, preaches the GOSPEL, administers the inspiration and comfort of the Sacrament, and points men to Jesus Christ as the answer to all of life's problems. We trust that your life has been enriched by a vital contact with your Church. GOD will, and can, guide us through prayer, Bible study, and Church attendance.

We have come to that period during the year when the Church is asking for a pledge of support that it might carry on its spiritual ministry to individuals and to the community. By increasing your pledge to your Church, you can materially strengthen the ONE institution that is ministering to the souls of men. Your pledge to your Church is an investment in the future.

YOUR PLEDGE UNDERGIRDS YOUR CHURCH

BY PLEDGING YOUR SUPPORT IN 1953

EVERY MEMBER CANVASS

During the past three weeks a group of well trained Christian people have been calling in the homes of our people for the purpose of making a survey in order to see how best we may serve the religious needs of people today, and to enlist every member's active interest in our present program and to give every one the opportunity to subscribe worthily to the support of the church.

Some 185 families have been visited and interviewed. However, because of the geographical difficulties we cannot call on any more at this time. If you have not already made your pledge for 1953 please make use of the form below and send it to us so that a box of envelopes may be sent to you promptly.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE

New Year's Eve this year falls on Wednesday night. The Rev. Mr. Meckling will conduct the usual Watch Night Service at 11:00 P. M. with hymns prayer and address followed by the Holy Communion. The coming year is certain to be a year of tension and great pressure. We shall do well to approach it in the spirit of a solemn dedication to GOD, turning to Him for strength and insight. He alone will see us through successfully.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer: Strengthen us, O GOD, for the warfare of the spirit, in the year ahead that we may stand fast in the day of temptation, and through Thy mighty help and protection, may so triumph that we gain at last the crown of life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (New Every Morning).

Bible Reading: Romans 8:35-39.

The Sermon:

You and I need some new word to carry into the new year, to light our path through dark and uncertain days. Here is a word from GOD that will grow on you —We must be "more than conquerors through Him that loved us."

We succeeded in being conquerors in the World Wars I and II. In World War I we believed that we had accomplished so much. Listen, if you can, without tears, to the jubilant words of President Wilson as he announced the Armistice: "We know that the object of the war is attained: the object on which all free men set their hearts . . . armed imperialism is at an end . . . and the arbitrary power of the military caste of Germany, which once could secretly disturb the peace of the world, is discredited and destroyed." Yes, we were conquerors. We over-came something else—but we did not overcome hate, in ourselves, or in the world. So we lost peace, lost what our men had fought and died for—to make the world safe for democracy and peaceful living. Then we won World War II; Once more history labeled us conquerors—and, instead of peace, we have had the "cold war" and Korea. By this time we must begin to understand there is something we must become, that is "more than conquerors."

The only force which can win a true peace in the world is the power of "Him that loved us"—His patient, everlasting power of caring, of loving all men everywhere, in spite of anything they may say or do. This persistent, stubborn power of concern for others is the only practical weapon that can overcome hate—the only force strong enough to do it!

Roland Hayes, the great Negro singer, proved the strength of love to conquer hate, one evening in 1926. He was scheduled for a concert in Berlin, but the French had just sent Negro troops in to occupy the Rhineland, and all Germany was aflame with hate of black men. Roland Hayes was strongly advised to cancel his concert; advised that it was dangerous to face that hate. But he quietly persisted. The evening came. The great concert hall was packed. As he walked out on to the platform a storm of cat calls and hisses and boo's broke loose. For eight long minutes it continued, as Roland Hayes stood there quietly, leaning with his elbow on the piano, looking steadily into the faces of that hating mob. Suddenly, he looked upward and shut his eyes. The crowd knew that he was praying; and the storm died for a moment. Like a flash, the singer began an old and much-loved German song to GOD, "Du Bist Die Ruh" ("Thou Art My Peace"): and the magic of GOD'S love in his voice captured the good will of that crowd. He sang through his whole program without interruption. And then at the end, men stormed up on the platform, took Roland Hayes on their shoulders and marched twice around the hall, cheering the man they had boo'd. The Silent Power had worked, as It always can. Roland Hayes was more than a conqueror, for Christ in his heart had overcome hate itself.

Let us go into 1953 recognizing our real enemy—the power of hate. That enemy can be beaten, beginning within you! Then we shall be "more than conquerors," and on our way to real peace!

Closing Prayer:

Give peace in our time; fill the hearts of all men everywhere with the spirit of Jesus Christ our Lord. AMEN.

LET'S REMEMBER THE DAILY SERVICES

Out of the five hundred people who are members of St. Stephen's there must be many for whom the morning services on Sunday are so inconvenient that absence from Church becomes almost habitual. This is to remind you that every day, Tuesday through Friday at 12:30, we have an inspiring service with hymns, prayers and sermon on Tuesday and Wednesday; a Communion Service on Fridays and Healing Services with sermon on Thursdays at 12:30 and 5:30 P. M.

Forty-six members of our MOTHERS' MEETING under the direction of Mrs. Lida Trautner helped serve 1100 Christmas Dinners to the members of THE LIGHTHOUSE FOR THE BLIND on December 16th.

The Mothers have now paid $450.00 to our ORGAN FUND, and made a generous offering toward our pledge to the CHINESE CHURCH AND MISSION CENTER at 10th and Spring Streets.

The Rector will conduct the Service and preach at the CHAPEL of THE LEAMY HOME on Sunday afternoon, December 28th, at 5:00 P. M.

Our "Thank You" goes to Miss Louise Leupold, Mrs. W. D. Dunn, and Miss Jane S. McEldowney for their Church Bulletin Subscriptions.

OUR NEED FOR FRIENDS

The world is full of lonely people—lonely because they do not know how to make friends, lonely because, having them, they do not meet in the deep places of understanding fellowship. Few have real friends, who know all about them, and love them still.

People with a genius for friendship seem to live in other people, enter into what they are thinking and doing, are always on the giving end, never thinking of what they get.

Do we lift our friendship to Christ's level? If He is our Great Friend, He ought to be a part of every other friendship. We should introduce every other friend to Him. Friendship is the natural channel for the Spirit of God as He leads men to become the friends of God.

THE RECTOR'S EASTER GREETING

My Beloved People of St. Stephen's:

EASTER is here again; EASTER with its crowded churches, the end of winter, and the thrill of being part of something great.

Yes, EASTER is great. It is too important to be treated superficially. If EASTER is true, nothing that has ever happened or will ever happen can match its importance. The Resurrection of Jesus CHRIST is the most significant event in history.

The plain Cross on our Altar and on any Anglican Altar is a living testimony that we Christians believe not in a dead Saviour, but in a resurrected One, and the arms of that Cross symbolize that His hands are spread out to receive you and me, whenever trouble assails us—whenever error and sin have destroyed our Faith.

EASTER symbolizes to me that each of us can have an EASTER of our own at any time, when we are willing to release and let go of those things which tend to keep us from GOD. If your life has been filled with those things which are material, worldly, sinful, when you have not learned what it is to have Divine Guidance in all your doing, then today can be an EASTER to you indeed.

You can be resurrected now from your unsuccessful life, from the winter of your discontent, by simply knowing that there is a Power within you and without you which you can appropriate by simple faith, and this Power can and will resurrect you to a glorious springtime and summer of peace. To serve GOD as Jesus knew—means to honor, worship, obey and have full and complete faith in Him. To bring ourselves to His will so that our lives shall express His Divine Purpose.

If you will believe in GOD more than anything else, if you believe in victory instead of defeat, if you believe in right more than wrong, in health more than sickness, in life more than death, you will overcome all things. EASTER is the power of GOD over all other forces. It is the final, Eternal VICTORY and EASTER can be yours today and forever. The resurrected Christ can break our bonds, heal our hurts and set the prisoner free.

We live in sober and serious times. But EASTER brings joy. It proclaims the Victory of GOD over the sins of the human race. It sets GOD'S seal on Christ's promise that those who believe can have eternal life. It solves the riddle of human destiny.

Affectionately and faithfully, your Rector,
Alfred W. Price.

EASTER OFFERING

If we are truly grateful for the Blessed Resurrection, we will want to present an offering of Thanksgiving and gratitude to GOD and His Church on Easter Day, even as we are able and the spirit directs us. For this purpose please use the enclosed envelope.

CHRISTMAS, 1953

What a wonderful thing it would be if we could shed Christmas of all its trappings—the shops, the presents, the feasting and drinking and the cards—just keep it as, what it is, the Birthday of the living risen Christ, in worship and in quiet recollection of what He is to us! And, yet again, what a wonderful thing it would be if all the kindliness which is expressed between people, and all the generosity which is shown, could become typical of the kindliness and generosity of every day of the year. But it is not!

The trouble is that we have lost sight of the meaning of Christmas and so it has become meaningless, and it has largely lost its thrill.

The Christmas Angels brought to the shepherds good tidings of great joy. The child born in the stable had come to be the Herald of God's coming Kingdom. He had come to bring salvation, to save those who were perishing under the hard and bitter injustices and wrongs of the world, and to bring healing and peace and joy to all God's children on earth.

Who was this child born of Mary? He was none other than the Eternal Son of the Father, through Whom all things had been made and Whose life was in all creation and in every man who is ever born into the world. "He was in the world and the world was made by Him, and the world knew Him not." All through the ages He had been making the world and creating our human nature to be the means through which God could be made manifest; and now on Christmas Day this same Eternal Son and Creator of all things became Man—not just a man but representative man, God incarnate. Here was the life of the world; the creative life, which men had seen in all life, in the trees and flowers and in every human being, but they had never known that it was God's life and activity in the world: and now they saw Him and knew Him and worshipped Him. And that is Christmas . . .

And it is not only His Birthday. It is our birthday, because apart from Jesus Christ you and I have no existence whatever. He is "the Lord and Giver of Life," from Whom we derive our life. Without His life in us we could not have come into the world or live at all. Our very human life is akin to His life. We are made to be "Sons of God."

This is the stupendous truth of Christmas. It tells us of God's purpose for our lives, and shows us what we are capable of becoming. But it does more. It tells us that, high as our calling is, we have the power of God to achieve it within us.

It is this Christ who came to bring salvation to the world; and that means health and wholeness not merely to our bodies, but to the whole man. And not merely to us as human beings, but to all the peoples of the world, to bring peace in place of war, to bring plenty instead of starvation in India and Africa; to bring brotherhood instead of the color bar, to bring love instead of hatred, to vanquish fear and sickness and disease and sin.

This is the meaning of Christmas: and if, as followers of this Christ, we have been enrolled as members of His Church, then we have been called into fellowship with Him in all these His purposes for the world. And He is not only our Leader in the most glorious cause that we can imagine, but being in Him and He in us we are the instruments through which alone He can work: and He is dependent upon us. Are we going to let Him down?

Christmas can be an orgy of selfishness and greed in forgetfulness of Christ. It can be a renewal of our whole life and an offering, a present to Christ on His Birthday.

May the Love of GOD abide in you, His Peace enfold you, His Grace sustain you and His Light guide you this HOLY CHRISTMAS-TIDE.

Sincerely, your Rector,
ALFRED W. PRICE.

The Church Staff—The Rector, Mr. Attenborough, Mr. Meckling, Mr. Leeds, Mrs. Keller, Mr. Wells, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Cook and Mr. Evans—unite in their desire to convey to you, one and all, their Very Best Christmas wishes.

Woman, "Oh, I beg your pardon. I must have the wrong number."

GREECE SENDS THANKS TO EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"I would like to express feelings of deep gratitude on behalf of the Church of Greece for the immediate and truly Christian help which the Protestant Episcopal Church sent to us at this crucial time", wrote his Beatitude, Syridon, Archbishop of Athens and All Greece, to Bishop Sherrill thanking him for the $8000. sent by the Episcopal Church to the stricken natives of the Iolian Islands. The gift of the Church, coming from the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief and World Co-operation, helped to purchase food and kitchen utensils and meet the emergency needs of the churches in the areas which had been destroyed by the week-long series of earthquakes.

FENCES

Margaret Appelgarth writes the following glorious tale:

Nothing is ever more present than a fence. There it stands, announcing to the world that something inside is being shut in; and something outside, shut out. And if that fence is around a Catholic cemetery, it means that all the earth inside is consecrated ground; only for those who have died in the faith. It was that way in Poland, also, of course.

But during the war years a Quaker came to town. A man so gentle that although he had never been to Poland before, and spoke no word of Polish at first, yet everybody knew exactly what he meant—and he knew that when they were too thin, they were too hungry; and if their feet were bare, they needed shoes. It was as simple as that, at first. They felt that they had been born knowing him. And even after he had learned plenty of Polish, he never scolded anybody who came back to his soup-kitchen for more soup. Neither did he ever play favorites, and save out the best suits and coats for special friends. He never seemed to notice whether people were Polish or Jewish or Russian or German. So everybody told him everything in every one of these languages, all day long. For here he was: as present as the Golden Rule in action; as available as Come-ye-Blessed-of-My-Father in the last judgment, who has lavished love on the hungry, the naked, the prisoner.

So that his death was a total calamity. From overwork? From mal-nutrition? From constant drain on his sympathies? Nobody knew, for sure. But when they began doing the last tender things which can be done for someone so beloved, the saddest calamity of all was the moment when it dawned on everybody that a Quaker is not a Catholic! They spoke earnestly to the priest: was it not possible, just this once, to lay such a saintly person in consecrated ground, inside the cemetery?

But the priest had to shake his head; for the rule of the Church was the rule of the Church. Disconsolate, the people buried the body of their friend as close to the forbidden fence-line as possible. But they went home with heavy hearts.

After darkness had fallen that night, however, the priest himself went out, and moved the fence-line over far enough to include the new grave. For the rule of the Church is clear enough about consecrated earth, and who may lie in it; but nothing whatever is printed in black and white about fence-lines. One wonders about the priest's name in Polish—for it ought to have been Malachi, since he too knew that "They shall be Mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them as a man spareth his own son that serveth him."

TESTIMONIES

Dear Dr. Price—First of all I want to thank God for your healing service. I live in South Jersey, but I go to your Noon-day Service every opportunity because it always quiets my nerves and I feel so near to God when you tell us of His loving Care. Several months ago I was having terrible headaches at the base of the brain. I was afraid of a stroke. I went to your Thursday healing service for I was sure if I had faith, God could cure me. I thanked God when I knelt at the Altar and you layed your hands on my head and asked God to heal me. I felt the ache leave my head and I thank God that I never have those headaches any more. I have told so many people of your services and how God can heal them, if they have faith.

Dr. Price, it is such a privilege to attend your Week-Day services. I can't understand why your church is not crowded. People really cannot know what they are missing to have a quiet talk with Christ.—A. L. P.

ST. STEPHEN'S IS MY PARISH

Its value to me and the world is determined by myself. "The Kingdom come." I pray for it; I must pray for it and push it.

This Sunday is Loyalty Sunday—December 13th—when opportunity is given to everyone who will so co-operate, to pledge toward the Church's 1954 budget, in church. For the past five weeks members of the Vestry have presented to the Sunday Morning congregations in ten minute addresses the hopes and plans for the Parish of St. Stephen's in 1954. The Rector will conclude these addresses with a Sermon December 13th on the subject "Forward in Faith" wherein he hopes to make clear the significance of our church's program. The Chest of Joash will be placed in the usual place in the chancel and everyone present will be invited to sign a card indicating what he is prepared to give in 1954 for the support of that program and place the card in the Chest of Joash.

Inevitably the question is asked: "What is my share?" So often we say to ourselves, "I do not have enough to give to this or to give to that." Canon Peter Green once said that "enough is perhaps a little more than you now have." Thus none of us ever has enough. A large or small gift has nothing to do with the size of the contribution that is given to support the work of the church.

A large gift that alone represents a partnership is always and only that gift into which some sacrificial strain enters. It may be ten cents a week, it may be $100.00 a week. Only the man and God knows what the partnership cost for him must be. A patron gives as little or as much as he pleases, while in a partnership the need and the demands of the cause determine what the partner does. We worship God Who gave His life for us that we might live. If we believe that without God's way, life ends in futility, if we believe that beyond all else God's way is our salvation, then when the opportunity comes for us to fulfill our partnership in this church by our gifts, let us say and mean "I will not offer unto the Lord my God of that which costeth me nothing."

PREPARATION FOR CHRISTMAS

Did you ever stop to think of the quiet unseen preparation for the first Christmas in the mind and heart of Mary?

It may have been at the end of the day, when her work was done, and she was sitting, drowsy and day dreaming. That is the time of day when thoughts come knocking on the door of our minds; the time of day when it makes a great deal of difference which thoughts we admit. There came a Shining Presence, so wondrous that forever afterwards she described it as an Angel from God. She knew that God wanted something of her life. Something great was near to her. And her first thought was of unworthiness, her shortcomings and sins. So she was fearful, and "troubled". It frightened her to think of God the Eternal having something to do with her. But her second thought was of courage and thankfulness—all her heart said "Yes" to God, as she learned that, through her, He planned to make Himself known to men. So she slammed the door of her mind shut in the face of fears, and opened it to the coming of God; and sang the song, "My soul doth Magnify the Lord."

Brother Lawrence had the secret of it, too. "When he had failed in his duty, he simply confessed his fault, saying to God, "I shall never do otherwise if you leave me to myself. 'Tis you who must hinder my falling, and mend what is amiss." After this he gave himself no further uneasiness about it. Fears found the door barred against them. God and His peace found the door flung wide open. So Brother Lawrence lived with a song on his lips, and a great peace in his heart.

As Christmas draws near, first ask God to forgive the sins you are aware of, and to show you the others—that you may find the cleansing of His forgiveness; and then set a vigilant watch at your mind's door. Confident in God's power, deny entrance to the old fears and worries. Gladly welcome every impulse—that the guest-chamber of your inn may be free to welcome Him when Christmas comes.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH THE PICTURE?

I

What is wrong with this picture? Even a child can quickly answer this question. Many things, perhaps, are right with the picture. The wagon has its wheels, body, driver's seat, dashboard, shafts. The harness seems complete with hame, traces, bridle, bit, blinders and reins Even the horse's shoes are lying in the road! Only one thing is wrong with the picture! Only one thing is lacking! The trouble is, however, that this one thing is the indispensable thing. As the picture stands, it is the play of "Hamlet" with Hamlet left out! There is no horsepower! All set to go: but where is the horse? No horse, no show! No horse, no go! Get into the traces! There's more to luck than just horseshoes! There's more to luck than just "getty-up"!

Be sure you don't put the cart before the horse—that's good advice! But even better, don't take the cart without the horse! Bad as it may be to ride a high horse, perhaps even such a horse is better than none! Perhaps one takes his chances with a dark horse, but, at least, he proves to be a real horse and not the mere ghost of one.

II

The word "horsepower" has come into general use as a measure of motive power. They tell us that in its origin the phrase means the amount of work which can be done by an ordinary dray horse. It is a way for measuring work, equivalent to 550 foot-pounds per second. We use the phrase constantly as a unit of measure for machinery. What is true of the wagon in our picture is true of all machinery. Some of us may remember that automobiles were first called horseless carriages! The one indispensable thing is always horsepower. Whatever form this power takes, it is the one essential thing if the machinery is to run. So it might be with a clock, complete with face and hands and wheels, but having no weights or mainspring! So, worse luck, we sometimes find it with our car. Wheels in good shape, no flat tires, no dents in fenders, no cracks in windshield, but battery all run down! So, the car does not start, and quite to our grief, we learn the need of what may be called the spirit in the wheels!

III

An interesting Old Testament reference tells us the same story. The King of Assyria is challenging the King of Jerusalem (II Kings 18:17). To recall the old-time names, the ambassador, Rab-shakeh, is presenting his challenge to King Hezekiah. He asserts that Jerusalem has no manpower. Fine location, seemingly impregnable, yes! Plentiful provision of war equipment, yes! But for all that, unable to wage an efficient war! Rab-shakeh rises to the climax of his challenge with a memorable taunt: "I will deliver thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them." Two thousand horses and no riders! Plenty of equipment, but no motive power! Here is, indeed, the cart without the horse! Here is equipment without personality to make it go!

IV

The homely illustration of the wagon without horsepower is a parable of very wide application. It is a parable of our work and worship here in ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH. Standing on Tenth Street, we have an unequalled geographic location. The simplicity and dignity of our building make it a venerable place. We have all the standard equipment—pews, pulpit, and now a marvelously fine new organ. The shrine stands invitingly open with pamphlets and prayer cards. In the pews are two hundred hearing aids. Our Church Offices are properly furnished with desks and chairs. Suppose, just for one unhappy moment, that this told the whole story! No matter how complete and perfect the equipment, we must have someone to open and clean the building; someone to send out the Bulletins; someone to preach in the pulpit; someone to play the organ; someone to sing in the choir! Without this motive power, we stand, at best, like a fine vacant house. There is no one living there! There is nobody at home! I do not know of anything more sad than to come into a church building and find this situation. In such a deserted place, we feel the full force of the tragedy of "real absence." There is indeed something desperately needed in such a picture!

V

There are so many things that are right in our ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH picture! Our physical equipment is, by and large, adequate for our present needs and opportunities. We are not facing the necessity of raising money for any building program. We love the very stones of the old building and would not be tempted needlessly to change one of them. The one need we must always and forever remember is the need of motive power. This message, then, is not primarily a letter asking for money. Yes, of course, we need financial support! Everyone knows that most things cost double now-a-days! There are always operating expenses! Our budget for 1954 amounts to $70,000.00. This message, however, is a message asking for something much more than your financial contribution. It is asking you to help make ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH a real power-house, a real point of spiritual light and heat and power. More than some beautiful painted fireplace, we need real blazing fire on the hearth! We need your well-informed interest in the things we are doing here! We neer your intelligent co-operation! We need your confidence and enthusiasm for the work and worship of ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH! We need your hope and faith that this is a worthwhile place and that we are doing a worthwhile job! Above all, we need your prayers and your thanksgiving for any measure of success that we may reach! We need the contribution of your own personal spiritual life and experience! Any form of godliness, whether in word or action, or, indeed, in financial contribution, is never enough. This is only the wagon without the horsepower. This is the terrible meaning of the words, "Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof." (II Timothy 3:5). We need the horse hitched to the wagon! We need the spirit in the wheels! We remember that fine word from Holy Scripture: "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts." (Zechariah 4:6).

GIVE AND LIVE

Thanksgiving Day always leaves vivid memories, doesn't it? It brings us into touch again with people we have not seen for some time. It gives us the delight of picking up loose ends, of knowing and loving each other freshly and warmly again. It also reveals to us how people change, over the years, depending on how they think and live. Jesus was so practical when He taught, "For whosoever would save his life will lose it, and whosoever loses his life for My sake will find it." There is a modern parable which I share with you at least once a year, which brings home that teaching of the Master.

"There are two seas in Palestine. One is fresh and there are fish in it. Slashes of green adorn its banks. Trees spread their branches over it, and stretch out their thirsty roots to sip of healing waters. Along its shores the children play as children played when He was there. He loved it. He could look across its silver surface when He spoke His parables. And on a rolling plain not far away He fed five thousand people.

The river Jordan flows on south into another sea. Here is no splash of fish, no fluttering leaf, no song of birds, no children's laughter. Travelers choose another route, unless on urgent business. The air hangs heavy above its waters, and neither man nor beast, nor fowl will drink.

What makes this mighty difference in these neighbor seas? Not the river Jordan. It empties the same good water into both. Not the soil in which they lie; not the country round about.

This is the difference. The Sea of Galilee receives but does not keep the Jordan. For every drop that flows into it, another drop flows out. The giving and receiving go on in equal measure.

The other sea is shrewder, hoarding its income jealously. It will not be tempted into any generous impulse. Every drop it gets it keeps.

The Sea of Galilee gives and lives. The other sea gives nothing. It is named the Dead Sea.

There are two kinds of people in the world.

There are two seas in Palestine.

On Thanksgiving Day we are reminded that there are two kinds of people; and that the only ones that continue full of life are like the Sea of Galilee, which gives and lives!

HOW MUCH SHOULD I GIVE?

Every so often someone asks me this question: "How should I determine the amount of my church pledge?" It is a difficult question to answer, because each person has different demands made upon him. Personally, I commend the method of tithing as a means of measurement of one's giving.

This is based on the Old Testament principle, "The tenth shall be holy unto the Lord," as stated in the Book of Leviticus. Here is the way many modern people use this ancient Biblical Method. They say, "First I pay my taxes, rendering, as it were, unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and then set aside in a special fund ten per cent of all my remaining income. Of that ten per cent or tithe, I shall give one half to the church, and use the remaining half for meeting charitable appeals through the year."

Such a method has the advantage that a definite proportionate share of one's income which all comes from God, is available for the welfare of others. God's share is set aside first. The remainder is then available for one's own needs. When we put God first—in our thinking, in the use of our time, in the use of our income—then a new perspective is seen in our use of God's gifts.

I should like to ask each person to think of his gift to the church in terms of a specific proportionate share of what God has given him. Too many think the church can carry on with a token contribution—a tip, as it were. Surely, if we gave according to the plan outlined above, the church's work would not struggle along with the inadequate financial support it now has. "Give unto the Lord a share of all thy gifts from Him."

How many members of St. Stephen's Church will make a venture of faith? I would appreciate knowing, in confidence of course, how many people in St. Stephen's Church follow such a plan, and what the experience is in doing so.

The Women of St. Stephen's contributed their largest United Thank Offering ever at the annual Fall In-Gathering on All Saints' Day, November 1st. Mrs. Wilson Leithead, Custodian, reports a total of $410.02. There were 111 contributors this year, also a record number.

An interesting note is that this year's offering at St. Stephen's approximated that of the entire Women's Auxiliary at the Triennial Meeting in New York in 1886.

The above named persons are employed by you to administer the affairs of St. Stephen's Parish. They would be the first to admit their various shortcomings, but you may be sure that they are conscientiously trying to do the best job they know how for the good of the Parish they all love. Theirs is the task of seeing to it that the machinery of the Parish Program runs smoothly. The Clergy conduct the services of worship, supervise the manifold organizations, visit among the people, especially the sick, and make themselves available whenever needed. The secretaries handle the complicated details of the office, get out the Bulletin, handle the correspondence, answer the telephone, and in general make themselves useful. The Social Worker provides help for the many distressed individuals that come during the week. The Organist trains the choir, plays the organ in church, and is responsible for the musical dignity of our services. The Sexton and his helpers have the difficult task of keeping the church and Community House clean and ready for use, and are helpful in other ways too numerous to mention.

These staff members are necessary to the well-being of our Parish. You make it possible for them to be here through your financial support; and their labors are translated into terms of spiritual food for the hungry, comfort for the bereaved, cheer and healing for the sick, fellowship for the lonely, new courage for the fearful, inner peace for the anxious, and a sense of security in spite of world chaos. Is it worthwhile?

Our grateful appreciation to Mrs. Frances F. Loverin and Mrs. John MacDougal for their Bulletin Subscriptions.

The flowers on the Altar today are given by Mrs. George Kappel in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Shields.

The flowers on the Altar Thanksgiving Day are placed there in memory of James Carrigan, beloved Verger of St. Stephen's Church from April 1st, 1907 to Sept. 21st, 1950.

The Rev. Mr. Attenborough will be elevated to the Priesthood along with two other Deacons in an Ordination Service to be held in Episcopal Academy, December 19th, at 10:30 A. M.

———: :———

THANKSGIVING DAY

The Harvest Festival Service with address by the Rector will be held as usual on Thanksgiving Day, November 26th, at 11:00 A. M., when our offering will be given, as for many years past, to the Episcopal Hospital.

———: :———

Miss Theresa King has been appointed by the Rector as the President of the Altar Guild. Other members of the Altar Guild are Miss Dorothy Kohl, Mrs. Emily Smith, Mrs. R. W. Fay, and Mrs. F. M. Smith. There is need of more members in this important work in the care of our Sanctuary.

———: :———

HOW TO ADDRESS THE CLERGY

If you have any respect for the Rector's Blood pressure, Please do not use the word "Reverend" as a title. It is wrong, it is sinful, it is against Emily Post. It is ungrammatical. It is everything that is loathesome and horrible. Where "Reverend" is an adjective, like "Honorable", which is used to modify a noun as "The Rev. Mr. Brown", or "The Rev. John Brown". It is NOT a title. It is never used with the last name alone. Bishops are "The Right Reverend", Deans are "The Very Reverend", Archdeacons are "The Venerable". (Don't ask us why!) Parish Priests—those peasants—are "The Reverend".

CARD PARTY AND BAZAAR

On Monday afternoon, November 30th, at 1:30 o'clock, the Women's Committee of the Burd School are having a Card Party and Bazaar for the benefit of the School at 4226 Baltimore Ave. The tickets are $1.25. Prizes and Refreshments. Please bring your cards.

———: :———

The Rector gave an address to the Graduate Students in Pastoral Psychology at Temple Theological School on Nov. 16th.

The Women's Committee of All Saints Hospital (Episcopal Hospital for the Tubercular) is to participate in the United Christmas Bazaar of the Emergency Aid of Penna. This Bazaar will take place on the Mezzanine floor of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel on Monday, Nov. 23rd from 10 A. M. to 7 P. M. Admission tickets at 25 cents, if purchased from our City Mission, will benefit the Women's Committee.

Miss Edna H. Meyers, President of our Altar Guild, until her passing on October 26th, bequeathed the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) to the "Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Stephen's Church, Trustees of the Endowment Fund of St. Stephen's Church, for the purposes of said Endowment Fund.

To the Altar Guild Miss Meyers bequeathed the sum of Five hundred dollars "to be used solely for the purchase of new Linens."

We acknowledge with thanks a Prayer Book and Hymnal for congregational use presented by Miss Katharine Kennedy in memory of her aunt Miss Grace M. Hershey. The flowers on the Altar on Thursday, Nov. 19th, are in memory of Miss Hershey and presented by Miss Kennedy.

On Sunday morning at 8:30 the Rev. Mr. Attenborough will conduct an instruction class on the Holy Communion in the transcept of the church. The confirmed members of the Burd School and Church School as well as adults from the congregation are welcome to attend these classes held on the third Sunday of every month.

LOYALTY SUNDAY—DECEMBER 13th

This is your opportunity to indicate how great a part you will have in the work of St. Stephen's Church in the ensuing year. The vestry of St. Stephen's Church feel that the total of $70,000.00 is the absolute minimum needed to provide for an adequate Christian program for 1954. The Budget represents an increase of $5,000 or 8 per cent over the 1953 Budget. To meet the increase, we will need many new pledges and also many pledges larger than last year, Various members of our vestry will give a ten minute talk every Sunday morning until December 13th when we shall have the Chest of Joash service. Mr. Wilson Leithead will speak on Nov. 15th, Mr. I. Smith Raspin on Nov 22nd, Dr. Herbert Old on Nov. 29th, and Mr. Edwin S. Heins on December 6th.

IS THE CHURCH COSTING TOO MUCH?

"Our Church costs too much," a chronic complainer stated, "and I am getting sick and tired of it." "Yes," said another member, "but I want to tell you a story out of my own life. Some time ago, a baby boy came into my home and from the time he was born, he cost me money. I had to buy clothing and medicine and toys and, finally, a puppy dog. When he started to school, he cost me more and more. Then he went to college and I really paid through the nose. But in his senior year in college, he suddenly sickened and died. Since that time he has not cost me a cent . . . not a single cent."

As long as the Church lives and exerts any influence in the world it will cost money. A dead Church needs no money! And neither does a dead Christian have any to give. It costs nothing to operate a dead Church. And all a Christian has to do to die, is never to give.

If your religion is alive, it will cost you something, but you will find happiness, joy, and blessings in paying the price.

WHY SHOULD I MAKE A PLEDGE?

Once upon a time, there was an employer—a man of good will with love in his heart for all his workers. He called them together and said, "I am tired of this pay-envelope system. It's too cold-blooded. From now on, I am just going to give you some money every time I come around the plant. That will make everything so much nicer." But one week he had to go on a business trip. Another week he had to go and see his daughter; another week he went to his summer place; another week he was sick in bed; and another—but you can finish the story yourself.

Such is the Church that has to depend on the week-by-week circumstances of its people, the vagaries of the weather, sick children, and week-end trips. The Church depends upon your pledged support.

The Rector gave an address to the students of the Woman's Medical College who are members of the Philadelphia Christian Medical Society on Tuesday evening, November 3rd.

WOMEN TO PRESENT U. T. O.

The regular Fall in-gathering of the United Thank Offering of the women of the Diocese of Pennsylvania is to take place on Thursday, November 19th, at 8:00 P. M. in St. Stephen's Church. Bishop Voegli, of Haiti, will be the speaker.

The United Thank Offering not only brings together all the women of the Church, in a great adventure for the extension of Christ's Kingdom, but it is one of the chief sources of income which maintains women workers for the Church, throughout the world. Every Episcopal woman normally has a Blue Box on her desk or dresser. Whenever particularly thankful for some act of God's Grace, a coin is deposited in the Blue Box. Twice a year, once in the Fall, and once in the Spring, these sacred offerings are placed in envelopes and are presented at the Altars of Episcopal Churches throughout the country. Each Triennial gathering of the women, at the time of General Convention, in recent years, has shown an accumulation of over two million dollars from this source. The money used for various aspects of extending Christ's Kingdom, is voted by the Executive Board of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church, which meets four times a year to disburse these funds.

The Rector attended a two-day conference on "The City Church" in Richmond, Virginia, on October 27th and 28th.

U. T. O.—The Fall In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering will take place at St. Stephen's Church on Thursday evening, November 19th, at 8 P. M. The speaker will be the Rt. Rev. Charles A. Voegli, Missionary Bishop of Haiti.

PEARLY GATES

In one of Peter Marshall's vivid sermons, he points out that "All GOD'S chillen got trouble" and the only thing that sets GOD'S children apart from other people is what they do with trouble. "The Christian treatment of trouble is splendidly illustrated by the oyster into whose shell one day there comes a tiny grain of sand . . . this tiny piece of quartz . . . an intruder . . . imposes pain, distress, and presents a very real problem. What shall the oyster do?

"Well, there are several courses open. The oyster could openly rebel against the Sovereign Providence of GOD and complain bitterly, "Why should this happen to me?" The oyster could conclude, "There is no justice. I'll throw away all the faith I ever had." Yes, the oyster could say that. So many men and women have, in times of trouble. But the oyster doesn't! Or, the oyster could say, with a lot of fortitude and courage and determination: "Now that this hard calamity has overtaken me, I must endure to the end. I must show them I can take it, and I won't give in." Now, there is something noble in that. But the oyster does not say that.

"No, the oyster recognizes the presence of the grim intruder, and right away begins to do something. Slowly and patiently, with infinite care, the oyster builds upon the grain of sand, layer upon layer of a plastic, milky substance that covers each sharp corner and coats every cutting edge . . . and gradually . . . slowly, by and by a real pearl is made . . . a thing of wondrous beauty wrapped around trouble. The oyster has learned—by the Will of GOD—to turn grains of sand into pearls; cruel misfortune into blessings—pain and distress into beauty." And that is the lesson we are to learn along this pilgrim way. The grace of GOD, which is sufficient, will enable us to make of our troubles the pearls they can become. It is no figure of speech. It is something more than a simile to say that one enters heaven through pearly gates. "One enters into the Presence of the LORD through gates bedecked with pearls, and every pearl—a trouble, a heartache, a misfortune, which by the grace of GOD, has been changed into a beautiful, lovely thing." No wonder they speak of pearly gates!

MILLIONS HAVE DONE IT

It is so easy to feel that your life is burdened beyond your powers of endurance. When you feel like that no sweet "Pollyanna" encouragement is going to help you. No pleasant make-believe is going to lighten that load.

But the Bible does not feed you on make-believe. You read the 11th chapter of Hebrews last Sunday—it did not say "Let's pretend that everything's all right." Rather it called your attention to a great fact. It trumpeted out name after name of those who through their faith in the living GOD had overcome the fears and dangers and obstacles in their way. And it spoke not only of the heroes of old, but also of the hosts of nameless men and women whose lives were never "spotlighted" in history, but were humble members of "the blessed company of all faithful people." Having looked at the radiant fact of the victory of faithful people, that chapter sang out "Seeing we also are surrounded with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight . . . and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."

How do we get started? How do we get on with the race? The story is told of an English nurse who was being trained to make parachute jumps with medical supplies. As her turn came, she hesitated, and the training officer spoke out: "The girl in front of you has jumped. The girl behind you is waiting to jump. So you jump!" So it can be in your life. Hosts of people before you have taken that leap of faith, that decisive step forward which puts its whole trust in GOD'S sustaining power. Others after you will be taking that same great step. So you take it, assured by their witness.

JESUS did not come to train a few super-saints. He came that every man might have life and have it abundantly. He did not come to choose and train a few spiritual geniuses as a coach selects and trains DAVIS CUP TENNIS PLAYERS, or OLYMPIC TEAM ATHLETES. He came to bring victorious living within the reach of every humble, teachable human being.

So when your road seems steep and sharp, and your burden heavy, you need not take refuge in day-dreams or make-believe. Take refuge in the truth—in the cloud of witnesses that have proved "that GOD helping, every man can find the triumphant way." When you are tempted to say "This is too much—I just can't take it."—turn your thoughts to that great host of ordinary people, who, GOD helping them, have been able to take it. As the harassed driver approaches an extremely narrow pass on a tortuous road in the Rocky Mountains, he is confronted by the reassuring sign, "Oh yes you can! Millions have done it!"

The Rector will dedicate a beautiful Book of Common Prayer and Church Hymnal this Sunday for the use of the clergy of the Church in the conduct of public worship. These lovely memorials have been presented by Miss Katharine Kennedy, in memory of her mother, BLANCHE VIRGINIA HERSHEY KENNEDY. We thank GOD for all that was pure and true, beautiful and good, in the life commemorated by these memorial books; and for the hope we have, through CHRIST, that she has entered into life eternal.

EDNA H. MEYERS

The Parish was saddened on October 26th when GOD in His infinite wisdom called from her life to the life of higher service EDNA H. MEYERS. Her passing causes a great loss to the Church she loved so devotedly. President of our Altar Guild, she brought to her work a personal consecration and a skill in needlework and a knowledge of the Church that not only added to the richness of our vestments and Altar linens but also served as an inspiration to her associates in the Guild in the conduct of their valued services to the sanctuary. May she "go from strength to strength, in the life of perfect service."

U. T. O. FALL INGATHERING 1953

Sunday, November 1st, will be St. Stephen's Fall Ingathering for the UNITED THANK OFFERING.

The Women of St. Stephen's Church have always been most active and generous in their support of the U. T. O. Last Spring, for example, there were 74 contributors for a total of $258.99; a splendid response, you will agree.

This Fall Ingathering gives us Women another opportunity to show our "united thanks" to Almighty GOD for His great and many blessings.

Excerpts from "THE CITY OF GOD", by H. Alexander Matthews. This Cantata, written in commemoration of the Quadricentennial of the Protestant Reformation, 1917, was officially approved by the Joint Lutheran Committee as a feature of the Celebration. It was first performed in the Academy of Music, October 1917.

PART I, FOUNDATION (In place of Te Deum)

Chorus: Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised, in the city of our God, in the mountain of His holiness. Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth, is Mount Zion; the city of the great King. Walk about Zion; go round about her: tell the towers thereof. Mark well her bulwarks, consider her palaces; that ye may tell it to the generation following. As we have heard, so have we seen, in the city of the Lord of hosts; God will establish it for ever.

PART II. DECAY (In place of Benedictus)

Soprano Solo and Chorus: Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness; have mercy upon me and hear my prayer. For they have perverted Thy way; they have forgotten the Lord their God. Their kings, their princes and their priests have despised His word, and trusted in oppression. The wise among them have gloried in their wisdom; the mighty man has gloried in his might, and the rich man in his riches. Darkness hath covered the earth, and gross darkness the people. If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy. Chorus: Hear me when I call; have mercy upon me and hear my prayer. O God, lift up Thine hand; of whom may we seek for succor but of Thee, O Lord? Our fathers trusted in Thee, and Thou didst deliver them. They cried unto Thee, and were delivered. They trusted in Thee, and were not confounded. Arise, O Lord, and help us: and redeem us for Thy mercy's sake. Let not our enemies triumph over us.

PART III. THANKSGIVING (Before Sermon, in place of Anthem)

Soprano Solo: Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her. The Lord doth build up Jerusalem, He healeth those that are broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds. Glorious things of Thee are spoken, Zion, City of God. Thou shalt call thy walls salvation, and thy gates praise. O Lord, let there be peace in Thy strength, and abundance in Thy towers. Peace be within Thy walls, and prosperity within Thy palaces. Let Thy priests be clothed with righteousness; and let Thy saints shout for joy. Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

The U. T. O. ingathering will be held on Sunday morning, November 1st, at 11:00 o'clock. All St. Stephen's women are asked to empty the contents of their Blue Boxes into the Blue Envelope and sign their name on the back of the envelope. Mrs. Wilson Leithead, St. Stephen's Custodian, asks that you bring your envelopes to the service on November 1st. If for any reason it will be impossible for you to attend this service, you are asked to mark it plainly and place it on the Alms Basin this Sunday and mail it to the Church Office.

1517—REFORMATION DAY—1953

On October 31, 1517, a young Augustinian monk named Martin Luther posted on the doors of the Castle Church in Wittenburg, Germany, ninety-five theses or arguments against the sale of indulgences by the Church of his day. This incident touched off a long train of events which produced the historic movement known as the Reformation. The anniversary of this event is observed among the Protestant Churches as a time of emphasis upon the fundamental Christian conviction. October 25th will be observed throughout the world as "Reformation Sunday." The Rector's sermon is "The Spiritual Roots of the Reformation."

WHERE DOES IT GO?—$2,500,000 Offering Helps Church in Many Fields

Nearly two and a half million dollars was contributed by the women of the Episcopal Church through their United Thank Offering for missionary work. After careful study of a tentative budget prepared by the National Executive Board, women delegates of the Triennial Meeting adopted the budget of the Offering for the next three years. In addition to capital grants for projects and outstanding needs among missions, a large part of the budget supports scholarships for training missionaries, salaries and pensions for women missionaries, and equipment necessary for their work. The budget also allows for a substantial emergency fund for missions.

A DEDICATION FOR A HOME

Recently the Rector was invited to dedicate the new home of one of our parishioners. For those of you who have moved recently, or are about to move; yes, and for all the rest of us, too, we print this beautiful poem by John Oxenham:

"O Thou Whose Gracious Presence blest the home in Bethany,
This shelter from the world's unrest,
This home made ready for its Guest, we dedicate to Thee.
We build an altar here, and pray that Thou wilt show Thy Face.
Dear Lord, if Thou wilt come to stay,
This home we consecrate today will be a holy place."

Just read that poem again carefully, will you? Did you get what he said in the second line? He called your home—new or old—"This shelter from the world's unrest." It can be just that. But not if there is continual arguing and fighting and selfishness there! The home where CHRIST is, is just that, a "shelter from the world's unrest." You see, that is what the author implies in the very next line. "This home made ready for its Guest." Father and Mother, did you ever clean your house for this "Guest"? You wouldn't use your Hoover electric, the dust pan and broom, the pail and mop. You would use character and love and joy and the fruits of the Spirit to clean house for "Him". How about your "Fall cleaning", mothers; have you done it yet?

"We build an altar here"—de we? Where's yours? Where in your house is your altar? It may be there, though no one but you can see it. The altar is the place where you meet GOD. There ought to be a BIBLE there and I think a Hymn Book and Forward-Day-by-Day."—if Thou wilt come to stay, this home—will be a holy place." Let us strive to make our homes the places GOD wants them to be. "Come, LORD JESUS, be our GUEST."

EPISCOPAL CHURCH RANKS SEVENTH IN MEMBERSHIP

The Episcopal Church ranks seventh in membership in American churches, according to the 1953 Yearbook of American Churches, published Sept. 14 by the National Council of Churches.

Total church membership in the United States has reached an all-time high of 92,277,129, with an unprecedented gain of 4.1% over last year. Church membership gains for the year were two and a half times population gains and twice as high as gains recorded for any previous year.

Members of the Protestant Episcopal Church within the continental United States totaled 2,482,887. When the Protestant churches were grouped into families, the Episcopal Church ranked fifth, following the Baptists, Methodists, Lutheran, and Presbyterian.

Now that the daylight fills the sky,
We lift our hearts to GOD on high,
That he, in all we do or say,
Would keep us free from harm today:

2

Would guard our hearts and tongues from strife;
From anger's din would hide our life;
From all ill sights would turn our eyes;
Would close our ears from vanities:

3

Would keep our inmost conscience pure;
Our souls from folly would secure;
Would bid us check the pride of sense
With due and holy abstinence.

4

So we, when the new day is gone,
And night in turn is drawing on,
With conscience by the world unstained
Shall paise his Name for victory gained.

5

All laud to GOD the Father be;
All praise, eternal Son, to thee;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To GOD the holy Paraclete. AMEN.

WELCOME TO DOCTORS

Realizing the cloce connection between medicine and faith and need of fuller co-operation between doctors and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating ST. LUKE'S DAY. ST. LUKE was both Apostle and Physician.

"This is the great error of our day in the treatment of the human body that physicians separate the soul from the body."—Plato

"Sometimes it is more important to know what kind of a fellah has a germ than what kind of a germ has a fellah."—Shattuck

" 'Tis not the body but the man is ill."—Dr. Weir Mitchell

FINDING GOD

Back, several centuries ago, when surgery was in its infancy, a certain man found himself upon the operating table, with two surgeons discussing what they planned to do with his insides. He was down and out, a very bedraggled human being. So the two decided that this was a grand chance for an experiment, a brand new operation they had never tried before—"We can venture it on this vile critter, and he can't do anything about it." They were talking in Latin, so that "the bum" would not understand them, but he was actually a well educated man who had come upon bad days. So he understood their Latin easily, and startled the surgeons by protesting in Latin "Call thou not vile one for whom Christ died."

In other words, you are important to GOD; and you cannot honestly say, "It makes no difference to anyone what I do with myself." Actually, there is only one of you in all the universe, in all the centuries, and GOD is counting on you for certain acts of love and understanding and witness, which no one else in all time, can do. You are unique, and greatly loved by GOD Himself. When you say your prayers, and have your quiet time each day, GOD will give you special tasks to do, to care for certain needs. And He hasn't anyone else to take your place. What you do, you do for the MASTER Himself—"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren ye have done it unto Me."

In Edwin Markham's poem, THE SHOES OF HAPPINESS, Conrad the Cobbler dreams that the MASTER will be coming as his Guest. So vivid was the dream that Conrad woke early in the morning and swept and cleaned the shop until it shone. He went and bought food and planned that when the MASTER came he would wash His feet, and kiss His hands where the cruel nails had been, and then they would break bread together. So he sat waiting with a fast beating heart, and when he heard the door open, he started eagerly to meet his Guest; but it was just a beggar. Conrad gave him a pair of shoes and sent him on his way. Presently an old woman came, bent with years, and a heavy burden of faggots on her back; and he made her sit down and rest; and he gave her some of the food. Conrad waited all day, and finally, late in the afternoon a child came in, weeping bitterly. She had strayed from home and was lost. He dried her tears and took her back to her mother. But the MASTER never came, and Conrad sobbed in his little shop with a heavy heart:

"Then soft in the silence a Voice he heard,
Lift up your heart, for I have kept My word.
Three times I came to your friendly door;
Three times My shadow was on your floor.
"I was the beggar with the bruised feet;
I was the woman ye gave to eat;
I was the homeless child in the street."

Keep "Inasmuch" ringing in your heart; and all you do today and every day, will be full of meaning!

DARE TO TRUST GOD

People forget that there is no time limit to GOD'S treasures. People forget that there is no limit to His love. People forget that He wants to share His treasures with them; and that He does with every soul that dares to trust Him. Marguerita Harmon Bro tells this story:

"In Northern India, in the terrific famine of the '80's, Miss Anna was in charge of an orphanage. After she had been ordered to admit no more children, and to prepare to close the place, the Bishop and the Mission treasurer went to see the final closing. They found the orphanage crowded to the doors, with children sleeping in the courtyard and the halls. When they demanded to see the stores of provisions, Miss Anna reluctantly took them to her own bedroom. She passed to a door which they supposed to be a clothes closet.

"I admit that I was ordered to close the orphanage," Miss Anna said to them stiffly; "But the children came. I admit that at the moment our rice bins are empty, and we have neither vegetables nor fuel. But up to this very morning, we have been able to serve two small meals a day to each child. I do not think we shall fail now. Gentlemen"—and she threw open the door—"the storeroom!" They saw an empty closet with a small closet looking toward the hills; on the floor a cushion for kneeling; on the wall a picture of JESUS in the Garden. And, as they looked speechless into the courtyard below, they saw the outer gate swing open, and a line of coolies filed in, carrying great baskets of grain, vegetables, and supplies of all sorts.

"Later, they learned that the servant who slept in Miss Anna's room to care for the babies had reported Miss Anna's nights of prayer to the wife of an illustrious Braham official; and the great lady had sent quantities of provisions to the orphanage, so that she might lay up merit for herself. The Bishop then left the orphanage to Miss Anna's direction, and it became one of the best girls' schools in India."

Dare to trust GOD! Dare to ask Him to do great things for you. Especially, dare to ask Him to do great things through you! Dare to ask Him to use you for His purposes. Many of the most breathtaking answers to prayer—like Miss Anna's—come when someone prays lovingly, self-forgetfully, for the urgent needs of others. GOD seems to be able best to answer such caring prayers.

If, day by day, you will learn to trust GOD with childlike certainty, then you will find the joy of wonderfully answered prayers. Then you can say with the Author of Romans, "O, the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of GOD!" You will be able to pass on to others with Deuteronomy: "The Lord will open for you His rich treasury . . ."

Dare to trust GOD. He waits to share His riches with you.

We acknowledge with much appreciation the Church Bulletin Subscriptions of the Rev. Christopher Lord, Mrs. Clara Keenan, Mrs. Carrie H. Buehler, and two Anonymous contributors.

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE TO THIS CHART?

The accompanying chart was designed to portray the average attendance at each of the three Sunday services in ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH over the past thirteen years, as well as the attendance at each of the week-day services. The Sunday services run through the fifty-two weeks of the year. The Tuesday noon-day services run around thirty-six weeks. The Wednesday services average around forty-four weeks, and the Thursday Healing Services average forty-one weeks. The Friday Communion services run through the entire year. The special services and the Lenten Noon-Day Services are not included in the chart. The data, computed from the parish records, are summarized in the following table:

AVERAGE ATTENDANCE AT

Year	9:00 A. M.	11:00 A. M.	7:30 P. M.	Tues.	Wed.	Thur.	Friday
1940	3.3	140.8			76.5		5
1941	3	146.8			49.5		20.2
1942	9.4	140			62.8	40.5	24.6
1943	13	172.7			54	35	41
1944	14	217.7			29	64.7	31
1945	13	169			43	41	25.6
1946	17.6	185.8	71.3		40.6	43.2	25.5
1947	16.6	206.6	81.7		40	53.5	28
1948	16.8	189.2	85.3	36.5	34.8	77	30
1949	18.8	196.8	68.8	54	49	116.3	30
1950	22.3	218	67	44	41.5	173.5	32.7
1951	22.9	212	63	49	46	183	32.7
1952	22	190	59	36.8	38	191.6	28

Several trends seem to be apparent in the chart. Average attendance at the 9:00 A. M. services has steadily increased until now it is slightly over seven times the 1940 figure. On the other hand, the 7:30 P. M. service figures show a steady dropping off from the 1946 figure when these services were inaugurated. The figures of the 11:00 A. M. service show a healthy increase from the 1940 level. The Tuesday services show an increase in numbers for the first four years, but now indicate a decrease. The Wednesday services show a steady dropping off to about half the value of thirteen years ago, while the Thursday services have shown a steady increase during the ten years and now outstrip our 11:00 o'clock Sunday services. The Friday service has steadily increased until now it is six times the 1940 figure.

Wallace Beard will conduct a Spiritual Healing Mission in ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH on Monday and Tuesday, October 19 and 20 at 10:00 A. M. and 8:00 P. M. daily. Bring a friend.

The Rector will give an address to the members of the Junior Class at the PHILADELPHIA DIVINITY SCHOOL on Tuesday, October 13 at 9:00 A. M.

ST. LUKE'S DAY

St. Luke's Day is celebrated each year on October 18th. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician. We will have a special service commemorating St. Luke on Sunday, October 18 at 11:00 A. M. Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith and need of fuller cooperation between doctors and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we are extending an invitation to the doctors in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in this annual service. Cards are available in the vestibule for those who wish to mail an invitation to nurses or physicians.

CONVERTS

THE CHRISTIAN HERALD Magazine is gathering information relative to an article for publication in regard to converts from the Roman Catholic Church to Protestantism.

The Roman Catholic Church has reported 1,071,897 converts from Protestantism in the last ten years; a total of 117,803 for last year; and an annual total in excess of 100,000 for seven consecutive years.

It is unfortunate that the impression has been given that inter-faith conversions are a one-way street.

During the past ten years seventeen Roman Catholics have been confirmed in ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH. The Rector does no active proselyting, he simply takes them as they come. Across the country, thousands of Protestant ministers have received Roman Catholics into membership of their Protestant Churches. These ministers have not publicized it—nor made it an issue. The suspicion of many of us is that the predominance of traffic is in fact on the Catholic-to-Protestant direction. Whether or not this is the case, a simple survey CHRISTIAN HERALD is making will uncover the facts.

We get some very fine letters from people who have found our services helpful. Here is one from a Captain, U. S. Marine Corps:

"This is just a few short lines to inform you that I have been transferred from Philadelphia Naval Base and wish to be removed from your mailing list. I wish to commend you on your church services and say that they were a tremendous comfort to both my wife and I during our stay in Philadelphia. It is indeed fine to know where one may go in a strange city and share so many things with others in the common cause . . . again let me express my sincere gratitude to you and your church for your guidance and fellowship while in Philadelphia. (Signed) Roland Mason."

I AM YOUR HYMN BOOK

Hold me in your hand on Sunday when you prepare yourself to sing. Let your heart listen to what has been enshrined within me. Hear the songs and the triumphant words of the martyrs, dying for a faith the same as yours. Give heed to the prayers of the mystics who have found the Heart of GOD. Follow the missionaries of the Cross on their way to the ends of the earth. Listen to the mighty minds of the Church as they think out with you the deep mysteries of the plan and purpose of the Eternal GOD. Sit at the feet of the musicians and poets, of the saints and the redeemed in all lands and times, of those who have seen from afar the coming of the Kingdom of our LORD in the hearts of men. All these I have treasured . . . for you. I am your hymn book.

WORKERS' COMMUNION

Sunday, October 4th, is World Wide Communion Sunday. We combine our annual "Workers' Communion" with this great day, and invite our young people, and all the active members of our parish organizations. We ask them to begin the Fall Season at the Altar, to present their activities, and to ask GOD'S blessing upon all we do.

HOW ABOUT MOVING YOUR CHURCH MEMBERSHIP?

"I don't know how long I'll be here." None of us do, We don't even know how long we will be alive. The very uncertainty of time makes it all the more imperative that you move your membership and go to work now. Make your life count for CHRIST while you are here.

"I don't know anyone here." You never will, unless you give yourself a chance. But if you will "join up," you will find that the people here love the Lord and will love you just as much as the folk in the church you left behind.

"I want to visit around and see which church I like best." It's all right to visit to find out where you have the greatest opportunity to serve. But be careful lest you degenerate into a religious tramp, drifting as a visitor from church to church, receiving constantly but serving nowhere.

"I want to wait until I get my letter." Don't do it . . . sometimes letters are slow coming. You could be at work in our church all the time it takes to secure the letter. If "for every idle word that men shall speak they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment." What about the idle days and weeks?" Join here and let us send for your letter.

"I hate to leave the old home church." You have already left it. All they have there is your name on the roll! They don't want your name without you. Your church membership left behind is evidence to the loved ones back home that you are not serving the Lord here.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the annual appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH. Last year, the Benevolent Society sent 3017 pieces of sewing to Jefferson, Presbyterian, and Episcopal Hospitals and the Visiting Nurses Society. The material for these garments is supplied by the hospitals and the Benevolent Society pays women to sew these articles in their homes. Five hundred dollars will just about cover estimated expenses for the season 1953-54. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing, and also the hospitals who desperately need the articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convience.

"MARTIN LUTHER", the significant new motion picture of the REFORMATION and the birth of Prostestantism comes to the Stanton Theatre, 16th and Market Sts., beginning September 25th. This is a magnificent film. The Rector has a number of coupons which will entitle a person to a 25% discount on the regular price of ticket admission.

Miss Elizabeth F. Gallagher was married to Mr. Fred S. Anderson, a student in the University of Pennsylvania Medical School, in the Chapel of the BURD SCHOOL by the Rector on Friday, September 18th.

———: :———

The Rev. Mr. Attenborough will conduct Chapel Services with instruction at the BURD SCHOOL every Tuesday at 5:45 P. M. He will also conduct an instruction class on the Holy Communion every third Sunday in the transcept of the Church at 8:30 A. M. The older BURD SCHOOL girls will attend these classes, and all others of the congregation are invited to join this worthwhile class. The instruction lasts a half hour and the 9:00 A. M. celebration of Holy Communion follows.

CHEER UP

If power has gone out of our lives, it is probably because praise has gone out of our prayers. Some who read this will say: "Oh, but what have I to praise GOD for? The circumstances of my life make me more conscious of my disappointments and my griefs than of my blessings." The psalmist has a perfect remedy against depression: "Ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord, lift up your hands in the sanctuary, and praise the Lord." Lift up your hands in the dark sanctuary of your soul when you are tempted to wonder what is the good of it all, and praise the Lord. Praise Him specially when blessings are not being felt: that is a sure way of overcoming depression.

"My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in GOD my Saviour." When did your spirit last do that? The "recipe" for joy—a selfless delight in GOD—is:

1. Stop hugging your griefs.
2. Don't wait until you see results before praising GOD.
3. Associate yourself with your blessings, and with JESUS, Himself—not with your weaknesses and misfortunes.
4. Get busy doing things for GOD.
5. Make love your aim.

Joy is a fruit of the spirit, not of the gratified emotions. The real sign that GOD, the Giver of Life, has been received into your soul is, not more energy, but more joy. Prayer, if it is a true prayer, must be joyous, for if there is no joy, it is a sign that the intention of the heart is focused on the need, instead of the answer, regardless of how high the thoughts may be.

We of today wait to have our prayers answered, then if we are satisfied, we praise the Lord. But to JESUS and the Hebrews, prayer itself was an attitude of song and dance and praise. In the Old Testament the words which are translated "to pray" or "prayer" differ in meaning.

Prayer with the meaning of "bowing down" appears only three times. Prayer as a "petition" or an "entreaty" or as "asking" appears only five times. Prayer as "meditation" is used only twice. But the other word which is translated seventy-six times as prayer, means "to sing and dance in praise of the Lord for the things He is giving you."

Go into each day's work with the joyous expectancy that something good is coming to you. Say to yourself, I know this perfect condition is on the way to me. I'm opening every channel for it. I'm doing everything I can to bring it about. I'm expecting it, for I know that LIFE will not fail me.

Your prayers will then be so joyously expectant that you cannot help but sing and dance and praise GOD that they are being fulfilled. And they will be!

7:30 P. M.—HOLY COMMUNION & SERMON BY THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D. MR. J. STOKES LEEDS AT THE ORGAN

BLANCHE V. KENNEDY

We have all been saddened by the death of Mrs. Blanche Virginia Kennedy, a faithful member of ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH most of her life, and our sympathy goes out to her daughter, Katharine Kennedy. We all recall the bright twinkle in her eyes and her warm friendliness. She was a charming, cultured, spiritual, interesting Philadelphian. May she "go from strength to strength, in the life of perfect service."

———: :———

We congratulate Roy Miller who has matriculated in the CHURCH FARM SCHOOL, Glen Loch.

———: :———

Our hearty "Thank You" to Mrs. F. M. Smyth, Mrs. Benjamin Reath and Mrs. Claire Card, R.N., for their Church Bulletin Subscriptions.

DAILY PRAYER

1. Our Prayers Should Be Disciplined
   Christians do not just pray when they feel like it. They have set times morning and evening daily, with which they allow nothing to interfere.
2. Our Prayer Should Be Informed.
   Prayer becomes difficult and distasteful when we have nothing to pray about. The supreme aid to informed praying is the BIBLE. Always read the BIBLE before you pray. Always pray after you read the BIBLE. Prayer is our response to GOD'S Word, and BIBLICAL PRAYER is sure to be answered. (John 15:7).
3. Our Prayer Should Be Balanced.
   It should include:
   (a). The Look Up (at GOD) which is Worship. Praise Him for what He is in Himself, as revealed in the passage you have read.
   (b). The Look In (at yourself) which is confession. Bring into consciousness your sins, both as revealed in the passage and as committed during the day. Then humbly confess them, definitely forsake them, and confidently claim your FATHER'S forgiveness. (I John 1:9).
   (c), The Look Back (to the past) which is Thanksgiving. Do not be content with generalities. Bring to remembrance His mercies to you, and give Him thanks for each. (Psalm 103:1-2).
   (d). The Look On (to the future) which is Petition. Commit the coming day to Him, in detail. Seek His guidance for your future, and be surrendered as you do so. Pray for His power to forsake the sins and to practice the virtues apparent in the passage you have read.
   (e). The Look Round (at your friends) which is Intercession. Do not be vague regarding either those for whom you pray or what you pray for. Keep a list of those for whom you ought to pray. Then be definite. Pray for the healing of the sick. Pray for the conversion of the unconverted and for the increasing sanctification of those who are true Christians. Pray for them the Christian graces which are outlined in the passage and which you have already prayed for yourself.

MATILDA MAULSBY

The passing of Matilda Maulsby in her eighty-eighth year causes a great loss to the church she loved so devotedly. Although a shut-in during the past decade, Miss Maulsby kept her interest in the church she loved. Always quick to respond to any and all financial appeals of ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH as well as a generous contributor to the operating expenses of the church, she was interested and concerned in the spiritual, educational, musical and material causes and advancement of the Episcopal Church. The interest from her generous bequest of ten thousand dollars to ST. STEPHEN'S will perpetuate her life-long deeds of helpful service to the cause she loved.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

———: :———

The Will of Matilda Maulsby, a valued member of ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH for many years, contains the following bequest:

"To the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church in the City of Philadelphia, now located at 19 South 10th Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Trustees of the Endowment Fund of St. Stephen's Church, the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00)."

———: :———

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH?

The Christian Church needs you and every other person in an active relationship today. She is being asked what she can contribute toward the creation of a better world. Obviously, the strength of her answer depends in part upon the number of persons who belong to her fellowship. The Church needs you and you need the Church. The Rector of this Church will be glad to confer with you about the meaning of membership here and invites your inquiry.

7:30 P. M.—EVENING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D. MR. J. STOKES LEEDS AT THE ORGAN

THE BASIS OF RESENTMENT: AN UNSURRENDERED SELF

(Acts 7:59-60; Matthew 14:3-12)

While the central and fundamental motive for forgiving injuries against us is that GOD forgives us, and we therefore copy GOD as His children nevertheless, there are minor motives and techniques which we can use with dealing with resentments.

1. Remmber that the basis of most resentments is a touchy, unsurrendered self. The fact that we have been able to hold the resentment shows that there is a self that is over-sensitive because unsurrendered to the Will of GOD. When surrendered to the Will of GOD, we throw off resentments as a healthy skin throws off disease germs. Unless there is inner disease or abrasion of the skin, the disease germ can get no foothold. So, when resentments have gained a footing, it shows that there is a raw, sensitive sense underneath that has become a culture soil for the rooting and growth of resentments. Suspect a self that can grow resentments—it is probably diseased with self-centeredness.

2. Raise the question with yourself as to whether your resentments aren't rooted in imaginary slights, insults and wrongs. A self-centered person can imagine a group is talking about him when that group is talking about everything else but; he can read into actions and statements meanings never intended. He can go around with a suspicious, looking-for-slights attitude, and will find imaginary ones aplenty. A sensitive person can, by his very mental attitude, throw people around him into unnatural, closed in attitudes which he interprets as intentional hurts and slights; but all the time he is oblivious of the fact that his own attitudes of self-centered sensitiveness created the very things in others against which he re-acts.

Remember that "when you go around with a chip on your shoulder, the chip is probably from the block above."

O GOD, my Father, help me to see myself clearly, for I defend myself; I gather self-defensive arguments around myself as a magnet. Let me then lay this resentment—gathering self at Thy feet for cleansing and release. In Jesus' Name. AMEN.

DISSOLVE RESENTMENTS THROUGH PRAYER & APPRECIATION

(Romans 12:17-21; Matthew 5:38-48)

3. Every time the name of the person against whom you are tempted to hold a resentment is presented to your mind, breath a prayer for him. Meet every invading resentment with a barrage of prayers. It was said of John Forman, a saintly missionary, that all of his thoughts of friends turned to prayer. Make the rule in your mind that invariably all your thoughts of your enemies, real or imaginary, are to become prayers for them. Make the mind understand that and admit no exceptions. Soon you will have no enemies, for you will have no enmity. Prayer dissolves enmity as certain bacteria dissolve filth and turn it into clear water.

4. Say everything good you can about the person or persons with whom you are unfriendly. The probabilities are there are many fine things in them. Fasten your mind on those fine points instead of on the resentment points. The outcome will be, in all probability that the good will so over-power the bad that you will find yourself thinking more and more of the overwhelming good and less and less of the insignificant bad.

5. When you do have to speak of the faults of a person, don't say "I don't like that person." Rather, say, "I don't like certain things in that person, and they are these." After stating those faults, proceed to say, "But I do like these things in him." And name them. End on the positive note. Negative thinking makes a negative person; positive thinking makes a positive person. If I have mentioned mothers-in-law in a derrogatory way in many of my instances, let me end my thought of them as mothers-in-love, as one couple does.

6. Remembering that fastening upon other people's faults is usually a defense mechanism. By doing so you are probably attempting to lift yourself up by pushing them down. It won't succeed. In mentally picking flaws in others you create a worse flaw in yourself. You become a sensitive, critical person—like the thing you habitually center upon.

O GOD, my Father, I would be rid of all that corrodes my soul. I know that my attitudes of resentment and criticism eat like acid into my moral nature. I would ask Thee to deliver me completely from the last tiny root of resentment. Root it out. AMEN.

The Rector will officially open the new year for the BURD SCHOOL with a service of Holy Communion in the School Chapel on Monday, September 14th.

"TOO BUSY"

"The Lord had a job for me but I had so much to do,
I said, 'You get somebody else—or wait till I get through.'
I don't know how the Lord came out, but He seemed to get along;
But I felt kind of sneaking lie, 'cause I knew I'd done Him wrong.
One day I needed the Lord, needed Him right away—
And He never answered me at all, but I could hear Him say,
In my accusing heart, 'Mister, I've got too much to do.
You get somebody else—or wait till I get through.'
Now, when the Lord has a job for me, I never try to shirk;
I drop whatever I have on hand and do the Lord's good work.
And my affairs can run along or wait till I get through.
For nobody else can do the work that GOD'S marked out for you."

THE OPENING DATE FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL WILL BE SEPT. 20th

THE BLESSING OF THE TOOLS

In an effort to redeem Labor Day Sunday from the usual depressing experience it usually is, the Rector has planned a special service called "The Blessing of The Tools." Usually this is a week-end when church activity is at the lowest ebb. It is summer's last fling, and no one who can get away from home is to be found in church. But Labor Day Sunday is a most important occasion and has real Christian meaning. To bring it home to everyone we are asking every worshipper to bring some one tool or implement that will be symbolic of his or her daily work. A carpenter could bring a hammer or a rule, a mechanic could bring a wrench, housewives could bring some little thing from the kitchen that would be representative of their work. Everything from a dish towel to a portable typewriter will be placed on the Altar for the "Blessing."

LITANY OF BLESSING OF THE TOOLS

Minister: For all our daily blessings, for health, for homes and food for ourselves and those we love,
People: Our GOD, we thank Thee.
Minister: For strength of body, and clearness of mind, for work to do and strength to do it,
People: Our GOD, we thank Thee.
Minister: For freedom to choose the work for which we are fitted, and in which we find a challenge to do our best,
People: Our GOD, we thank Thee.
Minister: For these tools which Thou hast placed in our hands, for the quality of their material and workmanship,
People: Our GOD, we thank Thee.
Minister: For their reminder of the sacramental nature of our work; for their constant demand that we do our best; for the joy of work well done,
People: Our GOD, we thank Thee.
Minister: Mindful of our place in that great fellowship of those who labor, joining hands with our fellow laborers throughout the world,
People: FATHER, we pray Thy blessing.
Minister: For those who labor in difficult places; for those who must do monotonous and uninteresting work,
People: FATHER, we pray Thy blessing.
Minister: Upon all organizations and agencies working for the betterment of the lot and the enriching of the lives of those who labor,
People: FATHER, we pray Thy blessing.
Minister: For a better understanding between employer and employee, and for a deepening realization of the divine nature of daily labor,
People: FATHER, we pray Thy blessing.
Minister: Upon our own tools, whatever they may be, whether exalted or humble, as we are joined by them in the true democracy of labor, and knowing that all service is holy in Thy sight,
People: FATHER, we pray Thy blessing.

PRAYER (unison)

So, our FATHER, as we stand here in Thy House humbly conscious of Thy presence, holding up before Thee these tools of our trade, proud of the fact that we have been called to be fellow-workers with Thee, in the service of mankind and of the world, we pray Thy blessing upon these, our tools, that as we carry them out into the world, and use them in the days to come in earning our daily bread, we may go with Thy benediction. May each passing day of labor be a sacrament in Thy sight. We pray in the name of Him Who Himself labored with the tools of His trade in the carpenter's shop in Nazareth, Thy Son, Jesus CHRIST our Lord. AMEN.

The Rector has been appointed one of the Sub-Wardens of THE ORDER OF ST. LUKE THE PHYSICIAN and Associate Editor of the healing magazine, "SHARING."

LAST ISSUE

This is the last issue of ST. STEPHEN'S BULLETIN until September. It is not published in July and August. In a way, that is too bad because we sometimes need a reminder that the Church goes on with its worship during the summer; but I am sure that nobody needs to be reminded in these uncertain times, and that there will be good congregations throughout the summer.

The Rector will preach on Sundays during July and the first Sunday in August. The Rector's Assistant, the Rev. Mr. Attenborough, will preach on Wednesdays during July and August and on Sunday mornings August 9th, 16th, 23rd and 30th. The Rev. Mr. Meckling will celebrate the Holy Communion on Fridays during July and August, and on Sundays at 9:00 A.M. on August 9th, 16th, 23rd and 30th.

The Sunday Evening Services will continue during the summer at the usual hour of seven-thirty.

The entire winter schedule of worship services continue throughout the summer with the exception of the Tuesday Noon-Day Services and the Thursday Services of Spiritual Healing.

The Rector's booklet "HEALING, The Gift of God" was generously quoted in the July issue of the magazine "SHARING".

LIFE IS WHAT WE MAKE IT

The traveler made his way up along the lonely road from Jericho to Jerusalem—a steep climb it was, for there is no water from Jericho to the Mount of Olives. It threads its way up among blistered limestone rocks and curious red streaks appear from time to time, so that it is called THE ASCENT OF BLOOD. There was another reason for that name—there were wild Arabs in those hills, and as had happened many times before, a band of them pounced upon our wayfarer, beat him unconscious, robbed him, and left him lying by the roadside. Those brigands made that road a bloody way. But, later in the day, another traveler came slowly up the mountainside, found the unfortunate victim of the robbers, applied first-aid; and took him to the nearest inn to be cared for until he was strong enough to continue his journey. The second traveler, the good Samaritan, made the road a way of kindness.

In that simple tale, Jesus told a great truth. In the long run, life is what we make it. If we are forever full of quarrelsomeness, we shall wade through quarrels wherever we go. If we are warm-hearted, we shall discover warm hearts wherever we happen to be. Most human beings are enough of a mixture of kindness and selfishness, so that we can bring out either their best or their worst! As the American poet, Edwin Markham, put it:

"Once where a prophet in the palm shade basked,
The traveler chanced at noon to rest his mules.
"What sort of people may they be," he asked,
"In this proud city on the plain o'erspread?"
"Well friend, what sort of people whence you came?"
"What sort?" the packman scowled, "Why, knaves and fools!"
"You will find the people here the same," the wise man said.

"Another stranger in the dusk grew near,
And pausing, cried, "What sort of people here,
In yon bright city whence the towers rise?"
"What sort of people whence you came?"
The pilgrim smiled, "Good, true and wise."
"You will find the people here the same," the wise man said.

KNOWING WHAT TO DO

"It's knowing what to do with things that counts." GOD intends that we use our Christian faith to change us into better neighbors, more understanding parents, more refreshing friends, more radiant disciples. We live among people for whom life has grown dull and flat. The Spirit of GOD, working within us, can restore their zest and relish of life.

Of course, most people know (in their heads) what to do with familiar things. Every sane man knows, in his mind, that the first and most important use for his money is to care for his family. But, deep down, his difficulty is that he has never decided what to do with his life, himself! He has not even stopped to think what his life is for, for what purpose it was created; what it was designed to do. So he slips into the easy rut of acting as if his life belonged to himself. He does what he wants to. Because he does not really know what his life was created for, he spends his pay check at the race track window and his family goes short on food.

Shortly before He died, Jesus told a story which leaves no doubt as to what your life was designed for. A nobleman, looking ahead to a trip abroad, entrusted sums of money to three servants he relied on and bade them to invest it in his interest. Upon his return, he called them in to give an accounting for it was his money that had been entrusted to them. Jesus makes it clear that your first task in life is to be a servant of GOD, and that your life is entrusted to you to be used in GOD'S interest.

The big problem for every man and woman is to face that challenge and to come to terms with GOD. When one stops running feverishly away from the problem and quiets down, it is not too difficult to see that each one of us, and all our possessions belong to GOD. It does not take a mighty brain to understand that the only worthwhile career is to become a good and faithful servant of GOD. It does take a brain and wrestling of soul to be willing to accept the job. It takes Bible reading. It takes humble study and adoration of Jesus CHRIST. You have to open your eyes to see that the loveliest and most useful people you have ever known were the good and faithful servants of GOD; that the greatest statesmen and leaders have been, like our Abraham Lincoln of the 19th century, and that earlier Abraham of 30 centuries before—servants of GOD.

When the Light suddenly breaks into your heart, and you decide to go to work as GOD'S servant, that is called "conversion." In every day language "conversion" means simply that you have turned away from the stupid, unhappy serving of yourself to the glorious and radiant serving of GOD. That is what He gave you your life for. "It's knowing what to do with things that counts."

Mr. Charles K. Hay has become Principal of the AUDENRIED JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL. Congratulations!

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH FLAG

Our Church's flag was designed by Pierre la Rose, heraldry expert of Harvard University, and was adopted by General Convention at Kansas City in 1940. The red cross on a white field is the oldest Christian symbol. The white represents the purity of the Christian religion; the red cross the sacrifice of our Lord and of the martyrs, past and present; the madonna blue of the upper lefthand corner symbolizes the human nature of our Lord received from His Mother. The three colors of red, white and blue are our national colors and also those of England, showing the English origin of our church. The nine cross-crosslets commemorate the original nine dioceses in America when the church was organized after the Revolution in 1789. These crosses are in shape of a St. Andrew's Cross to indicate that our first Bishop, Samuel Seabury of Connecticut, was consecrated in Scotland at Aberdeen Cathedral, November 14, 1784. Our Communion service is based on the Scottish liturgy more than the English.

RULES FOR WORSHIPPING IN—

An Episcopal Church are simple.

1. Kneel when praying.
2. Stand when singing hymns and chants. (Praise) or reciting the Creed.
3. Sit while being instructed, e. g. during the sermon and the reading of Scripture, etc.

Follow these few simple rules and you will find worshipping in an Episcopal Church more helpful, inspiring and reverent than any other.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR WORSHIP

1. Thou shalt not come to service late, nor for the Blessing refuse to wait.
2. When speaks the organ's soft refrain, thy noisy tongue thou shalt restrain.
3. But when the hymns are sounded out, thou shalt lift up thy voice and shout.
4. And when the anthem thou shalt hear, thy sticky throat thou shalt not clear.
5. The endmost seat thou shalt leave free, for more must share the pew with thee.
6. The offering plate thou shalt not fear, but give thine uttermost with cheer.
7. Thou shalt the minister give heed, nor blame him when thou art disagreed.
8. Unto thy neighbor thou shalt bend, and, if a stranger, make a friend.
9. Thou shalt in every way be kind, Compassionate, and of tender mind.
10. And so, by all thy spirit's grace, thou shalt show GOD within this place.

RELY ON GOD

The Twenty-third Psalm is most often thought of as a Song of Comfort. It also opens our eyes to the urgent business of "growing up," tracing the three stages of becoming a mature servant of GOD.

The first three verses picture the little child who expects his father to provide for all his needs. It is natural that my ten-year old daughter should look trustingly to her father and be confident of three meals a day, a warm bed at night, and understanding help in troubled moments. Small Jean can say confidently, "I shall not want." In our own spiritual lives we all begin by expecting our Divine FATHER to take care of everything; and we enjoy the comfort of leaning entirely on him. Some unfortunate people never outgrow this childish stage. As we begin growing up in character, we find that we must walk our own feet and choose our way. We find delight in this, as Jean does. We must learn to shoulder heavy loads and find strength to carry them. We are no longer content to be carried by strong arms; but we find that we do not have enough wisdom and courage to go the way alone. We turn back to GOD, that He may help us to carry the loads we have chosen. In verses four and five, the Psalmist pictures the man who has learned to walk the path he has chosen, in the strength of GOD'S help. Many people stop their growing at this point.

In the last verse, we come to the "grown-up life". Here I begin to see that I am not very wise—and too often choose the wrong load, burdening myself with tasks GOD would never have given me. So I take a large step forward—"I will dwell in the House of the LORD forever." I will become one of His servants and accept His bidding with joy. No longer hampered with countless duties and pleasures of my own choosing, I can settle into the peace of a servant of GOD; and carry out in strength the simple tasks He chooses for me.

So, the preacher who relies on GOD rather than himself says, "Thou art the Proclamation, and I am the trumpet at whose voice the people came." The physician who relies on GOD says, "I dress the wounds; GOD heals them." The musician says, "I am the instrument, GOD makes the music." The mother says, "I bear the child, GOD gave him life." And the nation says, "Not unto us, O Lord; not unto us, but unto Thy Name give the glory." That is the first thing it means to rely on GOD—to recognize that all our strength comes untimately from Him and not ourselves, and to behave accordingly.

The Mothers' Meeting under the leadership of Mrs. Trautner has contributed $100.00 to the Organ Fund. The Mothers have given a total of $550.00 to the Organ Fund.

The Church Flag has received a well deserved cleaning.

A beautiful green Burse and Veil were dedicated on Sunday, June 7, to the honor and glory of GOD and in loving memory of Adaline W. Gillou.

THE PREACHER

What does a preacher do, my son? Well, his time is his own, which means he is always on the job. You see, the man who is cursed with punching a time-clock in the morning is also blessed with the privilege of punching one out in the evening. The minister's work is never done. The preacher teaches, though he must solicit his own classes. He heals, though without pills or knife. He is sometimes a lawyer, often a social worker, something of an editor, a bit of a philosopher, an entertainer, a lecturer, a salesman, a handy decorative piece at public functions, a local representative for every relief movement in the land. He is supposed to be a scholar as well, and he goes to see people continually, and he rejoices with exceeding joy when in the midst of this an opportunity arises to be of genuine personal, spiritual help. He visits the sick, marries people, buries the dead, labors to console those who sorrow, and to admonish those who sin, and labors to stay sweet when chided for not calling enough. He plans programs, appoints committees, and does their work for them, spends considerable time in keeping people out of each other's hair and more time in trying to scramble out himself with the least possible loss to his dignity and self-respect. Oh yes—and he must find several or more hours to prepare a sermon and preach it on Sunday both to the "faithful" and to those who don't happen to have any other engagement for the Sunday holiday. Then on Monday he smiles when some jovial chip roars, "What a job—one hour of work a week and no worries"???

The Annual BURD SCHOOL DAY will be Saturday, June 20th at 2:30 P. M. Everyone is welcome to attend. The School is at 4226 Baltimore Avenue.

This Summer . . . the Church Will Be Here. Will You?
If not, your filling of your envelopes in advance . . . will be greatly appreciated.

ARABIAN PROVERB

He who knows not, and knows not that he knows not, is a fool; shun him.
He who knows not, and knows that he knows not, is untaught; teach him.
He who knows, and knows not that he knows, is asleep; wake him.
He who knows, and knows that he knows, is wise; follow him.

"If you have to criticize someone, sandwich it between slices of praise and commendation."

"The man who trims himself to suit everybody will soon whittle himself away."

CORONATION CEREMONY IS SIGNIFICANT RELIGIOUS SERVICE

The coming Coronation of the Queen of England will be essentially a religious service. The spiritual significance of a Coronation is apparent in the text of the ceremony as it appears in the English Book of Common Prayer. In it the anointing with holy oil rather than the crowning is emphasized as the central act of the ceremony. It is then that the sovereign is "anointed, Blessed, and consecrated Queen over the peoples whom the Lord GOD hath given her to rule and govern." Each symbolic rite, ending with the act of Coronation itself, is sacramental in nature. Before the Queen is "lifted up" into her throne, she is presented with the Bible, "the most valuable thing that this world affords." Finally the Queen will make her communion, thus acknowledging her dependence upon GOD and her loyalty to Him in carrying out her duties as Sovereign over the British Commonwealth.

Miss Yeakle's Bible Class which meets regularly on Sundays at 4:00 P. M. in the Community House will close for the Summer on Sunday, May 31st.

FOUNDATIONS FOR PEACE

One of the most terrific problems we face is the problem of hate. On this Memorial Day, we recall the brutality of war, we reach out for light on this terrific problem. Our men who have been at the fighting fronts have seen terrible things done to their comrades—starvation and torture; and it is only natural that they should hate the men who have done these barbarous things. Even we, who are only civilians at home, and who have only seen newspaper articles and pictures of Word War II and the present war, have been deeply stirred with hatred. It is natural that we should be. But we cannot stop there. There are many things that are natural and which are not right! To allow hate to breed unchecked in our hearts means that we are willing to have the seeds of other wars take root in us. To enjoy hating others means for any who call themselves Christians direct disobediance to the Master Who plainly commanded them to love all men, even their enemies. What can we do about this hatred? What can we do as followers of Jesus, to build foundations for the peace of the world?

Out in the Pacific, toward the end of World War II, an American warship took some wounded Japanese prisoners aboard. A rather startling thing happened—one of the American medical officers took charge of the care of these wounded Japs, and much to the indignation of his fellow officers, took the same conscientious care of them as he did of our own wounded. In the ward room, other officers criticized him angrily; some said it would be better to leave the Japs below decks without any care, and let them die as they had let our men die. Finally, one of them "sounded off" with scorching words of scorn over his decent treatment of the wounded enemy prisoners. The doctor waited until the hot-mouthed officer stopped, and asked, "Are you through?" "Yes." Did you go to Mass last Sunday?" "Yes." "Did you go to Confession before-hand?" "Yes." "And you belong to a Christian church?" "Yes." "Then," said the doctor, with a ring of steel in his voice, "you are a d - - - - hypocrite." The ward room grew tense, as the doctor continued; "Let me tell you what I mean. When we went to war we said a lot about Four Freedoms, and playing the game according to the rules of decency. I propose that we keep on playing the game according to those rules, even if the other fellow doesn't. What is more—there are some good Japs down there, among the bad ones, and when the Japanese war-lords have been liquidated, and little Ishi goes back to Japan, he is going to say, 'Those war-lords of ours lied to us. They told us that all Americans are beasts. But when I was wounded, I was treated decently aboard an American warship, and given such good care that I got well.' I'm going right on taking good care of little Ishi—and the rest. Has anyone anything to say?" And the ward room was silent. If Christianity can be preached as convincingly by a naval officer, on board ship, in the midst of a war, then civilians like ourselves should be able to obey the command of our Master, to love our enemies for the sake of the peace of the world.

A beautiful red Burse and Veil were dedicated on Sunday, May 24th, to the honor and glory of GOD and in loving memory of Sarah Harrison Mulville.

7:30 P. M.—HOLY COMMUNION & SERMON BY THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING, B.D.
MR. J. STOKES LEEDS AT THE ORGAN

STRENGTH TO CARRY THE LOAD

There is an old, old legend of a time when the people of the earth made loud lament. Every man felt that he had been given a heavier load to bear than his neighbor, and that, if he could trade troubles with his fellow-man, life would be easier. The clamor went on so long that the gods decided that they must do something about it. It was arranged that, on a given day, each man should bring his burden to a certain place, and there shed it forever. But it was also arranged that each man must choose for himself one of the lighter loads he had so enviously watched others carry.

What a day that was! People came and threw down their old burdens, the aches and pains, problems, responsibilities, besetting sins. And then they pawed over the vast heap, each person weighing one and then another, only to find it heavier and more uncomfortable than his old load. In the end, it is said, each man took back his own familiar burden! The simple fact is that any burden is heavy if it is carried the wrong way. And any load, however light, becomes intolerable if you keep thinking about its heft. JESUS said, "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy-laden, and I will refresh you. Take My yoke upon you and learn of Me . . . and ye shall find rest unto your souls." Is your load too heavy? Then you had better sit at the MASTER'S feet and have a lesson from Him. Perhaps you are one of those people whose hearts are troubled about past mistakes, and are also anxious about dangers ahead. Then you surely are carrying too much, for GOD never meant any man to carry the past and the future on his back, in addition to the tasks of today. JESUS reminds you, "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." Perhaps you are one of the over-sensitive people who will not let anyone help them—but part of being a Christian is to welcome help as well as to give it. Perhaps you have been one of those independent people who pride themselves on being masters of their fate without any help from Almighty GOD. If so, you have discovered that this does not work out well.

You can straighten your back, and carry your load strongly, if you really want to. "Take My yoke upon you," the MASTER bids. In other words, find out from Me what I want you to carry, those responsibilities I have chosen for you to bear. Then carry those, and forget all the needless burdens you have added yourself. Carry GOD'S load for love of Him and of other people. Carry it, trusting His wisdom in giving you that particular load. You will, like all honest men before you, make the surprising discovery that GOD always gives sufficient strength to carry the load He has picked for you. It is as simple as that, "For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light."

The Rector addressed the Methodist Clergy of the Camden District on May 11th on the subject of the REVISED STANDARD VERSION of the BIBLE.

LARGEST BUDGET EVER ADOPTED IN HISTORY OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The National Council of the Episcopal Church adopted for the year 1953 the largest budget in the history of the Church, totaling over five and a half million dollars ($5,546,566). The increased budget includes an enlarged program of domestic and overseas missionary work, particularly in Japan, as well as an extension of church work in American colleges and universities.

THOUGHTS FOR THE CRITIC

A critic is like a short-tailed fox; when he sees a fine tail he wants to clip it. Before kicking him who stumbles, examine the burden he has to carry. What this world needs is more people to tell us "how to get on" and fewer to inform us "where to get off." Said the sieve to the needle: "There is a hole in you." Are you certain that you are as good as the one you criticize? Be a harsh critic of your own doings, but generous to the deeds of others. When criticizing another, put a little more sugar in your words than salt. Only love can make a criticism constructive. I have never yet met a critical person who was happy. Have you?

The best praying is seldom done hurriedly.

If you confer a benefit, never remember it. If you receive one, never forget it.

A WOMAN'S PRAYER

The following was written by Miss Mary Stewart of Washington, D. C., a good many years ago, and has been adopted by many Business and Professional Women's Organizations all over the United States, as their official prayer:

"Keep us, O GOD, from pettiness, let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.

"Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking.

"May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face—without self-pity, and without prejudice.

"May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous.

"Let us take time for all things; make us to grow calm, serene, and gentle.

"Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid.

"Grant us to realize it is the little things that create differences, that in the big things of life we are as one.

"And may we strive to touch and know the great, common woman's heart of us all, and, O Lord, let us forget not TO BE KIND."

RIDING OUT THE STORMS

In a guest room where I slept once, I found this "Fisherman's Prayer"—
"Lord, suffer me to catch a fish so big that even I,
In telling of it afterwards shall have no need to lie."

That humorous prayer is a good example of the silly way we often pray. We ask GOD to fix the outside of life—to make the fish bigger, to make our friends more thoughtful, to take away our troubles. But GOD does not say "yes" to such prayers. What GOD waits for is our prayer that He will make us more truthful, more loving, more self-forgetful.

The great Phillips Brooks once wrote, "Oh, do not pray for easy lives. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your tasks." GOD does say "yes" to the person who prays for help in overcoming self-pity, in conquering an unworthy habit. He makes our strength equal to the heaviest loads we carry for others. He makes our courage equal to the worst nightmares that stand in our way. He always stands by the willing bearer of burdens. The person who, though scared, still meets life breast-forward. In the strange, tumultuous day in which we live, there is no use in asking Him to ease up our lives; but it is well worthwhile to ask Him to stiffen our nerve, to enlarge our hearts.

He does not always give us the answer which our prayer expects. As Colonel Fitzhughes said, "He asked for strength that he might achieve; he was made weak that he might obey. He asked for health that he might do greater things; he was given infirmity that he might do better things; he asked for riches that he might be happy; he was given poverty that he might be wise. He asked for power that he might have praise of men; he was given weakness that he might feel the need of GOD. He has received nothing that he asked for, all that he hoped for . . . his prayer is answered.

I once knew a Portguese sea captain who was at his best in a storm. He had learned that any landlubber could go fair weather sailing on a soft June day, but that it took a real man to ride out a heavy northeaster. I remember his describing a typhoon in the Gulf of Mexico. He said, "Them that knew how to pray, prayed. Them that didn't, learned." The prayer of a true Christian, like the prayer of a sea captain is for wisdom and strength to meet the worst gales that life can fling at us—not for calm seas, but to be able to ride out the storms and to bear our loved ones through them to more peaceful days.

ASCENSION DAY, one of the five great Festival Days of the Church year, is on Thursday, May 14th. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 12:15 P. M.

"OLD AGE CAN BE THE CROWN"

Many sincere Christian people who have no fear of physical death shudder at the thought of old age, fear seizes hold of them and shadows their daily living, making them fearful, irritable and jumpy.

Stanley Jones tells of a woman, a very intelligent and accomplished person, who became beset with many fears. She feared that some one was trying to steal her important papers; that some one was forever attempting to snatch her purse; in fact, it almost seemed that some one was trying to steal everything she had. Down underneath all those fears was one central fear—the fear that life was snatching away her youth, and with it, her powers. She was fighting old age. And to fight old age is to give old age a fighting attention, and what gets your attention gets you. So old age got her—sent her into the jitters.

But old Job had more common sense. He gave his attention not to physical powers which diminished with the years, but to the GOD of all ages; lifting up his face to that sustaining GOD. Thus Job could promise aging people, "thine age shall be clearer than the noon-day . . . and thou shalt be secure, because there is hope. Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid."

I well remember a woman of ninety-one who had a very serious heart attack a couple of years ago. We all gathered at her bedside to bid her a loving farewell. She was ready and eager to leave her worn-out body and to go on to her Maker. She and I talked about it together. But GOD had other plans. She recovered and lived another year. Again and again in that year the vivid autumn colors of her life flamed out before our eyes—as she met the many and grievous vexations of old age with gallant courage. Her son had her portrait painted that year—her strong and steadfast face a shining witness to Faith's triumph over all old age can do!

Stanley Jones sums it up: "The thing to do is neither to fear old age, nor to fight it, but to accept it and use it. When I say "use it," I mean take hold of it and make something beautiful out of it. That's what Nature does—she does not die drably; she puts on her most gorgeous robes in autumn, her yellow and her flaming reds, and dies gloriously. She goes down with her gay banners waving. So can we face approaching age with serenity and gayety, and make the last years the most beautiful. Old age can be the crown.

U. T. O. SPRING INGATHERING

The Semi-Annual Ingathering of THE UNITED THANK OFFERING which occurs each spring and fall, will take place on Mother's Day, May 10th, at the eleven o'clock service. Women of ST. STEPHEN'S are asked to complete their offering by that date, enclose it in special envelopes furnished for this purpose, and bring it to church at that time. Mrs. Ruth Leithead, our Parish Custodian, will present the parish offering at the DIOCESAN U. T. O. SERVICE at THE HOLY APOSTLES AND MEDIATOR on May 18th. We hope that all women of the parish will want to share in this missionary work of the Church both at home and abroad.

PERSONAL PRAYERS

Lord, lay some soul upon my heart,
And love that soul through me;
And may I nobly do my part,
To win that soul for Thee. Amen

O Lord Jesus CHRIST, ever deepen the spiritual life of ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH through the example, consecration and leadership of its members, beginning with me.
Amen.

The Rector willl speak at a FORUM FOR CLERGY AND LAY PEOPLE in the Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Penna., held under the auspices of THE WYOMING VALLEY COUNCIL OF CHURCHES on Monday evening, May 4th.

The Rector will conduct a QUIET MORNING RETREAT for the women of ST. MARY'S CHURCH, Ardmore, Wednesday, May 6th.

MAGAZINES? PUZZLES? GAMES? TOYS? VIEW-MASTER SLIDES?

All will be cheerfully delivered by Miss Maude Hess to our city hospitals. We are dependent upon your thoughtfulness for those who must do their spring traveling indoors. "Hitherto hath the LORD helped us....."

LET THE BURDEN GO

I came across the story a while ago of a woman carrying a suitcase. You could see that she was in a hurry. Finally she broke into a run, and just caught the car. A man on board had been watching her. When she got aboard he continued to watch her, because she still held that suitcase. You could see she was clutching it almost fiercely. Finally, the man touched her and said, "You can put the suitcase down now, lady; the car will carry it for you."

Isn't this a moving picture of what so often happens in our lives? In our anxiety, in our hurry and worry, we keep on carrying things which might so much better have been laid down. We keep carrying loads which GOD could so well carry for us. We believe that "underneath are the everlasting arms," but we so often forget.

Now is the time to let go some of this extra baggage that tires us so. Drop it. You'll be surprised and, sometimes, I fear, a bit chagrined, to find out how things will go along just the same, even though you don't hold them up.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 6:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the sixty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. EVERY GATE A PEARL

"And the twelve gates were twelve pearls," Dr. Edward T. Sullivan once took for his text; "every gate a pearl! Every entrance into the heavenly life is through a pearl! What is a pearl? A wound is made in a shell. A grain of sand, perhaps, gets imbedded in the wound. And all the resources of repair are rushed to the place where the breach has been made. When the breach has been closed, and the process of repair is complete, a pearl is found closing the wound. The break calls forth unsuspected resources of the shell and a beauty appears that is not otherwise brought out. A pearl is a healed wound! No wound, no pearl!"

He went on to show how, in our lives, misfortune can be transformed into blessing, hurts changed into pearls of precious value. Even a grievous handicap may become a life-saving power. He tells a story of Nydia, the blind flower girl in the LAST DAYS OF POMPEII. She had not become bitter about her blindness; nor had she sulked nor sat at home. She had gone about the business of living; and had earned her livelihood as best she could. Then came the awful day of the eruption of Vesuvius, with "The doomed city as dark as midnight beneath a thick pall of smoke and falling ashes; the terror-stricken inhabitants rush blindly to and fro, and lose themselves in the awful blackness." But Nydia does not get lost; because of her cross of blindness, she had learned to find her way by touch and hearing, and now she could go straight to rescue the life of the one she loves best. By learning to walk swiftly and surely in the dark, she had made of her handicap a treasure and a GOD-send in the dark hour.

"Every gate a pearl!" Every misfortune, every failure, every loss, may be transformed. GOD has the power to transform all "misfortunes" into GOD-sends. So Jesus transformed the Cross from a criminal's badge of shame into the Sign of the Love of GOD. Often it takes a wound to transform a denying Peter into a fearless rock of a man. "No wound, no pearl!"—out of life's buffetings may come our richest rewards.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME—ADVANCE YOUR CLOCK ONE HOUR!

So—don't be late to Church this Sunday, April 26th.

HAVE YOU EVER PRAYED THIS PRAYER?

"Almighty GOD, as I lie here on a sofa this lovely Sunday morning, surrounded by the Sunday paper and half listening to one of the preachers over the radio, it has just come to me that I have lied to Thee and to myself. I said I did not feel well enough to go to Church. That was not true. It was not ambitious enough. I would have gone to my office had it been Monday morning. I would have played golf had it been Wednesday afternoon. I would have been able to go to a picture show if it had been Friday night. But it is Sunday morning. Sunday illness covers a multitude of sins. GOD, have mercy on me. I have lied to Thee and to myself. I was not ill. I am lazy and indifferent. AMEN.

EXCITING NEWS

Major General Charles I. Carpenter, USAF, Chief of Air Force Chaplains, has written the following letter to the Rector:

Dear Dr. Price:

The Office, Chief of Air Force Chaplains, plans to conduct a Protestant Preaching Mission tour of Air Force bases in France and Germany during the period 1 March to 21 April 1954. The mission would require approximately fifty-three (53) days and would reach most of the United States Air Force bases in Europe. For these missions, which are normally conducted for a five (5) day period at each base, we invite representative civilian clergymen for the purpose of affording our personnel dynamic preaching, to help them acquire or to deepen their religious faith, and to strengthen the ties between the Air Force community and the civilian denominations.

We believe you to be especially qualified to accomplish the objectives of our mission program, and invite you to be one of four civilian members of a Protestant Mission Team to conduct missions for the United States Air Forces in Europe from 1 March to 21 April 1954. Your church would make a significant contribution to this project through your ministry. I trust that you and the officials of the church will prayerfully consider this matter, and that we may anticipate your favorable reply.

(Signed) Sincerely,
Charles I. Carpenter

At the Vestry Meeting of March 24th, the Rector was given permission to accept this unusual opportunity.

The BURD SCHOOL WOMAN'S COMMITTEE is having a Rummage Sale in the BURD SCHOOL, 4226 Baltimore Avenue, on Saturday, April 25th. Contributions of usable articles for the sale will be greatly appreciated. They can be sent to the Church or the BURD SCHOOL on or before April 23rd.

O GOD on high! Now that the daylight fills the sky,
We lift our hearts to GOD on high, That he in all we do or say,
Would keep us free from harm today.
Would guard our hearts and tongues from strife,
From anger's din would hide our life,
From all ill sights would turn our eyes, would close our ears from vanities,
Would keep our inmost conscience pure, our souls from folly would secure,
Would bid us check the pride ofsense with due and holy abstinence.
GOD on high! So we when this new day is gone,
And night in turn is drawing on, with conscience by the world unstained
Shall praise His Name for victory gained.
All laud to GOD the Father be. All praise, eternal Son to Thee;
All glory as is ever meet, to GOD the holy Paraclete. AMEN.

GIVE YOURSELF

"Let your light so shine before men—" What do those words bring to your mind? I suspect that your hand almost reaches for your purse, as you are reminded of the offering in church! Yet those words of Jesus, used so often as an offertory sentence, were not meant by Him to refer to the personal act of giving money for GOD'S work. They were meant to picture the constant giving of ourselves to GOD —people touched by the power of His resurrection—so that His light, His love, which shine through us may make others see GOD.

After all, our own saints—whom we remember, especially at Eastertide—were simply people through whom GOD had a chance to shine. Over and over again they forgot what they might get out of life for themselves, and simply gave themselves to take care of the needs of others around them. Thy kept giving themselves away to people who needed them; kept giving themselves to GOD'S purposes. They let their light shine—though, of course, it was His light, not theirs that shone so gloriously through their lives.

Late one Sunday afternoon, a traveler came to a little village in the Alps, just as dusk was falling. He asked what time the evening service would be held in the little village church, and found that it would be in about an hour. So he went in to sit quietly and pray. As he looked about him, he was surprised to find that there were no lamps or lighting fixtures at all; and dusk was coming on fast. Soon the people began to arrive—and each worshipper carried a candlestick that held a lighted candle—and the congregation kept coming in until the church was ablaze with light. He learned that the man who had given that church to the village had also provided the candlesticks and candles for all the people; and had asked the village to promise that there would be no other light in the church.

That wise giver wanted the people to remember, vividly, that they came to church to give out their praise and gratitude, to give the joy of their presence in GOD'S house, and not chiefly to get something for themselves. It helped them to remember Jesus' bidding—that the greatest opportunity in life is to let a bit of the splendor of GOD catch fire in our hearts, and burn for others in the honest love we have for them, and for GOD our Father.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

The Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House immediately following the morning service, Sunday, April 19th. There will be held the Annual Election to the VESTRY. THE HARD DECISION

What was it that so agonized Jesus in the Garden that He prayed, "My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me!" Certainly it was not death that He dreaded, for He was always willing to trust Himself in His Father's hands. Nor was it, I think that He wanted more time for the training of His disciples, for He had taught them enough. What was it then, that so tore Him with agony that the sweat poured down His face?

Stanley Jones has, I believe, put his finger on the answer. "Was it not that He, Who came to save men from sin, was causing men to sin by going on and making them take sides, knowing that they would decide against Him?" He knew that His enemies were gathering; that they would come for Him. There would be a trial. His judges would have to make up their minds for or against Him; and the crowd would have to decide where they stood, for Christ or against Him. Jesus knew those flinty-hearted leaders, so jealous of Him; and He knew their cleverness in swaying the people. They would call Him an unpatriotic agitator who upset the people from the old ways. And He knew that the simple, muddleheaded people could be easily fooled. What He was pleading for in the Garden was that this awful moment—when the people would have to decide for, or against, GOD—would be put off! But His Father bade Him go forward. For men must learn to see which is the devil's way, and which is GOD's, so Jesus bowed His head to the Father's Will, and went forward. His heart was heaviest, I think, when he heard the hoarse cry break from the crowd "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!" GOD help them, they had decided.

Still Pilate's question calls for a decision: "What then shall I do unto Jesus Who is called the Christ?" And this time it is not some faraway people who must answer it. It is YOU who must speak up. Do you prefer to ease along in the old, comfortable grooves of the world's ways—grasping a little pleasure today, dodging a GOD-given burden tomorrow, serving yourself with true enthusiasm? If so, then you had best try to get rid of Him Who makes people-in-selfish-ruts uncomfortable; and shout: "Crucify Him!" But, if you are asking His light on your decision, you may well see that the old ruts have only brought us into a world of chaos and conflict and nightmare. You may, in a flash of certainty understand at last that the only hope of mankind is to scramble out of the old ruts, and walk the great Highway of GOD, following Him Who loves you into GOD's peace.

The living Christ is again in agony this week—for He shrinks from compelling you to the awful choice. But there is no escape—decide you must! It is getting late. Will you cling to the old rut—or will you stand for the Christ?

THE PROTESTANT VS. THE CATHOLIC

One Sunday morning, a Roman Catholic, dressed in his best clothes, met a Protestant, dressed in his loafing clothes and carrying a Sunday paper under his arm. Said the Protestant: "Well, neighbor, I suppose you've done your religious duty for another week. But frankly, now, can you tell me what it was all about? Why don't you go to a Protestant church where they give it out in English?"

"Oh, I couldn't do that," replied the Catholic. "As a devout believer in the one true faith, I have promised never to enter a Protestant church. But let me ask you a question: If you believe that your church is better than mine, why don't you go to it? I can hear the church bell ringing right now!"

"Well, I . . . er . . . you see . . ."

"You belong to that church, don't you?"

"Yes, certainly, but that doesn't mean . . ."

"When you joined, you made some promises about attending church services, didn't you?"

"Well, I guess so, but . . ."

"Then," continued the Catholic, "I can see that you and I are alike in one way and different in another. We are alike because we both avoid Protestant churches. But we are different in our reasons—I have vowed to keep out, while you have vowed to go in!"

Our sincere "Thank You" to Mrs. Helen Street, Miss Margaret Tappen, Mrs. C. J. Guenther, and Mrs. Henry Groh for their 1953 Church Bulletin Subscriptions.

THE HOMELY TASKS

If we truly simplify our lives as followers of Jesus Christ, everything else falls into place and makes sense. Our minds are cleared of confusion, and our daily lives are given to tasks that GOD really wants done. The Christian who is honestly "centered down" on GOD'S business does not forget or over-look the homely tasks, the deep-down family ties of a man's life.

There is a peril that we may use the Kingdom of GOD as an excuse to escape GOD-given family chores which we do not enjoy doing. We say to ourselves, "I just don't have time to do the family washing today, with that Church Fair to get ready for." Or, "I'll have to put off that letter to mother, and work for the Community Fund." I remember a woman who greatly disliked her domestic chores; so she became an ardent church worker and bustled about being very important indeed, and letting her home go to rack and ruin. Because she used the church as an excuse for escaping GOD-given responsibility, she later damaged the church, just as she did her family!

Look at Jesus on the Cross. A lesser person might have looked down, his attention fixed solely on the enemies who sought to defeat his kingdom; and might never have seen his mother at all. But Jesus saw her. All through His ministry he had bidden them to put the Kingdom first, but never had He taught them to use it as an excuse to over-look or forget loved ones. In that dark hour, the greatness of His heart could see His mother and her need. She stood there, some fifty years old, not understanding why He was there on the Cross, or even what He had come on earth to do. But she was there, a true mother, seeing her Son through to the end of the road. Perhaps Jesus remembered the home in Nazareth as filled with the love and peace which makes heaven on earth—the beginning of GOD'S Kingdom! One thing is certain—in His last agony, He gave her into the care of His close friend, John, so that she might have a man to lean on in her old age. His Kingdom was so great that, until His last breath, it included His mother! Someone has written:

"When Jesus walked up to Calvary, I think His heart, remembering,
Turned back to little Nazareth, and every happy childhood thing.
Again He saw the village lights, and heard the happy sound of homeward feet:
Heard Mary call Him softly home, down through the darkening street.
Perhaps He longed for waving grass, for meadows high and still and sunny:
And stood a moment savoring wild grapes, and wild, sweet honey;
And dreamed of peace, of men serene, of happy homes, of warmth and food,

Bishop Armstrong will visit our parish on Sunday morning, April 19th, to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. The instruction class meets in the Rectors' Study, Sunday mornings at 10:00 A. M.

CHILDREN'S MISSIONARY OFFERING

Episcopal children receive Lenten Mite Boxes for their Easter missionary offering. Each year, the use of the Mite Box helps the children to understand the world work of the Church, and allows them obedience to CHRIST'S command to "go into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." The offering box is called a Mite Box. The name is taken from the 21st Chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke, in which Jesus says that the poor widow who gave the two mites to the Temple gave more than the rich man who heaped great gifts into the treasury, for she had given all that she had. It is in this spirit of sacrifice that the children are asked to contribute to the offering. Because of the comparatively small Sunday School due to our location, we look to the adults to help in this annual project. A special envelope is enclosed with this Bulletin. The Mites Boxes are to be returned by Easter Sunday. Here is your chance to be a child again!

The Rector will preach in TRINITY CATHEDRAL, Trenton, N. J., on Wednesday evening, March 25.

We extend our hearty greetings to the Very Rev. Chester B. Emerson, D.D., who is to be our Noon-Day Guest Preacher March 23-27.

We welcome as our Guest Preacher for Saturday, March 28, the Rev. Raymond S. Mitchell, Rector of ST. CYPRIAN'S CHURCH, Philadelphia.

We acknowledge with much appreciation the 1953 Church Bulletin Subscriptions of Mrs. Louise Haux, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Seltzer, Mrs. H. S. Rhoads, and Mrs. Grant S. Hanley.

DISAGREEMENTS

Someone has offered ten practical rules for dealing with those with whom we differ:

1. I will always seek to discover the best and strongest points in my brother's position.
2. I will give him credit for sincerity.
3. I will not listen to gossip and second-hand information.
4. I will avoid classifying him, and assuming that he has all the characteristics of the class to which he is supposed to belong.
5. I will emphasize our agreements.
6. When others criticize, I will try to bring out favorable points.
7. When there is misunderstanding, either I of him, or he of me, I will go to him direct, if possible, and straighten things out between us.
8. I will try to remember that GOD'S truth is too big for any one mind; no one man's opinion or judgment is infallible including mine.
9. I will never ridicule another's faith.
10. I will pray for those with whom I differ.

AT A CHURCH SERVICE

GOD bless all those whose membership is here:
Thy people, Lord, who love Thy House and Thee,
And may we find in Thy great Book at last,
Each name recorded for Eternity.
GOD bless the strangers gathered in our midst;
Lonely, perhaps, and far from home they need
The blessed comfort of their Father's House,
The proffered bread of life on which to feed.
GOD bless the one who here propounds Thy truths;
Be in his heart, speak through the words he speaks,
That every listening, eager one may find
The wisdom and the comfort that he seeks,
And when at last, the benediction is said,
May we go, strengthened for the days ahead.

THE SCHOOL OF SUFFERING

"Only few lucky ones escape suffering", Weatherhead points out, "and are they really lucky? When I was at school, I heard of boys, who for one reason or another, escaped school. How lucky I though them. But now I don't think they were lucky. For they had to learn later, when it was harder to learn, or else they suffered a permanent loss." Life is like that—ask some one about years of unforgettable suffering they had. Ask whether they wish they had never had that pain. Most people will immediately tell you that it was worthwhile to go through those hard years, which taught them so much, and drew them so much closer to the suffering GOD. On the other hand, take a look at those few "lucky" ones, who have had easy lives—mostly they are soft and flabby people, with little understanding or strength of character. They are not much use in the world, because they have missed out in the school of suffering.

Do not mistake me—I'm not suggesting that any one of us is going to greet suffering with a cheer. Even JESUS prayed in the Garden, "Oh my FATHER, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as THOU wilt." He did not desire to step into that dread experience of utter loneliness and trial; but He had the matchless courage to ask His FATHER if there was something which could be made out of it, something which could come from the Cross to bless mankind. And, because JESUS was willing to suffer for us, you and I look to the Cross as the mark of our worth—it is the sign that GOD Himself was willing to suffer for us. So, when you come to a fork in the road, and you have to choose between the painful way or the pleasant one, remember that you have the opportunity of following your MASTER'S leading. You need not be ashamed because you draw back, shuddering, from that dread path, for He did just that in Gethsemane. But, from your knowledge of His story, you have learned that a person can bless others most richly by being willing to suffer for them. So, if you have turned solely to GOD, you will find yourself saying, "Nevertheless, not as I will, but as THOU wilt." And then you will step forward with courage and confidence. And one day, a friend will look back over the years, and say to you, "You know, I began to wake up and really live, when you went through so much for me."

One of the most radiantly helpful lives I've ever known was Anna, who died in this city early in the winter after a quarter of a century of crippling arthritis. She had met her suffering under GOD, and out of that twisted, rigid little body came poetry that opened doors toward victory for all of her friends. In one poem written a few months before she died, she prayed,

"His pathway was a harder way than mine;
His loneliness was far greater than my own.
Oh, let me learn from CHRIST the better way,
To use the rocks with which my path is sown."

So, I do not pray that you will escape the school of suffering. I do pray, that, like Anna, you will go through it in the Companionship of the GOD who can transform your pain intojoy and victory for yourself, and for those about you!

The Rector will conduct spiritual healing services and preach in TRINITY CATHEDRAL, Pittsburgh, at the noon-day services from March 16-20. He will give an address to the Church Club of the Diocese on Monday evening; preach at ST. PETER'S CHURCH on Tuesday evening; ST. STEPHEN'S, Wilkinsburg, on Wednesday; ASCENSION CHURCH, Pittsburgh on Thursday evening.

One of our most popular Lenten Noon-Day preachers, Dean Moor of TRINITY CATHEDRAL, Pittsburgh, will be with us from March 16-20.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Albert M. Holloway, Rector of TRINITY CHURCH, Oxford, who will be the noon-day preacher on Saturday, March 21.

WHAT DOES CONFIRMATION MEAN?

The answer to that question is contained in the Confirmation Service itself, which consists of two parts. In the first, the candidates ratify and confirm on their own decision and responsibility the promises made for them or by them at their Baptism. Actually, this section of the service stems from the Protestant Reformation, and it distinguishes the Anglican and Lutheran forms from the Roman Catholic and Orthodox Confirmation rites. The second part of the service, which begins in the Prayer Book on page 297, continues the ancient and mediaeval pattern of the Confirmation Office, in which candidates are "confirmed" by GOD for the fulfillment of their promises, by the strengthening gifts of the Holy Spirit imparted to them by the Laying on of Hands by the Bishop. Confirmation is commonly spoken of as "the ordination of the laity" because in it a spiritual gift for ministry and witness to Christ is conveyed by the Laying on of Hands.

THE THREE CROSSES

We are beginning to look ahead to a dark hill called Calvary. It is well that we remember that there were three Crosses on that hill. There were three that suffered and died. To each there came the same pain, the same lonely and torturous dying, but each met his lonely hour in his own way, and their ways were very different.

The first thief had let himself be hardened and embittered by his terrible experience. According to the stern Roman justice, he was receiving "only the due rewards of his deeds"; but he never thought of that and shouted flaming words of cursing and rebellion. To the innocent MASTER dying beside him he cried "If you are the MESSIAH save yourself and us!" He was just thinking of his own skin. When men think thusly, suffering hardens them.

The second thief took his fate quite differently. He admitted the justice of his own punishment, but he had the grace to look with seeing eyes at the man dying beside him who was innocent. His heart and mind had room to think of another's pain, the injustice to JESUS, even in his own last hour. He rebuked his fellow-thief, "This man hath done nothing amiss." And to JESUS he said, "Lord, remember me when Thou comest into Thy Kingdom." Even as you and I, the penitent thief was still thinking of himself; yet in his agony, he gave thought to Him who hung there beside him; and caught a glimpse of His kindly love and majesty. When men suffer thus, their suffering softens and refines them.

Then, there was the central Cross, and there one saw the mighty suffering that redeems. JESUS was not bemoaning His fate; not denouncing His enemies; not hurling words of hot anger. He accepted His Cross, and from it, prayed for His enemies; reached out a saving hand to the penitent thief; gave His mother and John into each other's care; put Himself into the hands of His FATHER. He was there to show the Love of GOD to men; and He used the Cross for that great purpose.

Most of us have some sort of Cross, some kind of deep and inward suffering, and we are free—not to escape that Cross—but to make it into one kind or another. Will yours, through self-pity, become the Cross that hardens you and others; or will it be the Cross that softens and refines; or even, through the grace of GOD, the Cross that redeems? GOD leaves you free to make that choice!

THE ANTIDOTE TO PANIC

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee, because he trusteth in thee. (Isaiah 26:3)
In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength. (Isaiah 30:15)
GOD is my salvation; I will trust and not be afraid. (Isaiah 12:2)
Those who know GOD have stability. (Daniel 11:32—Moffatt)
Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in GOD, believe also in me. (St. John 14:1)
In nothing be anxious; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto GOD. And the peace of GOD, which passeth all understanding, shall guard your hearts and your thoughts in Christ Jesus. (Philippians 4:6-7—R.V.)

We read an article sometime ago entitled "You'd Better Be Panic Proof." It was a warning against panic in case of fire in public buildings. But people get panicky in many situations. They get panicky about life; about the troubles they have to meet, the burdens they have to carry, the work they have to do. Their "nerves" get the better of them, and they lose self-control. The few verses from the Bible quoted above are a sure antidote to panic. Read them again and again—commit them to memory, and you will find a strange but blessed confidence take possession of your soul.

A beautiful Chalice Veil and Burse for the LENTEN SEASON was dedicated to the Service of the Mysteries of the Sacred Altar of the Church last Sunday at the hour of the Holy Communion. This lovely addition to the many beautiful adornments of the Altar was given by Miss Edna H. Meyers, President of the Altar Guild, in memory of Miss Susan Thackara who gave 29 years of faithful and untiring service to St. Stephen's Altar Guild.

The Rector will preach at the Noon-Day Services and conduct a Healing Mission in CALVARY CHURCH, Memphis, Tenn., during the week of March 9-13.

BISHOP SCAIFE

Our Lenten Noon-Day preacher this week is the Rt. Rev. Lauriston L. Scaife, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Western New York. Bishop Scaife served as Rector of CALVARY CHURCH, Pittsburgh, between the years of 1945-48. He was consecrated Bishop of Western New York on May 13, 1948. He was educated at TRINITY COLLEGE (B.A. 1931, D.D. 1948); the University of Gottingen, Harvard University, the General Theological Seminary (S.T.B. 1938, S.T.D. 1948) and the RUSSIAN Theological Academy, Paris, (S.T.D. 1940). He is a Trustee of the Russian Theological Academy Fund and of St. Vladimir's Russian Orthodox Seminary. In the Summer of 1948, Bishop Scaife attended the Lambeth Conference, where he was a member of the Committee on Standards and Theological Education.

THE INSIDE OF THE CUP

We like to think of Jesus as the Comforter, and He was—but we forget that the true meaning of "Comforter" is "Strength-Giver". He was not at all interested in making life easy for men. Instead, He came to make men strong for life. Last week we found Him asking us, "What do ye more than these?" He expected our spirits to live as strenuously as our young men in the snows of Korea, or the raw cold of service on the Pacific. All true leaders of men have led their followers into tough campaigns to win Kingdoms. Jesus out-did them all by calling on His followers for a lifetime of strenuous sacrifice to win the Kingdom of GOD.

In Matthew's Gospel, we find Jesus facing the smug Pharisees with scorching words that laid open their unlovely souls. Speaking to a great crowd, he said directly at the Pharisees, "You take a great deal of pains to polish up the outside of your lives so that they will look clean to people; but, actually, you are like the graves in your cemeteries, neatly whitewashed on the outside, but full of corruption within." The Pharisees did not like those burning words because they knew that Jesus spoke the truth. Jesus went on, "Clean up the inside of your lives first. Cleanse your hearts."

Jesus spoke that same great truth over and over again. "The Kingdom of GOD is within you"—take pains that GOD rules your heart, your will, your inner life, from which all your thoughts and deeds flow. They are the wellspring of your life—get that clear and clean—and your sick souls will come strong and healthy with His strength.

When the French went down to Panama to dig the Great Canal, they took doctors to treat patients for fever; but the fever killed doctors and patients alike, and the French finally withdrew, defeated. They had been working on "the outside of the cup". When General Goettals went down to Panama with the Americans, he took engineers and great ditchers, and immense quantities of sewer pipes, and drained the foul marshes, and did away with the disease carrying mosquitoes; and thus defeated the fever at its source. So he built the Panama Canal by paying attention to the "inside of the cup"!

For us, this Lent can be a Panama Canal of the spirit. We can get at the source of our sickness of spirit, deep within us, praying GOD to help us clean out the swamps of our self-love, our self-centeredness. In the quietness of your room, pray GOD, "Create a clean heart in me, O GOD", and let Him wade into your inner life with you It will be strenuous, but, in the end if you persist with Him in cleaning out ugly self-love you will find that deep comfort which comes only from cleansing the wellsprings of our lives!

BISHOP LUDLOW

Our Lenten Noon-Day preacher this week is the Rt. Rev. Theodore Ludow, D.D., Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Newark. Bishop Ludlow did post-graduate work at Harvard University and in 1911 received Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Episcopal Theological School. From 1911 through 1916 he was in China as Professor of History and Poltical Science at Boone University, Wuchang; adviser to the Provisional Republican Government in Wuchang and on the Anwhei Famine Relief Staff. For two years he was on the Board of Missions of the Episcopal Church and during the First World War he was a welfare worker in the Chinese Labor Battalion, A. E. F., in France. After the war he was Rector of St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands, Mass., leaving there to become Dean of Grace Cathedral, Topeka, Kansas. In 1930, while Rector of the Church of the Holy Communion, South Orange, N. J., he was elected and consecrated Suffragan Bishop of Newark. He is the author of several books.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Melville B. Gurley, Rector of St. John's Church, Cynwyd, who will be our Lenten preacher on Saturday, March 7th.

CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION

Classes for instruction meet on Sunday mornings at 10:00 A. M. in the Rector's Study. It is not too late to join.

EACH ONE BRING ONE

This is your Rectors' recipe for improving church attendance. It is good to have a full church, and it is even better when we remember that a church is full when it is full of people. GOD loves people and He loves to see them in church. GOD loves you, and He loves to see you in church. Let every parishioner resolve to be in church at least on Sundays in LENT. "I was glad when they said unto me, we will go into the house of the Lord."

The Rector will conduct a Spiritual Healing Mission twice a day from Monday through Friday (March 2-6) in St. Georges Church, Bridgeport, Conn.

STRENGTHEN THAT HABIT

In Jesus' day, the religious leaders taught that people must be kind and generous to "their own". So it was most respectable to show generous friendship to one's friends; and one could respectably hate his enemies to his heart's content. But Jesus upset that comfortable teaching, just as he had upset the cheap teaching of a "bread kingdom". He pointed out that even heathen people were kind to their own, and asked, "What do ye more than these?"

The Cross has been called the "great plus sign"—the sign that Jesus was willing to do more for men than any other life had ever done. That sign was the key to his life, His teaching. He was forever bidding, "Go the second mile." "Do more than is expected of you; more than your plain duty." Look back into the years behind you, reader—it is the "extra" things that people did for you that you remember most—the altogether unexpected kindness, the deed so generous that it took your breath away. It is the people who "did more" who have blessed your life most richly. Some of you are in the habit of wearing a cross of silver or of gold. Many of us wear an invisible cross, marked on your foreheads at baptism. All of us should be carrying an onseen cross in our hearts, accepted when we choose mature membership in some branch of the Church of CHRIST. That cross is the great plus sign, friend—it means that you are one of those whom the world can expect to do "more than others."

Even in war times, in war-cursed places, there are men who continue to carry the cross; like a young doctor from the city in World War II, stationed at an evacuation hospital back of the lines in Germany. One day he overheard two German women talking anxiously together about a friend who was expecting a baby soon. For some reason they were most alarmed about her condition. He asked them to take him to the women, and half an hour later he was examing her. When he was finished, he could reassure her that all was well; and he told her to come to the American hospital when her hour came; and they would take care of her. She was very grateful, as you can guess, and so were her two friends. The next day, when the young doctor returned to his living quarters, he found that the two women had scrubbed and cleaned his rooms until they shone. He had done more than any enemy could expect of him. He had loved his enemies to their great surprise. As a result there were three more women in Germany who did not believe the Nazi propaganda that all Americans are cruel beasts. For Jesus' command for us to "do more" is not impractical idealism. Only by "doing more" can we bind the world together in peace. Strengthen that habit of "doing more"!

MR. J. STOKES LEEDS AT THE ORGAN

NOT BY BREAD ALONE

JESUS was very hungry. As He prayed and thought about the days ahead, His body ached for food. He knew that His task was to found the Kingdom of GOD on earth, but at the moment, bread may have seemed the most important thing in the world. Why not first get something to eat; and then think some more about the Kingdom? In a vision the devil seemed to say to Him, "Use your divine powers to turn some of the stones near you into bread. After all, bread comes first." Then there flashed into His mind an ancient word, "Man doth not live by bread alone; but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live." Bread is ever so important; it is necessary for life. But bread alone cannot give real life in all its glory. Only GOD can give that! That was JESUS' answer; and the devil quickly changed the subject.

The leaders of the Hebrew people had been talking of a kingdom of plenty and prosperity, "flowing with milk and honey." They put the things of bread first. It is an easy way to popularity, used by cheap leaders today as in every age.

But JESUS had not come to found another disappointing bread-kingdom. He had come to found the Kingdom of GOD, which is the kingdom where GOD comes first—before bread, before comfort, before everything else. Bread comes first with pigs—but the children of GOD were not meant to be pigs. JESUS taught, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of GOD and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." He knew that GOD has a way of caring for the needs of those who put Him first in their lives.

During the coming weeks of LENT, honest Christians will be examining their lives in GOD'S light. Many will discover that they have been putting the things of bread first—have been caring most about taking care of themselves and "getting ahead." The devil says to them, "Get that new home first, and there will be plenty of time left to think about the things of GOD afterwards." But if they will go forward prayerfully into LENT, they will see, in a flash, that the nicest new home cannot give them happiness unless GOD is in it. They must put GOD first.

LENT may well be your temptation in the wilderness. It may be a tough fight. It may mean a hard decision. But, if you face it with GOD, you will find victory. By putting Him first in all your plans, you will find that peace of heart which cannot come from bread alone, the peace of GOD which passeth all understanding.

An interesting Forum conducted by the Department of Christian Social Relations will be held at Christ Church Neighborhood House, 20 No. America Street on Monday, February 16th, at 4:30 P. M. The Forum will bring the problems into the open—show clearly the Church's position, and outline your responsibility.

THE REV. GUSTAV C. MECKLING
MR. J. STOKES LEEDS AT THE ORGAN

SUCH AS I HAVE

Often it happens that people ask something of us—and we do not have it. The lame man, begging alms at the gate of the Temple called Beautiful, asked Peter for money; and Peter did not have it.

Peter was thoughtful for a moment. He did not have what the man wanted. But still he began to ask himself, "What have I that could help this man? I can't do what he asks, but can I do something?" Swiftly GOD'S Spirit in Peter showed him that he had something far more precious than what the man had asked— not a coin or two to drop in a beggar's hand, but the power that would release him from begging at all! So he bade the man, "In the Name of Jesus of Nazareth, rise up and walk!" And the amazed man suddenly found himself walking on sound ankles; able to work and support himself.

So many people, when they cannot do what a person asks of them, shrug their shoulders sorrowfully, and do nothing. That is too easy a way out of the situation. For GOD has endowed every living person with precious gifts with which he can help others, if he is willing. Yours may not be five-talent gifts (and, again, they may be!), but, consecrated to aid those about you, they can bring great joy and comfort. Your bounden duty is to use the talents GOD gave you, with all your faithfulness and strength.

Once Dwight L. Moody was preaching to a great crowd. He was thinking more of his burning message than of the literary form of it. After the service, a fussy-minded man said to Mr. Moody, "You spoke with great eloquence tonight, but—I hope you will not mind my mentioning it—I noticed that you mispronounced four words, and made five mistakes in grammar." Mr. Moody smiled quietly, and replied, "I don't doubt it for a moment. My early education was both scanty and faulty. But I am using all the grammar I know in the service of CHRIST—how is it with you?" He was saying, in different words, "Such as I have, I give . . ."

BURD SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Ethel Van Winkle and Mrs. Mary Walters, Supervisors, have resigned because of ill health. Miss Gloria Keaton, a former Burd School girl, is now the Second Dormitory Supervisor. Mrs. Dorothy Hibbs is now supervising the Sewing Room. Aileen Wood, a Junior at Girls' High School, was elected Recording Secretary for the WORLD AFFAIRS COUNCIL.

CONFIRMATION CLASSES FOR INQUIRERS

When did the Episcopal Church come to our country? Did Henry VIII really found the Episcopal Church? What does the Church teach regarding "confession", "repentance", "forgiveness?" Where did the prayer book come from? How can we participate better in the services of the Church? These, and many other questions will be answered at the Confirmation Instruction Lectures for adults and young people, which are hold on Sunday mornings in the Rector's Study at 10:00 A. M.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

Thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy GOD led thee."
—Deut. 8:2

On Sunday, February 15th, we shall celebrate the One Hundred and Thirtieth Anniversary of the consecration of ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH. The Rector will preach the Anniversary Sermon at the 11:00 o'clock Service.

DEDICATION OF OUR NEW ORGAN

Tuesday, February 17th, at 8:00 P. M., we shall dedicate our new Organ with a very inspiring musical service. Mr. Robert Elmore will play the Organ and the combined choirs of ST. STEPHEN'S and HOLY TRINITY will sing the choral numbers under the direction of Dr. H. Alexander Matthews.

To insure a full Church for this inspiring and thrilling evening, you are urged to invite your friends and neighbors to join you.

THS STORMS OF LIFE

In the parable of two houses, Jesus tells of a terrific storm, much like the hurricanes in the Caribbean Sea. The MASTER spotlights two houses in a town—one of them stood firmly against the howling storm; the other went down in a crash of wreckage. And people said, "How sudden!" But Jesus points out that the fall of that house without foundations was not sudden at all. For long months and years, as the owner worked on it, he had been building for a fall. It was only the storm that was sudden—as it suddenly showed up the weakness of the house. In like manner, there was nothing surprising about the firmness of the other house. Jesus said that this man "digged deep, and laid the foundations on a rock." He had long been building for that judgment day. Week by week he had made sure that his house would stand in stormy days.

In our communities we see this truth acted out before our eyes. Some man or woman falls from a position of respect—cheats a customer, deserts a wife, robs a store; and people say, "How sudden!" Or another rises to prominence—rescues a drowning man, is made head of a business concern, makes a discovery in medicine; and superficial people say, "How sudden!" But all these people had been building, long and steadily, for their collapse or strength. Some built their daily habits of thought and conduct shabbily, carelessly, with no foundation of faith or discipline under them. Others built faithfully, disciplining themselves to see the right from the wrong, and doing it, to obey GOD'S Will, trusting Him for the outcome. Any one who knew their inmost lives could predict surely which would collapse, and which would stand, when the storm of adversity or temptation hit their lives. The glory of the life of Jesus is summed up in the Cross—where the full blast of men's hate and treachery and stupidity beat upon the lonely Figure, and He stood against the storm victoriously. For His life was grounded in His trust in the Father, the Almighty GOD. Following Jesus is simply building one's life on God, every hour of every day.

April, 1908, judgment day came to the architects and building contractors of California. For forty-eight seconds the ground trembled like a leaf in that great earthquake. When it was over, David Starr Jordan, president of the great university there, looked out over the wreckage of his own campus, and said, "Nothing came down which ought not to have come down. The buildings which fell were not built right in the first place." It was the lifelong habit of shoddiness or integrity, in architects and builders, which long before had determined which buildings would stand in the stormy day. Sooner or later, the storm hits every life!

YOU CAN HELP REDUCE THE MORTALITY RATE

of toys at the Children's Hospital by adding to the supply with your children's or grandchildren's discarded playthings. Miss Hess, our Hospital Magazine Lady, will see that they are delivered from the Church Office. There is a lonely little red and white rocking horse in the Parish Secretary's "toy closet" right now, begging for company, so let's share those toys, remembering that "Happiness was born a twin!"

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH—1823-1953

On Sunday, February 15, the Rector will give an historical sermon on the founding and early years of our Church. There will be a presentation at this service of a GOD and COUNTRY Medal presented to one of our city's outstanding Boy Scouts who is also a valued member of our corps of chancel assistants. We refer to Charles E. Lewis, Jr., The climax of our celebration will come on Tuesday, February 17th at 8:00 P. M. when our magnificent new three-manual Organ of fifty-nine stops will be dedicated. An outstanding program of Organ solos will be played by Robert Elmore, Organist and Choirmaster of the Church of the Holy Trinity, and spirited choral numbers will be sung by the combined choirs of St. Stephen's Church and the Church of the Holy Trinity, under the direction of Dr. H. Alexander Matthews.

WHY IS CONFIRMATION IMPORTANT?

Because Confirmation (the New Testament name is "the laying on of hands") brings to the recipient the gift of spiritual strength through the outpouring of the Holy Ghost. It is not the equivalent of the ceremony of "joining the church" used in some other Christian bodies; rather it is the ordination service of the priesthood of the laity, their call to active service as trained soldiers of CHRIST. The Instruction Class meets in the Rector's Study on Sunday, February 1, at 10:00 A. M.

The Rectory Club (ministers' wives) will have luncheon and meeting in the Community House on February 10th.

The booklet "Our Parish in Action" is now ready for the printer. Do we have your telephone number?

We will be glad to send a notice of the Organ Dedication Service to any of your friends, if you will send us their names and addresses.

The Rector preached at the Methodist Union Service of Kensington on Sunday Evening, January 25th held in the Cumberland Street Methodist Church.

The Rector will address the Clerical Brotherhood in the Church House on February 2nd at 11:00 A. M.

WHAT DO YOU SEE?

Every soldier has his vision tested. If he does not see what he should, then his vision has to be corrected. In the Kingdom of GOD the vision of its citizens is equally important. The difficulty is that so many have faulty vision and do nothing about it.

As Dr. Butterick has said, "Every life will be tested finally by this test—does it see faces, or only things?" Some business men see nothing but things—price lists, profit, sales resistance; while others see faces—the faces of those who work, of those who have no work. Some statesmen see nothing but things—battleships, voting booths, newspaper headlines; others see faces—faces of the poor, the faces of little children, the myriad faces of those slain in war. Some ministers see only things—church buildings, year books, card catalogues; others see faces—faces wistful and sin-scarred, faces lonely and courageous. The MASTER saw nothing but faces—nothing on earth but faces, nothing in heaven but faces, nothing in hell but faces. But one man says, "I am a farmer—as I sweat through the summer, I see a well-stocked vegetable cellar, ready for winter; and a heavy crop of potatoes to sell." Another, "I am a mother, so I see new clothes to put on my children's backs." Another, "I am a crossing-tender—it is my business to see trains and schedules." Another, "I am an old lady, so my mind keeps seeing the monthly old-age check, hoping it won't shrink." Another, "I am a sick woman in a hospital—do you blame me for seeing the dull, tatsteless food, and the same old four walls week after week?" These people see things; and do not expect to see anything more.

But the MASTER corrected people's vision; and still does. "The blind receive their sight." He taught the farmer to work through the summer, thinking of the happy faces of the family for which he is the provider; the satisfied faces of the customers buying his fine potatoes; He taught the mother to keep her thoughts on the shining faces of children who know that they are loved; and may learn that best through carefully mended old clothes. He teaches the crossing-tender to think of the faces of families welcoming their men home at the end of the day—safe home, because he has done his job faithfully. He teaches the old lady to see the faces of the world's hungry children; and to scrimp in order to help feed them. He teaches the sick person in the hospital to see the bitterness in the faces of the patients who know not GOD; and, putting her whole trust in Him, to find that peace that gives new life to those about her.

What do YOU see when you look out on life? Does your faulty vision pick out things? Then your next step is plain. Seek out the MASTER in your inmost heart, and put yourself in His hands. Once more it will be written, "The blind receive their sight." For your thoughts will be filled with faces all the rest of your days, the faces of those who can depend on you to care for them!

CONFIRMATION

Confirmation Classes begin Sunday, February 1st, at 10:00 A. M. in the Rector's Study. Are you bringing some one? The classes are for all—people already confirmed who wish to renew their knowledge of the Church, people who are curious about the Church, or people who are planning definitely to be confirmed. For these latter, the classes are a prerequisite to their confirmation.

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

The Church is making a special effort this year to enlist better support for theological education. Partly this is an outgrowth of a dozen years of co-operative effort on the part of the seminaries to obtain an annual contribution. Partly it is an expression of growing concern for the Church and its ministry, and partly, it is the result of a definite need.

All the Theological Schools of the Church are filled to capacity, increased costs all along the line, students' G. I. are now running out, still a serious shortage of clergy, but still only about one-third of the parishes of the Church offering any support to the seminaries.

The custom throughout the country is to take an annual offering and send it to the seminary from which their rector was graduated. Here at ST. STEPHEN'S we divide the offering between the CAMBRIDGE THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL and the PHILADELPHIA DIVINITY SCHOOL.

Our parish offering will be received on Sunday, January 25th, and it is your chance to have a share in the great work which our Theological Schools are doing. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

Mr. Ronald J. McCarthy, Bursar of the Philadelphia Divinity School, will be our guest preacher Sunday, January 25th, and will speak on the important work that is being done in his school.

CONFERENCE ON CHRISTIAN LIVING

What are the Christian Living Conferences?

1—They are planned to make our parish stronger and better, and to show us the "power of a really Christian congregation."

2—A Team of a clergyman and two women assistants are to accomplish this by conducting meetings where people—YOU AND ME—will ask questions, practical questions, such as WHY the Church has not spoken out in a bewildered world. They will also show us HOW the Church can and will speak meaningfully to a perplexed world.

When and Where Conference Meets:

January 22-25 St. Mary's Church, Ardmore Ave., Ardmore.
January 27-29 St. James Church, Bellevue Ave., Langhorne.
January 30-February 2 Church of St. John the Evangelist, Lansdowne and Baltimore Aves., Lansdowne.
February 12-15 Church of the Holy Apostles & The Mediator, 51st and Spruce Sts., West Phila.

BISHOP HART urges all of the Vestries, Officers and Leaders of men's and women's groups, as well as the regular members of the Church to attend these conferences.

Wilson C. Leithead,
Chairman, Educational Program.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer: O GOD, the Giver of all spiritual grace and the author of eternal life, Grant that the people of this household may reverently hear and receive Thy holy Word, and reverently praise Thee not only with their lips but in their lives; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. (John Wallace Suter, adapted)

Bible Reading: St. Matthew 5:13-16

The Sermon:

Jean Kenyon Mackenzie, who for ten years was a talented missionary among the Bulu people of Africa, once wrote:

"Minla is the little black boy who carries my lantern on my journey through the forest of our neighborhood. He is too small to carry more of outfit, but he has begged to go with me. 'Even if I cannot carry a real load,' he tells me, ' can carry a lantern, and surely you will be needing one.'

"Sometimes, on the highway, the sound has been the sound of so many feet that I have said to Minla, 'Cover the lantern.' And this he does with the skirt of the little cloth he wears around his middle. Then I am able to see the many people who have been following our light; sometimes as many as fifty carriers crowding up behind us, leaning forward under the weight of the loads they are carrying, looking at the white woman and at the black boy who carries the lantern. You will always be followed in the night of the forest if you carry a lantern; the people who walk in that great darkness are glad to follow that light."

And you will always be followed if you carry the Light through the darkness of our life on earth. There is so much of darkness and of mystery in this life; so much that men cannot understand. There are so many difficulties and obstacles hidden in the darkness, over which men stumble when there is no light on the Path.

I like to think of many of you, walking humbly and surely along the trail of life, with the Light of the World in your heart. You have learned by experience that your life would be cold and dark without Him; so you depend on Him to kindle you into fatihful loving-kindness. Perhaps you had not known it, but stop a moment and be quiet—there are people following you along the trail of life, because of that Light in your heart. "You will always be followed in the night of the forest if you carry a lantern!"

Closing Prayer:

O GOD, Thou art the help and refuge of all Thy children. From everlasting to everlasting Thou art GOD. To our weakness Thou art strength. In our darkness Thou art Light. To our sorrow Thou are comfort and peace . We cannot declare Thy love. For all Thy goodness we bless and praise Thee. May we ever feel Thy presence; and may we love the things that Thou lovest, and serve Thee with the service of our daily lives. AMEN. (From H. R. L. Sheppard's "This Day")

A THOUGHT FOR ABSENTEES

Remember what Lincoln said? "It is more important for us to be on GOD'S side than to ask Him to be on our side." If communism according to our thinking is on the side of GOD-less-ness, then whose side are we on? Every Sunday in church is a vote on GOD'S side. Every Sunday away from church, except for inescapable reasons, is a non-participation in what people are calling today the crisis of our times.

Forty-three persons sat down to the annual Christmas dinner sponsored by the Rev. Gustav C. Meckling and the Christmas Dinner Fund of St. Stephen's Church. Those who would have to eat alone on Christmas are invited to this annual happy occasion. Everyone stayed until five o'clock to enjoy the movies and good fellowship.

THE MOTORISTS' PRAYER

Teach us to drive through life without skidding into other peoples' business. Preserve our brake linings that we may stop before we go too far. Help us to hear the knocks in our own motors and close our ears to the clashing of other people's gears. Keep alcohol in our radiators and ut of our stomachs. Absolve us from the mania of trying to pass the other autombile on a narrow road. Open our eyes to the traffic signs and keep our feet on the brakes. AMEN.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer: O mighty Spirit of GOD, incite our hearts and minds to seek the way of the CHRIST, and give us strength faithfully to follow the same through all discouragements, for His own sake. AMEN. (St. Augustine)

Bible Reading: Romans 8:31-39

The Sermon:

It was a very wise doctor who once said, "Most people think that all we have to know is what disease the patient has. Often it is more important to know what patient has the disease." How right he was! I've seen two patients come into a tuberculosis sanatorium, each with the same excellent chance of recovery from an early case. One settled down, with courage and faith, to take a good cure, and in eighteen months returned to his home and family, to earn his living. The other sulked and fumed, and broke the hospital rules; and did not recover. With these two people, it did not make so much difference what disease the patient had. It made all the difference in the world what patient had the disease.

Thomas Mann, the famous author, was discussing the effect of illness upon the career of a writer. He did not think that just being sick either makes or breaks a writer, but that, in a person of courage and talent, illness will stimulate and enrich that career—"it depends on who is sick." When a sick man lets the sickness stir him to a deeper dependence on GOD, and a more self-forgetful love of others, then you get a Robert Louis Stevenson or a Dr. Trudeau.

It is fashionable to account for success or failure by circumstances. "So-and-so succeeded because he got the breaks." "I lost out because luck was against me." But the fact is that a man or woman of true faith can take even misfortune, and make something great out of it; can take long months in a tuberculosis sanatorium, and make new character out of it. The fact is that Jesus took the grisly, shameful Cross, and made a sign of victory out of it. Paul cries joyfully, in the face of the worst life can do to us, "We are more than conquerors through Him that loved us." If we will let Him, GOD can take even our mistakes and our crosses, and weave them into a pattern of beauty.

A Persian student was telling how they make beautiful carpets in his country. The carpet-to-be is hung vertically on a frame, and little boys, sitting on planks at various levels, put in the colors from the wrong side. The artist stands on the right side of the rug, giving directions to the boys on the other side, telling them what colors to use, and where. The boys obey, not seeing the pattern at all. "Don't they ever get tired or careless, and make a mistake?" asked a friend. "Well, of course they do," the student replied, "and quite often the artist doesn't make the boy take out the wrong color. If he is a really great artist, he weaves the mistake into the pattern, and it is lost in the beautiful design."

Closing Prayer:

Take from us now, O GOD, all tediousness of spirit, all impatience and unquietness. Let us possess ourselves in patience, and resign our souls and bodies into Thy hands; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. AMEN. (Jeremy Taylor)

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. Eleven hundred copies are printed each week. Some 700 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of the forty-eight states in the country, and in addition to people in Canada and Japan. It goes to shut-ins and men in the service and to those who value the weekly messages. It costs $30.00 a week to print and to mail this publication. There are 44 issues a year at a total cost of $1,320.00. Last year, the total received from individuals was $685.36. If every family would give $2.00 a year, the cost would be met. Of course, a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so that a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way to pay for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing and handling of the mail make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

CALLING ALL CANDIDATES

The Rector's Confirmation instruction class will meet every Sunday morning at 10:00 A. M. Attendance upon the instruction class does not commit you in any way. However, the Rector desires the opportunity of presenting the why and wherefore of this important subject. Confirmation is a service in which you are asked to come and receive GOD'S blessing at the hands of one of the Church's chief pastors, the present day successor of the apostles. The service has come down through the ages. Today more than three-fourths of the total number of Christian people are confirmed.

The instruction class begins Sunday, February 1st, at 10:00 A. M. Bishop Armstrong will visit St. Stephen's for Confirmation on Sunday, April 19th.

INSTITUTE OF PRAYER

is being held in St. Stephen's Church on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 13, 14, and 15th. The afternoon sessions will be held at 2:30 P. M. and the evening sessions at 8:00 P. M. Dr. Glenn Clark, writer, teacher, founder and director of the Camps Farthest Out, will speak and so also will Ruth Robinson, author of "Prayer and Health.' Alice Kraft, specialist in the art of merging and integrating the spiritual, mental, and physical, through rhythmic movement will conduct her classes in the Community House.

With sincere appreciation, we acknowledge the Church Bulletin Subscriptions of Mrs. B. M. Tinsley, Mr. Frederick B. J. Crouse, Miss Grace Garrett, Mrs. R. Beattie, Mrs. Carol Temme and Mrs. J. Granville Leach, Jr.

HOME PRAYERS

(Issued weekly for those who cannot get to church services, the sick and shut-in, the isolated, Sunday workers, young people in the service of their country, and others.)

Opening Prayer: GOD, make me a good cook, so that I may make a good meal today out of the materials that come to my hand. AMEN.

(The Prayer of a Chinese woman doctor, who sometimes thinks of her work as that of a cook, and so prays this morning prayer.
(From "The World At One In Prayer")

Bible Reading: I Samuel 3:1

The Sermon:

1953 is here. What are we going to do with these twelve months? Certainly we can start by remembering that GOD is found close by, in familiar places and in everyday experiences, so that we may draw new courage and strength out of the "materials that come to my hand." We do not have to travel to St. Peter's in Rome, or Westminster Abbey in London to find the great and abiding GOD. Why not give our hearts to letting Him speak to us more often; to letting Him speak through us to other people more steadily? Maude Royden puts it vividly:

"Did not GOD speak to some of you first through your mother's eyes? Or did not the first time come to others through the love of a friend? When Samuel heard the Voice of God, he thought it was just the voice of his best friend. So he said to his old friend, Eli, "You called me." But it was GOD Who called him, though it sounded like the voice of his friend.

"Do you know the touching little story of an Irish woman who was in great distress of mind because she had lost a sense of GOD'S nearness? She cried out, "Why doesn't He make me feel that He is here? How can He leave me alone? If I could only feel Him, know that He had touched me!" And an old woman who was sitting with her, said, "Pray to Him. Ask Him to touch you. He will put His hand on you." She began to pray in agony, and suddenly felt the Hand of GOD touching her. She cried out, "He has touched me!" And went into an ecstasy of joy. Then she said, "Do you know, it felt just like your hand?" And the old woman replied, "Sure, and what did you think God would be doing? Did you think He would make a long arm out of heaven to touch you? He just took the hand that was nearest, and used that."

GOD takes the human beings that are nearest, and through them, we see love; and love is GOD. He takes the human hand of some friend or stranger, and uses that—we feel the touch of GOD! We stop saying, "It is only a friend." For after all, GOD is love; and GOD speaks to us by loving, human voices.

GOD speaks to you out of the every-day life. He also seeks to speak to those who are near to you; and, to accomplish that, He needs to be able to speak through you, to touch others through your voice and hand. Let that be your 1953 adventure—that you may be the voice that is nearest, the hand that is close by—the one that GOD can use!

Closing Prayer:

Increase, O Lord, the spirit of neighborliness among us, that in peril we may uphold one another; in suffering, tend one another; and in homelessness, loneliness or exile, befriend one another. Grant us brave and enduring hearts that we may strengthen one another, until the disciplines and testings of these days be ended, and Thou dost give again peace in our time; through Jesus Christ our Lord. AMEN. (Used in the air raid shelters of England in the last war. From "The World At One In Prayer")

WORKERS' COMMUNION

On Sunday, January 4th, there will be a special service of Holy Communion at 11:00 o'clock to which we invite our young people, and all the active members of our parish organizations. We ask them to begin the year at the Altar, to present their activities, and to ask GOD'S blessing upon all we do.

RESOLVED FOR 1953: In a world of ill-will, to be the bearers of good-will—to replace disunity by community—to banish despair by hope, fear by trust, hate by love.

The Rector is anxious to publish Our Annual Booklet with all the Parish Reports as soon as possible. This is our 130th Anniversary. Officers of our Parish Organizations, please take note.

A MINISTER'S CHRISTMAS CARDS

Birthdays, anniversaries,
A dozen cards will bring.
At Christmas come six hundred cards
To make his heart to sing!
The other cards congratulate
For an event or date,
But Christmas cards are thank you cards,
'Tho many may be late
In their appreciation
Of kindnesses performed,
Of healing, and of ministry
To hearts that have been warmed.
Gift-giving is commercialized.
'Twas not intended so
To celebrate the birthday
Of the Christ-Child, long ago.

But that so many cards of thanks
Can come from grateful souls
Makes Christmas-time his happy time,
When gratitude unfolds—ELIZABETH V. D. PRICE

THE RECTOR'S EASTER GREETING

My Beloved People of St. Stephen's:

Another Easter has come. We unite in Communion, prayer and praise with simple and sincere devotion, believing every word that we use. It is a wonderful time. We feel uplifted and inspired, and we go forward with strength renewed. We see death defeated. That has been our vision. We see also that there is radiant life on the other side of what we call death.

Calvary was not the end of the work and Mission of Jesus. Indeed, it is true to say that His work was only a beginning. Neither is His work finished yet. Countless thousands are feeding on Him in their hearts today by faith. They are leading a life of glorious adventure, endeavoring to do all things through Christ—looking to Him for strength, health, holiness, and service.

Everlasting life, this is the thought that fills our minds today as we meditate upon the discarded grave clothes, the empty tomb of our royal and victorious Lord, as we wait with Mary in the garden, with the disciples in the upper room to greet His Risen Presence, to express our love and gratitude, to renew the allegiance of our faithful service.

We count ourselves amongst the little band of early disciples, for whom life was henceforth to hold a power, a magic hitherto unknown, and we, like them, must learn to take a forward rather than a backward look. So often, like Mary, we linger by the empty grave unconscious of the Risen Master, Who demands our ministry of service, and Who brings to us in the Resurrection life just the power that we need to bring those very good desires to good effect.

As we receive the Risen Life of our Lord, mediated to us under the sacramental forms of Bread and Wine, we must expect great things; we must go forward to exercise the Christ within us: we must meet our difficulties, plan our enterprises, phrase our devotions in the consciousness of that victorious strength for the body no less than the soul, which He in the power of the Risen Life communicates to us. . . . "The strong must come lest they become weak and the weak that they may become strong: the sick must come to be cured, the healthy to be preserved. They that love leisure must come because they have no excuse, they that have no leisure must come thither that by so excellent religion they may sanctify their business." Even so may we attain conformity with the risen Lord.

Affectionately and faithfully,

Your Rector,
ALFRED W. PRICE

THE RECTOR'S CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

MAY LOVE AND PEACE BE IN YOUR HEARTS AND HOMES THIS CHRISTMAS TIDE, BRINGING LIFE AND JOY.

On behalf of the Rector and the Staff of St. Stephen's Church, I want to wish every member and friend of our Parish a truly happy Christmas.

Amid the many types of celebration—social and gastronomic—we know that the true happiness depends on realizing with new vividness the spiritual significance of the Season, the Coming of Jesus.

"He came unto His own, and His own received Him not. But as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become Sons of God, even to THEM THAT BELIEVE ON HIS NAME."

"He came unto His own": There were those who welcomed His Coming with joy —Mary and Joseph, shepherds and wisemen, Simeon and Anna; but there were many who received Him not. He was not wanted by the world at large. "She laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn." This is an oft-repeated story. Yet all are His; all need Him. He and every man "belong" to each other.

I remember reading a story which can be a parable. A master musician passing a second-hand junk shop, noticed in the window an old violin. It was dirty, cracked and without strings; but he recognized it as from the hand of a master craftsman.

He bought it, took it home, cleaned and repaired it; put on strings, and tuned it with certainty; soon it was making the loveliest music in his hands.

The musician came to his own—that to which he belonged and through which he could express himself. The violin also came to its own and surrendered to the master's handling, it became the best it could be, in its capacity to make music. That was what it was meant for; thus its maker's intention was realized.

Jesus took our human nature, He was fashioned as a man. There is no impassable gulf between the human and the Divine. The essence of the Divine could be expressed through a human body and mind, in His life and character, His holiness and goodness, His love and grace. He is the Master Musician, Who has made perfect harmony through this human nature of ours; He has made the divine Word audible through it. He has shown us that it is capable of expressing the Divine Music.

And still today, when He comes to us, He comes to His own, to each whom He perfectly understands. He can make us and keep us in tune with the Divine Spirit.

As we yield to Him, we surrender to Him that which is His own, which belongs to Him. "It is He that hath made us, and not we ourselves." "Ye are not your own, ye are bought with a price." He takes that which is His own, by creation and redemption, and makes us able to express harmony in life, health and service, in a way we could hardly have dreamed possible. He can produce a harmony within which not only means the end of inner strain and conflicts, but a wholeness and peace which is a positive source of power—power to become in very truth Sons of God.

And then, too, through us there shall go forth a harmony which will express His Spirit, will work towards the healing of the world's wounds, and swell the Angels' song of "Glory to God in the highest, on earth, Peace, good will towards men."

Oh, come to my heart, Lord Jesus; there is room in my heart for Thee.

ALFRED W. PRICE

"AS THE LORD HAS BLESSED YOU . . ."

Someone reading this Bulletin may wish to make a pledge of financial support to St. Stephen's Church for 1955. They may report this desire over the telephone to the Rector, WAlnut 2-3807, giving the amount per week that they wish to pledge. Envelopes will be sent them if they so desire.

Those who attended Loyalty Sunday will realize that this Sunday has more to do with religion than it has to do with money. It is not an effort which specializes in salesmanship and pressure. Instead, it features soul-searching and prayer.

"How much is my share of the budget?" is a question St. Stephen's' parishioners are learning not to ask because it is an improper question. It must not be answered, but denied, because NO BUDGET CAN POSSIBLY EXPRESS WHAT GOD'S PEOPLE OWE HIM. And this is what Loyalty Sunday is about.

Not "What's my share?" but "What does God want returned of what He has given me?" This is not a question of simple arithmetic, but of personal commitment, of devotion, of Christian responsibility.

All that we possess is God's, and only temporarily has He entrusted us with oversight of anything. How does He want His possessions used? This is the question the "God's share" plan teaches us to ask.

It endeavors to teach us to answer the question with the words "love" and "sacrifice." A pledge that really reflects love with all its overtones of thanksgiving is one which involves sacrifice. It puts God's will at the top of one's personal budget.

It is important to tell you that for another year's work we need $75,000.00 in pledges to undertake what we are commanded by God to do in the Parish, the Diocese and the World.

It is even more important to remind you that such a sum of money will not be raised by token giving nor by occasional contributions nor by a few generous people—nor should it be.

Christian giving has always been thought of as the "tithe"—one-tenth of income for Church and Charities. This year I ask you to consider 5% of your income as God's share of your material life—the modern tithe.

Someone said, "If I were to tithe, it would change my whole standard of living." Precisely! Christ dares us to get off the gold standard and onto God's standard of living.

Won't you consider prayerfully this Bible Standard of Christian giving when you make your pledge for 1955?

PLEDGES RECEIVED

AN OPEN LETTER FROM THE RECTOR

Dear People of St. Shephen's Church:

This Sunday is Loyalty Sunday—December 12th—when opportunity is given to everyone who will so co-operate, to pledge toward the Church's 1955 budget, in Church. For the past four weeks members of the Vestry have presented to the Sunday morning congregations in ten minute addresses the hopes and plans for the Parish of St. Stephen's in 1955. The Rector will conclude these addresses with a Sermon on the subject "Are We Fiddling While Rome Burns?" The Chest of Joash will be placed in the usual place in the Chancel and everyone present will be invited to sign a card indicating what he is prepared to give in 1955 for the support of that program, and place the card in the Chest of Joash.

It is a sobering thought to realize how important a day this is for this Parish, and for the whole Church, as well as for every person involved. Time Magazine (Oct. 11th) carried a full page advertisement which perhaps focuses our attention on the importance and meaning of Church giving. The Wells Organization, which specializes in Church Fund raising, paid for this appeal to Christian people, and I want to remind you of the fundamental issues they raised. It began with this headline:

A CHURCH SHOULD NEVER "BEG" FOR FUNDS—NEVER! and then it goes on to explain what this means.

"The spiritual advance that followers of Christ all over the world hope and pray for cannot come in fullest measure until it gets a new kind of support by the laity. It cannot without a revolution in our very attitude toward Christian giving.

"The concept is not new. It is as old as Christianity itself. It was told to the world in the Sermon On The Mount.

"It is the concept of the 'need of the giver to give.' It is the concept that Christian giving is not based on 'how much the Church needs', but, rather, on 'how much a member needs to give!'

"It is the concept that giving is not payment for services rendered, but an opportunity for grace to the giver. It is not 'I will give to the deserving', but, rather, 'I will give so that I may live'."

As members of the Church it is "proportionate giving" that should govern our contributions—a share of what God has given to us. I should like to commend the modern tithe to every member of this Church. After the Income Tax; place 10% of one's income in a special fund and then give 5% of that to the Church, and 5% to meet other charitable appeals. Thus will we be able to answer the question: "How much shall I give to the Church?" Will everyone who reads this try such a Biblical measuring rod for 1955? It will bless you far more than you realize.

Ask yourself, "What percentage of my income does the Lord want me to give, that His work may be strengthened here at home and His Mission be extended in my Diocese, our Nation, and the World?"

Ask that question honestly, pray for courage to act upon what the Lord tells you in your heart to do, and, being responsive to His will, you will find a new and deeper joy as a co-worker with Him!

Faithfully yours,
ALFRED W. PRICE

It is our great privilege to have with us for the Service this evening the Treble Clef Chorus of Haddon Heights, N. J. Under the direction of Helen Wyeth Peirce they will sing for us: 1 (a) Christmas Fantasy, Gilbert; (b) The Holy Child, Snodgrass; (c) Let Our Gladness Know No End, Bohemian-Ryg; (d) The 3 Wise Men, Kountz. 2. (a) Following Yonder Star, Williams; (b) Sleep Holy Babe, Caswall-Peirce; (c) Angels O'er The Fields, Dickinson.

Tomorrow's Organ Recital will be played by Mr. Wesley A. Day, F.A.G.O., Ch.M., F.T.C.L., of St. Mark's Church. His selections: Hymn-Tune Prelude on "Veni Emmanuel" by Strilko and Prelude, Adagio and Fugue in C by Bach.

BURD SCHOOL

On November 16th a very interesting forum took place in the Burd School consisting of the Board of Managers, members of the Staff and Representatives of the Women's Committee, the Alumnae and the Mothers. Matters of mutual concern were discussed such as the policies and internal operations, opinions on older boys visiting the girls, visiting and week-end priveleges, what Burd School has to offer after graduation, public relations, scholastic standards, program of religious education, program of the Alumnae, Women's Committee and program of Mothers. What we desire to accomplish this year.

REMOTE CONTROL

A librarian in Baltimore who has been a member of our Prayer Fellowship reports an incident stemming from our Thursday Healing activities: "One of the librarians with whom I work, was interested in hearing about your Prayer Fellowship and I furnished her with some of your pamphlets One of the jobs in this library is to proctor a roomful of noisy undergraduates at noon. This little lady has Thursday noon, and instead of running around giving warnings and making evictions, she sits down and tunes in your healing service. Her hour was so much quieter than the rest that I asked her how she did it. She said, 'By remote control', and told me the story. So I tried it, and do you know, it works!"

We are greatly pleased with the gift of a valuable piano from Miss Mary L. Seltzer, for the use of our organist for the Thursday evening Choir rehearsals.

KEEP YOUR CHURCH OUT OF THE RED IN 1955

Sunday, December 12th, is a very important date for you, your family and your Church. It is Loyalty Sunday at St. Stephen's. It is a day when we pledge our loyalty to our great Church by bringing our signed pledge cards to Church with us and placing them in the Chest of Joash where they will be dedicated at the Altar during the 11 A. M. Service. Your Church cannot operate without YOUR support.

"Why should I give?"—because to do so indicates the recognition of certain fundamental values. There are values that deny life and there are values that affirm life. The Church is in the latter category. From the Christian view of life certain things are important and certain things are relatively unimportant. Certain things are first, certain things are second. If one is a parent and does not contribute to the Church it means that he is teaching his child that all those values that center around the Christian appraisal of life are meaningless. What one does with one's income is a sure index of his character—"where your treasure is", said Jesus, "there will be your heart." Giving to the Church is the most beneficent discipline one can follow.

"Why should I give?"—because this act assists the Christian offensive and invasion into life. The Christian life is a constantly sharing life, a continual giving away. In that sense, then, every Christian is a Missionary: he either seeks himself to bring the influence of Christ to bear on those who know Him not or he finances the attempt that others are making. Without the material means to keep it going that offensive would cease.

"Why should I give?"—because it is the surest test of our discipleship, the surest test of how much we care. How much do I care that Christ shall be dominant over man's affairs; indeed, in terms of how many actual dollars do I care? Or is it merely talk, a lip-service when actually I do not really care?" "Money talks," we say; indeed, it eloquently talks!

Not to play fair with God with our income is an accutely dangerous life policy. Life is tragically uncertain. We know not what the day will bring forth. How can we expect the rescuing grace of God in our difficulties—and they will come—when we are niggardly with Him. That is a frightful risk to run. There is such a thing as justice in this world. "What a man sows that shall he reap"—that surely is true on the human level; sice the cosmos is a thing of law and order, it will be true on the divine level.

"What have you that ye did not receive?" asks St. Paul. Every precious or desirable thing in this life has been given to us. Why shall not we be expected to give in return? Everything we possess is on loan from God. In our blind egotism we think it is ours. It is not ours; it is God's. Back to Him, He has a right to expect it to go.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS

Each year St. Stephen's Church donates baskets or the equivalent to those who are unable to give to their families the fullness of Christmas cheer with which others are blessed. Will you help with your generosity? Please use the Special Christmas Dinner Envelope. We need $300.00.

The Rector will conduct a Spiritual Healing Mission in St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo, December 6th to 8th.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday, December 5th, at 7:30 P. M.

Loyalty Sunday is December 12th. Let nothing keep you away from the 11 o'clock Service. The success of our 1955 program depends upon every member being present.

INVENTORY MADE OF PARISH HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Wilson Leithead, Chairman of the Insurance Committee reported to the Vestry recently that a careful inventory of all the Parish House furnishings and other furniture owned by the Church has been prepared and typed. This is an invaluable record. All these articles have been numbered and valued, their location noted, and this is the record on which the insurance is based.

To date, we have received $313.45 from one hundred contributors towards the annual Benevolent Society Appeal.

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, Parish Custodian of the U. T. O., has received $342.69 from seventy-three contributors for the Fall Ingathering of this Missionary fund.

We gratefully acknowledge the following Bulletin subscriptions: Mrs. Ella M. Keys, Louis F. Leupold, Elsie and Howard Matthews, and one anonymous helper.

YOU CAN'T DO BUSINESS FROM AN EMPTY WAGON!

Yes, my dear friends, the old Pennsylvania peddler is so right! He cant do business from an empty wagon. That is something every business man knows, and that is something we know here in St. Stephens' Church.

I

It is interesting to me to remember the old-time peddlers who used to come to our door in the suburban street. There was the rag man with his tinware, the scissors grinder and the umbrella mender. Most exciting of all was the peddler—his wagon creaking under the weight of his wares, or rattling noisily, when the wagon was empty. Of course he had household supplies—brushes and cloth and kitchenware—but even a boy could see something he wanted very much—a lantern or a hammer or some piece of hardware. The peddler's cart was always fascinating. To this day, I am thrilled when sometimes, on a country road, I meet a peddler's wagon.

II

You cant' do business from an empty wagon! That is true here at St. Stephen's Church. We must keep our stock replenished and up-to-date. The drawers must be full of attractive wares, wares that people need, and wares that people want. Just look now at the St. Stephen's wagon and see how true this is:

1. We are one of the old parishes of the diocese. More than that, we are a convenient center for the moral and religious forces of our whole community. We are the meeting place for many groups and committees of the Episcopal Churches and of the Philadelphia Council of Churches.

2. There are the open doors on Tenth Street. They mean the regular Sunday services of worship and the Noonday services. They mean the ever-open door to the passer-by for private prayer and meditation.

3. There is St. Stephen's Music. Step by step, the way has opened to develop our music to a top-notch of excellence. There is no better Church Music than what you hear at St. Stephen's Church. More than this, we are living in the constant thrill of our new organ.

4. There is the Burd School. This is a fine school for fatherless girls, which is the special responsibility of St. Stephen's Rector and Vestry. For over 98 years this school has been graduating young women who have attained positions of high responsibility in the business and professional world. The Burd School gives a good home and Christian training to about twenty-five girls.

III

You can't do business from an empty wagon! However, persuasive the peddler may be, he can't sell cloth unless he has a bolt of it ready on hand. He cant' sell you a broom unless he has one right there. No, you can't do business from an empty wagon! We cannot let St. Stephen's wagon ever become empty! We must keep it bursting with real goods. We must play our part as a down-town Church. The doors must stay open, the music must go on, the Burd School must continue, the Noonday services must be maintained. We are strategically located as the center of inspiration and good will. We have the opportunity to try new plans and methods, as they could not properly be tried in a suburban Church. Our freedom is unbelievably great, and our responsibility is in proportion to this freedom. Even with the best spirit, we cannot do business from an empty wagon. To replenish our stock, we estimate a need for the coming year 1955 of $75,000.00 from occasional visitors as well as from regular worshippers here in St. Stephen's Church. We all know that costs and prices are a way up over the prices of recent years. Many things cost practically double! By this token, we need increased pledges and contributions to meet the costs of our necessary stock supplies. I hope we will all remember this simple fact: "You can't do business from an empty wagon!"

Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it. Love is strong as death. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Who His own self bear our sins in His own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness. Ye are washed, ye are sanctified; ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus. Ye are a chosen generation, a Royal Priesthood, A Holy Nation, that ye should show forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light. ALL SAINTS' DAY, 1954

We are placing here the names of those having special claim upon us, who have passed into eternal life since last All Saints' Day. These are they whom we have in loving remembrance on Sunday, November 7th:

Harry Sudit	Reba Fryer	Harry L. Talbot
Berenice B. Fewkes	William S. Patterson	Ida C. Scheaffer
Lois O'Donnel	Emogene H. Williamson	Harriet White McCaffery
Dora V. Trigg	Mary T. Irvin	Drucilla Mark
Mabel G. Parnell	Adelaide S. Carll	Clifford H. Baker
George N. Price	Lottie V. Laws	Anne Old Webster
Charles J. Guenther	George F. Baker

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday at 7:30 P. M.

U. T. O. FALL INGATHERING, 1954

Sunday, November 7th, will be St. Stephen's Fall Ingathering for the United Thank Offering. Mrs. Ruth G. Leithead, the Parish Custodian, reports that in 1953 the women of our Parish gave $686.90 to express their "United Thanks" to Almighty God for His great and many blessings.

TEACHING AND HEALING MISSION

We are to have the great privilege here in St. Stephen's Church of having England's outstanding leader in the field of Spiritual Therapy, The Rev. John Maillard, conduct a Mission on November 21 to 24, inclusive.

The Rev. John Maillard writes of his Mission tour in North America: "It is a joy and a privilege to be visiting the U. S. A. We in England are deeply indebted to friends in the U. S. A., both for their material support, fellowship, and spiritual inspiration. We are members of the same family, by reason of the fact that we are fellow disciples of the same Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, and not merely by reason of the fact that we speak the same language. The Mind of Christ transcends all national frontiers and racial barriers. Some of us believe that the U. S. A. can make a decisive contribution to the spiritual well being of the whole world at this critical stage in history, and be the rallying point of the Kingdom of God. I feel confident that my visit will confirm and strengthen this view. There is one big regret: during our ten weeks in the U. S. A. we can only fit in less than half of the invitations we have received.

A PRAYER FOR THE HEALING MISSION

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, Who healeth both the bodies and the souls of men; Who sent Thy Son, our Saviour Jesus Christ, to heal every manner of sickness and disease; and Who hast called us in the name of Thy Servant, St. Luke, the physician, to bear witness to the continued working of Thy healing power in this world; pour out, we pray Thee, Thy Spirit upon all in this Parish who are in need of wholeness. Prepare them for that which they are about to receive. Bless the Ministry of Thy servant, John Maillard, in this place, and grant that those who come in faith to be healed may go forth praising Thee for Thy goodness. In Jesus' Name we ask it. Amen.

The EVERY MEMBER CANVASS theme for this year is "AS THE LORD HAS BLESSED YOU." This continues the stewardship emphasis developed over the past two years. The new Theme will stress both the responsibility to give and the responsibility to give wisely.

A SMILE IS WORTH NOTHING

It is worth nothing, that is, until you give it away. Then it becomes infinitely valuable. It benefits not only the giver but the one to whom it is given.

In this respect money is like a smile. As long as you keep it to yourself, nobody benefits. When you spend it on yourself, you gain a measure of satisfaction. But when you give it for God's work through His Church, a double reward accrues:

YOUR GIFT BLESSES OTHERS . . . YOUR GIVING BLESSES YOU!

SPEAK FOR YOUR CHURCH

"Why don't you let people know what your Church is? is the question often asked in wonder by those just learning to love it. "This worship", said one, "is what I have been looking for for years. It had been described to me as a mere formality. I find it full of life and earnestness." Said another: "I had long joined in the popular cry that your church was so exclusive. Now I know for myself that no other body of Christians has such liberal terms of communion. Why don't you take the pains to show that fact?" And yet another recently asked, "Why are you Church-men so close mouthed? You go about your own business and don't seem to care much for what others think. If you would only speak out for your Church as others do for theirs, you would do better."

AS THE LORD HATH BLESSED YOU

Our 1954 Every Member Canvass theme is "As the Lord Hath Blessed You." The emphasis is a double one. First, the theme stresses the fact that the Christian arrives at a fair division of the use of his possessions only when he measures the amount of his gift in relation to the blessings he has received, rather than in relation to programs or budgets.

St. Stephen's Vestry, co-operating with the Church's effort to teach proportionate giving in our stewardship this year is not presenting a budget prior to the Canvass. The budget will not be used as a canvassing tool. We must share our blessings, which is very different from sharing the budget. We must share what God has given us, whether it be time, talent or treasure.

Secondly the Canvass this year will attempt to develop the idea of stewardship as a method by which a giver grows spiritually when he adopts the principle of proportionate giving.

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in Trinity Cathedral, Newark, N. J., beginning Sunday evening, October 24th to 27th, inclusive. He will speak at the Noonday services at the Cathedral and to special groups of clergy and lap people. He will preach in the Church of the Ascension, Morristown, and St. Luke's, Montclair, on Monday and Tuesday evening, respectively.

BURD SCHOOL NEWS

Carol Austin began her course at St. Mary's Hospital for Children on October 1st. Aileen Wood has matriculated at the Connecticut College for Women. Patricia Riley is attending Ryder Business College at Trenton.

Two new girls were admitted to Burd School in September, Carol Friedmann, aged 5 years, 8 months; and Darlene Scott, aged 7 years, 8 months.

THE CANDLE OF FAITH

There is much darkness in the world—and each of us must decide what to do about it. In John 1, 5 we are reminded, "The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it." (Revised Standard translation).

What can we do about darkness? Kenneth Forman has written: "Let me tell you a parable, a parable of 7 men against the night. It came to pass in a certain corner of the world that 7 men stood on the hilltop as night came on. The first man lifted up his voice and sang a hymn of praise of night, 'O lovely night,' he sang, 'far more glorious than the day.' But his companions knew that in valleys where the shadows had fallen, wild things were creeping out of their dens, and they knew that the night was not more lovely than the day, but full of dismal things and dreadful.

"The second man said, in a cheerful voice, 'have no fear, my brothers! it is a long time since we have known a sun set. Only think sunny thoughts and night will never come.' But the night did not stay for his sunny thoughts, as the light kept fading from the sky.

"Another man walked up and down, his brain busy with a scheme whereby all the sunshine of forgotten hours might be preserved and the night thus kept back forever by the art and craft of man. But the night could not wait for his inventions, and the shadows drew nearer to the hill.

"A fourth man took the name of God on his lips and cried, 'O God, rend the heavens and come down! Send down legions of Thy Holy Angels and hurl the night back into the abyss.' But there came to pass no mighty miracle. No angel appeared in the after-glow and the shadows came nearer still.

"A fifth man also took the name of God upon his lips, but not in prayer. 'There is no God,' said he, 'or night could never be.' So in the name of the God in whom he did not believe, he cursed the night he hated.

"A sixth man then said to his fellows, 'Ye perceive how words profit nothing. Night must fall. There is nothing we can do.' And so, wrapping his garment about him, he laid down as an animal might, to sleep.

"But the 7th man, perceiving the folly of his companions, said no word, but took a candle which he had by him; and he lighted that candle and set in a safe and sheltered place, so that when night fell as fall indeed it did, there was one corner of the world that did not lie in shadows. So it became a proverb which the Chinese know to this day, 'It is better to light a candle than to curse the darkness.'"

Make certain that you have within your humble heart the candle of faith, that the light of the world may kindle it, and light your way, step by step. Trust that light! Natalie Victor has pointed out that all the complications of life are rapidly overcome, when God takes undisputed posession of His own. For light forever triumphs over darkness.

GUEST SPEAKER

Dr. Miriam Van Waters will speak to us on October 24th, at 11 A. M. on the subject of the need of a New Penology. Dr. Van Waters has received an award for being one of the ten outstanding women of the United States. She is the daughter of a clergyman and her childhood was spent in Eastern Oregon where her father was an Archdeacon. She has been such things as Referee of the Juvenile Court in Los Angeles, a member of the Wickersham Crime Survey and President of the National Conference of Social Work. She not only has standing in this country but is recognized as one of the great authorities in this field from an international point of view. She is the Head of the Women's Reformatory at Framingham, Massachusetts.

WELCOME TO DOCTORS

Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith and need of fuller co-operation between doctors and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating St. Luke's Day. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician.

"This is the great error of our day in the treatment of the human body that physicians separate the soul from the body."—Plato.

"Sometimes it is more important to know what kind of a fellow has a germ than what kind of a germ has a fellah."—Shattuck

"'Tis not the body but the man is ill."—Dr. Weir Mitchell.

JOY AND VICTORY

As we begin another winter together, I want to share with you a story which sticks in my mind, and helps me.

A veteran missionary, Hudson Taylor, was seated in an inn with a new missionary in China. He filled a glass brim-full of water, and then struck the table with his fist. As the water splashed out, he said to the young missionary, "remember, they will only splash out of you what is in you." Think that over. Out of some people the blows of life will splash complaint and bitterness; but out of other people the very same blows will splash joy and victory.

That is what makes our religion so important. If people have little love and faith, and are filled with self-interest and self pity, life is forever splashing out of them whining and protest. But if through faithful worship and daily prayers, they are filled with the Spirit of God, then their worst enemies can only splash out of them patient, enduring love and quiet courage—as it was with Jesus on Calvary. Read the eighth chapter from Romans with some care, and see a group of people who had been hit by tribulation, anguish, persecution, famine, thread-bare clothing, danger, and Roman swords. And their answer to this pounding storm of troubles was to laugh and quietly reply, "Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerers through Him that loved us." They are sure that nothing can "Separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

When we are so filled with the love of God, it overflows our hearts, and into the lives of others. A child of the slums, his life twisted by the evils of slum living, altogether ignorant of God's love, was dying in a great hospital. A Christian woman came to sit beside his bed, and looking into his frightened eyes, said, "Son, God made you. God loves you. God sent His Son into the world to die for your sins, and to make you His child forever. Now He wants to take you home to be with Him forever." The boy looked at her with amazement, and said, "Lady, will you say that again?" She did, but still the boy could not believe that anything so wonderful could come to him; so he asked her to say it a third time. With a last effort, the boy sat upright in bed, and with an eternal joy in his voice said, "Lady, will you please thank Him for me?"

We extend a warm welcome to Mr. Henry M. Biggin, a second year man in the Philadelphia Divinity School, who is teaching a large class in our Sunday School. Mr. Biggin is a native of Newark, N. J.

CONGRATULATIONS

DEEPENING OUR INMOST THOUGHTS

I am reminded of the Columbia University professor, and of his passion always to go as quickly as possible. He met a visitor from India, far down town, and together they got on a subway train. At the next stop the professor shouted through the subway din, "We change here for an express, so that we can save 8 minutes." The man from India replied, "And what will we do with the 8 minutes?" There was no answer, for there was no purpose in the professor's haste.

Old Isaiah once said, "He that believeth shall not make haste." The wise people who believe deeply in God do not have to hurry about feverishly. They know that God takes His time—in His world you cannot speed up a field of hay, the growing of a child, or the forming of a true friendship. There are a few things that can be forced by hot-house methods; but the more precious treasures of life take time and care and patient tending. If you trust God, and are willing to work and wait, you will be rewarded. If you trust God, you do not have to make haste.

Furthermore, the person who goes at a moderate pace is less apt to miss golden opportunities. Look through the record of the Master's life, and you may be surprised to find how often He stopped on the way because someone needed Him. When He and His friends walked through a little town on their way to their destination, a woman would pluck Him by the elbow, or a blind man call from the crowd, or children struggle to catch His attention. And Jesus always stopped. The person who needed Him was more important to God than His getting to Jericho at precisely six o'clock; And God would take care of it if they were a bit late in arriving. God cares more about people than about slavish punctuality. Along the road of your life He has set many a glorious opportunity to give someone a lift, to say the right word when it is needed, to pass on your faith, or, often, for just plain friendship. If you go quietly, trusting in God, you will see those opportunities, and take them. As Robert Frost wrote:

"When a friend calls to me from the road,
I dont' stand still and look around
On the hills I haven't hoed,
And shout from where I am, 'What is it?'
No, not as there is time to talk.
I thrust my hoe into the mellow ground,
Blade end up and five feet tall,
And plod; I go up to the stone wall
For a friendly visit."

The Rector will preach and conduct a Healing Service in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday at 7:30 P. M.

The Rector will speak in the First Baptist Church, Haddonfield, N. J., on Wednesday, October 6th, at 8 P. M.

The Rector will be a speaker at the Third Spiritual Healing Seminar to be held at Wainwright House in Rye, N. Y., October 3rd to 5th. Dr. Paul Tillich, Dr. Cyril Richardson, Dr. Albert Day, Mrs. Agnes Sanford, Dr. John Large along with a half dozen medical doctors, the same number of psychologists and psychiatrists, and a number of clergy and laymen, and hospital Chaplains, will be in attendance.

On Sunday, October 10th, from 1 to 5 P. M. there is to be a reunion of the hostesses and workers of the St. Stephen's Service Club, in the Community House, where they will relive the exciting war-days over again.

WORKERS' COMMUNION

Sunday, October 3rd, is World-Wide Sunday. We combine our annual "Workers' Communion" with this great day, and invite our young people, and all active members of our parish organizations. We ask them to begin the Fall Season at the Altar, to present their activities, and to ask God's blessing upon all we do.

The Women's Committee of the Burd School invites you to attend a Card Party and Bazaar on Thursday afternoon, October 14th, at 1:30 P. M., 4226 Baltimore Avenue. Tickets $1.25. Prizes and Refreshments. Please bring playing cards.

We ask you keep in mind the 16th Annual Bazaar to be held in the Community House by the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing. The date is Thursday, October 7th, from 10 A. M. to 9 P. M.

The Woman's Auxiliary has granted 26 full-year and summer scholarships to young women training for full-time Christian work. The Auxiliary's Executive Board also has approved the appointment of six new women workers.

Eight new missionaries this year were appointed for overseas work: two in Haiti, three in Honolulu, and one each for the Virgin Islands, Alaska, and Panama.

BE PATIENT

"Be patient then, brothers, till the arrival of the Lord. See how the farmer waits for the precious crop of the land, biding his time patiently until he gets the autumn and the spring rains. Have patience yourselves; strengthen your hearts . . ." So the modern translator gives us that 7th verse of the 5th Chapter of James. Everyone who has lived on a farm, or raised vegetables in the back yard, will understand those words. We are patient for a very practical reason—because it is worthwhile; Only through real patience, and careful tending, can we hope for a good yield. It is worthwhile to be patient.

The same is true of the art of living. Only by enduring patience can we make a difference in the lives of others. Only by enduring patience can we lead our children into the kind of a life which is worth living forever. The father of John Wesley once said to Mrs. Wesley, "How could you have had the patience to tell that blockhead the same thing twenty times over?" "If I had told him nineteen times, I should have lost all my labor," was the quiet reply. Had John Wesley been left in the hands of his impatient father, we might have had no powerful ambassador of Christ. But, because he had a patient mother, he learned at last; and his whole life lay under the command of His Master, who used it with contagious power. It is worthwhile to be patient.

We sometimes wonder how God can be so patient with His perverse and thick-headed children. Robert Ingersol, the cocky orator of the last century, once took out his watch, and laid it on the lecture table, saying, "I'll give God five minutes to strike me dead for the things I've said." In dramatic silence he waited until the watch ticked off the 5 minutes, while his audience sat in terrified suspense. The newspapers gave the incident big headlines. But one thoughtful citizen commented, rather dryly, "And did he think he could exhaust the patience of God in 5 minutes?"

God is long-suffering with each one of us, and with His whole family. And God is all-wise—He would not be patient unless patience were the way of wisdom. God leads the way in showing that it is eternally worthwhile to be patient.

ARE YOU A COMMUNICANT OF ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH?

Although a great deal more attention is being paid to the importance of transfers from one Parish to another, when a communicant moves to a new home, we still have on our records many people, who while faithfully making their communions in St. Stephen's have never been "canonically transferred" from their old Parishes. These we have to list as confirmed persons, when they should be communicants. A whole section of Canon 16 of the Canons of the Church is concerned with instructions regarding transfers when people move from one Parish to another. If you have been confirmed in St. Stephen's, you are counted as a communicant here. If you have any doubt as to having been transformed from a former Parish, will you take it up with the Rector? Our work is just this—seeing that our people really belong to us, and that they are not counted twice, or, worse still, not counted at all.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the annual appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of St. Stephen's Church. Last year, the Benevolent Society sent 5,507 pieces of sewing at a cost of $443.57 for Episcopal, Jefferson, Presbyterian, Woman's Hospital and Visiting Nurses Society. The materials for these garments are supplied by the hospitals and the Benevolent Society pays women to sew these articles in their homes. Five hundred dollars will just about cover estimated expenses for the season 1954-55. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing, and also the hospitals who desperately need the articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

LIVE ALL YOUR LIFE

A little girl wrote a letter to her minister who had become an army Chaplain, and was stationed in a dangerous spot overseas. Out of her affection for him, she ended her letter, "I hope you will live all of your life." When you stop, and think that over, it is rather a wonderful wish—that her friend would keep on truly living wherever he was, whatever he was doing, or whatever dangers were around him. That is my desire for you, that you will "LIVE all your life," that even the toughest days may have enough of victory in them to be joyous; enough of peace in them to be quietly confident; enough of faith in them to be filled with courage.

My experience leads me to believe that the only sure way to do this is to live very close to God. As the turbo-supercharger enables an aeroplane to maintain full power at an altitude of thirty thousand feet, where an ordinary plane has lost four-fifths of its power, so the Christian who walks with his God, listening and obeying, keeps strong as the toughest heights of life. Men who have been in great peril tell me that they have found this true. Friends, faced with the need of helping someone in deep waters, tell me that, after praying, the way opened up, and the friend came through with flying colors. The fact is that God is stronger than any temptation, any danger; and the person who has God in his heart is unconquerable.

When Dr. Patton was translating the New Testament into an island language, he found great difficulty in finding a native word for "faith." While in his study one day, deep at work on the translation, one of his native teachers came in hot and exhausted after a long walk. He threw himself down on the cane chair, put his feet up on another, and wiping his forehead, he used a word which meant, "I'm resting my whole weight here." Instantly Dr. Patton had the word he wanted. You simply "rest your whole weight" on God, day after day—then indeed you will "live all of your life."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Walker have presented the clergy of St. Stephen's Church with an oscillating, two-speed electric fan for use in the Chancel of the Church. Many thanks!

HOW BIG SHOULD A CHRISTIAN BE?

Dr. Gilbert Guffin, president of the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary, propounded a provocative question, indeed. "How big should a Christian be?" He answered his interrogation with the words of Paul, the Apostle, "Till we all come . . . into a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ." (Eph. 4:13).

1. Am I big enough to forgive and forget?
2. Am I big enough to love all men and keep on loving them for Christ's sake?
3. Am I big enough not to be offended?
4. Am I big enough to "keep on" when others receive the glory?
5. Am I big enough to be faithful to my office?
6. Am I big enough to give at least as much as was required of the faithful Jew that my Church and the cause of Christ may prosper?
7. Am I big enough to speak well of my fellow church members?

We gratefully acknowledge the following subscriptions to the Bulletin: Rembert T. Edsall, Mrs. Chris M. Haage, Miss Helen Ligget, Miss Helen F. Mockett, Mrs. Thomas Toomey, Mrs. Anna M. Troth, Mrs. Harry J. Hauger, Mrs. John MacDougal, Mrs. Daisy Raynor, Mr. Stumpf, (an anonymous contributor.) Mrs. J. Granville Leach, Jr., Nicholas L. Todd.

YOU ARE INVITED to consider membership in this church. If you believe in God and wish to take your stand in fellowship with others—do so now. These are days of daring challenge to all of us who uphold Christ. The ministers of this church will be glad to confer with you about the meaning of membership here and invite your inquiry.

AS OTHERS SEE US

The Rev. Lewis L. Dunnington, a distinguished Methodist Minister of Iowa City, quotes the Rector in four pages of his book, "The Inner Splendor."

In a leading article in the Christian Herald in the June issue, the work of St. Stephen's Church in the Ministry of Healing was cited.

ST. STEPHEN'S GOES "OVER THE TOP"

The Diocese assigned us a quota of $6,000.00 for the Builders for Christ Fund, a very ambitious amount. We have now reached $6,025.00. This was made possible by the generous pledges and gifts from 124 persons. May their names be inscribed in gold in the Book of Good Deeds. Praise the Lord!

We acknowledge additional pledges towards the Builders For Christ Campaign from the Rev. and Mrs. Earl C. Sensor, Mrs. Ellen Vail.

SIGNED WITH HIS CROSS

It was Helen Keller, deaf and blind from birth, but who could see and hear with her mind, who said: "There is no king who has not had a slave among his ancestors, and no slave who has not a king among his."

We are joint heirs together with Christ. If it is royalty you seek, go no further. Every man, signed with His cross, is a Prince of God.

Put on your wedding garment. It is God's gift to you. The Christian, i.e., Christ's Man, is privileged to be always at the Feast. Think of it, "The fullness of the Kingdom of Heaven" is always at your disposal. Then why persist in dwelling in the "beggarly elements" of our mortal flesh? Look up, not down. We should ever walk in quiet faith, clothed and fed from above, in companionship with a King, even our Lord Jesus Christ, we walk our way through life. Come then whatever may of stresses and strains, as come they will, we find at the point of our greatest weakness His strength . Yes, we find it good to walk with Him in simple trust and faith. "Fear not little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the Kingdom."

Dr. Harold Royle, a physician (lay delegate to the Anglican Congress and the World Council of Churches from Australia), will give two lectures in St. Stephen's Church on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 7th and 8th at 8 P. M., on the subject of the cooperation of the Clergyman and the Doctor in treating the sick. BRING A FRIEND!

ARE YOU GOING TO COLLEGE?

Which college? That is a question facing many young people as they graduate from high school and look forward to college. I took my college work at the University of Pennsylvania, my Senimary work at Harvard, post-graduate work at Oxford, England. Big colleges and universities are excellent, but if I had it to do over again, I think I would choose a small college. There is a spirit about a small college you miss in a larger one. You are more of an individual that just one of several thousand students, and the relationship between student and teacher is a more personal one. In addition to this, often in small colleges the professors are less secular and materialistic in their presentation than in larger institutions. We might name many more reasons for going to a smaller college than a larger one.

Most of the great colleges started out as church-sponsored institutions—Harvard, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Temple, Yale, and others. Some have lost their spiritual ideals in their bid for size and importance. But there are still a few which are really church colleges, and instead of students coming out of them with their feet planted firmly in mid-air, as is sometimes the case, students of smaller schools graduate more often with some spiritual ideals and purpose in life. And these are the best insurance policies toward future success. Students from any school, however, who graduate with only a diploma, a degree and little else, have not much to build upon. In this day of moral confusion, a college graduate needs much more than a college diploma to be a success. He needs something of a Christian character and spiritual ideals.

I would like to call your attention to several good church colleges with a high record for achievement and standing—Hobart (Geneva, N. Y.), Amherst (Amherst, Mass.), Kenyon (Gambier, Ohio), Trinity (Hartford, Conn.), University of the South (Swanee, Tenn.). And there are others. You would do well to write for catalogues from these schools and use them to help you in making your choice of a good college.

LAST ISSUE

This is the last issue of St. Stephen's Bulletin until September. It is not published in July and August.

The regular Sunday Services, 9 A. M., 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M., will continue throughout the summer.

The Wednesday Noon-Day Service and the 5:30 P. M. Service will continue, as well as the Communion Service on Fridays at 12:30 P. M.

During the Rector's absence, the Rev. A. A. Attenborough will be in charge.

DIRECT GIVING

We carry on the Church's work by direct giving. We have found the envelope way the best way. No bills are sent out; you give as your conscience dictates, and are under no obligation to us. You may receive from the Envelope Secretary, Mrs. Harry J. Hauger, a receipt for income tax purposes upon application. Your giving is as spiritual as your worship. The envelope way is your thoughtful, considered regular way of furthering the work of the Kingdom. You are no further away from that work than your Church Envelope. A vigorous, active congregation working to the glory of God is mirrored in its envelope subscribers, for the Kingdom's work is financed by them and blessed of God.

The Rector will preach and conduct a Service of Spiritual Healing at St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday, July 4th, at 7:30 P. M.

If you would perpetuate your Christian Service, remember St. Stephen's in your will.

BUILDERS FOR CHRIST

The total gifts and pledges towards the Builders For Christ Campaign have reached $5,940.00 from 121 individuals and organizations. We acknowledge with grateful appreciation pledges towards this fund from Miss Marion E. Baker, Mr. Elmer S. Carll, Mrs. George R. Bishop, Mr. Charles Romanovsky, Miss Nellie V. Miller.

OUR NEW ORGANIST

The Rector and Vestry are happy to announce that Mr. John H. Henzel is to succeed Dr. Matthews as Organist and Choir Director of St. Stephen's Church.

Mr. Henzel is thirty years of age, is married and has three children. For the past five years he has been Organist of Grace Lutheran Church in Norristown. He is also Organist at Adath Jeshrun Synagogue, Broad and Diamond Streets, where he plays on Friday and Saturdays. He is presently a teacher of the piano, organ and voice and is connected with Zapf's Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Henzel was confirmed in St. Simeon's Episcopal Church and sang in the Boys' Choir there for about ten years. He studied the organ under William Timmings at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Elkins Park and latterly has been a pupil of Dr. Matthews. He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1947 with a degree of Master of Science in Education. He is an Associate of the American Guild of Organists.

During the War he served with the 87th Division, and was wounded in the Battle of the Bulge.

DR. H. ALEXANDER MATTHEWS

On September 1st Dr. H. Alexander Matthews will resign his position of Organist and Choir Director of St. Stephen's Church and retire to Madison, Connecticut, where he plans to devote his full time to composition. Dr. Matthews has been with us for the past 16 years and during this time he has maintained a very high standard of musical excellence.

As a teacher, organist, conductor and composer, Dr. Matthews has exerted tremendous influence for good on hundreds of musicians who have come under his influence, and through some 500 musical compositions that influence will go on for many, many years to come, enriching the musical life of the Christian Churches.

We extend to Dr. Matthews our heartiest gratitude for all that he has meant to us over the years and wish him all happiness in the years that lie ahead.

If you would perpetuate your Christian Service, remember St. Stephen's Church in your will.

The Rector will address the Ministers' League of Allentown and vicinity on June 21st at St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

The Rector and his family will spend July in Avon-by-the-Sea, New Jersey, and he will preach Sundays in St. John's Church.

Dear Alfred:

Thanks for sending me the record of your trip abroad. I found it most interesting. It is not often we get on the inside of the news and from a discerning and yet sympathetic reporter.

Every Good Friday I am with you in St. Stephen's at the three-hour Service. That was an indelible memory of my short Episcopate in Pennsylvania. I have taken over a year old Mission in a college town, Claimont, and am now a Vicar. Why did anyone ever want to be a Bishop?

This Good Friday I conducted The Three Hour Passion Service in an auditorium of Scripps College with 150 in attendance. The same meeting at the foot of the Cross took place as I felt I was in St. Stephen's.

Affectionately, Wm. P. Remington

BUILDERS FOR CHRIST

The Rector has been thrilled by the spirit of earnest, united, whole-hearted and sincere Christian consecration on the part of our membership that has made possible the raising of five thousand dollars for the Builders for Christ Campaign. True, we have not reached our goal of six thousand dollars, but we have done our best to present this challenge to every person interested in the program of the Church. We now conclude the Campaign efforts this Whitsunday as we had promised.

The Rector is very grateful for the very effective labors of Mr. I Smith Raspin and Mr. Wilson Leithead whose personal solicitations brought such prompt and generous results.

As we go to press, 97 individuals willingly, cheerfully, and with earnest enthusiasm have pledged the sum of $5,244.00.

The Rector will preach and conduct a Healing Service in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening.

Our thanks are extended to Mr. Harry Lyster for 25 Memorial Prayer Books and 25 Memorial hymnals given in memory of George and Annie Lyster.

OUR ANNUAL SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC will be held at Menlo Park, Perkasie, on Saturday, June 12th. We hope to have YOU with us.

HUMPTY DUMPTY

What is there that is sure to make a person truly thankful? Not a big bank account, nice as that may be—for many a wealthy person is leaden-hearted. Not a healthy body—for many an athlete is grim of spirit. And a Humpty Dumpty (a friend of Margaret Applegarth's) can be deep-down grateful!

He was an air-pilot who had to bail out, and had a great fall, as the parachute did not work correctly. And all the King's doctors and surgeons could not put him together again—so he called himself "Humpty Dumpty". In fact, to save his life, they had to remove his arms and legs. So at first he lay in his hospital bed filled with despair. But a new idea (especially if it comes from God) can drive out an old idea. Suddenly Humpty Dumpty saw a job that he could do a dozen times a day; and do more convincingly than anyone else, just because he was a cripple.

For when somebody stopped by his bed to cheer him up, what was more natural than to say, "Do me a little favor, will you, please? Reach in my locker and get me that little blue book in there, and find me the place called John 3:16, and read me what it says." The nurse had to reach into the locker, and read it. The orderly . . . the matron . . . the patients, one by one . . . the neighbors who called from his home town. Everybody fumbling through his Book, to find his text, and hear the story which Humpty Dumpty told them of the super day of his super joy when the Padre had come along and read that verse to him first. And the reading he could not possibly do alone without his legs to walk to his locker, or arms to reach in and get it out, everybody else did gladly.

The next week the surgeon could hardly believe his eyes. "Man alive!" he cried, "You're better." "Yes, sir, I'm doing fine now, thank you." "But what on earth changed you?" Humpty Dumpty was waiting for this, and practice had made him perfect. "Would you kindly reach in my locker, Sir, and lift out that little blue Book?" The surgeon looked at it curiously. "And now if you will kindly turn to John 3:16, and read me what it says, then you'll see what's been happening to me, sir." The surgeon found himself reading the words, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only-begotten Son, that whoso believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." The pilot looked up eagerly. "I've discovered that I'm Whosoever! I believed every word of it. I realized that I need not perish! And I'm better!"

The surgeon was so deeply interested that Humpty Dumpty asked him to keep the Bible—which he did with warm gratitude. So Humpty Dumpty had his locker filled with Testaments—enough so that he could give one to anyone who stopped by to see him. And when a friend came often to see him, Humpty Dumpty would check up, asking, "What did you read this morning? What did it say? Would you mind finding it again and reading it to me—I don't happen to know the place." And then he would listen and say, "Isn't it simply tops! Every word of it checks." Lost in this round of delight, he became so full of strength that the doctors decided that he had the grit to learn to use artificial arms and legs. He learned—and now he smiles, saying, "And I'm the guy that dared ask, "Can God do anything for me?" Yet now I can go places preaching!" So he became a Padre himself, a minister of God's power.

Today the truly thankful people are those who have discovered that God has something for them to do—and are doing it!

WE DIDN'T MAKE IT! The "Builders for Christ" fund is $5,665.00 towards St. Stephen's share of $6,000.00. Who will help close the gap? Gifts may be placed in alms basin or sent to the Church office.

The following letter is typical of the fine spirit that motivated a number of friends of our Parish to contribute to this fund:

"Dear Dr. Price: The enclosed check will in a small way help your church to reach its goal in 'Builders For Christ.' While we are not members, your church has been of great help to us and we want to return in small part what has been given to us. Sincerely, T. M."

BURD DAY

The Misses Carol Austin, Patricia Riley and Aileen Wood will be graduated from the Burd School on Saturday, June 19th, at 2:30 P. M. You are cordially invited to the interesting program. The Burd School is at 4226 Baltimore Avenue.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Rector dedicated an Altar Cross in May made by Elmer Newkirk for use in the Primary Department; and also dedicated a Cross and Candlesticks made from the famous Lutherbaum tree in Worms, Germany, to be used on the Kindergarten Altar.

We acknowledge pledges towards the Builders For Christ Campaign from Mr. Harry Lyster, Mr. James O. Lyman, Mrs. Lida Trautner, Miss Mildred Leach, Miss Charlotte Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Semon, Mrs. Leona Dickhart, Miss Jean V. D. Price, Mrs. Leon Merrow and additional pledges from Dr. Herbert Old and Mr. Edwin S. Heins.

PASTORAL PSYCHOLOGY

In Pastoral Psychology Magazine, published with such outstanding men on the Editorial Advisory Board as William C. Menninger, M.D.; John A. P. Millet, M.D., American Rehabilitation Committee; Luther E. Woodward, Ph.D., New York State Department of Mental Hygiene; The Rev. Ernest E. Bruder, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington, D. C.; The Rev. Russell L. Dicks, The Divinity School, Duke University; The Rev. David D Eitzen, School of Religion, University of Southern California; The Rev. Halford E. Luccock, Yale University Divinity School; Rollo May, Ph.D., Consulting Psychologist, New York City; This magazine has devoted the May issue to the Church and Spiritual Healing. The editorial was written by The Rev. Otis R. Rice, Executive Director, Department of Pastoral Services, National Council of Churches. Charles S. Braden, Professor, History and Literature of Religions, Northwestern University, wrote an article on "Study of Spiritual Healing in the Churches." "Spiritual Healing in the Light of History", by Cyril C. Richardson, Washburn Professor of Church History, Union Theological Seminary. "Science and Spiritual Healing," by Gotthard Booth, M.D., Associate of the Seminar on Religion and Health, Columbia University. "Pastoral Psychology and Faith Healing," by Wayne E. Oates, Professor of Pastoral Care, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. "The Relation of Religion and Health" by Paul Tillich, Professor of Philosophical Theology, Union Theological Seminary.

In the article on "Spiritual Healing in the Churches", Charles S. Braden says, "I think it can be said that the Episcopal Clergy seems to be taking the matter more seriously than the others." We are very happy to have this notice made. There are two Societies within the Episcopal Church in the United States that have devoted themselves to Spiritual Healing in the Church. One is the Society of St. Luke the Physician, which has the Magazine "Sharing", a very good one. Dr. Garner Banks was the founder of this Society and did much in establishing the consciousness of healing in the church. He conducted many Missions all through this country as well as in Europe. His wife, Ethel, is carrying on the magazine "Sharing." The other Society is the Life Abundant Movement, which was founded by Dr. Robert B. H. Bell. Dr. Bell was a pioneer in this many years ago and has throughout the years established many Healing Centers within the church. His book "Intelligent Living" is a classic. It has a Foreword written by the Rt. Rev. Francis E. I. Bloy, D.D. This book was received with great enthusiasm in England. Dr. Bell is well over eighty and is very active, conducting classes in many churches in the Diocese of Los Angeles. He also is president of the Commission of Healing in the Diocese of Los Angeles and holds weekly classes in the Cathedral. It is through these two Societies in the Church that people have been made conscious of God's Healing Power.

There is a Commission on Religion and Health in the Council of Churches. A Survey was made of the Churches which have Healing. The percentage showed that the Episcopal Church rated highest. "Percentage-wise the Episcopalians rated highest in the number of healings in proportion to the number reporting; 65% of them had engaged in healing by Spiritual means. Other percentages were: Presbyterians 39%; Lutherans 38%; United Brethren 30%; Methodists and Disciples 29%; and Baptists 25%."—from "Study of Spiritual Healing in the Churches."

For this evening's Service we have the great honor and pleasure of the presence and fine singing of the Choir of St. Michael's Lutheran Church, Mr. Leeds' Sunday Morning Choir.

We extend a hearty welcome to the fellowship of St. Stephen's Church, Mr. William Ridge Myers, who was confirmed last Sunday.

BUILDERS FOR CHRIST

The $4,150,000 Builders for Christ drive, sponsored by the Episcopal Church to meet urgent construction needs at home and abroad has now been launched and the responses to the Campaign throughout the country have been most dramatic. Every indication points to a speedy culmination and the attainment of this goal.

Here in St. Stephen's Parish 54 individuals have given or pledged $3,500.00. Our goal is $6,000.00. If 75 individuals will pledge but 50 cents a week and 15 individuals pledge $1.00 a week, for the next 12 months, we will go over the top. Surely this does not seem too much to ask. May we hear from you today!

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation pledges to the Builders for Christ Campaign from the following persons:

Mrs. George R. Bishop, Mr. Frank B. McMullin, Miss Mae Snedden, Miss Theresa E. King, Mr. George T. Gibb, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Walker, Miss Marion Slatcher, The Rev. and Mrs. Attenborough, the Rector, Miss Margaret L. Gill, Dr. Herbert Old, Mr. I. Smith Raspin, Mr. Roland Bickerstaff, Mrs. Florence P. Reath, Mr. Edward S. CITIZEN OF THE WORLD

The true citizen of today is a citizen of the world, whose first loyalty is to God and all God's children everywhere. Patriotism comes as a second loyalty to be checked, disciplined, and determined by the first and greater loyalty. Unless the world is to move backward, we must deliberately foster a growing consciousness of the oneness and intimacy of human life.

Christianity is a fellowship divine and human—here and hereafter. Therefore, it is for the Christian Church so clearly and persistently to lead the way that we shall win a worthy peace.

Our enemies, Communism, Fascism, and every expression of selfishness, are the reversion of civilized man to the order of tooth and claw, of lust and greed and stupidity. They are a denial of God and His Christ. Their greatest effort is to obliterate this ideal of Christian Citizenship which recognizes the brotherhood of man, under the Fatherhood of God, and the constantly higher standards of humanity in modern civilization which have emerged from it.

Therefore, as Christians, the task which lies before us demands our consecration and absolute loyalty: to create in men mutual understanding and help, which slowly but with determination shall advance the world toward brotherhood and true peace.

Nothing short of this is a worthy Memorial to those men whom we with reverent and grateful hearts remember on Memorial Day.

Serve Thou, O God, the Nation's need;
The healing leaves restore;
Give us the courage, vision, strength,
That blest the days of yore!
The heritage we must preserve,
Whatever the cost may be:
Vouchsafe, O Lord, the lights of old,
To bring us back to Thee!

DEVOTIONAL CORNER
A PRAYER OF PERSONAL CONSECRATION

"O Lord God of Hosts, in the vision of those who have responded to the call of this world's need, and have laid down their lives that this Nation may live; we hereby dedicate ourselves to the unfinished task which they have committed to us, that their sacrifice may not have been in vain.

"Grant, O God, that the spirit which bore our Lord Jesus Christ to the Cross may abide in us, and lift up our lives into fellowship with Him, so that, partaking of His power, we may carry on to a just conclusion our present endeavors for the freedom of the world and for permanent peace and good-will among the nations of the earth. Accept, O Lord this our consecration, for the sake of Him Who laid down His life for the eternal welfare of the world, Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen."

BUILDERS FOR CHRIST

Seventy-two individuals and organizations in St. Stephen's Parish have pledged $4,227.00 towards the Builders for Christ Campaign. This is a very fine accomplishment and represents sacrificial giving and loyalty to the Church's need.

There are still sufficient numbers of people in our Church who are able to raise the additional $1,775.00 that is needed to meet our quota of $6,000.00, if everyone will do his part.

We would like to complete our Campaign by Whitsunday, June 6th. If ten people will pledge $100.00; five people pledge $75.00 and twelve people pledge $25.00, our goal will be reached. Payments may be made any time during the next twelve months.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation additional pledges to the Builders For Christ Campaign from the following: Mr. Fred Schmid, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Matthews, Mr. William G. Porter, Miss Katharine Field, Mrs. Effie G. Smith, Miss Katharine Kennedy, Mrs. Clara Schmid, Mr. J. Lewis Armstrong, The King's Daughters, Mr. Joseph Frutchey, Mrs. Margaret Poole, Mrs. C. S. Slatcher, Miss Mabel Pursell, Mr. Edwin S. Heins, Mrs. Kathryn Schrott, Mr. Frank McCloskey, Miss Mae Snedden, Miss Nancy E. Troth, Mrs. Frances Kalich, Mrs. Frances Loverin, Mrs. Edith Taxis, Mrs. Florence Baratelli, Miss Mary Forbes.

The Rector will attend the 25th reunion of his class at the Episcopal Theological School, in Cambridge, Mass., on June 2nd and 3rd.

We gratefully acknowledge the following Bulletin subscriptions: John Charles Adams, Harry H. Bush, Mrs. Walter Christy, Mary McEwen.

The Rev. and Mrs. Gustav C. Meckling and the Chapel for Hard of Hearing will have the annual Garden Party at Mr. Meckling's home on Saturday, June 5th, afternoon, to 5 P. M. Proceeds from sale of refreshments are used for repairs to our hearing aids.

Keep in mind the date for St. Stephen's Sunday School picnic, June 12th.

To follow Jesus Christ as my Lord and Savior;
To pray daily;
To worship God every Sunday in His Church;
To receive regularly, with due preparation, Holy Communion.
To work and give for the spread of His Kingdom.

Sign and place in Alms Basin at time of offering.

CITY MISSION

On Tuesday, May 18th, 2:30 P. M., there will be a re-dedication Ceremony of the City Mission Offices, at 225 South Third Street. Bishop Hart will preside. Mrs. Theodore O. Wedel of Washington will speak on "Health and Welfare Needs of the Nation and the Place of the Church Agency." A reception and tea follows the short formal Re-dedication Ceremony. Everyone in the Diocese is invited.

BUILDERS FOR CHRIST

St. Stephen's Church is now engaged in the task of achieving its goal of $6,000.00 which is its share of the Episcopal Church's Campaign for $4,150,000.00. This appeal for capital funds is for two fundamentally important objectives of the Church's life; her Ministry and her Missionary Work. The Four Million Dollar Fund, being sought by the Church nationally, will be used to improve the equipment of our Divinity Schools, and to provide greatly needed buildings for hospitals, schools and churches in many parts of the world. Half of the funds raised will go to our eleven Seminaries, the other half to the Missionary objectives.

We plan to raise our Parish Quota in this way: by pledges to be paid in twelve installments extending over a year. By this method it is hoped that many of us who could not give much at one time may be enabledto have a larger share in the total amount raised. Pledge Cards were mailed to our membership last week. Mr. I. Smith Raspin assisted by Mr. Wilson Leithead are busy contacting many of our loyal members by mail and telephone to expedite our plans. The Rector earnestly asks our people to respond generously, as they always have, to the full extent of our ability.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

The Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House immediately following the Confirmation Service, Sunday, May 16th. There will be held the Annual Election to the Vestry. A Buffet Luncheon will be served. A Reception to the newly confirmed members of our Church will follow. The Rector will show some colored slides of his recent trip to Germany. Plan to attend this happy social hour!

The Rector will speak to the members of the Canterbury Club of the University of Pennsylvania this evening.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING is a free will gift. Mrs. Wilson Leithead, our Parish Custodian, asks the women of the Church to empty the Blue Boxes twice a year; in the Spring and in the Fall. The contents are to be placed on the offering plate at the 11 o'clock service this morning, in an envelope plainly marked, "United Thank Offering."

PRAYERS ON ENTERING AND LEAVING CHURCH

Sometimes people wonder what to say when they kneel before a service or in the quiet moment of prayer just before leaving. The two prayers below were found in an old lady's Prayer Book, written by her on the back of a small picture of the Good Shepherd:

O Lord, I am now in thy presence; help me by thy Holy Spirit, that I may be ready to offer the sacrifice of praise, and to hear thy Holy Word. Guard my mind from wandering thoughts, and my body from irreverent actions, and make my service acceptable unto thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Lord, my Heavenly Father, I thank thee for letting me come to thy House of Prayer. Do forgive whatever thou hast seen wrong in me, in thought or deed, and grant that the words which I have heard in my ears I may believe in heart, and what I believe in my heart I may show forth in my life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

HYMNAL AND PRAYER BOOK MEMORIALS

There are available large size Prayer Books and Hymnals for the use of our congregation. An attractive book-plate may be placed on the inside cover for those who wish to memorialize some dear one. The cost of each book is one dollar. You may provide any number of books you choose.

If you wish to take advantage of this opportunity, give the information desired, insert it with your contribution in an envelope, and place on the offering plate, or hand it to an usher. If more convenient, mail it to the Church Office:

MOTHER

"She stretcheth out her hand to the poor, yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy.
"Strength and honor are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come.
"She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness.
"She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.
"Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.
"Many daughters have done worthily, but thou excellest all." Proverbs 31

CRUSADE

WHAT FOR? To start churches in the new communities that are springing up here and there in great numbers; to equip our Theological Schools to train Ministers to fill the pulpits and give leadership to these new churches.
BY WHOM? All the Episcopal Churches in the United States.
FOR WHAT AMOUNT? $4,150,000.00
WHAT IS OUR SHARE? St. Stephen's Church is expected to raise $6,000.00 of this amount.
WHEN? During the next few weeks. Members are asked to bring their pledges to the church.
YOUR SHARE? If every member will pledge at least twice as much to this Crusade as he or she gives each year to the Red Side of the Duplex Envelope and, those who can, will give more, the Goal will be reached.
TERMS? Payment may be made anytime within the next fourteen months. That will spread the payments over two income tax years. Payments to this fund are deductible from your tax returns.
WHY DO WE ALL HAVE A RESPONSIBILITY? We have a Church here because a previous generation of churchmen started it. We have been beneficiaries of the generosity of our fathers. We must match their generosity with our own. What they did for us, we must do for those who come after us. A Churchless community is not and cannot be the guardian of the liberties we hold dear. Where the Cross of Christ is lifted, the Sickle of Communism will not reap its terrible harvest.

The Rector has been invited to preach in St. John's Church, Washington, D. C., on the first Sunday evening of each month for the next year. He preached and conducted a Healing Service on May 2nd and will preach again on June 6th. Dr. Leslie Glenn is the Rector of St. Johns' Church.

The North Philadelphia Convocation meets in the Church of the Resurrection, Broad and Tioga Streets, on Tuesday, May 11th.

On April 23rd a Memorial Service was held in St. Stephen's Church for Mrs. Miriam Allen of Detroit.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

Once again it is time for the semi-annual collection of the United Thank Offering. Mrs. Ruth Leithead, Custodian of the Offering for St. Stephen's Church, asks that you turn in the Contents of your Blue Boxes at the Eleven O'clock Service on May 16th.

No Woman in St. Stephen's Church needs to be told how much good is accomplished by this Offering. If there are any who do not have a Blue Box they may get them at the vestibule of the Church.

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH

The Christian Church needs you and every other person in an active relationship today. She is being asked what she can contribute toward the creation of a better world. Obviously the strength of her answer depends in part upon the number of persons who belong to her fellowship. The Church needs you and you need the Church. Confirmation Service will be held on May 16th at 11 O'clock.

APPRECIATION

Dear Dr. Price:—The enclosed check is a very small contribution toward the cost of keeping your church open for prayer during week-days. The fact that it has been kept open has meant a very great deal to me—and I am sure that the same holds true for many other people. Perhaps the number of people who come into the church for silent prayer is small, but I am sure that it means a lot to each one who does enter your church.

While I leave a contribution each time I come, I wanted to add the enclosed check.

May I again say that your church is doing even more than you may be able to observe.

Sincerely, S. S.

BUILDERS FOR CHRIST

"Builders for Christ" will need the whole-hearted support of every member and friend of our Parish if it is to succeed.

St. Stephen's Church has been assigned $6,000.00 as the "share" for our Church towards the four million dollar goal. That is a great sum of money. It will only be realized through sincere prayer and hard work. Make use of the enclosed prayer during the coming days.

Next week we will send to every family a pledge card. We have twenty-four months to pay our pledges. The need is urgent. Everyone must mak a sacrificial pledge, if the goal is to be realized.

As we make our pledges for this great new venture as Builders for Christ, let us pray in the words of the prayer approved by the Presiding Bishop, Grant unto us all such a generous spirit that we may worthily rise to these fresh opportunities for service to Thee in Thy Holy Church.

IT IS FINISHED

Sometimes we look back at Holy Week, in the light of the Resurrection, and we understand more clearly those last dark days of Christ on earth. At the foot of the cross it was impossible to see what the young Master meant as He cried out, "It is finished"; for nothing seemed completed. A work of great promise seemed suddenly to be shattered; and the curtain seemed to be brought down too soon on a glorious young life that was just getting into its stride. That was the way Calvary looked to Mary, His mother. But Jesus had a way of meaning just what He said. And He said, "It is finished."

A writer has thrown illumination on these words of Jesus as he explains, "I can imagine a father saying the same thing to a son one morning when, after a term in prison, he was allowed his freedom. The boy is free now—free if he cares to make good and live once more in the company of free men. In the new life, through the grace of God, he could be born again; and he could say, with deep assurance, "It is finished. One life is over, and another begins."

So, in a different way, it was with Jesus. His life on earth, as the human Son of God, was over. No longer would He be imprisoned in the flesh; No longer bound to earth by feet that walk life's dusty roads. No longer would He be confined to a little country the size of Vermont. No, a new life was beginning, in which His spirit might walk and talk with any man, anywhere, at any time. He had passed from the littleness of earth to the greatness of eternity. The old life was finished! The new Life was beginning!

Even with us small human people, Easter can mean our release from a small life into a large one. For us it can mean that we leave behind our nasty, petty, spiteful ways; that we can be done with judging others, and sincerely accept God's help to rid ourselves of our sins. With the mighty, spring-time touch of Easter on our lives, we can stop saying, "I can't," and form the habit of saying to ourselves, "God helping me, I can!" Happy is the reader who, tonight, on bended knees, can cry out, "It is finished!" And move on into a new life, freed by accepting God's mighty, helping hand.

CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION

Bishop Armstrong will visit the Parish on Sunday, May 16th, at 11:00 A. M., to administer the rite of Confirmation. Instruction Class meets in the Rector's study on Sundays at 10:00 A. M.

The Rector would appreciate hearing from adults who would like, or think they would like, to be confirmed. Attendance at the classes does not oblige one to be confirmed. The decision may be made later. The Rector will gladly answer any questions about confirmation which may be in anybody's mind.

THE SIXTH ANNUAL PHILADELPHIA HEARING WEEK

will be opened in St. Stephens' Church with a Special Service Sunday evening, May 2nd, 1954.

In addition to greetings by Mrs. William H. Gravell, President of the Philadelphia Society for Better Hearing; and Mr. Samuel Goldberg, President of Friends of the Deaf; there will be an address by Miss Margaret Bodycomb, Formerly Dean of Education, Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, Mt. Airy, Phila., Pa.

The service will be conducted by the Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, Minister to the Hard of Hearing, St. Stephen's Church.

Mary Light, a leader in the ministry of Spiritual Healing, author of "Signs and Wonders," will give two lectures in St. Stephen's Church on May 4th and 5th, at 8 P. M. BRING A FRIEND!

We gratefully acknowledge the following Bulletin Subscriptions: Elmer S. Carll, Louise Costello, Frances E. Hobby, Mildred W. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. E. Nelson, Charles Romanovsky, Mrs. Bertha Tilliston.

On Easter Day, last Sunday, we enjoyed a lovely floral memorial placed on Dr. Wood's mural plaque by the Organ Players Club. We wish to express our appreciation to this organization of Church Organists who in this manner honor the memory of a fine Church Musician.

Many thanks to Mrs. Clara Schmid and her King's Daughters, who have done a very nice piece of work in hemming the new table cloths for the Community House.

Our church is a member of the Philadelphia Council of Churches which holds its annual meeting on Tuesday, April 27th at 7:45 P. M. in Arch Street Methodist Church. Delegates and friends are urged to be present.

The Rev. and Mrs. Attenborough wish to thank all those who so kindly remembered them at Easter.

DR. PRICE REPORTS ON VISIT TO AIR BASES IN GERMANY

We are living today in a military economy and as a result of the vast change which has taken place in the national life, the pattern of daily living for millions of our young people is radically different from what it was a few years ago. Approximately 3,600,000 Americans are today in military service. Every boy born during the next 25 years will spend at least two years in the Armed Forces. About the same number leave. There are a million more young men in the Armed Forces today than there are in all the institutions of higher education. It is estimated that in the two decades from 1941 to 1961 26,000,000 men will have gone in and out of the Armed Forces.

These millions of young people are away from their homes, schools, churches and all their normal associations. They are facing loneliness, insecurity and uncertainty about their future. They are exposed to greater moral temptations that at home.

The responsibility of the churches in the situation is manifold. They must give strong backing—both in spiritual support and in personnel—to the Chaplains in the Armed Forces.

I was very much impressed by the consecration of the Chaplains, by their great zeal in helping the men solve their personal problems, and by the wide co-operation and support they receive from the Air Force Command. The respected place of the Chaplaincy today is in marked contrast with its reception in World War I. I had an opportunity to observe the latter situation when I served as a private with the Marines in France. The Chaplain's ministry is no longer a limited ministry to men; now he serves them and their families. All the Air Bases I visited in Germany had flourishing Sunday Schools.

The growing awareness in military leaders of the spiritual needs of the three and a half million men in the Armed Forces is most significant. The American Churches are presented with a very special challenge—a challenge that every denomination is rallying to meet.

I want to say very definitely that I saw no evidence of low morale. In all the installations that I visited I found the men had a vivid sense of their mission. The officers and men were interested and responsive to my visit and enthusiastic to the efforts which the Chaplains are making. The Mission Services were extremely well attended.

I share the feeling of most Chaplains that I met that the teen-age boys should not be sent overseas. They are subjected to all the temptations that go with being away from home and living with a group of young people freed, in most cases, for the first time, from parental and home influences. Like the rest of the population of the United States, over half of these youngsters owe no allegiance to any religious body.

Herein lies a tremendous missionary opportunity offered to the Chaplaincy in winning the unchurched numbers to loyalty to Christ and His Church. There is need of fifty Episcopal Chaplains in the Armed Forces to fill our quota. There are 115 Episcopal Chaplains now on active duty. There are approximately 3,000 Chaplains in the Armed Forces. Our church must provide many of our best younger ministers for the Chaplaincy for it is one of the most strategic forms of the Christian ministry today.

The relationship between the Air Force representatives and the civilian population of Germany is excellent. Since the new regulations have been established encouraging the G. I.'s to wear civilian clothes when off duty, there is more fraternization with the educated Germans. The middle class Germans seem to fight shy of uniforms. In one Base I visited there were more invitations to fine German families than there were Army men available. Ever so many German civilians referred with enthusiasm and gratitude to the presence of the Air Force.

I was deeply impressed by the enormous potential for the resurgence of spiritual values among the German people who are still confused after decades of propaganda. The most enduring contribution America can make to German freedom is to make every effort to aid in the reconstruction of churches. Forty-five percent of all German Churches were shattered by our bombers and artillery.

Too high praise cannot be paid to the Airmen for the orphanages and nutrition centers they support. Their tremendous generosity will leave its mark on Germany for many years. They have planted seeds of good will and Christian kindness that will never be uprooted.

Domestic Missionary work goes on every day among many of this country's minority or underprivileged groups, such as migrant workers, Indians, and Negroes, and also among people living in rural or sparsely settled areas. $300,000 has been set aside out of the BUILDERS FOR CHRIST goal to provide most urgently needed church buildings in this country. Your generous and sacrificial contribution to the BUILDERS FOR CHRIST Campaign is extremely important for the strengthening of the Church's Work in our Seminaries, overseas, and at home.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH JESUS?

Harold Phillips, of Cleveland, writes disturbingly about the crowd at Jesus' trial: ". . . The Choice seems incredible. Here was a group of people presented with two men. One was a 'murderer' and 'robber'—a dangerous character as we would say. The other was a man who 'went about doing good.' 'I find no fault in Him,' said Pilate. These people were asked which man they preferred. They said, 'Barrabas.' 'What shall I then do with Jesus?' They replied, 'Let him be crucified.' That they should actually have voted for a murderer and a robber, and against the Christ they sent to the cross, seems hard to understand at first, until one truly prays and thinks about it. The fact that the public chose Barrabas, and rejected Jesus, reveals one of the strangest and most tragic facts about us human beings; we often choose the worst and reject the best."

This disturbs me, and it will disturb every reader who is awake. So we are not not reading about something that was finished long centuries ago, but something that takes place eternally in human life; something that is taking place shamefully today, right where you live and through all the earth. The crowd is ourselves—twenty times a day having to decide between hatefulness and kindness, between anger and patience, between selfishness and sacrifice, between Barrabas and Jesus. What shall we do with Jesus? We know that Jesus bids us to forgive a certain person we vowed we would forgive; but Barrabas counsels us to hang onto the grudge. What shall we do with Jesus? Jesus bids us love our enemies as much as we love ourselves (which is a lot!), and spend ourselves and our possessions on them with generosity; but Barrabas agrees that we can overdo a good thing, and be too generous. What shall we do with Jesus? Jesus reminds us that the people of Russia are also the children of God, and that we must resist every temptation to hate them; but Barrabas calls them unprintable names, and tries to inflame us with a deeper hate. What shall we do with Jesus?

We are the crowd, God forgives us! You are the crowd! What will you do with the Best? God Himself waits for your answer.

BEHOLD YOUR KING

Near the Capitol in Rome there stands an ancient building built when Christianity was still very young in the world. In one of its corridors is a stone bench where the little pages sat waiting for calls from their masters. On the wall, right over the bench, is scratched a rude cross with an out-stretched figure on it. Beneath it the mischievous artist had cartooned the face of one of his companions, and had written, "Silly Aleximos worships Jesus." The other boys had thought it strange that Aleximos should look up to Jesus Christ as his King.

For, as someone has pointed out, the world had never seen a King who had no possessions—"At His birth Jesus was born in a borrowed manger. He preached a sermon in a borrowed boat. He rode to Jerusalem on a borrowed beast. He ate His last Supper with His disciples in a borrowed room. He was buried in a borrowed grave. Yet it is the living, risen Son of God, without a shred of possessions, who stands before us, saying, "All authority has been given Me in heaven and in earth!"

Other kings have always needed to be propped up; have needed to lean against many supports—gold in the treasury, to buy men's souls; a host of marching legions to crush all opposition; games in the arena to keep the crowds in a good humor; bread to feed the hungry and prevent them from becoming dangerous. But Jesus Christ leaned on none of these supports. He leaned only on the Eternal God. the unseen and everlasting Father. And while the supports of other kings have always crumbled in the end, the Supporter of Jesus stood unshakable as Pilate's scowl, "Behold your King!"; stood firm as the mob yelled, "Crucify him! Crucify him!" Then Easter came, and the centuries began to file by; and the world began to see that true Kingliness needs no gold or armies to hold it up. Some men began to see that a kingly spirit stands unbroken before all the blows of life, because the Spirit of the Living God within a man is stronger than any enemy there is!

Still there are those today, both in communist lands and among the pagan millions of our land, who say, "Silly one—to worship Christ!" There is only one answer to that jeer—to put your trust in God so deeply that Jesus Christ can live in you, and work in you, and shine through you, day after day. It is your life, made victorious by Him, that answers all pagan jeering. It is His triumphs in your which could even draw the pagan ones to see their King!

LENTEN CANTATA

Dr. Matthews has written a companion Cantata to his highly successful "The Christmas Story." This Lenten Cantata is called "Gethsemane To Golgotha." The music critics have declared it to be one of the most important choral works of its type to be issued in the past 25 years. It calls for a chorus of mixed voices, with solos for Soprano, Alto, Tenor and Baritone. The usual Matthews' mark of melody and dramatic appeal are very much in evidence. High spots are the Contralto Solo, "Drop, drop, Slow Tears" and the Baritone or Contralto solo, "He was wounded for Our Transgressions." This Cantata will be given for the first time at St. Stephen's Church on Good Friday at 2 P. M.

BECAUSE

BECAUSE in a world of smothering collectivism the Church insists upon the dignity of the human spirit;
BECAUSE she is the custodian of the spiritual, and her teaching of each soul's priceless value under the sovereignty of God is Freedom's last bulwark;
BECAUSE the Church offers to pass on to my children the truths in which I have found life's highest meaning;
BECAUSE in her determination to build a brotherly society the Church alone calls me to a crusade big enough to engage all my powers and release the hero of my soul;
BECAUSE she offers refreshment to my spirit, companionship to my soul, and guidance to my mind;
BECAUSE she alone tells of Him who lived and died and arose in unconquerable love, revealing the Father in whose heart is compassion for the suffering, forgiveness for the penitent, strength for the weary and world-broken, and joyous communion for us all:

FOR THESE REASONS:

I will stand by the Church; I will give her my sacrificial devotion; to her I will dedicate a just proportion of my means that her influence may be enlarged, that her spirit may be edominant in my community, and her gentle ministry known to the earths' farthest ends.

CHRIST LOVED THE CHURCH AND GAVE HIMSELF
I WILL LOVE THE CHURCH AND GIVE MYSELF

LET GOD GUIDE YOU

Some religions have handed down many books of laws and regulations. But Jesus left only two simple rules which are enough for the whole of religion—"Love God" and "Love Thy Neighbor." Because Jesus was so close to God, He knew what God cares about most; and He was able to put all that God wants into those few words. They are enough to guide a man's life, even through the storms of today.

In ordinary days of peace, it used to be easy to imagine that we can save ourselves; that we can guide ourselves nicely without help. In times of prosperity and calm, we seemed to do very nicely indeed without God—we ate three meals a day, got our sleep, had a tight roof over our heads; had some pleasant friends; and thought that we could be content with that.

But today, in a world of turmoil and confusion, we begin to know how small we are. The night is dark and we are far from home; and, like little children, we want a strong hand to slip ours into. With loved ones in danger, far beyond the rim of the horizon, we know our need of a power vaster than ours. With the tangled, muddled affairs of mankind before our eyes, we know the necessity of a wisdom clearer than ours, to straighten out the world's mess.

So Wilfred Grenfeld, the hero of Labrador, once told this story: "In a northeast gale on North Labrador, I at once decided to run for a harbor called Boulter's Rock. The fog which had fallen since I had left the last port had shut it entirely from sight, but the rising sea and the approaching night—with no lighthouse, many rocks, and none too reliable a chart—made it our best chance. We had picked up a rock which I knew, and were heading for the narrow entrance, when I thought I saw seas breaking clear across the harbor mouth. What to do save the ship I did not know, when an old Newfoundland fisherman who was on the bridge with me said, "There's an entrance not much wider than the ship, under your lee. It's perfectly safe, if you strike. But you'll have to put your helm hard-up instantly." "You take the wheel," I said. It seemed a big venture. But he did it. I could not have saved the ship alone."

If your life is in heavy seas, it is wisdom for you to give over the guiding of your days into a wisdom greater than your own. Follow His simple rules of life. Let Him speak to you; and guide you. For you cannot save the ship alone!

On Sunday, May 16th, 1954, Bishop Armstrong will conduct a service of Confirmation here at St. Stephen's.

Confirmation is an act by which we confirm the vows made for us in Baptism, and by which God confirms in us His will that we be joined to Him. It is the act by which we become "grafted into the Body of Christ", and made a member of His Church.

Beginning next Sunday at 10:00 A. M. Mr. Attenborough will conduct Confirmation classes in the Rector's office. If you are not confirmed, but would like to be, or if you know of anybody who would like to be, please contact Mr. Attenborough.

Today you may hear Dr. Matthews' new Cantata, "Gethsemane to Golgotha," at St. Peter's Church. It will be presented at the 5 o'clock Vesper Service. St. Peter's is at 3rd and Pine Streets.

The Rector is anxious to have a number of Bible Study Classes established this Lent. He would like to have Mr. Attenborough invited to the homes of the parishioners to conduct these classes. Gather three or fifty of your friends, it makes no difference. Morning, Noon or night as far as his schedule permits, Mr. Attenborough would like to teach these groups.

YOUR OLD MAGAZINES may not be of any use to you, but there are people in hospitals who can make good use of them. Won't you bring some along with you next time you come to church? We will see that they are distributed to the sick.

Dr. Price will be especially pleased when he hears about the birth of his new grandson to Marine Sergeant John Alfred Price, at Parris Island, South Carolina, on March 16th, because he will be the second person to carry on the name of Dr. Price's father. The new member of the family, John Alfred Price III, has the good wishes of all members of St. Stephen's Church "family", we'd like to assure his parents.

MILK CAN

Last year $744.15 was contributed through the Milk Can on our Church steps for milk for the needy children of Korea and Europe. This money is disbursed by the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. The generosity of the passer-by is a constant source of inspiration to the Rector.

DO YOU HAVE DUPLEX ENVELOPES to enable you to contribute to St. Stephen's regularly and methodically? If not, please advise our office without delay and we will be happy to send you a package for the year.

The Burd School has received a very wonderful piano from Mrs. Draeger Gibbies for use in the chapel.

Miss Terry Kerry of the Burd School won a most distinguished scholastic report at the end of the half year period at Shaw Junior High School.

On Friday, April 2nd, the Philadelphia Council of the Boy Scouts of America will present to our Boy Scout Troop its charter for the coming year. Ceremony of presentation will be held. Your presence would be a very real way to show the interest of St. Stephen's Church in its fine Boy Scout Troop.

7:30 P. M.—HOLY COMMUNION & SERMON by Rev. Gustav C. Meckling

If a person wishes to show that Confucius was wonderful, he quotes some of his words of wisdom. But when a Christian wants to show God's glory he does not quote from one of Jesus' sermons—he points to the cross and says, "God is like that!" Whatever Jesus said can be understood only in the light of God's willingness to suffer for men.

The hallmark of Christianity is action, not words. We comprehend God fully in what He has done rather than in what men say about Him.

Margaret Applegarth tells of a Christian tribe in Africa. One Sunday when they were worshipping in their chapel an old man arrived late. He interupted the worship to announce that a neighboring village had been robbed and burned, and that many people had been injured. He suggested that all the women begin at once to prepare bundles of food and bandages, and that the men carry them down the trail. A younger member sprang to his feet, and shouted, "Sit down, brother! You must be crazy! That village is our bitter enemy. They have stolen from me many times." But the old man stood his ground. "It says in the Bible to love your enemy, to do good to them that curse you. This is the way to turn enemies into friends!" "But we will miss the sermon," the young man replied. "That will be the sermon," the old man delcared. And it was—for they left the church to bear gifts of love to their troubled neighbors.

Jesus said, "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father." When people meet you do they get a glimpse of God's Son living through you?

Our guest preacher today is the Very Rev. J. S. Ladd Thomas, Dean of the Temple University School of Theology. He was minister of a church in Germantown for 25 years before accepting his present position. He is well-known and well-loved in Philadelphia because he is a sincerely devoted Christian gentleman. We extend him a hearty welcome.

Bishop Armstrong will come to St. Stephen's for Confirmation on Sunday, May 16th. If you are interested in being confirmed please contact Mr. Attenborough.

Dr. Matthews' new cantata, "Gethsemane to Golgotha" is to be presented at St. Peter's Church, 3rd and Pine Streets, at 5:00 P. M. on March 28. This same cantata will be presented here at St. Stephen's for the first time on Good Friday at 1:00 o'clock, under the direction of Dr. Matthews.

We wish to remind everyone of the great convenience of being able to have lunch each Thursday in the Community House, before or after the Noon-Day Service.

We gratefully acknowledge the following Bulletin Subscriptions: Mrs. Anna Allen, Mrs. Irene Beitz, Carrie E. Campbell, Mrs. Edward H. Prouty, Mary Louise Wallace, Mrs. V. S. Wells.

WILL YOU REMEMBER THE CHURCH in your will? The following is taken from the Book of Common Prayer: "The Minister is ordered from time to time, to advise the people, whilst they are in health, to make wills arranging for the disposal of their temporal goods, and when of ability, to leave bequests for religious and charitable uses."

PATRICK HENRY'S WILL

I have now disposed of all my property to my family. There is one thing more I wish I could give them, and that is the Christian Religion. If they had that, and I had not given them one shilling, they would have been rich; and if they had not that, and I had given them all the world, they would be poor.

BRYAN GREEN'S EIGHT POINTS

Canon Green is a priest in the Church of England. He has visited the United States seven times since 1936—from New York to San Francisco.

When in Philadelphia in 1951, he gave us a list of eight points for a Christian Life. These eight points are:

(1) The Christian life is a life of certainty. Example, said Bryan Green: "I do not waste $9 on a transatlantic telephone call to ask my wife if she loves me. I am certain of it."

(2) It is a life of communion with God. "The great rule about praying, is to pray. The great rule about Bible reading is to read the Bible."

(3) It is a life of fellowship.

(4) A life of freedom. "It is not a life of regulations and rules. It is a life of pleasing God in Jesus Christ."

(5) A life of tension. Canon Green explained that this means the Christian is torn between his knowledge of inner peace and happiness, and his discontent at the sin and suffering of the world.

(6) A life of discovery. "But don't show too much introspection," he warned. "Don't pull up the plant every day to see how it is growing."

(7) A life of growth in Christ's likeness. This is marked by "a rise in personal efficiency, an increase of Christian power to react against heathen pressures and the pulls and tensions of life."

(8) A life of humility. "To know oneself as one really is before God.

7:30 P. M.—EVENING PRAYER & SERMON by Rev. Gustav C. Meckling

This is the last of four Sundays when the people of the Episcopal Church have focused their attention on the overseas building needs of our church, as a part of the current BUILDERS FOR CHRIST Campaign ordered by the General Convention, our representative governing body. The Goal of BUILDERS FOR CHRIST is $4,150,000, and almost one-third of it is ear-marked for expansion overseas. St. Just's School for boys in Puerto Rico is one of the places which most urgently needs our help for dormitory expansion. The Episcopal Church is asking every Communicant to be a Builder for Christ by supporting its work not only in the Parish, in the Diocese, and in the United States, but wherever there are Christians to be won.

We gratefully acknowledge these Bulletin subscriptions: Edward Shippen Barnes, Charlotte Guenther, Mrs. Helen and Catherine LeDent, Mrs. E. Sherwood, Leila M. Stowe, Mrs. Edith S. Taylor, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Tinsley, Mr. and Mrs. James Ashbrook, Edwin S. Heins, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Hicks, Mrs. Christina Leight, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. St. Stephen's Church—A Redemptive Fellowship. O, God, make the door of this house wide enough to receive all who need human love, fellowship and the Father's care: narrow enough to shut out envy, pride and hate. Make its threshold smooth enough to be inviting to children or straying feet, but rugged enough to turn back the temptor's power.

THE SCHOOL OF PAIN

"Why did God let this happen to me?" Most of us have asked at some point when we were visited by a dark angel of disappointment or pain or grief. Leslie Weatherhead, beloved English Christian Leader, has given us a valuable clue to answering this question.

Weatherhead points out that when a little child is learning to walk, his parents allow him to tumble. They do not restrict his adventures to a padded cell, but, under their watchful eyes, they let him tumble, and bump himself. They know that he learns more quickly through bumps than he would by being closely protected and guarded. In the same way God has "ordained our slow schooling from ignorance to knowledge from folly to wisdom, from sin to holiness," that, through both suffering and success, we should learn the way of "growing up."

Old-fashioned people used to believe that God sent suffering to people as a punishment for sin. But Weatherhead does not believe that God wills suffering on us; does not believe that the Almighty sends us painful hours. The parents of the little child do not wish him to tumble—if that were what they wanted, they would push him over. They don't do that—nor does God send us pain. But he allows it to come to us, because, so often, the school of pain can teach us wisdom that nothing else seems to teach. Sometimes our pain comes as a result of our own sin and folly, as when bad health comes as a result of burning the candle at both ends. Thus we can learn to obey the laws of health. Sometimes our pain comes, not through any sin, but because we love someone, and are woven into their lives so much that when they suffer, we suffer also. Thus we are drawn into closer and truer friendship with that person, because we are willing to suffer with them through their dark hour.

The glory of the Christian faith is that it can triumphantly take hold of pain, and make something shining out of it. The mature Christian does not moan, "why did this happen to me?" But, "What can I do with it? What does God mean me to make out of it?" So Jesus looked ahead to the cross, with its terrible suffering of body, and its still more terrible suffering of soul, and said, "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me." He knew that, with His Father's help, He could show to men God's love for them, by means of the cross; So He took hold of the cross and used it to fill out lives with a new light. Every painful experience that comes to you can be transformed into new strength of character for yourself; new joy and help for others. When your painful hour comes to you stop and quietly ask, "What does God mean me to learn from this?" So will you grow steadily through the years; and a large part of your growth will come through the mysterious school of pain.

LEARNING NEW HABITS

"And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature . . ." That is just what we set out to do this Lent, but some of us have faltered already. Someone may be protesting, "It's easy for you to learn new ways, but I'm not young anymore; and you can't teach an old dog new tricks."

Fiddlesticks! Can't teach new tricks to an old dog? Come with me some afternoon, and I'll take you to a grandfather who learned, most successfully, to fly an aeroplane, and his grandchildren were proud of him! Look around your own neighborhood and you'll find plenty of housewives who, in the past few years, have learned to use electric mixers and curling irons, pressure cookers, and any number of useful modern gadgets which call for the forming of entirely new habits of work. Look out the window and see that elderly man driving by in his brand new car—do you suppose that he argued with the salesman that he could not buy that car because it had the new type of gear shift, rather than the old one with which he was familiar? No, he was sure he could manage it, and he's doing it now. Let's be plain honest about this—we can learn new habits, new ways, when we want to!

One of the reasons that Jesus grew so amazingly was that He put His mind under the daily teachings of His Father, who can give power with every bit of new knowledge, who can quicken the human will to new, surging strength, who can ever mould our stubborn, sharp-cornered human nature into lovelier forms, and make us a lot easier to live with. Let us admit that it is harder to form a new habit of generosity, or to school oneself to patience, than it is to master a gear shift or an electric mixer. True, but Christians also know that with God all things are possible. The whole matter boils down to our willingness.

It takes a teachable spirit, then, for this business of being transformed. We must go at it as pupils of the Almighty. Those who do this achieve remarkable things, in every day and generation. An English traveler tells of seeing a delicate instrument for indicating the position of the stars, made by a Moslem in India a thousand years ago. Around the edge of the fine brass work ran this inscription: "This is the work of Hussein Ali, mechanic, mathematician, and servant of the Most High God." Take heart, O doubting friend! Lent can be a time of deep and glorious transformation in your life, if you go to work on yourself as the servant of the Most High God!

GUEST PREACHERS

On Sunday mornings beginning with March 7th, we are to have the pleasure of having a group of outstanding speakers come to us. You are urged to advertise them among your friends. The list follows:

March 7—Mr. P. Blair Lee
March 14—The Rev. J. Arnold Purdie
March 21—The Very Rev. J. S. Ladd Thomas, D.D.
March 28—The Rev. Edward G. Harris, D.D.
April 4—The Very Rev. Chester B. Emerson, D.D.
April 11—Dean Emerson

Shirley E. Edwards, Burd School, 1926, who was graduated from the New York University (Music, Theory and Harmony, 1930) has recently received her Master's degree in Library Science and is now employed as Cataloguer for the U. S. Navy Hydrographic Office Library.

The St. George Association of the Reading Co., an organization for encouraging lay people to lead more spiritual lives, held its February meeting in the Community House. Mr. Attenborough addressed the group on the subject of "Happiness." This organization will hold regular meetings at St. Stephen's. We extend to them a hearty welcome.

We welcome Mr. P. Blair Lee as our guest speaker this morning. Mr. Lee is president of the Western Savings Fund Society, a valued member of St. Paul's Church, Chestnut Hill, a member of the National Council of our Church, general chairman of the Presiding Bishop's Committee for the "Builders for Christ" Campaign, and chairman of this Campaign's committee in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. He will speak to us about "Builders for Christ."

This Campaign of the church was ordered by the 1952 General Convention in Boston. It has as its aim the collecting of $4,150,000. Of this amount $2,000,000 will be designated for much needed improvements to the property of the Church's eleven Seminaries; $1,225,000 for overseas churches; and $800,000 for the construction of churches and schools within the United States, particularly in emergency areas of rapid growth. Of the latter sum $500,000 is to be allocated to the American Church Institute for negroes, for the building of schools in the South.

The Campaign is now in its Over-seas phase, with emphasis being placed upon the need to rebuild churches in the Philippines which were destroyed during World War II. The "Builders for Christ" Campaign will give the Philippine Church the last boost it needs to complete its building program. The people of St. Stephen's Church will be asked to give generous support to this drive, and to pray for its success.

We wish to make a correction: On Sunday, February 21st, Mrs. Mary Varallo presented flowers for the Altar in memory of her mother, Mrs. Florence Frascone, and her sister, Miss Anna Frascone.

TESTIMONY

Dr. Price, I cannot begin to tell you how much your Healing Services mean to me. It is one of the most beautiful services I have ever attended and when I leave your church on Thursdays, I feel like a new person, inside and out. I know I have improved spiritually since I first started attending your services, and you have shown me how to live a fuller life . . .

There shall be no more curse, nor pain, nor death. But the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be therein, and His servants shall serve Him, and they shall see His face. There shall be no night there; and they need no lamp, nor light of the sun, for the Lord God shall give them light; and they shall reign for ever and ever.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew will hold its annual Corporate Communion Service in St. Stephen's on Saturday, February 20th, at 8:00 A. M. Breakfast will be served in Snellenburg's Restaurant. The speaker will be Dr. Nathaniel Groton.

The Rector is hopeful that he will be able to send week by week a report on his Mission to Germany. These reports will be mimeographed and distributed to the Sunday morning congregations. Be sure to get yours by coming regularly to church.

This day marks the beginning of the second part of our Church's BUILDERS FOR CHRIST Campaign, when Episcopalians will devote attention to why and how the Church can strengthen its work overseas. Out of the total Campaign goal of $4,150,000, almost a third will help construct the churches, schools, and other buildings long-needed overseas, especially in Japan, the Philippines, and Puerto Rico. Missionary work is sharing our faith with others, and through BUILDERS FOR CHRIST the Church is trying to provide some of the tools needed for this sharing. Your prayers and support for the Church's missionary work are asked at this time, and more especially for the success of the BUILDERS FOR CHRIST Campaign.

TESTIMONY

My dear Dr. Price:—I want to give my thanksgiving for healing received at St. Stephen's Altar Rail last Thursday. The wonder and power of these services continue to demonstrate how true the Gospel teaching of Spiritual Healing is—in our present day of all too practical thinking. May your great work as channel and teacher grow and prosper. M. F.

THE CONTAGION OF GOODNESS

When St. Paul wrote a letter to his friends in the newly formed Christian Churches, they listened, because St. Paul knew what he was talking about. This time he was writing to the Galatians who had started out enthusiastically ("ran bravely"), taken on the ways of Christ, and now showed a tendency to slip back into old ways. He protested, "I'm marveled that ye are so quickly removing"; but then, instead of scolding them, he quietly points to one of the unshakable laws of God—"remember, whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap." Paste that in your hat, says Paul. Think it over!

Usually this law of God is shaken at men like a fist—to convince them that if they do evil, they will reap trouble and distress. That is, of course, true. We all saw it in a memorable incident, part way through World War II. The Germans had overcome France, and French leaders must now come to surrender to the Nazi chiefs. The meeting place was an old railway carriage in which the victorious allies of World War I had forced humiliating terms on the beaten Germans; a railway carriage which the French had made into a shrine of vengeance, placing on it a tablet which read, "Here, on November 11th, 1918, was frustrated the criminal arrogance of the German Imperial Reich, defeated by the free people which it sought to enslave." So now, in 1940, Hitler sat in the same chair from which Foch had humiliated the Germans, and proudly demanded unconditional surrender. Unfortunate France was sowing the harvest of its own hatefulness.

But this mighty law of reaping—the—harvest—of—ones—own—deeds is equally true of goodness and love. So St. Paul pleaded, "As we therefore have opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith." And the Christians all along the Mediterranean shores responded to his bidding; and went at their task of sowing shining faith and loving deeds. Only 70 years later a pagan Athenian orator (Aristides) wrote, "The Christians know and trust God. They placate those who oppress them, and make them their friends; they do good to their enemies. Their wives are pure, and their daughters modest. Their men abstain from unlawful marriage. They love one another. He who has, gives ungrudgingly to him who has not. If anyone among them is poor and needy, they fast for two or three days, that they may supply him with the necessary food. But the good deeds that they do they do not proclaim in the ears of the multitude, but they take care that no one shall perceive them. Truly this is a new people and there is something divine in them." This was the harvest of shining faith and loving deeds. It always is!

---

We extend a welcome on this Boy Scout Sunday to the members of Boy Scout Troop No. 2, who meet in our Community House and whose Leadership comes from the Membership of St. Stephen's Church.

INCLINE OUR HEARTS

We say, "If I only had as much money as that banker . . . If I only had as much talent as that young singer . . . If I only had as good health as that farmer, what wonderful things I could do!" And, while we are speaking, someone with much less money than we is saving someone's body and soul by sharing the little he has. Some plain person with a plain voice is rallying a church choir in a country town, to lead the worship of God. Some crippled young woman is gladdening her friends' hearts by the lovely poems she writes from her narrow bed.

Perhaps some of you may be thinking this morning, "Lent will soon be here. If I could only get to one of those beautiful churches, with the great organ playing, and the light coming through the many colored windows, then I could make something out of Lent!" Don't let yourself have any such false thoughts. For you can make a song out of Lent wherever you are. You can discover God close to your hospital bed, or along the country roads that wind through the Pennsylvania hills, or in the dry clear air of Arizona, or attending store in a village, or doing your house work and caring for your children on crutches. For God makes it a point to be wherever a human being is tackling his task right where he is, with what he has. Read those verses from Mark, 4th Chapter, and let Lent be a time when you make your heart and your mind the right kind of soil for His teaching. Let Him enrich and cultivate your life—and This Lent will be a memorable one!

MEMORIALS WELCOME

Although St. Stephen's is blessed with many artistic and useful memorials given during the 130 years of our history, we do need as time goes on replacements or new additions to meet our changing needs. One such need is a new set of Altar flower vases. The cost of such a memorial is in the neighborhood of three hundred dollars.

The most expensive furniture in the church is the empty pew!

"Unravelling Juvenile Delinquency" will be the subject of an address by the Hon. Nochem S. Winnett, Chairman of the Crime Prevention Association, at the 4:00 P. M. meeting of the Institute of the Department of Christian Social Relations at the Youth Study Center, 20th Street and the Parkway. Dinner and evening sessions will be devoted to Panel Discussions on the same subject. Admission to both sessions will be by ticket only because of limited seating space and reservations must be made before February 3rd. Call Miss Davies at the Church House — LO 7-6650.

Our Church is presently devoting special attention to the needs of our seminaries, where young men receive the training they need to enter the ministry. January 24, Theological Education Sunday, has been set aside as a special day when offerings are taken to assist our Church's eleven seminaries to meet their current running expenses. At the same time, the Builders For Christ Campaign, the Church's drive for $4,150,000 for urgent building needs, is also being focused on the seminaries. Half of this sum will go toward the building of libraries, dormitories, and other necessary construction which cannot be taken care of through the seminaries' annual budget. Your prayers and support are asked both for Theological Education and the BUILDERS FOR CHRIST Campaign.

COUNSELS OF GOD

Today we go back a month or so in the Christian year, to the Wise Men and the Star. With Lent just another month away, it may be worth while to look back to the beginning of the life of Christ on earth.

Unbelieving people say that this ancient story of the Wise Men and the Star is not common sense — how could three sages pick out one star from a sky full of countless stars, and follow its gleam to a little town in Palestine? Is it common sense, the unbeliever asks, that Wise Men should find the King of Kings in a barn in Bethlehem, the hope of all the ages born in a stall? Perhaps it is not common sense, but it is true, for Christ, the King of Kings, was born in that barn; and today Herod (who seemed so important then) is only remembered because he tried to kill the babe. Let your mind run swiftly over the thirty years of His life on earth, to its closing scene, on Golgatha — He is dying, nailed to a hard cross; and common sense says He is done for, finished. Common sense said just that, at the foot of the cross, and went back to the city for another drink, and an evening's entertainment. But Common Sense once more was wrong — for He was not finished. He had only begun!

It is humbling to discover that our human common sense is so mistaken, so often, in such important matters. But it is a healthy discovery to make, for then we face the fact that God made us with limited sense, needing His counsel, needing His Star in the dark night of life, to guide us to the truth.

Last Sunday we walked through the jungle with an American G. I. whose whistling of a Christian Hymn led to a miracle; made it possible for him to get rid of his enemies by changing them into friends. It is not common sense to believe that such things can happen; but they happen. It takes the high and shining wisdom of God, working through a human being, to make such things possible. It may be that a wise leader or two, in the Lenten weeks not far away now, may decide to cut loose from prodding common sense, and try out the Divine, un-common sense of God, and to believe that His miracles are possible in our lives. Dare to be wise men who lift their eyes above the earth-bound levels of common sense, and see the Star, and follow it. For the common sense of men is more often wrong than right. But the rare counsels of God are never wrong, and they lead to a life which is worth living forever!

This month our Church is launching a nationwide campaign called "BUILDERS FOR CHRIST", dedicated to the building needs of the Episcopal Church In 1952, General Convention, the representative governing body of the church, was concerned about the way our church was being handicapped by lack of adequate Seminary buildings, churches, and schools. It therefore ordered a special campaign to be conducted sometime during the ensuing three-year period to raise a part of the funds needed for this construction. This is the BUILDERS FOR CHRIST campaign, and its goal is $4,150,000. You are asked to remember the BUILDERS FOR CHRIST Campaign in your prayers, and to give it your whole-hearted support.

SEMINARIES GET OFFERING SUNDAY

Two of the Church's Seminaries for Theological Education will receive the open offering from all services at St. Stephen's Church this Sunday. The day has been set aside by order of General Convention as Theological Education Sunday throughout the nation. In order that everyone may have an opportunity to participate in meeting this vital need of our church, offering envelopes are being mailed to our entire membership.

Our Church Cannot Grow Unless we take steps to supply Clergy,

1. for the 688 unmanned churches financially able to support Clergy
2. for the many vacancies in the Mission Field
3. for the Chaplains in the Armed Forces
4. for College and School work
5. for faculty positions in the Church Seminaries

Unless

Seminaries graduate more trained clergy. (Graduated this year 300. Present actual shortage 688). At present rate, estimated shortage for 1955 is 915.

Unless

Our Ministry becomes the concern of the Whole Church. (Only 60% of our present clergy have been trained in the Seminaries of our own church).

The hundreds of churches with no clergy, failing to meet the opportunity and and service—this has been everyone's business, and so it has been no one's business. The growth of the Church requires manpower. The Theological Education Commission feels that properly equipped and dedicated manpower alone will produce real growth in our Church. The voluntary contributions on Theological Education Sunday now produce one quarter million dollars a year, from less than one half of the parishes in the Church. Our Church can only grow by increasing greatly the number of Seminary trained men for leaders.

Customarily, the Seminary which is the Alma Mater of the clergyman of the church giving the offering receives the benefit. St. Stephen's Church divides her offering between the Rector's Seminary, Cambridge, and the Philadelphia Divinity School, which supplies so many men for this area.

DEFENSE OF THE MOST HIGH

Today I want to share with you a story that appeared sometime ago in the Congressional Record, and it suggests that "whoso dwelleth under the defense of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty." A nineteen year old G. I. who had been awarded a medal for bringing in a large group of Japanese prisoners, single-handed, tells his own story:

"I want someone to know that I don't deserve that medal. It happened this way. I was captured by the Japanese, with 5 of my pals. We were marched through the jungle with bayonets at our backs. I had to see my comrades one by one killed and mutilated. I said the 23rd Psalm. I said the Lord's prayer. Die I must, but I determined not to let my captors see my fear. Trembling from head to foot, marching in mud up to my ankles,with a bayonet sticking in my back, I began to whistle the way I used to when I was a small boy, and had to go through a dark street. So I whistled, "We gather together to ask the Lord's blessing; He chastens and hastens His will to make known; the wicked oppressing cease then from distressing, sing praises to His name, He forgets not His own."

"Suddenly I became aware that someone had joined me in my whistling—it was my Japanese captor! He, too, was whistling the hymn. Soon I felt his gun fall back into place. He walked beside me then, and suddenly I jumped when, in perfect English, he said to me, 'I never cease to wonder at the magnificence of Christian hymns: and a few minutes talk revealed that the Japanese soldier had learned English in a mission school to which I had contributed in my Sunday School days. The Japanese boy spoke of war and how the Japanese Christians hated it. We both agreed on the power of Christianity, and what would happen if people really dared to live it; and then we began to talk of our families and our homes. Finally, at the suggestion of the Japanese, we knelt in the mud and prayed for suffering humanity around the world, and for 'His peace that passeth understanding' among all men on earth.

"When we arose, he asked me if I could take him back as a prisoner to the American headquarters. He said that it was the only way that he could live up to his Christianity, and thus help Japan to become a Christian nation; and on the way back he found in various fox-holes other Japanese Christians, and they too joined me. I shall never forget the hope and joy that came into their eyes as my friend unfolded to them, one by one, how we found each other, and why and where they were being taken. All the way back we talked of the Christian religion. When we neared camp, by mutual agreement they put on poker-faces and somber looks, and I, gun in hand, marched them into camp. After the war's over, they will spend their lives keeping alive and spreading an ever-growing Christian community in Japan. So you see I don't deserve a medal for the most wonderful experience in my life." It would seem that the "defense of the Most High" might well be the strongest national defense of all. It sounds as if it might be well worth while for the people of the earth to try that defense with confidence at last!

Adelaide Carll

"In the midst of life we are in death." How this has been brought home to us this week in the sudden passing of Mrs. Adelaide Carll. Our deep sympathy is expressed to Mr. Elmer Carll, Vestryman of St. Stephen's Church, in the loss of his precious possession from tangible association. We find consolation in the knowledge that her soul is with the Lord. May she "go from strength to strength in the life of perfect service" in the heavenly Kingdom.

SCHOOL OF ABUNDANT LIVING

The annual mid-winter School of Prayer will be held in St. Stephen's Church on Monday and Tuesday, January 18th and 19th. There will be morning and afternoon sessions, as well as the Evening Meetings of Group Singing and fine speakers. Ruth Robison, Alice Kraft and Norman Elliott. Programs are available in church vestibule.

FROM THE PASTORAL LETTER

"Our country seems to be losing that faith and confidence in itself which has characterized our life in other days, and shown itself in a devotion to human rights and liberties. We have become anxious and worried, the victims of our fears: our fear of war, of military service, of insecurity, and of communism."

1954 WEEKLY OFFERING ENVELOPES

The Treaurer's Office has been busy addressing and preparing for the mail boxes of 1954 Church Offering Envelopes. They are being sent to all those who made regular weekly pledges for the New Year and asked for envelopes for use in placing their contribution in the offering plates. Weekly envelopes remind us of the fact that the Church's expenses go on, with great regularity, and even when we are not in church. Thus the faithful use of envelopes makes the income of the Church as steady as her disbursements.

PHONE FOR ENVELOPES—If you wish 1954 envelopes, and do not receive them in the mail, please phone the Church Office.

YOU ARE INVITED TO CONSIDER MEMBERSHIP IN THIS CHURCH

If you believe in God and wish to take your stand in fellowship with others—do so now. These are days of daring challenge to all of us who uphold Christ and His Church. The Ministers of this church will be glad to confer with you about the meaning of membership here and invite your inquiry.

We gratefully acknowledge these Bulletin Subscriptions: Miss Marguerite K. Caldwell, William M. Gill, Mrs. H. Liggett, Elizabeth Corrigan, Mrs. David S. Gamble, Mrs. Charles Hutt. There are many more, which must await space here, in later issues.

STEPPING STONES

Margaret Blair Johnstone tells a story of Jean—who had been horribly burned in a flash fire which took the life of her husband and 3 year old child. She had no desire to live. "Why should I take what comes? Give me some good reason why I should live." She did not want to hear anything about God; and, down deep, she thought that no one else had had such trouble as hers. So Margaret Johnstone continued:

"There is a woman out on the west coast. Years ago in a traffic accident she lost, not one, but both of her little girls. Her name is Kathleen Norris, the great writer who has brought help in her stories to millions." But Jean turned her face to the wall. "There was another woman," Mrs. Johnstone went on, "whose husband's work took him to China. Now you'd think that being a missionary would make you sort of special with God, wouldn't you? Well, for this woman it didn't. And she felt just as you do. After all, what else could you feel when, one after the other, four of your babies died in your arms?" Jean's lips moved softly. "What did she do?" "She went ahead and had another baby. She called this one her comfort. Comfort didn't die. She grew up. Her pen name is Pearl . . . Pearl Buck." "But that woman wasn't alone," Jean protested. "She had her husband."

"There was a man once," Mrs. Johnstone persisted. "He was only 33 years of age. He was alone, completely alone. He was dying. He felt, at that moment, that no one—not even God—cared what happened to him. We know he felt that way, for he cried out, "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?" For a long time Jean lay in silence. "But," and her tone was bewildered, "but He was supposed to die." "If so," Mrs. Johnstone asked quietly, "What is it that you are 'supposed' to do? Haven't you considered that your life might have been spared for something?" "I hadn't thought of that," she said; and from that moment, Jean began to show a gleam of interest in life, a new-born hope that God had work for her to do, work for people that needed doing.

And Jean was helped—as all praying, outward-looking sufferers are—by the example of other sufferers who found victory with the help of Almighty God. She could see that there would have been no Pearl Buck (and her glorious books) if her grief-blasted mother with child-like faith had not believed that there was a future ahead if she went with God. Jean kept discovering new victors who had trustfully followed the road through the darkness of Calvary into the Resurrection Light of Easter. No matter how heavy their hearts, these God-trusting people had gone ahead and had another baby; had risen from their beds to live another day for Him; had gone ahead "blind' sometimes, because others had found the way through night to dawn.

Jean found that she could trust God to fashion from her broken life, "not a stumbling block, but a stepping stone." God needs you, I suspect, for one of His stepping stones. How about letting Him have you?

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. Eleven hundred copies are printed each week. Some 647 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of the forty-eight states, and in addition to people in Canada. It goes not only to members but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It costs $33.94 a week to print and to mail this publication. There are some 44 issues a year at a total cost of $1,493.36. Last year we received $634.25 from individuals in response to our annual appeal. If every family would give $2.00 a year the cost would be met. Of course, a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so that a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way to pay for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

SOMETHING NEW

has been added. Every Wednesday, at 5:30 P. M., there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at St. Stephen's Church. Please keep this in mind whenever you are in the neighborhood of the church on this mid-week shopping night.

The postponed visit of The Treble Clef Chorus of Haddon Heights will take place this Sunday evening. Mrs. Helen Wyeth Peirce and her group will participate in the Service tonight at 7:30 P. M.

TRUE LIBERTY

Once, on a speeding train, I met a bass viol player, standing rather wretchedly on the platform between cars, because the big, unwieldly instrument was too bulky to take into the well filled car. He could not set it in a corner, for fear that it would be broken; so he had to stand there on the swaying platform, clinging to the hand bar with one hand, and clutching the awkward instrument with the other. I began to wonder whether he owned the bass viol, or whether the bass viol owned him! It is like many people of wealth today, whose great estates are a millstone around their necks—do they own these estates, or do the estates own them!

Obediah, in his fiery little book, prophesied a happier day when they would "Possess their possessions." But that day did not appear until Christ came, and taught men not to be anxious about their possessions, but to surrender these problems to God's care. He taught them that he who loses his life (gives it to God to use freely) saves it. Or, in the words of the ancient prayer, that we need to surrender ourselves to God "Whose service is perfect freedom."

This surrender to God does give true liberty, for once He is our Captain, there is nothing in life which can master us. After all, He has made all things and all people. He is the Lord, and He reigns in the world. Therefore, when the fortress of man's soul is commanded by the Almighty, it can stand unconquerable against all adversaries. This is the only freedom which is perfect. In the Lenten days, not far away now, we can strike out for that freedom.

See how it works! Right after Pearl Harbor a group of our missionaries in China were confined in an internment camp, and kept there for 2 years. There were no brutalities nor cruelties by the Japanese. They were not maltreated, but only neglected, and kept under guard. The food was poor, and sometimes not enough. It could have been a desperately dull and hopeless place, full of nervous and physical breakdowns. But these were people enlisted in the service of the Almighty, so their spirits could not be imprisoned or beaten. They organized the life of the camp as best they could—sanitation, cooking, fuel collecting; they set up a school, and varied recreation. They did not break down in those long and lonely months of hardship. They were, throughout, free people—freer than the Japanese soldiers who guarded them! For when a person enlists in the hosts of the Almighty God, he finds that perfect freedom which no foe can destroy!

The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and at 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 6:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the Altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

7:30 P. M.—EVENING PRAYER AND SERMON BY MR. MECKLING

The flowers on the Altar today are presented by The Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, in memory of his father; and by Mrs. Frederick Schmid, in memory of her husband.

We gratefully acknowledge Bulletin Subscriptions of the following: Mrs. John S. Collins, Miss Margaret Tappen, Miss Alice B. Ewing, Mrs. J. E. Semon, Charles E. Holmes, Mrs. Wm. Royal, Mrs. L. K. Schmidt, Mr. Howard Matthews, Mrs. Walter D. Dunn, Mrs. Charlotte C. Murray, Mrs. Mary P. Johnson, Fred M. Eshelman.

"STAND FAST"

The coming of Christ, anywhere, anytime, has always caused a strange mixture of feelings. When the news of His promised coming sounded in the heart of Mary, she sang with joyful heart the song we now call the Magnificat. When it reached the ears of jumpy, fearful old Herod, it was like a nightmare; and he ordered the killing of all the babies in that district lest the new-born Prince should grow up to threaten his authority. Whenever he approaches men, some are glad; others are fearful. It all depends on what sort of people they are.

Always His coming has disturbed honest people, and made them suddenly aware of their sins. It is as if He flooded their inner souls with a light like noon-day, and they saw how stubbornly they had stood against Him, how persistently they had tried to kill Him out of their thoughts. In Lloyd Douglas' memorable story, "The Robe," there is a young army officed named Marcellus. It so happens that he is the officer ordered to take charge of the crucifixion of Jesus and the two thieves. He knew next to nothing about these three who died before his eyes that day; but he came home deeply disturbed; so disturbed that he unburdens his heart to his slave Demetrius: "I am dirty. I'm dirty—outside and inside. I'm dirty—and ashamed." "You were only obeying orders, sir," the loyal slave points out, trying to make his master feel better. But Marcellus only groans more deeply and asks, "Were you out there? were you there when He called on His God to forgive us? He looked directly at me after He said it. Im afraid I'm going to have a hard time forgetting that look." Marcellus never did forget that look. Jesus has a way of disturbing a human heart very deeply.

That is why there is no use in "playing" at Christianity as a child plays with dolls; and sets them aside when they become wearisome. Christian faith cannot be a hobby, to be relished occasionally on Sundays, or when we are in the mood. Once the power of the Nazarene has touched a human life, that life will never find rest until it comes to terms with Him; just as Marcellus came to terms with Him at the end, and at last knew what peace is! The story is told that Daniel A. Poling was once asked by a curious young man, "What do you know about God?" Dr. Poling answered, with quiet assurance, "Mighty little, but what I know has changed my entire life."

We are very grateful to a number of parishioners who were behind in their pledge payments but who have recently brought them up to date. There is, however, still a pretty heavy item of unpaid pledges. Our books for the year 1953 close January 6th.

———*———

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation $25.00 from the Mothers' Meeting for the Chinese Christian Church and Center and $75.00 for the Philadelphia Council of Churches.

———*———

The five year period of pledges for the New Organ is now coming near to completion. We have $2,245.00 unpaid balances among those who pledged. We will be glad to furnish a statement of your pledge if you will notify the office.

———*———

If we are to reach our objectives in our Every Member Canvass and do the things we ought to be doing, we are going to need the co-operation of all our parishioners in the matter of pledges for the support of our 1954 budget.

———*———

The Rector presented Miss Emma S. Bolay for confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel on December 14th; and Alan C. Mitchell on December 21st, 1953.

We want "The Bulletin" to go to everyone who counts St. Stephen's his Church Home. If you are not receiving it now and would like to be on our mailing list, please tear off this slip, sign it and send it to the parish office or place it in the alms basin.

FINANCIAL REPORTS

The Canons of the Church require that the financial reports of all Parish Organizations should be included in the Annual Report which each Parish is requested to make to the Bishop. This report is made for the Calendar year. The Canons further require that all of these reports should be audited by somebody not a member of the Organizations. We would appreciate it if all our Organizations would plan now to have such a financial report ready for the Rector by January 15th, so that they may be incorporated in our parochial report.

———*———

To all those who so generously contributed toward the purchase of a private Communion set and a purse of money as an ordination gift for him, the Rev. Mr. Attenborough is grateful, and says "Thank you very much for your thoughtfulness."

WHY ONE FAMILY GOES TO CHURCH

"We regularly take Jackie, Jr., to church with us though he's only a little fellow. For my wife, Rachel, and I want him to know, as early as possible, the faith that will guide and help him all his life, as it helps and guides us. For to be without the help of the friendly hand of God is something we cannot imagine. I know without His help I could never do my job." Jackie Robinson.

EVERY WOMAN AN AUXILIARY MEMBER

Every Episcopalian woman is a member of the Woman's Auxiliary, by virtue of her confirmation. This is not generally understood. The fact is, however, that all the Woman's Auxiliary is a national organization of Episcopal women, and therefore all such women are automatically members. It is hoped that by sponsoring a large-scale nomination for the top offices among our women, greater interest will be developed in the furtherance of the work sponsored by our church.

THE RECTOR'S EASTER GREETING

My Beloved People of St. Stephen's:

"Jesus Christ is risen today! Hallelujah!" so run the words of old, and so they come echoing down the ages. And a thrill is in those words. But does it begin and end merely as a word of cheer? Today it is Easter Day, and all the churches in our land are proclaiming the Easter Message, "Christ is risen, yea, He is risen indeed!" And even so, every Easter Day, for nineteen hundred years, these words have been proclaimed. They hold the biggest message that ever has been given to man, but how do we receive it? It is the message of regeneration, but are we regenerate, and is the Church regenerate? "Christ is risen!" Does the Church raise this word with mighty power? And does it show a Door therein? And do we see the same as the very Gate of Heaven?

Or do we miss the meaning? Do we think of it much as an outward piece of news more or less verified by a few disciples? But if this were all, considering that every human witness is fallible, would it not be rather a slender ground for our hope? No, let us say that the incident at the Tomb itself is but the prelude to something far more wonderful.

Truly Christ will be our Ferryman when we cross the waters of death, the death of the body. But that is the least little part of the Easter message. In our thoughts we think in material terms, but the language of Christ is the language of truth, even as it is also the language of love. The death-overcoming of our Lord is not the death of the body, but of the death of the soul. And this is that of which the Bible tells. And it is in this respect that the message will search home to us today. This is the very truth of which the Scriptures speak—that death, spiritual death, ensued when man fell away from the knowledge of God. With sin came death. And sin is just that which separates man from God. We do not truly live until, as it is written in the Fourth Gospel, we "know, and and are known of God," which word implies an interior and heavenly communion.

Within us all are spiritual potentialities, unveiled this Easter Day. Cast off the grave clothes of earth's captivity. Christ came to set the captives free, free from the serfdom of the nether world, wherein infirmity, sickness, disease, and sin, bind and burden the bodies and souls of men. Rise, then, into the Glorious Liberty of the children of God.

When we are dead unto sin, there is no more death to die. "Perfect love casts out fear." Love absolves, and saves, and heals. Fear cast out, life made anew, neither fear nor thought of fear can more invade the soul; darkness cannot invade the Light.

EASTER OFFERING

If we are truly grateful for the Blessed Resurrection, we will want to present an offering of Thanksgiving and gratitude to God and His Church on Easter Day, even as we are able and the spirit directs us. For this purpose please use the enclosed envelope.

PRAYER FELLOWSHIP REPORT

We have finished another year in our Ministry of Healing in St. Stephen's Church. Devoting at least a half-hour each day to pray for a long list of people may not seem a great thing for an intercessor to do, but it is quite often just the link needed for God's power to reach the one in need. We remember with deep gratitude, that it is just the daily acts of prayer of each of our seventy-two intercessors, which has made the work of the Prayer Healing Fellowship as a whole possible. They have shared with us at St. Stephen's the great burden of the need of those who write to us for prayer.

The number of our regular Prayer Fellowship intercessors has reached seventy-two and we now have a daily chain of prayers from 4:00 A.M. to 1:00 A.M. We have each of the twenty-one hours taken three times over by our seventy-two members. Each intercessor is disciplined to give a fixed hour each day for this prayer activity. Each needy individual is lifted up in prayer to God twenty-one hours a day for a period of four weeks. The patient is requested to keep us informed of progress. Chronic cases can be renewed for longer periods of prayer.

During the past year 2,838 persons requested our prayers. This means that 2,838 people were remembered 21 hours a day for a period of four weeks by our 72 prayer helpers. All this adds up to 550,368 annual prayer hours.

We are grateful to these intercessors for their ready and willing co-operation and know that our Lord too is grateful to them for being "Workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Has all the prayer, faith and devotion of intercessors and friends been worthwhile? No one can fully assess the results of prayer, but the letters of gratitude continually coming to the Rector are an evidence that the need in the lives of many people is being met. Many of the testimonies received are reported at the monthly meeting of the Prayer Fellowship and in the weekly report to the members all progress and cures are recorded. There is no limit to what God can do through Prayer, and while thanking Him for the evidences of His love and mercy in the past, we would look to Him with faith and expectation for greater things to be done in His name in the future. The need, therefore, for more intercessors, those who in humble dependence on the Spirit of God will seek to have power in Prayer, is apparent.

It is good to remind ourselves that God has a special promise for those who meet in this way: "If two of you agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of My Father which is in heaven . . . For where two or three are gathered, in My name, there am I in the midst of them." The value of St. Stephen's Fellowship of Prayer can never be over-estimated.

I know not where the road will lead, I follow day by day; Or where it ends: I only know I walk the King's High Way. I know not if the way is long, and no one else can say; But rough or smooth, uphill or down, I walk the King's High Way. And some I love have reached the end, but some with me may stay; Their faith and hope still guide me, I walk the King's High Way. The Way is Truth, the Way is Love, for light and strength I pray, And through the years of life to God, I walk the King's High Way. The countless hosts lead on before, I must not fear or stray; With them the pilgrims of all creeds, I walk the King's High Way. Through light and dark the road leads on, Till dawns the endless day; When I shall know why in this life I walk the King's High Way.

MORE PLEDGES RECEIVED

The following is a continuation of a list of those from whom pledges for the support of St. Stephens' Church have been received: Mrs. Muriel B. Fisher.

ROOTED IN LOVE

A farmer had bad luck with his potatoes one summer. But he was convinced that there was more to it than luck. One reason for his sorry yield was that he did not plant the seed-potatoes deep enough. They never had a chance to be rooted and grounded down deep in the soil.

St. Paul was a farmer of souls. He thought of people, as the Psalmist did, as "the planting of the Lord." So, as he cultivated the lives of men, he prayed that they would be "Rooted and gounded in love"; that their thoughts and deeds, from sun-up to sunset, would be plunged deep into God's Spirit of eternal caring for men.

"But how do I do that?" you may ask. Here is one way. Choose some person who specially needs your help—whom you have not been able to help as you wanted to (perhaps because you did not really care enough). Take ten minutes every day to pray for that person—every day, no matter how busy you are. As you pray for that person, see her as God sees her—with her virtues as well as her faults, her strengths as well as her weaknesses; her sincere desire to do what is right; her wonderful possibilities as God's servant. It may be your wife, or your sister, or a neighbor woman. It might be some growing up child who often drops in on you. Pray God that she may be strengthened; that she may have victory; and that you may be used by God as a channel of His love. Then thank Him that He is already doing this. You will be surprised to find what a difference this will make.

The glorious souls possess this secret—they are not content with a shallow, sentimental attention to loving kindness. They sink their daily lives deep into the soil of God's love. One of life's rarest delights is to know people like that. A school teacher one day was carefully teaching his arithmetic class to do fractions. After going over it slowly and patiently, he turned to one boy and asked, "George, if your mother baked an apple pie, and there were seven of you at the table—your parents and five children—what portion of the pie would each of you get?" "One sixth," answered George without hesitation. "I don't believe that you have been listening," said the teacher sharply. "You don't know anything about fractions." "Yes, Sir," replied George quietly, "I really do know about fractions; but I know about my mother, too. If there was only one apple pie for the whole family, my mother would say that she didn't care for any pie; and each of us would get a sixth." That is the kind of person who grows out of being rooted and grounded in love.

1955 WEEKLY OFFERING ENVELOPES

The treasurer's office has sent to all those who made regular weekly pledges for the New Year and asked for envelopes for use in placing their contribution in the offering plates. Weekly envelopes remind us of the fact that the Church's expenses go on, with great regularity, and even when we are not in Church. Thus the faithful use of envelopes makes the income of the Church as steady as her disbursements.

GOING HIS WAY

The world usually judges people by their position among men—how high they have climbed, where they are. The worlds says: "He is a very successful business man"; "He has the best farm around here"; "She has a wonderful reputation as a nurse"; "She is the most popular woman in town." But Jesus looks at it differently. He says, "He is becoming a more useful business men"; "He is always learning better ways of farming the land God entrusted to him"; "She is growing to be a more valuable nurse because she is learning to keep my healing presence in her heart"; "Her capacity for loving people is growing so fast that her friends are a host!" Jesus judges people, therefore, not by where they are, but by the direction in which they are going. Some of the most "successful" people rank low with Him, for they have stopped growing; they have grown content with what they are. As the negro red-cap said, "No, don't take that coach, for it aint hitched to anything that is going somewhere."

Jesus said to those who wished to be His friends, "Follow Me." In other words, "Go always in My direction—along the road on which My Spirit will lead you." He does not care especially whether the world considers you a success—He cares about the way you are headed. Someone has said that a saint is a sinner who, when he falls down, gets up in God's direction. There is deep comfort, and large hope, in that truth. Jesus knows that we are going to fall flat on our faces sometimes; but, when we do, He expects us to listen for His re-assuring voice bidding, "follow Me."

In a group of skaters there was a small boy who kept tumbling to the ice so often that his older brother shouted, "You'll be black and blue from head to foot—your too little to learn to skate. Why don't you give up, and watch the others?" The little boy was still crying, but he shouted back, indignantly, "I didn't get these skates to give up on; I got 'em to learn with." We can all be like that little boy—we have our faith to "learn with," our Master to beckon us on. Which way are you headed? "Follow Me!"

VESTRYMAN HONORED

Mr. Elmer S. Carll was honored by a Testimonial Dinner at the Drake Hotel on Saturday evening, January 29th, for outstanding public service and charitable endeavors. Mr. Carll, vestryman of St. Stephens and President of the Industrial Trust Company, was the recipient of the Fifth Annual Award of Kensington Hospital.

SEMINARIES GET OFFERING SUNDAY

Theological Education Sunday is a positive opportunity for every person—man, woman and child—to do something for one of the Church's basic endeavors.

Our Church cannot grow unless we take steps to supply clergy, and the clergy cannot be trained unless we support our Seminaries.

In order that everyone may have an opportunity to participate in meeting this vital need of our Church, offering envelopes have been mailed to our entire membership. Customarily, the Seminary which is the Alma Mater of the clergyman of the Church giving the offering receives the benefit. St. Stephen's Church divides her offering between the Rector's Seminary, Cambridge, and the Philadelphia Divinity School, which supplies so many men for this area.

The Rector will speak in the Union Methodist Church, Brookline, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

ARE YOU BUSIER THAN THE PRESIDENT?

Many people today are saying, "I would like to go to church, but I am just too busy." If so, they are busier than the President of the United States. According to Paul Harvey, President Eisenhower attends Church EVERY Sunday; and if he is to be out of town, his wife or secretary phones the pastor explaining his absence. With the grave responsibility for this nation, he feels that he must be in the House of God for worship every Sunday.

IF A BUSY PRESIDENT CAN TAKE TIME TO ATTEND CHURCH EVERY SUNDAY, SHOULDN'T WE, TOO?

POWER TO CARRY LOADS

Someone asked a man in Manchester, England, why he was wasting his mind and his talents by drinking so heavily. He replied, "Because it is the shortest way out of Manchester." He wanted to escape from a place which to him had become dreary and unbearable. He wanted to get out from under! True, every time he tried it, he woke up in Manchester again, and with a headache added. He had not really escaped at all. But, because he did not know any other way to freedom, he kept trying the old way that failed.

Now Jesus knew how weary we become, how much we crave relief and new light. He promised us rest. But not by removing our loads. He said, "Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me, and ye shall find rest unto your souls." In other words, He promises us new strength for carrying, rather than nothing to carry! He promises to make us stronger people, to whom heavy burdens seem light, because, filled with His strength, we can carry them without faltering. In your morning prayer time, ask Him what load He wants you to carry that day; what He wants you to take on for someone else. If you do that, the load will never be too heavy. Because He has given you the load, He will enable you to carry it with a spring in your step!

No, it is not escape that we really want. A poor man was carrying a heavy load of sticks on his back, when he became tired and sat down to rest. Throwing the load aside, he exclaimed, "How can I escape my hard life? I wish that death would come and take up my load." Instantly death stood beside him. The old man looked at death with a sinking heart. "Here I am," said death. "What do you want of me?" The old man rose slowly to his feet, and said, "I want you to help put this bundle of sticks on my back again." We do not want to escape our loads. We want power to carry them.

In some places in India there are provided along the road resting places for those who carry heavy loads on their heads. Such a resting place is called a "sulma tanga." These places have a shelf where the traveler may drop his burden, and beneath is a shady seat where he can quietly rest. Referring to one of these resting places, a native Christian woman said, "Christ is my sulma tanga." When we are weary, we can stop and make sure that we are carrying Christ's load, and then find, in His presence, rest for our souls and for our bodies.

INCOME TAX AND CHURCH GIVING

Harvey N. Chinn, now pastor of the Rockridge E. U. B. Church, Oakland, Calif., offers "A WORD ABOUT YOUR INCOME TAX;" According to the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue, taxpayers can give up to 20% of their gross income to religious, educational and charitable institutions and deduct it from their income tax. But it should be remembered that you can't deduct PLEDGES—a pledge must actually be paid before that amount can be deducted. Because Church contributions are deductible, this means that for every dollar you give to the Church, your total income is lowered! It also means that it costs you LESS than a dollar to give a dollar to the Church! For example, if your net taxable income is $1,500, it only costs you 78c to give a dollar to the Church. And if your net taxable income is $20,000 (and we hope it is!) it only costs you 41c to give a dollar to the Church. Where can you give more for less? And what organization has accomplished more, with less means, than the Church?

The Annual Corporate Communion and Breakfast of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will take place on Saturday morning, February 19th simultaneously in six Churches: St. Stephens' Church, Emmanuel, Holmesburg, Advent, Hatboro, St. Martin's, Chestnut Hill, Conference Center, Radnor and St. John's, Lansdowne.

Bishop Roberts will be the Celebrant at St. Stephen's. A breakfast will be served in the Community House following the service. The price of the breakfast is $1.25. Bishop Hart will broadcast over F. M. Station WFLN and will be heard following the breakfast. Make your reservations now!

DISCIPLINED LIVING

What does Lent mean to you? "Oh," a childish memory whispers in your ear, "Lent is the time when people give up things." That is right. Now read again the great prayer that we use for the First Sunday in Lent in our Book of Common Prayer, "Give us grace to use such abstinence . . ." But why the abstinence? "Why" give up "things"? What for?

One of the saddest, most pointless performances in all religion is the child who goes about proudly announcing, "I have given up candy for Lent!" If you ask him why he does not really know. The true satisfaction he gets is bragging about it; and he is in a fair way to become an objectionable little prig.

Why discipline our bodies and spirits in the six and a half weeks in Lent? Read further in that Collect, "Give us grace to use such abstinence that, our flesh being subdued to the spirit, we may obey Thy Godly motions in righteousness." There is your reason for abstinence. We are going to "break" our bodies as a horseman breaks an unruly horse. The horseman does it so that the horse will obey the touch of the rider's will, through the reins. The Christian "breaks" his body and its appetities so that it will obey the touch of God's will on his life.

By all means make your Lent a season of disciplined living. There are no triumphs without discipline. But make your discipline positive, purposeful. If you have a sweet tooth that adds pounds of fat to your body, and makes you sluggish all over, by all means follow some intelligent and definite diet, which cuts out expensive luxuries. It will make you a healthier, more responsive servant of God. And you will save money which you can use to save lives from starvation, through Meals for Millions, or Care, or some other instrument of God's saving love. In other words, discipline yourself because you love God, and want to serve Him, and your fellow men, better than before. "Give up things," simplify your eating, your day's schedule, your dreaming, so there is more room for God and His interests; so that He can use you more richly. Make your Lent a positive, building season.

St. Paul put it simply: "Know ye not that your body is the Temple of the Holy Ghost?" That body was given you, not for your own enjoyment primarily, but primarily for God's use. Your religion has to come out of that body, so it has to be usable for God. Don't let yourself be like John Atkins, the windy weaver—"the trouble with John is that he stands around talking about his religion when he ought to be attending to his loom. He is a good enough fellow, and has the making of a fine weaver in him; but he has not yet learned that while he is in the weaving shed his religion ought to come out of his fingers and not out of his mouth."

The Rector's wife, continuing her talks on India, will speak in St. Martin's Church, Radnor, March 15th; St. John's Church, Cynwyd on March 21st; and St. Giles' Church, Stonehurst, on March 24th.

The Rector has made an electrical transcription of a Good Friday address, "What's Good About Good Friday?", which will be broadcast over WFIL at 12:45 P. M. on Good Friday. He has also made transcriptions of four prayers that will be broadcast over WIP during the Lenten Season.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening, March 6th, and take a midnight plane for Austin, Texas, where, on Monday he will speak to the student body of the Theological School of the Southwest and conduct a Forum on Spiritual Healing in St. David's Church. He will fly to Santa Fe, where he will conduct a Healing Mission from Tuesday to Friday in the Church of the Holy Faith.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rt. Rev. Malcolm E. Peabody, Bishop of Central New York, who will be our guest preacher Monday through Friday at the Lenten Noonday Services. Bishop Peabody is well known in Philadelphia, and remembered as the Rector of St. Paul's Church, Chestnut Hill from 1925 to 1938.

The New Rector of St. Peter's Church, Philadelphia, will be our guest preacher on Saturday, March 12th. We are happy to welcome the Rev. Francis B. Rhein to St. Stephens' Church.

"EACH ONE BRING ONE"

As Lent begins we remember once more the slogan for building up church attendance, "Each One Bring One." Sometimes people criticize church attendance and church membership on the ground that church people are no better than others. That is often true, but like all generalizations it is a dangerous thing to say, for many people outside of the church are much worse than the average person in the church. We make no claims to sainthood. We admit that we are sinners. And we are helped in our worship in church when we meet together "to render thanks for the great benefits which we have received at God's hands, to set forth His most worthy praise, to hear His most holy word, and to ask those things which are requisite and necessary, as well for the body as the soul." Immediately after which we join in a common confession of our shortcomings and receive assurance of God's forgiveness.

We invite all who know they are not perfect to join in worship of the One who is perfect.

THE GROWING SEASON

Just as all truly alive human beings welcome the return of Spring, so do all real Christians welcome the return of Lent on Ash Wednesday (March 3rd). For Lent is just an old word for "Springtime," since Lent is a special season when eager Christians let God directly into their hearts, just as the sun shines more and more directly on the earth as Spring comes on. So Lent is a season—for Christians it is the growing season.

See how much we have to outgrow! How much of childish selfishness we have to rise above. A writer once told the history of a little creature called the barnacle: "This creature lives fastened to a rock or to the bottom of a boat, living in a cone-shaped shell which has a hole at the top, and a little trap door which opens and shuts like the shutter of a camera. When the water rises over the barnacle, the little creature opens this door, stretches out a wavering arm with clutching fingers at the end, and grabs, grabs, grabs for any chance morsel floating by. That grabbing is the whole life of the barnacle." The writer went on to say that all little children begin by grabbing, just like the barnacle; and that some people never outgrow this childish stage, but live all their days "with the grabbing hand tirelessly at work." As Lent begins, we turn toward the God of the open, giving hand of love, and seek His aid to give us power to overcome, outgrow, our grabbing habits.

See how much we have to grow up to! In the words of Jesus, we find His promise that we can be like Him, that we can do the works He did, and live the victorious and deeply loving life He did. Take that seriously, for certainly you can depend on the word of honor of Jesus; and He said that you can grow to be like Him. You can live by His Spirit, with a hand that is tirelessly at work—not grabbing, but giving and encouraging. Let God come very close to you in the six and a half weeks of Lent, and you will find yourself really growing up into a new character which will sometimes actually remind people of your Master!

NATIONAL REBIRTH OF SPIRITUAL AWARENESS DEMONSTRATED IN CONGRESSIONAL BUILDING

For the first time in 167 years of Congressional history, Senators and House Members this year will have a special secluded room for quiet meditation. Clergymen of the Catholic, Jewish, Protestant and other faiths were consulted to see that members of all faiths would find the room suitable. A table near the entrance will hold Bibles, prayer books, and other reading material. The Rector has contributed for this room a number of pamphlets and booklets on prayer. We thank God for this action taking place in our Government.

The Rector will preach at the Lenten Noon-day Services in St. Paul's Church, Syracuse, February 28th to March 4th, and conduct a Healing Mission there during the evenings of Tuesday through Thursday.

We are happy to announce that Mrs. Agnes Sanford, author of some very inspiring writings on prayer and spiritual healing, and, herself an exponent of the power of prayer, will speak on Thursday, March 3rd at 8:00 P. M. in St. Stephen's Church.

The Rector will preach at Lenten Noonday services and conduct Missions of Spiritual Healing between Sundays in Syracuse, Austin, Texas, Santa Fe and Albuquerque, New Mexico, Pittsburgh, and Kenosha, Wisconsin. He will be away from his own pulpit on Sunday, March 13th.

St. Stephen's Church is the recipient of a thousand dollars bequest from the Estate of Martha Austin McDowell, the income of which is to be used for the upkeep and repair of the Memorial Window on the South Wall, (Resurrection Scene) dedicated to the memory of her mother and father, the late Eliza Graham and J. Austin McDowell.

The Rector will conduct a Memorial Service for the late Arthur M. Kennedy in St. Stephen's Church, Saturday, March 5th, at 2 P. M.

We gratefully acknowledge the following Bulletin subscriptions: Mrs. Irene Beitz, Mrs. Charlotte Guenther, Mrs. J. C. Guenther, Madeline Magee, Miss W. P. Sachs, Kathryn Smith, B. Washington.

CONFIRMATION TALKS

Mr. Attenborough will give talks on Sunday mornings at 10 A. M. in the Rector's Study, primarily for all who are thinking of Confirmation, but also for all who are interested. He will explain the origin and meaning of some of those things which are most surely believed among us: Our Christian Faith, Our Christian Church, Our Christian Prayer, Our Christian Communion, etc.

Our Lenten Noon-Day preacher this week, Monday through Friday, will be the Bishop of Erie, The Rt. Rev. William Crittenden. The Erie Diocese is one of five of the Episcopal Churches in Pennsylvania. It comprises 13 counties in the north-western section of the State and embraces industrial areas, the Penna. oil fields and farming communities.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Henry M. Prentiss, Rector of St. Stephen's, Clifton Heights, who will be the Saturday preacher.

The Rector will speak to the Clerical Brotherhood at the Church House on Monday, February 21st.

HOW IS IT WITH YOU?

Often it happens that people ask something of us—and we do not have it. The lame man, begging alms at the gate of the Temple called Beautiful, asked Peter for money; and Peter did not have it.

He was thoughtful for a moment. It was plain that he did not have what the man wanted. But still he began to ask himself, "What have I that could help this man? I can't do what he asks, but I can do something?" Swiftly God's spirit in Peter's heart showed him that he had something far more precious than what the man had asked—not a coin or two to drop in a beggar's out-stretched hand, but the power that would release him from begging at all! So he bade the man, "In the name of Jesus of Nazareth, rise up and walk." And the amazed man suddenly found himself walking on sound ankles; able to work and support himself.

So many people, when they cannot do what a person asks of them, shrug their shoulders sorrowfully, and do nothing. That is too easy a way out of the situation. For God has endowed every living person with precious gifts with which he can help others, if he is willing. Yours may not be five talent gifts (and, again, they may be!), but, consecrated to aid those about you, they can bring great joy and comfort. Your bounden duty is to use the talents God gave you; and to use them with all your faithfulness and strength.

Once Dwight L. Moody was preaching to a great crowd. He was thinking more of his burning message than of the literary form of it. A fussy-minded man, after the service, said to Mr. Moody, "You spoke with great eloquence this evening, but—I hope you will not mind my mentioning it—I notice that you mispronounced four words, and made five mistakes in grammar." Mr. Moody smiled quietly, and replied, "I don't doubt it for a moment. My early education was both scanty and faulty. But I'm using all the grammar I know, in the service of Christ—how is it with you?" He was saying, in different words, "Such as I have, I give . . ."

How is it with you?

LENT — EASTER

Everybody goes to Church on Easter. Why not begin in Lent?

Easter has its message, its hope, its flowers, its numbers. Lent also has these—everything but numbers.

Each one can help furnish the numbers. His presence counts one and adds to the attraction, the interest and enthusiasm of numbers.

Each one also adds to the Sermon and the music. It ought not to be so, but it is, that the preacher is a poor human soul, subject to moods, now of exaltation, now of depression. Each one adds an inch or two to his heights or his depths, by his presence or absence.

And the choir singers are as human as the minister. Only a super-organist will practice for an absentee congregation. A Metropolitan Opera Star will fade away before an "empty house." Art for art's sake does not exist in art.

We have had very disappointing congregations this Winter. We are asking everyone to pledge four Sunday Services each month for the Lenten Season. Yes, Lent starts this week! Lent is the period of Spiritual training, like that which the athlete undergoes before the race or game. Will not more people go into training? Will YOU not go out for the team?

IT'S UP TO ME!

Looking on the map, you might think that the road from Jerusalem to Jericho was only thirty miles, a short way. But it is really much longer than that—it reaches clear around the world, and it runs down all the ages into our own day. It is every-man's road, on which each shows his way of life. "A certain man" going down over this old road, encountered three different kinds of people.

First, there were the highway robbers. Their philosophy was, "What's yours is mine—hands up!" And they fell upon the man, beat him up, and took all that he had. We know that philosophy—the wealthy owners of industry had it in the last century, when they bled the working man; and the leaders of labor in this century have been turning the tables, determined to bleed the owners of industry—"What's yours is mine—hands up!" That philosophy always leaves someone behind, bleeding and hurt, on the ancient road of life.

Second, came the Levite and the Priest—very respectable, and very selfish. Their philosophy was—"What's mine is mine! What's yours is none of my business. But what's mine is mine!" Their time was their own, so that they would not stop to care for the injured man. The Priest argued with himself, "It was his own fault—he had no business carrying valuable property over this road infested with bandits. I'll not get mixed up in this business—I have enough on my hands already." So he passed by. The Levite at least "came and looked upon him." But he, too, argued that it was no affair of his, and went along on his own errand. Millions follow this easy way—they "keep out of trouble" by keeping themselves out of the troubles of others. They are polite and cool; and in great haste to take care of themselves.

Lastly, there came the Samaritan. He saw the fallen man, and said to himself, "I'm the only man in sight to do anything about this. It's up to me. God gave me life, and possessions, for opportunities like this." And he tore off strips from his own clothes, and bound up his wounds; poured a little oil on the bandages to make them soft; and some wine, which he knew was good for wounds (although he had never heard of an "antiseptic"). He set the man on his own beast, and got him to a way-side inn; and saved his life.

Thus Jesus gives us three of the philosophies of those who travel the road of life. The danger of many nice, careful Church people, is that their philosophy smells too much of the Priest and the Levite. But our Master looks to us to be the Samaritan, and, as we come upon those in trouble, quietly to say to ourselves, "It's up to me!"

SALVATION

They had Him at last, exulted the enemies of Jesus! There He was, nailed hard and fast to the Cross; done for; finished. They had been frightened, these proud little men—frightened that Jesus would lead the crowds away from them, and that they would lose their shiny little places in the sun. But they had smartly turned the crowd against Him—and he who laughs last, laughs best. So they looked up at Him with grim laughter, and gloated, "He saved others; Himself He cannot save." And even one of the thieves, nailed to a cross close to Jesus, took up the bitter cry, "Art Thou not the Christ? Save Thyself and us."

But He could not. That was one thing that Jesus was not able to do. Because He was Love clothed in the flesh, it was not in His nature to save Himself. It was His nature to save others. The Almighty God, the All-loving, by His saving character, cannot be a self-saver.

Out of that fact there follows a truth that is sobering and startling. God, in His turn, can only save those who are willing to be savers themselves. Did not Jesus, instructing His disciples how to pray, teach them to say, "Forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us"? In other words, God can forgive only those who themselves have forgiving hearts. For only forgiving people understand forgiveness. Only they can accept forgiveness.

Sometimes there has crept into religious thinking or into Christian thinking, rather, a strange notion that your first duty is to attend to your own salvation—to see that your own soul is ready to pass its examination at the heavenly gates. How anyone ever drew that nasty, selfish little idea out of the teaching of Jesus will always be a mystery. He taught that your first duty is to obey the will of God, and that His Love, and that His will then sets you to work in neighborly, life-saving action for others. Self-love blocks you off from God's grace.

Let me remind you of the old Russian legend of a man in hell who prayed earnestly to be released from torment. At last a voice said, "rescue will come." A slender thread was let down, and he was told to grasp it. He did so, and thin though the thread seemed, it began to draw him up. But others, seeing him being released, seized hold of his garments that they also might be drawn up out of torment. The man kicked them off, crying out, "The thread will break!" And break it did! And then the Voice spoke again, "The thread of the Love of God was strong enough to save you and your brothers; but it was not strong enough to save you alone."

A BETTER WAY TO KEEP LENT

1. Go to church every Sunday and once during each week.
2. Read your Bible every day, and study one other religious book.
3. Find a definite work to do for Christ.
4. Tackle some pet sin or weakness and strive to master it.
5. Invite some friend to attend one of the church services with you.

The Mothers' Meeting has made a twenty-five dollar contribution to the Philadelphia Council of Churches.

MITE BOXES DISTRIBUTED

The Mite Boxes which will receive the children's Easter Offering for Missions have been blessed and were distributed to the children on February 20. We are sending a special envelope to all our families for those who wish to relive their Sunday School days and have a share in this enterprise. Regarding Mite Boxes, the Presiding Bishop writes:

". . . I am alternately amused, discouraged, and perplexed by the ignorance of our people . . . as to the magnitude, the complexity, and the necessity of our world-wide task. To some the term Missionary . . . brings to mind an elderly gentleman in a tall hat, standing in a rapidly heating caldron, passing out tracts to primitive cannibals. Others view the work as ultra-sentimentalism entirely irrelevant to the world in which we live. To still more the Mission of the Church is related to a strange item in the parochial budget known as the apportionment, viewed as a tax for purposes misunderstood and therefore unwelcome. A great number never think about these matters at all. All this is written with full appreciation of the sacrifices, the prayers, the devoted work of the "hard core" of the Church, the men and women who take their religious obligations seriously, and there are, we may thank God, hundreds of thousands of such consecrated people."

We extend a hearty welcome to the Very Rev. Thomas H. Chappell, Dean of St. Stephen's Cathedral, Harrisburg, who will be our guest preacher Monday through Friday at the Lenten Noonday Services, March 14th to 18th, inclusive.

The Rev. Paul M. Washington, Vicar, St. Cyprian's Church, Phila., will be our guest preacher on Saturday, March 19th. We are happy to welcome the Rev. Mr. Washington to St. Stephens' Church.

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in St. John's Cathedral, Albuquerque, N. M., March 13th to 17.
